

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 753

As the workers moved the new equipment into the studio, Lily was on the sidelines taking inventory, somewhat distracted.

Olivia was busy at work and moving around. She loved the new studio, not just because it was ideal, but because it belonged wholly to them, and they could do anything they wanted.

"Put this over here and that over there. Hey, be gentle, okay?"

Olivia was in high spirits as she instructed the workers. She looked over at Lily and found her holding a pen and a notepad without writing anything, seemingly in a daze.

"Lily, what's the matter?" She waved.

"You've zoned out for quite some time." Lily caught herself.

"Oh, I'm fine. Is everything here and accounted for?"

"Almost. The equipment is complete, and we have more stuff here than at our last workplace. Most of the tools here are the latest and have truly amazing designs."

Olivia was too satisfied with the studio and could not stop singing her praises.

"Well, I initially thought the stuff we had was complete, but Alex said we better order everything so that we don't have to scramble for what we don't have later. I agreed with him and bought whatever I could think of. We can order more if you notice we're missing anything, okay?"

stop talking

sighed enviously and leaned into

see you like this. You deserve

you not the

you planning to go public with your relationship

Edward, but this young woman had never admitted it,

the mere mention of him made Olivia

do you mean 'go public?' You're making someone's best interest. Isn't it about time you

Lily teased again.

respond, someone's voice sounded from

"Jen?"

to her

"Why are you here?!"

mean

"Can't I be here?"

holding a

I should come and congratulate you, right? Don't tell me you're allowed to become bosses, but I

the bag to