

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 738

"What do you mean? What's the theme? Who is it for? Are there any requirements for the type or scent? When do you need it? What's the budget?"

Lily started firing off questions right away.

Lisa, who was munching on fries, was stunned. She blinked and replied, "Uh..."

"you're not sure, but you came to me with a business proposal?"

Lily laughed at her and said, "Besides, there are so many perfumers over there, and many top-notch perfumers. Your father is one too. Why did you come all the way here to find me? Unless, of course, the burgers drew you here. Lily was only partially joking when she teased Lisa. Regardless of Lily's degree of development, Lisa's father was already a well-known industry leader, as was the research team under him. Their company was already quite advanced, so why would Lisa go out of her way to find her? Was it done on purpose to give Lily a chance to shine? "Of course not!"

Pretending to be angry, Lisa continued, "Well, here's what happened. My father and the others are currently engaged in a project and are unavailable for the time being. The ladies in our company liked the perfume you made for me before, so I was hoping you could agree.

"I've written the theme and requirements down on my phone. I'm sending them to you because I'll forget about them otherwise."

She pulled out her phone and continued, "I made a deal with the company. You must know that our costume jewelry is all sourced from designated companies. This used to include perfumes, but I convinced them that the perfume should have its own qualities. After all, this catwalk is an annual show. How can it stand out if it's just ordinary brand-name perfumes?" Lily put her hand on her forehead and smiled helplessly, "Those brands you're in charge of are ordinary?"
