Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 938

Heather had inherited the family's gift in martial arts.She had been trained since a young age and was good at it.

Hannah, on the other hand, had a frail body.She was also timid and unfit for learning the family's skills.

Hannah's life was considered a failure because she was born into this kind of family.

Naturally, the Riggs family spent much less time nurturing her, and in fact, they did not really care much about Hannah.

Due to the fact that the Riggs family kept a very low profile, no one knew about the existence of twins in the family.

After the twins came of age, Hannah was neglected.She was always controlled by her sister, Heather, and because she was timid and weak, others in the family tend to forget that they had another daughter.

They only remembered and respected Heather.

Heather briefly examined Hannah before pausing to focus on her face.

She could not help but feel disgusted by Hannah's existence.

Looking at Hannah's face, she could not understand why someone who looked so much like her could be so useless.

However, Hannah was helpful in that she assisted Heather in handling irksome issues, like this business marriage proposal.

Heather was shocked that such an insignificant Hyderland family would dare to make a marriage proposal to the Riggs family.
