

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 974

"Okay.Slow down and drive safely on the road!" Margaret said with concern.

She had always been extremely fond of her youngest son.

Seeing that this marriage was about to happen, it must be perfect.

After thinking about it, she looked at Alexander, who had just hung up the phone, and cleared her throat.

"There's nothing you can do here.You've seen it.So, head on back to the company."

After all, it was the eldest daughter of the Riggs family they were talking.Especially when the marriage was not official.

Margaret did not want anything to go wrong.

Especially this grandson of hers was simply the most unstable ticking time bomb in her eyes.

Unexpectedly, Alexander curled his lips.

"I have already made arrangements for the company.I'll stay here today to accompany you."

want your companionship!" Margaret blurted and felt she was being

the company.The family business is so big.Since your grandfather handed it over to you, you should do well.As for this thief, we could not feel at ease as long as worry.It's rare for me to have time, and I heard that Ralph is getting engaged faintly but coldly.His smile was not sincere

to say something else, but Alexander

"I'll go check upstairs,"

Celine pulled

"Mom, let him go."

the visit last night was not only by the Light-Shadow killers or explained about the company and the Russell family, but he passed away before he could finish mentioning the Russell family

Margaret would not tell of the Russell family, they did not know about
they would not tell
could only investigate secretly by a secret of the Russell family, the
for a long time, he
this secret too? He stood in the corridor