

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 918

The two were smiling sweetly in the photo, hugging each other as if they were inseparable as if nothing could come between them.

It was a good feeling. He belonged to her, and she to him.

Nobody could stand in their way because they were each other's person.

Not long after, he heard footsteps coming down the stairs.

When Alexander looked up, he noticed a figure on the stairs standing in an odd outfit. She wore a large hooded jacket, baggy pants, and a pair of sunglasses that covered half her face. She even wore a mask.

Although it was hard for anyone to identify her with such a cover-up, it made her even more eye-catching.

If she was covered up like this on a hot day, wouldn't people think she was a criminal?

"Are you sure you want to go out like this?" Alexander asked.

"Yeah. I've seen celebrities do this when they want to avoid the paparazzi!"

zipper, feeling

at herself in the mirror, and she realized

way anyone would know who

way, she could shop with else. He did not want

However...

seemed to have forgotten

reporters swarming around her for an interview, Alexander would become the main attraction when he stood next to always been a walking around the mall together, it would be

it enthusiastically as lips curled when he

"What?!"

Estate, Margaret's howl could be

you saying that woman

"Exactly!"

reddened eyes