"It looks great!"

"What do you think?" Damian asked smilingly, ready to receive her praises.

Elizabeth took a deep breath and nodded.

"It smells great! Truly great! It's the best perfume I've ever used. You did a marvelous job!"

With his mother acknowledging the product, Damian grew even more confident.

"This is why I asked you to wait for my good news."

Elizabeth was happy, too.

With a smile, she sprayed two more times to fill the air with the fragrance. She closed her eyes with her head tilted upward and took in the scent.
