

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 659

Lily sneered icily and asked, "How is that not my business? Just a short while ago, Granduncle said that since this was a meeting of the Lodge family, anyone outside the family had no business being present.

If Grandpa already expelled you from the Lodge family, what gives you the right to be here?"

"You're not qualified to question my presence here!"

Henry looked at Lily nastily.

"You're wrong. Not only do I have the right, but everyone here also has the right to question why you're allowed to be here."

Lily did not back down and looked him in the eye.

Henry started to counter, but Jonathan cleared his throat and said, "Lily, you're right, but Henry isn't wrong either. I've heard of what happened in the past, but we should let bygones be bygones. Besides, there shouldn't be hatred that lasts forever between father and son."

Henry was your grandfather's favorite. He was blinded by anger when he banished Henry and looked coldly at Lily, but how would you know what happened? It's only natural that you didn't understand the situation was analyzing the situation fairly, but he was just helping Henry and making light of her

Jonathan and Henry were two sides of

"Moreover..."

"Henry is still your uncle, and you're being insolent truth of my grandfather's death, not to discuss seniority. Besides, if we're talking about seniority, Henry shouldn't be the one to give orders here! Since he's not part of Lily stressed.

a sharp

his eyes at

ago, Lily was still a kid and did not make an impression on him, so he cared little about family's influence and having a