

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 638

“What’s wrong? Can’t I do it?” Damian felt displeased at Arianna’s tone. “I know everyone looks down on me because I’m new to the company, and I’m an illegitimate son. You guys were lying when you said that everyone will treat me fairly and that I’m only undergoing some training now before I’d get bigger projects to handle. Pfft...’

He muttered while shaking a packet of tissue he picked up from the table. As he waved along the rhythm of his speech, the tissues fell piece by piece. “Those are just empty promises! They’re all fake.”

Although he appeared to be mumbling to himself, he glanced at Arianna several times as he spoke and dragged out his words.

“Damian, don’t say that!” Arianna got up and walked over to him, her hand placed on his shoulder lightly. In a gentle tone, she said, “I didn’t say you can’t do it. I was just surprised by your request. Why do you want to move over to the new branch?”

Hearing that she accepted his earlier request, Damian’s eyes brightened again while his head shot up. “Are you willing to let me be in charge of that?”

“We’ll talk about that later. You need to give me a reason for your sudden interest, don’t you?” Then she continued in a softer voice, “It’s not easy to select and appoint a person in charge for a branch, especially a new one like this. I need to listen to your thoughts first.”

there was nothing wrong with her words either. Hence, he could only reply grumpily, “The new branch will I’ve got, and the new project will be my best choice. Also, the new project is about perfumes and cosmetics, which sounds interesting and much simpler to me.

smiled. “You think women use, aren’t they? I’ve looked up some information on them, and I plan to recruit some people to create a new line of products, then invite a few celebrities or models to be ambassadors our marketing team comes in and does some magic with their work, I’m sure our products will be a big hit!” He got hot, and I’m sure she’s the best choice for us! I even have a plan for her style and the clothes she would wear. Don’t you think I’ll be able to manage talking about his plans for the new branch, an idiot! He just wants to be in charge of the new branch to flirt with female celebrities. How can he be the Tanner Corporation’s next

I’ve been working hard on for