Chapter 111

Chapter 111

Jane calmed down herself, but Drake in the office was thinking about how to take advantage of the victory and chase after Jane.

Thinking that Charles had been injured because he saved her, she has been going to the hospital to visit him. If he was also injured because of Jane, Jane would have been by his side forever.

Thinking of this, Drake was even more determined in his heart.

After work in the afternoon Jane was ready to leave when she was stopped by Drake. He ask her to work overtime with him.

“I still have to pick up the children.” Jane refused.

Even after Drake had said that, what else could Jane say?

After all, Drake wasn’t so cruel and inhumane.

After a while, Drake took her off work.

Because Drake’s car was picked up by his driver, Jane could only drive Drake back.

Just as Jane drove the car out of the garage a speeding car rushed over. Jane was startled and she subconsciously hit the brake.

However, the speeding car was too fast. Before Jane could back away the other party directly hit her car.

In the blink of an eye, Jane only felt that a figure was tightly protecting her.

When she opened her eyes, Jane faced Drake who was protecting her.

“Are you alright?” Drake asked in a low voice, his words a little weak.

Aware of Drake’s weakness, Jane quickly asked “Drake, are you injured?”

Drake struggled to get up and took his place. Only then did Jane realize that he was sweating profusely and blood was flowing from his arm.

“Drake, your hand is injured.” Jane was shocked.

“Get off first.” Drake said reluctantly. Jane also see that the car front is smoking

Before she could think about it, she got out of the car and helped Drake to get out of the car.

A man also got out of the car that hit them. Jane saw that it was Daniel.

“Mr Warner, are you alright?” Daniel stepped forward to help Mr Drake, his heart full of worry.

“Daniel, why are you driving so fast? Did you know that this could kill people?” Jane saw Daniel and saw that Drake was so badly injured, she was so angry that she asked angrily.

Daniel was also very aggrieved, he just acted on Mr Warner’s orders, but he didn’t expect the performance to be too realistic, which directly led to Mr. Warner’s serious injury.

Chapter 111

But at this time, he can only quickly send Mr Warner to treatment.

“Miss Jane, don’t say that for now. It looks like Mr Drake has loss consciousness. Let’s send him to the hospital first.”

Helpless, Jane did not have time to ask any more questions, She followed Daniel to the hospital.

On the way, Daniel called Dr William to get ready.

When he arrived at Winford Healthcare, Dr William was shocked when he see Drake who was already unconscious.

“What’s happen? Why is he hurt so badly?” Dr William frowned.

“Dr William, don’t ask for now. Please hurry up and attend to him now.” Daniel was very anxious.

“Take him to the emergency room first. A surgery must be done immediately.” Dr William came back to his sense s and stopped asking.

Seeing Drake being pushed into the operating room, Jane’s heart was filled with worry.

How could he be so stupid!

“Miss Jane, don’t worry. I’ve already informed Madam. She will get here soon.” Daniel had no choice but to inform Madam Courtney.

Jane looked at Daniel because she was worried about Drake, She did not care about Daniel’s words.

Half an hour later, before Drake came out of the emergency room, Madam Courtney came in followed by three little children.

When Zoe saw Jane, she was about to step forward and threw herself into Jane’s arms, but Zane stopped her and whispered into her ear.

“Don’t go. Grandma doesn’t know that we are Mummy’s children. Don’t let her know.”

Zoe was puzzled but she still obeyed Zane’s words and did not run into Jane’s arms.

Jane did not pay attention to the three cute babies.

Madam Courtney had already walked in front of her and asked coldly.

“What’s the matter? How could there be a car accident?”

Facing the questioning Daniel stepped forward with guilt. “Madam, it’s my fault I was the one who hit Miss Jane’s car and caused Mr Drake to be injured.”

“Madam Courtney, you can’t completely blame Daniel for this. Drake was injured because he was protecting me.” Jane also stood up and said.

After listening to the two of them, Madam Courtney’s expression froze. “What’s going on? You’ve been by Drake’s side for many years. How can you be so careless when driving a car?”

In the face of Madam Courtney’s accusations, Daniel lowered his head and couldn’t say that he did according to the order of the CEO.

Chapter 111

“Madam...” When Jane wanted to plead for Daniel, Madam Courtney’s cold gaze swept over her.

“Don’t say anything I’ll just ask you what happened to you and him? Why did you two show up in the same car? You must be joking to think you have a place in his heart.”

Madam Courtney’s words were a bit stern. She had no intention of taking care of Drake’s affairs and she did not want to take care of it too much.

However, the two of them had been entangled with each other for so long, and there was no result Madam Courtney was also a little anxious.

Zachary listened to the conversation between the two and was full of doubts. “Grandma what do you mean? What does this beautiful teacher have to do with my father?”

Why did Grandma say that Beautiful teacher should vacate Mrs Warner’s position? Isn’t Beautiful teacher not married to Daddy yet?

Hearing Zac’s questioning madam Courtney patted Zac’s head and looked at Jane

But she didn’t tell the child the truth.

“It’s nothing. Grandma will take you to sit on the chair over there.”

After a while, the lights in the emergency room finally went out. The door opened and Dr William walked out first. Before Jane could ask anything, Madam Courtney immediately ask

“How is Drake?”

Dr William took off his mask and looked at the people. He frowned. “The blood has stopped, and the situation is probably stable. Just wait for him to wake up.”

“Is the situation serious?” Madam Courtney asked.

Hearing this Dr William glanced at Jane and said lightly “It’s not very serious, but he definitely need to rest in bed for a while probably half a month.”

Hearing that Madam Courtney breathed a sigh of relief as long as he was alright.

Hearing Dr William’s words Jane was also relieved.

Afterwards Drake was pushed out of the operation and he was taken to the best ward.

After ensuring that Drake was alright, Madam Courtney did not intend to stay so she left with the children.

Chapter 112

In the ward Jane waited anxiously looking at the handsome face on the hospital bed.

However, his face was still pale after the operation. Jane couldn't help but reach out and touched this face that had appeared countless times in her dreams and was carved in her heart.

The sadness she has been suppressing in her heart was poured out at once.

If he had been so kind to her earlier, it would have been great. Perhaps, she would not have been so heartbroken and would not have been completely disappointed in him.

Jane retracted her hand. She would not allow herself to continue sinking like this.

After leaving the ward, Jane asked Daniel to bring some ingredients into the ward's kitchen to prepare food for Drake.

When he wake up, he would definitely need to supplement his nutrition. If she is idle that will give her chance to think wildly. Jane decided to find something to do.

After a while, she boiled the chicken soup, but Drake has not wake up.

So Jane stayed by his side and fell asleep beside him.

In the middle of the night, the unconscious Drake finally slowly opened his eyes and looked at the familiar ward.

After moving his eyes around the room he wanted to get out of bed and carry Jane to the bed. Only then did he realize that his hands were bandaged and the back of his head was tingling.

It seemed that after the accident he was seriously injured.

With a sigh Drake gave up the idea of carrying Jane to bed and gently wake her up.

Jane woke up in a daze then suddenly she sat up straight and looked at Drake on the hospital bed.

"You are awake? How are you feeling?"

“Mmm.” Drake replied softly and did not say anything else. The atmosphere was quiet and terrifying.

“By the way, are you hungry? I’ve stewed chicken soup for you in the kitchen. It’s always hot. I’ll go and get it for you.”

Without waiting for his reply she went straight to the kitchen and came in with a bowl of chicken soup.

“It’s still hot, drink it while it’s hot.” Jane said softly.

However, after her words Drake just raised his eyebrows and looked at her.

Only then did she realize that he had injured his hand and could not drink it by himself.

“I’ll feed you.” Jane said nervously.

And she started feeding him with a spoon (this scene was really ambiguous).

Fortunately he finished the bowl of the chicken soup.

After that the two people in the ward fell silent. Jane really didn’t know what to say.

When the car accident happened Drake protected her. She was not hurt at all. Logically she should be grateful to him for saving her life.

But because of the hurt in the past Jane really didn’t dare to be moved anymore.

“It was Daniel who hit us with his car. What did you think about this?”

When the car accident happened Jane did not call the police instead she hurriedly sent Drake to the hospital.

“Well, it’s not intentional and this matter is private.” Drake said lightly.

“I didn’t even think about calling the police, the car is broken but it can be repaired, you’re injured so we just to bring you to the hospital “Jane said softly.

“What about Daniel?” Drake asked.

“He should be outside.”

Jane remembered that Daniel had been tense after the car accident. After Drake was sent to the ward, he sat on a chair in the reception. Jane ask him to come inside but he is reluctant to come in.

“Tell him to come inside.” Drake said.

Hearing that Jane went outside and bring Daniel into the ward then she exited the ward.

When Daniel came out again he greeted Jane and left the hospital.

Jane returned to the ward again. She looked at Drake and asked in confusion

“Why did you let Daniel go? Doesn’t he have to stay to take care of you?”

“It’s enough to have you here.” Drake said lightly.

Hearing this Jane felt that something was wrong. “But I still have to go back to take care of the children.”

“The children won’t have any problem in the villa, I was injured while protecting you. Do you have the heart to leave me in the hospital alone?” Drake asked with an eyebrow raised.

Under such circumstances Daniel also left of course Jane couldn’t say she wanted to leave so she could only stay to take care of Drake.

When she walked to the sofa in the ward she was about to sit when she heard Drake’s low voice.

“Come here!”

“What?” Jane looked at him warily.

“Come over and sleep with me.” Drake said bluntly.

Jane glanced at him coldly and gave him the look of “why should I sleep with you?”

“I’m seriously injured you sleep a lot and you are too far from me. What should I do if I can’t wake you up in the middle of the night?” Drake gave a reason that she could not refuse.

She wanted to say something but when she thought that Drake had been injured because he was protecting her the coldness in her heart disappeared.

Looking at the wide bed in the ward Jane still walked over.

Being rich is good the ward was not only an ensuite even the beds were luxurious not to mention

That two people can sleep on it even two more people would not be crowded.

Jane walked to the other side far away from Drake and sat on the bed.

“You better stay calm.”

“In any situation, the only reason you can’t be restless is that you’re having s*x.” The two of them had already done things that were close to each other.

“Hmph, stop talking nonsense.” Jane snorted coldly as she lay on the bed.

The next day, when Jane woke up there was already another figure in the ward Dr William.

He was examining Drake when he saw Jane wake up with a smile on his face.

Looking at Dr William’s smile Jane couldn’t sleep again. As soon as Dr William left the ward

Jane get out of bed and hide in the bathroom.

After a while, she came out of the bathroom.

At the other hospital Charles was discharged.

Only after arriving at the company did he learn that Drake had been involved in a car accident.

When he heard the news he was stunned for a moment.

Humph, it seemed like he had really underestimated Drake. He had learned this skill so quickly.

“Let’s go and meet Mr Drake who was hospitalized due to a car accident to see how badly he’s injured.”

Charles felt uncomfortable in his mind

Just as Amy came over Charles revealed the news of Drake to her.

Amy had been forced by Mr Andrew to approach Charles.

Charles did not stop Amy. It just so happened that it was not good for him to go.

When Amy arrived at the hospital ward Jane happened to be away. There was only Drake in the ward.

He was taking a nap and closed his eyes when he heard the door open. He thought that it was Jane who came in so he immediately order her.

“Come here and massage my feet.”

Hearing Drake’s words Amy was overjoyed. She walked to the hospital bed with her slender hand and gently massage his feet.

During the nap Drake wondered how Jane could be so obedient. When he asked her to massage his feet, When he opened his eyes he realized that the person who is massaging his feet was not Jane at all.

At this moment, the door of the ward was pushed open and Jane walked in.

After opening the door Jane was stunned for a moment when she saw the scene in the room and then her face became gloomy.

Not to mention Drake on the hospital bed. After seeing that the person massaging his feet was not Jane at all, his face turned gloomy and he glared at Amy.

“Mr Drake, I heard that you’re in the hospital, so I came here to take care of you.”

Feeling Drake’s icy gaze Amy complimented her words as she stared at Drake with a pair of affectionate eyes.

Seeing this Amy immediately showed a pitiful look on her face. “Mr Drake I really have no other intentions. I just want to stay and take care of you. Please give me this chance.”

Looking at Amy who was arrogant, Jane also felt sad for a moment as if she had seen herself.

However, Drake's expression was still gloomy.

"Don't make me say it again"

Being watched by Drake's cold eyes, Amy finally gave up she looked at Jane who is still at the door and finally ran out crying.

When she passed by Jane, she glared at her causing Jane's sympathy for her to disappear.

Looking at Amy who was leaving, Jane's eyes looked at Drake on the hospital bed and there was an unknown smile on her mouth.

"Did you want me to chase her back? After all, she is here to take care of you. Don't give it up for nothing. Don't you think so?"

Listening to Jane's words for some reason, Drake seemed to smell a trace of vinegar and was in a good mood.

"It's enough to have you."

"I'm not a nurse. I can't do anything like other beautiful women. I can't even massage your feet."

Jane said bitterly, don't think that she didn't see anything when she entered the door. When he was massaged by Amy, Drake's face shows he was obviously enjoying it.

“You don’t need to massage my feet, it’s enough to cook for me.” Drake said s oftly.

Hearing this, Jane’s mood improved a little, and she did not care about it any more.

Amy ran out of the hospital and she ran into Charles’s car.

Looking at Amy’s crying, Charles knew that she must have been wronged in t he hospital.

He then asked about Drake’s situation. He learned that Jane was the one taki ng care of Drake and Charles’s face was not very good.

Amy saw Charles’s expression and became even more aggrieved. “You all lik e that b*tch. What’s so good about her?”

Amy roared with all her might, full of resentment and jealousy.

Charles returned to his senses and looked at Amy with cold eyes. He said col dly, “Go back first.”

Hearing this Amy felt even more aggrieved in her heart. He emotionally called her into the car just to ask about that b*tch.

“Won’t you send me back?” Amy could only listen to Mr Andrew’s words and win over Charles.

However, Charles had no interest in her at all. After Amy asked him to send her home, Charles immediately refused.

He gave her money and pushed her out of the car.

Looking at the speeding car Amy’s resentment towards Jane deepened.

“Go and reveal the news about Drake’s hospitalization to Annie Carlton” Charl es coldly instructed his assistant on the phone. After he hung up the phone,

He didn't believe that Drake could send Annie out of the City." a gloomy expression appeared on his face.

Humph, if it wasn't for his inferiority in birth, why would he have been trampled under Drake's feet?

One day, he would stand in a higher position than him and grab what belonged to him.

After sending away a Amy, Jane didn't expect to welcome another woman, Annie Carlton.

When Annie walked into the ward, the expression on Jane's face suddenly collapsed and she silently retreated to the side.

It was not that she was afraid of meeting Annie, but she did not want to meet her at such time.

"Drake, what's going on? How did you get into a car accident?" As soon as Annie entered the room, her eyes were filled with tears.

Looking at Annie's face, Drake's expression was cold, "It's nothing, it's just a little car accident."

"You're injured so badly, how could it be a small car accident? Fortunately, you're fine, otherwise I'll make the person who caused your car accident restless." Annie was crying with a bit of ruthlessness.

Because of this Drake was even colder towards her. She was completely different from the impression she had imagined. She was no longer the pure and flawless person who she used to be.

Annie did not know what Drake was thinking, but she was still eagerly concerned about Drake's injury.

With a glance, she saw Jane in the ward, and then said coldly.

"Can I trouble Miss Jane to go out first? I have something to say to Drake."

As soon as Annie appeared, Jane's heart became even colder. She had no intention of staying behind to make a third wheel.

Just as Jane was about to leave the ward Drake's voice stopped her.

"You're not allowed to leave."

After Drake's words Jane and Annie were stunned at the same time, especially Annie.

"Drake, I really want to tell you something. It's not convenient for her to be here." Annie said in a coquettish tone.

However, in the face of her acting like a spoiled child Drake turned a blind eye and only said lightly.

"You have to stay and take care of me, but don't forget that I was injured so badly because – of you."

Hearing that Annie and Jane were both startled.

Annie came back to her senses and looked at Jane with resentment. Her eyes were full of tears, “Drake, what do you mean? In order to save her you got injured and you still don’t want me to take care of you.

Did you deceive him?” She ask Jaene

Looking at Annie’s usual tricks, Jane looked cold.

In the past, as long as Annie showed this pitiful appearance, Drake would definitely listen to her words and torture her in various ways.

However, this time, after Annie’s words, Drake looked indifferent and spoke coldly.

“You go back first.”

“Go back? Drake, why isn’t she the one who should leave?” Annie was furious as she pointed at Jane with a hideous face.

Looking at Annie’s gesture, Drake’s heart was even more disturbed.

The feeling that he shouldn’t have loved Annie, but yet she was different from what he remembered, which made him upset.

Especially now, Annie had no trace of her tenderness and sweetness when she was young. She only had a jealous face and an unknown side.

“If you don’t leave now, we won’t see each other in the future.” Drake used his trump card. Sure enough, Annie’s expression changed.

When she left the hospital, Annie’s face was extremely ugly. When she passed by Jane, she wanted to kill her with her eyes.

As soon as Annie left the atmosphere returned to silence.

Hearing this Jane woke up like a dream walked over and poured water for him and sat beside him, his words a bit dark.

“What do you mean about Annie? You used to love her very much, why are you treating her like this now?”

Jane couldn't explain how she felt in her heart. On the other hand, she thought that it was a good thing that Drake could see Annie's true color. This kind of behavior is inappropriate

She was actually carrying out cold violence...

"I used to love her very much?" After Jane's words, Drake asked softly, as if he had some doubts about Jane's words.

However, this rhetorical question made the complexity in Jane's heart melt away and she laughed in an instant.

"Drake, should I say that you are oblivious or you really never cared. You forgot how you tortured me because of her. Even Zachary is almost not my child."

Jane closed her eyes as if she could still see the dazzling lights in the operating room and the pain of some kind of surgery.

She was forced to conceive the children of Drake and Annie She wished that God would not let them succeed, but instead let her have her own child.

But they had also lied to her for five years. Annie must have known the truth from the beginning, but she told her over and over again while she was pregnant with the child that the child was hers.

Thinking of this, Jane's eyes were icy cold. Drake also recalled how he has hurt her after her words and his eyes showed guilt.

"I'm sorry, I've done so many things to hurt you." He sincerely apologized.

Hearing his apology, Jane's expression was still sad.

“I don’t know why, I always feel that I love the wrong person or she has changed a lot. I met her when we were young. At that time, I did not see the light. She stayed by my side, took care of me, encouraged and comforted me., she was the only light I could feel in the dark.” Drake revealed the secret that had been hidden in his heart for many years.

“Later, I did everything I could to find her, but she was seriously ill and weak. I don’t know if it was because I was young or because she had comforted and encouraged me. I tried my best to give her everything. I thought, I will always love her.”

There was a deep sense of disappointment in Drake’s words, as if the Annie he had found was not the person who accompanied him when he did not see the light.

Jane never knew that Drake and Annie had such a past, but listening to him, he had feelings for Annie because of her company.

But this scene was inexplicably familiar to her, but in the end, she shook her head.

“You didn’t think about it, maybe you found the wrong person?”

“Impossible, she has the token of love I gave her back then. There can’t be anything wrong. Drake quickly respond to Jane’s questioning.

Jane did not say much, but said lightly, “Then why are you being cold and violent to her now? Because you think she is different from when she was by your side? Or are you empathizing and not falling in love?”

Hearing this Drake fell silent. He did not know how to answer Jane’s question.

At this moment, he would rather like Jane to be the wrong person and love the wrong person.

When Charles learned that Annie had also left the hospital in tears, his expression became unfathomable.

It seemed that he had to go and see for himself!

When Charles came Jane went to Warner Group to get the documents needed for the work Drake has to sign. Drake was basking in the sun in the hospital garden.

“Mr Drake is really in a good mood.” As soon as Charles appeared, he broke the picture of the beautiful man being quiet.

Drake slowly raised his eyes and looked coldly at Charles, his expression indifferent.

Charles smiled.

“I heard that Mr Drake was close to Pomeranian and made a lot of money. He personally arranged for a car accident and was seriously injured in the car accident. The price is really not small.”

Drake thought about what he said and he was annoyed in his heart, but his face still looked indifferent.

“Holbrook’s corporation business is over and you actually have some spare time to visit me?”

Hearing that, the smile on Charles’s face really stiffened. Because of Drake’s actions, there were some problems with the Holbrook’s Corporation. He was even questioned by the old guys on the board of directors.

“It’s a blessing for Mr Drake, the company’s issues are indeed a bit tricky, but Mr Drake has learned so well, of course I want to come and see.” Charles sneered, his words were full of ridicule.

Drake was also a little annoyed by this, knowing that Charles was talking about him pretending to have a car accident to save Jane.

“Hmph, what about painting a scoop? As long as it’s useful, don’t you think so, Mr Charles?”

“I heard that Mr Charles was hospitalized because of a car accident before? You’ve been discharged from the hospital so soon. No one could pick you up and you leave the hospital, right?” Drake coldly shot back.

And his words successfully angered Charles.

“Drake, don’t be complacent. If Jane found out that you directed and acted in a car accident and was hospitalized, the purpose was to win her sympathy. What do you think she would do?” Charles threatened.

“So you also wanted to say that you didn’t direct and act the previous car accident?” Drake asked coldly.

Charles was startled by this, but he quickly replied, “I’m not like you. That car accident was an accident.”

“Really?” Drake was cold, but there was a playful smile on his face.

“Although I really don’t want to expose you Mr Charles but do you really think you can hide it under the sky?”

Charles’s face turned ashen, extremely ugly.

Suddenly, his eyes caught a glimpse of a figure approaching in the distance, and a sneer appeared on Charles’s mouth.

“Sure enough, I can’t hide anything from you Mr Drake. You didn’t hesitate to arrange a scene for Miss Jane, but I dare you to admit that you directed and acted the accident. yourself or Mr Drake is not a real man to admit it?”

After he finished speaking, Charles extended his hand and placed it directly on Drake’s bandaged hand.

“Mr Drake I heard that your hand is broken. It won’t be difficult to use in the future, right?”

Looking at Charles’s annoying expression Drake became annoyed for a while. Without thinking, he immediately raised his bandaged hand and waved it away.

The moment Jane appeared behind the two of them, she saw Drake stand up and use his hand that should have been broken to grab Charles’s collar and give him a stern warning.

“Put your thoughts away from my woman, you’re not something you can think about.”

Drake’s anger did not make Charles angry.

“Mr Drake’s hand seems to be fine That’s fine Otherwise, without a rival like Mr Drake my life will definitely be very lonely.”

“You think so, Miss Jane!”

At first, Drake was a little puzzled by Charles’s words. When he heard Charles’s words, he turned around in shock and looked at Jane who appeared behind him.

He opened his mouth and wanted to explain something, but he couldn’t say a word.

Charles also left at the right time, leaving behind a sneer.

Without Charles around, Drake slowly walked towards Jane and explained. .

“Listen to me...”

“What did you say? Listen to your reasoning for deceiving me? Drake, in your opinion, am I really that stupid that you think you can deceive me as much as you want?”

“I’m so stupid. I’m so stupid that I know what kind of person you are, yet I stupidly believe you.”

With that Jane left without looking back.

Drake looked at Jane’s turning her back and leave, his heart was shattered. He really wanted to hold her to explain, but Jane had already left.

She was very angry, angry that Drake had played her like a fool and then she went to meet Dr William and questioned him angrily.

“Why are you lying to me?”

Hearing Jane’s questioning, Dr William raised his eyebrows and laughed lightly.

“Um, why don’t you take a look at this first?” After that, he handed Jane two medical records.

Jane took it for unknown reasons. After reading it carefully, she looked at Dr William suspiciously.

“This is the medical record I got from the hospital where Charles was hospitalized. It was just a small scratch and he stayed in the hospital for five days. Although Drake’s arm was not broken, but he did hurt his meridian. He also has a concussion.”

“Even so, you shouldn’t have lied to me that he has a broken bone. The condition is very serious!” Jane was no longer so angry, but she was still not convinced.

Dr William looked at her seriously and said, “You know that you are not angry that Charles pretended to be hospitalized in order to let you spend more time with him. Why are you so angry when you are with Drake?”

Dr William’s words really stopped Jane from asking anything. She was stunned and did not answer.

“Admit it, you still have a hope towards him. If you love him, why would you give up?” Dr William encouraged.

Hearing this Jane raised her eyebrows and looked at him with an indifferent expression, “You have witnessed with your own eyes that I was hurt all over my body because of my love for him. Now you are still persuading me to continue to love. I’m sorry.”

Hearing this, Dr William’s smile froze, and he looked at her dumbly, then helplessly said, “Alas, he is also to blame for this, obviously he has you in his heart, but he does not admit it..

“He has me in his heart? You’re probably making an international joke.” Hearing Dr William’s words, Jane only felt that she has heard a big joke.

She did not believe Dr William’s words, but she was still angry and finally left the hospital.

112.14

She did not plan to continue to take care of Drake.

On her way back she went to Maplewood mansion to pick Zane and Zoe home.

When Drake returned home, there was only Zachary at home. When Drake entered Zachary went forward to ask.

“Daddy, what’s the situation? The beautiful teacher should be taking care of you in the hospital. Why did she suddenly come back and pick up Zoe and Zane away? She looked very angry?”

Hearing Zachary’s questioning, Drake sighed deeply and was helpless. In the end, under Zachary’s questioning, he told him about the car accident.

After listening Zachary looked at his father like a fool.

“Dad, why did you think of such a trick?”

Looking at Zachary’s helpless expression Drake was also very depressed. He did not expect that things would turn out like this.

“Forget it, forget it, I’ll find a way to save you guys.” Zachary scratched his head and thought deeply.

The next day, in the kindergarten, Zane stopped Zachary and asked.

“You scum... What did Daddy do again?” Zane also realized that something was wrong with Jane last night but after he asked Jane did not say anything and he did not want to bother her.

But he was sure that it must have something to do with the scumbag.

Facing Zane’s questioning Zachary was also very confused he didn’t know how to answer. Tell Zane that he and Daddy are plotting to snatch your mommy?

Zachary couldn’t say anything, so he could only choose to remain silent.

Zane looked at his appearance and became annoyed. “Hmph, if you don’t say it, I don’t know what you and your father have in mind. Don’t you just want to deceive my Mummy?”

Hearing Zane’s words, Zachary looked at him in shock.

Just as Zachary wanted to explain, Zane lowered his eyes and said indifferently, “I know you like my Mummy, and it’s not that I can’t let you be my Mummy’s child.”

Hearing this, Zachary’s eyes lit up as he looked at Zane, wishing he could go forward and give Zane a big bear hug.

In his expectant eyes, Zane lightly poured cold water on him.

“I can let my mommy accept you as her godson, but my mummy will never marry your father.”

“Why?” Hearing Zane’s words Zachary was confused again.

Is he not good at all to be a son.

“Because...” Zane hesitated for a moment before thinking of a very good reason.

“Because you have a Mummy, and your Mummy and Daddy are getting married. How can my Mummy ruin other people’s feelings?”

Hearing this. Zachary said indifferently, “I approve of the beautiful teacher destroying our family’s relationship with both hands.

“That’s your mummy, how could you do this!” Zane was shocked.

Hearing this Zachary said indifferently, “Hmph, she’s only my mummy biological, but I don’t want to be her child at all. Over the years, she has never given me any maternal love, she only spends money on me, when do you see her coming to pick me up from school?”

When he said this, Zane did not refute it.

“Also, she still wanted to hurt me about the last time we climbed the mountain. When it came to the previous incident, Zachary still complained.

“Why did she want to hurt you?” Zane didn’t understand. He thought it was strange before. Even though Zachary was Miss Annie’s child, she still wanted to hurt him.

“Because I’m not obedient.” Zachary thought about this for a long time before thinking of a reason.

That was because he didn’t listen to Annie, so Annie didn’t want him and wanted to have an obedient child with Daddy.

Hearing Zachary’s words, Zane also sympathized with him.

“Okay, but even so, I won’t allow Mummy to marry your father.” Zane still insisted.

Zachary did not argue with him. At least Zane accepted him. This was a good start.

As for Daddy and the beautiful teacher, we can take it slowly.

When the beautiful teacher fell in love with Daddy and voluntarily married Daddy, it was useless for Zane to disagree.

With this thought in mind Zachary happily played with Zane

After school in the evening, Zane told Jane that she should take Zachary as her son.

Jane was very happy with Zane’s idea, indicating that her efforts during this period of time had not been in vain, and Zane had already accepted Zachary.

Seeing that Jane was stunned Zane thought that Jane was unwilling and quickly said, “Mummy, if you don’t want to forget it. I see that you are good to Zachary. I think him very much.”

When

Zane said this, he was a little jealous when Jane heard it she patted his head.

“Mummy really likes Zachary, but Mummy also likes Zane. You are both Mummy’s good children.” There was a tear in Jane’s eyes.

If it wasn’t for Annie, why wouldn’t she let her three children know each other?

Thinking of this, Jane’s resentment towards Annie deepened.

When he returned home Zachary also told Drake that he could call Jane’s mummy right away, indicating that he had already received Zane’s approval which made Drake surprise.

The stinky brat really had some skills, and he quickly got the approval of the two little guys.

If he could also make Zane and Zoe like him, would it be more likely that Jane would accept him.

Aware of Drake’s thoughts Zachary said with a mysterious smile.

“Don’t worry, Daddy I won’t let you eat soup the school will hold a parent–child event in two days. Both parents are required to participate. It just so happened that Zane and sister Zoe did not have a father to attend. This matter if you vaguely mention it to the beautiful teacher, the beautiful teacher will definitely not refuse.”

Drake

was really moved by Zachary’s proposal, but he did not think so when he said that Jane would not refuse.

Jane was even colder than he thought. Zane had to start with this matter.

With an idea, Drake personally gave Zane an anonymous task on the hacker list, so that Zane could crack it.

For this anonymous mission it was very challenging for Zane but after a whole night of hard work, his face wrinkled.

The next day, when he went to school, Zane who had dark circles around his eyes like a panda, saw Drake who had sent Zachary to school in person.

“Zane my father said please come to the car.”

Zachary got out of the car and ran errands for his father.

Zane’s first reaction was to refuse.

In the car Drake had a laptop on his lap. After Zane came up with a pair of small black circles under his eyes, Drake turned the laptop’s screen over to him.

Zane was impatient at first, but when he saw a series of codes on the screen, the haze in his mind was swept away.

He almost snatched the laptop and carefully looked at the code on it. After a while, he patted his little head in annoyance.

“It turns out that it can be like this, why didn’t I think of it!”

Holding Zane’s hand that patted his head, Drake said softly, “Don’t pat, such a smart little head, no one will pay if you pat him stupidly.”

Hearing Drake’s words that were almost indulgent Zane’s heart felt warm for some reason.

“Thank you!” Zane awkwardly thanked him as he got out of the car.

Jane didn’t know what Drake said to Zane. When she came to pick him up from school at night, Zane looked very melancholy.

“What’s wrong?” Jane stroked Zane’s hair and asked.

Without waiting for Zane to answer, Zoe who was beside her spoke first, “Mummy, the school will hold a parent–child activity the day after tomorrow, and Zachary ask his parents to participate together, but when my brother and I went to sign up for the activity, the teacher said that our family is a single–parent family, you don’t have to participate.” Hearing this, Jane was startled her face a little guilty, but Zane thought of what Zachary said and asked his mummy and Drake to form a pair so that the three of them could participate in the event. At first, Zane refused but when he saw that Zoe really wanted to participate Zane was shaken again.

After hesitating for a while, Zane still said to Jane “Zachary also wants to participate, but he said that his father and his mother did not have a marriage certificate.”

Hearing this Jane’s face looked even more guilty. She had promised to give the three little guys a complete childhood but it turned out that she could not even do the simplest parent–child activity.

Chapter 117

Jane was worried about the school’s parent–child activity and even had the idea of letting Uncle Jasper accompany her to attend.

At this time Drake also took the initiative to find them and requested that the two of them participate together.

Jane's first reaction was to refuse but before she could say anything, Drake interrupted her.

"We have a marriage certificate and we are legitimate husband and wife. Besides, you already like Zachary's company. This time do you have the heart to look at him and disappoint him?"

Because of the previous incident Jane didn't want to care about Drake but because of what he said.

Jane really had no reason to refuse, whether it was for Zoe and Zane, or for Zac.

After almost hesitating, Jane agreed

"For Zachary's sake I can promise you but that doesn't mean I forgive you." Jane said coldly.

Hearing Jane's words, a trace of loss flashed across Drake's face, but he still said, "I'm sorry for everything I did wrong in the past."

Hearing Drake's apology Jane's heart softened a little, but she still refused to let go.

"I'm going to work first. Since I'm going to the children school tomorrow. I'll have to finish the work ahead of time since I won't be going to work tomorrow." With that, Jane returned to her job and continued to work.

The next day Drake parked his car at Jane's house early. Because of the last car accident, Jane's car was broken down and was still being repaired. Jane always traveled by taxi.

When she saw Drake's car she did not feel embarrassed as she brought her two children into the car.

Because Zachary was already sitting in the back, Jane could only send the two little guys to the back and she sat in the front with Drake.

Soon, the car arrived at the kindergarten. Because many parents came, and the three little guys attended a high-end kindergarten, the children who could go to school here were either rich or wealthy. There were many luxury cars parked in front of the school.

Drake's car was parked far away and after getting off the car they had to walk a few steps to enter the school.

After getting out of the car Drake directly hugged Zoe and she was shocked, and Jane was also a little stunned.

And Drake said to Zachary and Zane in a simple way, "Zoe is a girl. As the t wo of you don't compare yourself to her okay?"

Hearing that Zane pouted but Zachary smiled, "Understood, Daddy."

Jane looked at Drake's actions and her emotions were a little complicated. Then Drake carry Zoe towards the kindergarten.

When they got to the kindergarten after the teacher named them they let ev everyone get on a bus and headed to a villa. Because of some special projects, they could not be completed in the kindergarten.

After getting out of the bus, the teacher gathered all the children and their parents on a wide grassy field and announced the order of each parent-child project and the rewards they would receive after completion.

The first competition was shooting which was chosen by Zachary and one of his parent must accompany him to shoot.

Drake wanted to accompany him but he insisted on Jane.

"I want the beautiful teacher to accompany me."

"You don't want the first place anymore." Drake raised his eyebrows. The meaning was obvious. If you choose Jane, you probably won't get the first place.

However, Zachary did not care.

Jane also walked up and held Zachary's hand, "Okay, teacher will accompany you."

Seeing Jane's indifferent agreement Drake suddenly looked forward to what kind of surprise Jane would give him.

At the beginning of the game Zachary looked at Jane and smiled, "Miss Pretty, don't be nervous. I actually learned to shoot. After a while, you can follow my movements. It doesn't matter if you miss it."

Hearing this, Jane smiled and patted his hair, "Don't worry, Teacher won't let you down."

With that, she skillfully picked up the bow and arrow load it

Zachary looked at Jane's skilled movements and looked forward to it. Could it be that Beautiful Teacher can shoot?

Because shooting was a physical sport all the children who signed up for the shooting event were accompanied by their fathers. Only Jane was a lady. Everyone outside was very surprised by Jane's action. "I felt like she was just getting involved." Said one the parents.

Jane didn't care what everyone thought. After the game started, the coach gave an order. Jane held Zachary's hand and accurately shoot out.

Amidst everyone's expectations Jane and Zachary's arrows hit the target.

Everyone outside was shocked.

After Drake see that the two of them hit the target the corner of his mouth was lightly raised sure enough as he had guessed she really did!

Zachary was even more excited. At first he wanted to let the beautiful teacher accompany him but the focus was on participating and getting in touch with the beautiful teacher more.

Looking at the other participants, there was no one who could ejaculate better than them.

“Beautiful teacher, great we shoot!”

Seeing Zachary’s happy and excited expression Jane stroked his hair, her eyes dotting on him.

“I said it before I won’t let you down.”

“Miss Pretty, you’re amazing!” Zachary praised happily. Hearing this, the corner of Jane’s mouth rose, revealing a sincere smile.

The children and mothers outside the venue were also staring at Jane’s bright face and they were all envious.

The next event was Zoe’s choice of horseback riding. In this event Jane couldn’t participate in it, because she could not ride a horse and she had a little fear of horses.

However Jane knew about the meeting.

Many years ago, Drake took her to the race colt. Of course he didn’t take her to ride a horse, but to appreciate the interaction and intimacy between him and Annie.

Annie even provoked the horses to scare her, which caused Jane to not dare to learn to ride a horse.

“Is Zoe good at horseback riding?” Before the start of the competition, Drake hugged Zoe and asked in a low voice.

She shook her head and said in a milky voice, “No, Mummy is afraid of horses. She has never taken my brother and I to the racecourse.”

Hearing this Drake looked at Jane with a complicated expression as if he has also recalled some of the past that had hurt her.

“It’s okay, Uncle will have time to teach you how to ride a horse in the future.”
Drake softly coaxed Zoe

“Okay.” Zoe nodded, looking forward to it.

She had wanted to learn to ride a horse for a long time, so she chose to ride a horse this time.

There was no doubt that it was Drake and Zoe. Are the two that were far ahead from the beginning, and they won the championship in the end.

When they saw the result Jane and Zachary were not surprised at all. After all, they knew exactly how good Drake was.

The third competition was checkers which was chosen by Zane Compared with the previous two projects, this project was much simpler. It was a test of intelligence.

Whether it was Jane or Drake, they could easily win the game.

After the competition was over the three little guys each received the first prize in the competition.

At the end of the event, there was a leggings race for adults and children to participate in. The first place would get a huge bear hug.

Before the leggings game started. There were only three people in everyone else’s family. Only Jane’s side plus the three cute treasures and Drake were five people.

Many people cast their gazes and talked a lot.

“They actually gave birth to three children in one breath. How amazing!”

“They already have three children. Their mother is still young, and their father is handsome. They really are a good-looking family. Their children are also good-looking.”

Listening to the envious voices around, Jane’s heart couldn’t help but feel a little sweet and her frozen heart was broken again.

“The game begins.”

With everyone’s envious words, the game officially started. At the beginning because the other families were teams of three, the two parents were almost all running with their children. Jane had to bring the three little guys with her half the way

However, in just a moment their state adjusted. The three little guys all moved in the same way. Coupled with Drake’s long legs, they quickly overtook the other teams.

After the tacit cooperation of the five people they finally won the first place in the game.

After winning the prize the three little guys were extremely happy.

The teacher passed the big bear to Jane. After congratulating a few people, they announced that they had free time for the rest of the time.

With their money it wasn’t that they couldn’t afford such a bear hugging doll but of course, the meaning of what they bought and won was of course different.

After taking the bear Jane hesitated for a while, then said softly to Zoe and Zane

“Zoe, Zane this bear, can you give it to Mummy?”

Because of the lack of company he owed to Zachary over the years Jane wanted to give Zachary the bear.

Zoe and Zane had no problem with Jane’s words and nodded.

Jane was relieved and walked over to Zachary’s side and handed the bear to him.

“Zac this is for you.”

Looking at the hug bear that Jane handed over, Zac was very happy, but after he took the bear he walked over to Zoe and stuffed the big bear into her arms

“Sister Zoe, for you.”

Zoe was a little surprised and said, “But this is from Mummy.”

“Yeah, the beautiful teacher gave it to me and then I gave it to you.” Zachary said with a smile.

“You’re a girl you will definitely like it more.” Zachary smiled.

Hearing that Zoe wanted to say that although she was a girl, she actually liked all kinds of robots, dolls and so on. Those were things that cute little girls liked. She was inspired to be a cold girl.

When Jane saw this scene she was very happy.

Although Zachary was not by her side in essence Zachary was good.

After the parent–child activity was over the five of them took the bus back to the school and boarded the car that was warm.

Drake proposed to go to dinner. Jane hesitated for a while. Thinking about Drake's performance at the event, he did not feel so cold.

After asking the two children, they went to a restaurant for dinner after getting their consent.

When they reached the restaurant Jane returned from a trip to the bathroom. Her face was pale and her back was curved.

Drake could see at a glance that something was wrong with her, but he did not change his face and directly raised his hand to call the waiter.

“Hello, do you have brown sugar water here?” Drake asked directly.

The waiter was a little stunned and shook his head at Drake. “Sorry, sir, we don't have brown sugar water here, but if you don't mind we have hot water.”

“Oh, okay, please give me a cup of hot water.” Yu Mohan said coldly.

Then, when he got up and was about to walk out Jane pulled him and said uncertainly.

“Where are you going?”

“You and the child eat first, I'll come back soon.”

Drake did return very soon and he had a packet of brown sugar, ginger tea powder and a warm clothe in his hand.

Handing the warm clothe to Jane he said softly, “Go to the bathroom and get it on and then come out on time to drink brown sugar ginger tea.”

Jane went into the bathroom quietly. When she came out, the brown sugar ginger tea on the table was already brewed.

“The temperature is just right. Drink it while it’s hot. It’ll be good for a while.” Drake’s gentle voice had a magical feeling.

The three cute babies on the side naturally understood Jane’s situation.

Zachary was happy his father was finally on the road.

Zane feels complicated. It was also a good thing

The three of them had their own thoughts and did not interrupt the interaction between Drake and Jane Jane’s heart was even more complicated. Drake felt her discomfort so carefully he prepared these things for her very gently, making the crack in her heart even wider.

She had recently reached her monthly flow and she had all the necessary things with her. Otherwise, she could not imagine the process of asking Drake to buy her a sanitary towel.

“Who said so? Everyone said that if she loved him, she would give him a bunch of children. This gentleman must love his wife very much, so his wife gave him three cute babies.”

The corner of Jane's eyes could not help but twitch, she wanted to defend herself.

How could she be loved? She was a child who was abused.

After eating, they returned to the car Drake sent the three of them back. When they got downstairs Drake specially instructed Jane.

If she was uncomfortable, she could rest well and not have to go to work tomorrow.

Jane hasn't recovered from his gentle and careful trap. After listening to Drake's words, she just nodded and then took Zoe and Zane home.

On the way back to Maplewood mansion, Zac sat in the back and praised Drake loudly.

"Daddy, this time you're enlightened, when you chase girls, you should use your sincerity, not those conspiracies. Look, the beautiful teacher's attitude towards you is much better."

Zachary was very satisfied with this parent-child activity. Not only did his relationship with Zane and Zoe get closer, but more importantly, Daddy and the beautiful teacher had also made some progress.

"When you and Teacher Beautiful are married, I can call Beautiful Teacher Mummy too. Zane and I will also be legitimate brothers and Zoe is such a cute sister. How good!"

"To be honest Zane and Zoe are really good. They only look worse than me. I don't know what kind of person their father is. It's just a pity that they passed away at an early age." Zachary said with pity.

Hearing that Zachary mentioned Zane and Zoe's father Drake's face darkened.

"If their father hadn't died young, do you think you could be their brother?" Drake replied.

Hearing that, Zac patted his head, "Yes!"

"Then it's better to die." Zac said something.

"Hmph, even if he doesn't die, the person who touched me will sooner or later die in my hands." Drake muttered and he secretly hated the dead man who gave Jane a pair of twins.

As everyone knew, everything he said was scolding himself.

"Daddy, what did you say?"

Drake's voice was too low and Zac did not hear him, so he asked.

Drake shook his head and said "Nothing."

The next day, Jane really did not get up to go to work. Every time she is having her monthly flow she was always in pain sometimes she could only rely on painkillers to reduce the pain

Jane did not come to work and the cooperation with the Holbrook Corporation needed to be connected. After Daniel inform Drake about it, He simply took care of the cooperation.

When Charles saw Drake his face was a little embarrassing and he asked directly, "Where is Jane!"

"Those who know think that you are always here to cooperate, and those who don't know think that you is always running after my wife." The cold words were spat out of Drake's mouth.

"Wife? Mr Drake has never officially announced that he has a wife? Besides, Miss Jane doesn't even admit that she is married to you." Charles sneered.

Drake's face was gloomy Charles had deliberately provoked a conflict between him and Jane in the hospital last time.

"Mr Charles is so interested in my wife I have to suspect that your cooperation with the Warner group is not simple. In this case the cooperation is over." Drake said coldly.

Hearing that Drake was about to break the contract Charles's expression finally stiffened.

"Drake you have to know that if you terminate the cooperation now, it is a breach of contract."

Hearing this Drake disagreed and looked down at Charles "What about the breach of contract? I alone have the final say. How much liquidated damage can be paid

Mr Charles still thought about it, the cooperation was terminated. How can I explain it to the Holbrook Corporation's board of directors?"

After he finished speaking Drake stood up and strode away.

Although the Holbrook Corporation was also a large group, it was on a par with the Warner's Corporation, but it was different from the Crown Corporation's family business.

The Holbrook corporation have many directors and the relationship between the directors. was not harmonious. Although the Holbrook's family had the mos

Drake's blow could be said to have caused him a big problem.

This was not the worst thing for him. He thought that he had put a lot of effort into breaking the relationship between Drake and Jane.

But when he returned to the company, he saw a trending search a long-distance parent-child photo the title "The most beautiful parent-child photo"

The woman in the photo was obviously Jane and the male lead was Drake.

When he saw the hot search he was so angry that he smashed a good tea set and his face was hideous.

It seemed that he still underestimated Drake and Jane's heart for him see the hot search the moment she saw the photo, Annie angrily called Drake but she immediately hung up.

Afterwards, Annie went to Crown Corporation. After the front desk notified Drake, He refused to meet her and asked the front desk to send her away.

Annie also roared on the phone when she heard Drake's instructions.

"Drake, if you don't come to see me then I'll make trouble for your company. Believe it or not."

Hearing Annie's threat Drake was not really afraid but he thought that if Annie made a scene in the company Jane would definitely hear the news when she come to work tomorrow, so he invited her to meet him at a restaurant.

At lunch time Drake slowly appeared. Annie is in the restaurant, she has been waiting impatiently, she stood up immediately when she see Drake appear.

She stepped forward to grab Drake's arm, but he inadvertently avoided her

Annie's face sank in an instant, but Drake did not care he walked directly to the chair and sat down.

“Drake, what happen exactly ?”

“Why don’t you want to see me and why didn’t you answer my phone? You even took Jane to a parent–child event. Do you know that your photos are all trending, and they are even talking about the most beautiful parent–child photos? Why? I’m your fiancée.”

“She is Zachary’s mother, so she naturally needs to participate.” Drake said coldly, giving a flawless reason.

Hearing that, Annie’s face became embarrassed again and she stared at Drake in a daze.

“Drake, what do you mean by that? Didn’t you say before that Zachary is my child? Even if he wasn’t Drake's words pointed directly at what Annie had done to Zachary before. Annie's face turned pale, but she still tried to defend herself.

"No Drake, I've already explained it to you the last time I climbed the mountain was just a moment of confusion. I've already repented. Why don't you believe me?"

Just once Drake was still holding on to it.

“It’s not just about Zachary, but also about Jane...”

“I didn’t do anything to her.” Annie immediately retorted.

“What about in the past? Haven’t you done anything?” Drake asked coldly.

Hearing that, Annie was stunned and looked at Drake in a daze not understanding the reason why he suddenly said this.

Could it be that he knew something?

Annie was in a panic, but she did not dare to be too obvious, so she could only pretend to be calm.

“Drake what are you talking about? What can I do to her? She has always been pestering you, isn’t it?”

“Drake, did you really fall in love with her, but didn’t you say that you’ll only love me in this life!”

Annie calmed down and decided to strike first, crying and questioning Drake.

If it was in the past, seeing Annie’s tears would have softened his heart, but since this time, he has become more and more impatient with Annie.

Seeing Annie crying, not only did he not feel anything in his heart on the contrary he felt a little irritated

He frowned and said simply, “There are some things that should be made clear. I don’t deny that I’m attracted to her, so... Let’s make it clear between us.”

“No...it’s impossible.” Annie roared in disbelief when she heard Drake’s admission.

“Drake, you’re lying to me, aren’t you? You’re still angry about what happened last time, right? How could you be tempted by her? You obviously hate her so much...”

Annie cried and cried, but there was not much sadness and despair in her eyes, but more resentment and unwillingness.

Drake looked at her like this and became even more annoyed. “I can do my best to satisfy you with whatever you want, but our relationship should end here.”

After that Drake didn't stop anymore, he got up and was about to leave.

Annie rushed up and grabbed his arm, begging.

“Drake, don't leave, don't leave!”

“The Annie I know has never been like this. You've changed!” After leaving such a sentence Drake pushed Annie away and strode away.

It was not until Drake walked out of the room that Annie was stunned for a long time before she realized what Drake had just said.

Was he already suspicious?

Annie was not too sad. After Drake left, she immediately went home to find her mother.

“Mom, what should I do if Drake wants to break up with me?” Annie quickly asked her mother for help.

“What's the situation?” Hearing Annie's words, Mrs Mildred quickly asked the situation.

“It's because of that slut Jane. When she came back, everything changed. Now Drake wants to break up with me because of her. What should I do?”

Annie was grieved and indignant, not because of how much she loved Drake but because of the position of Mrs Warner that she had been waiting for so many years, she had failed again.

“What did Drake say?” Mrs Mildred asked.

“He said that he was tempted by Jane and wanted to end the relationship with me. He also said that I could make any request and he would satisfy me.”

“Mom, what do you think we should do now? I feel that Drake is serious he is not joking with me.” Annie said unwillingly.

Hearing this Mrs Mildred frowned and then said softly.

“Don’t worry, let me think of a way.”

“How can I be calm? I can’t even be impatient. If I wait for a while, they will both live together.” Annie was impatient.

“It’s useless for you to be anxious. It’s not that you don’t know what Drake’s temperament is. If you look for him now, it will only backfire.” Her mother consoled.

After listening to her mother’s words, Annie managed to calm down a little.

Of course, she knew Drake’s temperament. Just as her mother said, it was useless to worry.

However, Drake felt much more relaxed. He had been hesitant about how to resolve Annie’s matter before.

After work in the afternoon Drake bought some ingredients and picked up the cute children from school and went directly to Jane’s apartment.

Jane opened the door and saw the four people outside the door. She was a little stunned.

She was going out to pick up the child...

Her gaze went to the things that Drake was holding and her expression was even more stunned. Was he going to be a good husband and good father?

“Is it better today?” Drake asked softly.

Jane came back to her senses and nodded. It was probably because of what Drake had prepared for her. She felt much better today, not as painful as before.

“I’ll cook, you bring the three children to play for a while.” After entering the living room Drake went directly into the kitchen.

Looking at the man’s back Jane felt an indescribable feeling in her heart.

Sitting on the sofa Jane couldn’t help but ask Zachary, “Zac, can your father cook?”

In Jane’s impression Drake has always been a noble and cold person. Cooking such a thing. was simply impossible.

Hearing Jane’s question, Zac raised his head and thought for a while before answering.

“I don’t know when Daddy learned it. Ever since I can remember, Daddy has often cooked for me, but he has never cooked for anyone except me, not even My... Mummy.

It was a little awkward when Zachary called Annie Mummy and he did not want to call Annie mummy in front of Jane at all.

Hearing Zac’s words Jane’s expression became even more stunned.

She remembered that Drake had said before that Zac had been taken care of by him when he was a child. It seemed that what he said was true.

But why had he not cooked for Annie before, yet cooked for her?

Jane did not understand the reason, so she did not bother to think about it.

Anyway, she had already warned herself in her heart that no matter what Drake did, she couldn’t be soft–hearted, she couldn’t repeat the same mistakes, and she couldn’t jump into the fire pit again.

However, since he was the father of three cute babies, she could no longer be so resentful and indifferent to him.

Drake also noticed the change in Jane's attitude towards him, and he was quite surprised. Moreover, with Zachary's assist, their relationship had improved by leaps and bounds.

However, although Jane no longer speak coldly to him, she still maintained a distance from him.

On this day, Uncle Jasper invited Jane to dinner. Jane thought that since the last time he was injured and discharged from the hospital, the two of them had not been in contact. So she agreed to his invitation.

After work, Jane picked up her two children and went straight over.

When Drake came to pick up Zachary he only learned from him that Jane and Uncle Jasper –had dinner.

“Daddy, what’s wrong with you? You finally got closer to the beautiful teacher. How could you let her go to dinner with other men?”
