

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 774

"Why? Can't we be here to shop?"

Alexander glanced at Lily as he drove into the underground parking space. Lily was rendered speechless.

They could do that, but it was just that it was rare for them to shop together.

They could not do this when they first got together because they had to stay out of the public eye.

Later, they were both too preoccupied with their own work, making it difficult for them to spend this kind of free time together.

'Why is he bringing me shopping out of the blue?' Alexander parked the car and turned the engine off, but he was not in a hurry to get down.

Instead, he turned to look at Lily and said thoughtfully, "There's something I want to discuss with you."

"What is it?"

He lowered his gaze for a moment, and when he looked up again, he said, "Let's get married!"

Lily was stunned. Her eyes widened, and she could not return to her senses for a moment.

silly! We've that is the city's grandest and most spectacular! I was his seriousness about the

What's with had given much thought to the subject. It was just a formality anyway, so Lily wondered why Alexander brought made me think of a lot of

"I..."

saying that she wasn't pregnant and

"I know you're not pregnant now, but that isn't what's important. This reminded me that we hadn't had a wedding yet after being

Lily just listened silently. Serenity surrounded them. She still said feel that you're shook her

"Sure.Let's get married then."

"Really?"

excitement on his face.He did not expect their discussion to

of a man who had just asked his future wife to marry him.It was as if the girl he had mind to weddings, but in this instant, he understood why people would go through with such man would be desperate to show his wife to the world and tell everyone that she was