Chapter 131

“Hmph, some people are shameless, they dared to claim the first place before the competition. started. They aren’t afraid of the wind“,

Three pairs of eyes looked at the voice at the same time. It was a boy of the same grade. His face was full of arrogance and pride. Hearing his words, Zac immediately quit and looked at him fiercely. and said,

“What did you say?, Do you want to say it again?“,

“Let’s just say it, It’s a fact, the people who participated in the competition were all boys. She was a girl to join in the fun. She even brazenly said that she wanted to win the first place. If that’s not shamelessness then what?” His little face was full of arrogance.

Zoe was not that angry at first, but when she heard that the other party had discriminated against her as a girl, her pretty face became tense.

“What’s wrong with the girls? Girls can’t participate in the competition?“, Zoe asked fiercely.

After the boy saw Zoe’s beautiful appearance, he was stunned. He did not expect the other person to be so beautiful.

Zane and Zac immediately raised their heads high, not to be outdone.

“The robot is played by boys, and the people participating in the competition are also boys. Why are you a girl here to join in the fun? Go back and play with your Barbie doll“.

Hearing the boy’s words, Zoe’s expression turned colder,

“Girls can’t play with robots? why are you so annoying?“, she said,

Hearing that Zoe hated him, the boy looked a little complicated. Being hated by this beautiful girl was not a happy thing.

“Hmph, I think you’re incompetent yourself and you’re afraid of losing to my sister, so you said such a thing“, Zane also stood up and defended Zoe.

“Nonsense, I’ve been tinkering with robots since I was born, I know all kinds of robots like the back of my hand. I’m bound to win this competition. How could I lose to a girl?“, the boy said unconvinced.

“Hmph, who knows if you’re talking big“,

“You guys...“, the boy couldn’t handle it by himself and his face became embarrassed, “You guys wait for me, when I win the game, you must look good“, With that, the boy walked away.

Zac and Zane looked at each other and they had just the slightest understanding of how they had protected Zoe together.

Zoe was also sweet in her heart.

Although Zac was not her brother, he still treated her like his sister which made her very grateful.

Finally, he entered the venue of the game. Jane and her three children found a seat and went to get Zoe’s number card for the game, leaving Drake to take care of the three cute treasures.

When Jane was not around, Drake whispered to Zoe beside him, ‘Don’t be nervous during the competition, you are usually so familiar with robots so there should be no problem’

Hearing Drake’s words, Zoe raised her head and looked at him. Her beautiful face was calm and composed, quite similar to his.

‘Uncle Drake, I’m not nervous‘, Zoe said softly.

She had participated in this kind of competition a few times abroad, so there was nothing to be nervous about. It was just that this competition was bigger and had more people than the ones she had participated in before, more complicated.

But this was not a big problem for her.

Seeing the indifferent expression on Zoe's face, Drake did not say anything else.

After a while, Jane returned with her number plate. As the host's opening remarks ended, the game officially started.

Before taking the stage, Jane hugged Zoe and gently kissed her forehead.

"Baby, come on!", she cheered her. Under everyone's gaze, Zoe slowly walked onto the stage of the competition and as soon as Zoe took the stage, Zac looked at Jane and whispered, "Beautiful teacher, I want to kiss you too".

Jane looked down at Zachary upon hearing his words and smiled, without hesitating, she squatted down and placed a gentle kiss on his forehead.

Of course, she would not forget Zane. Zane was still a little angry at Zac but when Jane's kiss felt on his forehead, the resentment in his heart was gone.

Drake watched the scene where Jane and the children had a harmonious relationship, and there was an indescribable feeling in his heart, if he hadn't done those things that hurt her back then, he would have seen Annie's other side clearly, right? All three children could be his.

"Beautiful teacher, Daddy wants a kiss too", Zac said pretending to be a child after seeing Drake's gaze on Jane.

Hearing this, Jane was stunned. She looked at Drake and then at Zac. She did not know how to explain this to him. She could not do it.

"Your father is already an adult, so there's no need for a kiss".

Fortunately, Zane was there to help Jane.

"Sir, you don't need to kiss anymore!".

Zac scratched his head, expressing that he did not understand.

However, Drake did not say a word and looked at Jane quietly.

Fortunately, the embarrassing situation was broken when the host announced the official start of the game.

Several people looked at the game on stage and silently cheered for Zoe.

However, Zane and Zac heard a lot of discussion from the parents of the children who participated in the competition.

It was rare for a girl to even take part in this kind of competition. How could a girl know something like a boy?

After Zane and Zac heard this, their expressions turned a little unhappy as they looked at the people around them angrily. When Zoe won first place, she would slap these people in the face.

The result of the competition did not disappoint the two of them. Zoe finally disassembled and reassembled the robot as quickly as possible, and the robot was not damaged or wrong.

When they heard the host announce that the first place in the competition was the only girl on the stage, Zane and Zac were immediately overjoyed, and they clapped their palms excitedly.

Somewhat proudly, she looked at the few people who had spoken sarcastically.

On the stage, the other children who lost to Zoe were also shocked and amazed. Some of them were unwilling and thought how could they lose to a girl.

Among them, the most unwilling person was the second place who lost to Zoe, and it was the boy who laughed at the door before that Zoe was a girl.

He was a minute slower than Zoe and lost to her, ranking second, but his face was not happy because he won second place, but his unwillingness and dissatisfaction after losing to her, after the host announced that the first place was Zoe, the boy stood up and said to the host,

“I want to compete with her again“.

Hearing the boy's words, the host did not dare to make a decision and looked at the organizer.

"It's that bastard again. You're shameless, If you lose, you lose How dare you ask for another comparison", Zac gritted his teeth Zoe on the stage heard the boy's request for a new comparison There was no wave on his face, and she looked at the boy lightly. The organizer did not expect such a thing and then signaled the host to ask Zoe.

"Little Zoe, are you willing to accept Richard's challenge?"

Zoe pondered for a while after hearing the host and said indifferently, "Yes",

Hearing Zoe say yes, the host was also relieved and then asked the host to prepare the venue for the competition again Jane in the audience did not expect such a thing, but she still believed in Zoe The competition started again.

This time, only

Zoe and Richard participated in the competition. The robot to be disassembled and assembled this time was also more complicated and had more parts. It was also necessary to ensure that the robot was normal after assembly. At the beginning of the match, the atmosphere at the scene became a little tense Fortunately, the final result did not disappoint Zane and Zac Zoe's speed this time was even faster than before After she calmly completed the assembly, Little Richard slowly finished the assembly Almost two minutes slower than her At the end of the competition, Zoe once again won first place, and Richard's face was only shocked

"Congratulations to our little friend Zoe, who won first place in the competition again"

Then he put the microphone in front of Richard and asked with a smile, “Excuse me, Little Richard do you have anything else to say about this competition?”

The result of the game was already there. Even if Richard didn’t believe it, he didn’t have any complaints. Moreover, his attitude towards Zoe had changed from contempt at the beginning to admiration. He thought that he was good enough, but he did not expect that a girl like Zoe could play a robot better than him. In an instant, Richard’s attitude towards Zoe changed immediately. Such a beautiful girl, yet so powerful, was simply his heart-warming type.

After the competition, Zoe successfully got the robot she wanted, and the organizer also prepared a robot exhibition. After the event, everyone could visit. Zoe returned to Jane with the award, Jane happily hugged her and kissed her cheek.

“My baby is amazing!”

Afterward, they went to visit the robot exhibition together. In addition to some small play robots, there were also many large service robots on display. There are sweeping robots, voice-controlled robots; these are all work robots that serve families and all walks of life, and they are not yet in contact with Zoe. However, Zoe was still very interested in this and was very interested in seeing every robot. Next to the exhibition was a sofa for people to rest on and some places to put snacks. Jane went to sit for a while when she was tired, letting Zane and Zac protect Zoe. Zac leaned in front of Zoe, laughed, and said, “Zoe, you were so good on stage just now, that bastard is too overconfident, he even lost to you and he’s still unconvinced. In the end, he was severely crushed by you, he probably had a shadow in his heart”

Hearing Zac’s words, Zoe also covered her mouth and chuckled, while Zane also agreed.

“Of course, my sister is the best”

The three little guys were chatting and laughing. In the distance, a little boy walked over to Zoe with a huge bouquet in his hands. When they got closer, the flowers were moved away, revealing a rather handsome face. The person who came was exactly the brat Zac had called him, Little Richard! Because of the competition on the stage, his attitude towards Zoe changed 180 degrees, and then he held flowers to express his admiration. However, after seeing the two little boys beside him who were even more handsome than him, Richard was a little hesitant. The boys around her were all so good, how could she like him? When Zac saw the person coming, he immediately said angrily,

“What are you doing here?”,

Richard was startled for a moment, then looked at Zoe, “I...have something to say to you“.

Zoe’s expression was indifferent, and she did not have a good impression of Richard who discriminated against women.

“I’m sorry... I shouldn’t have belittled you before, let alone discriminated against you as a girl, and said things that girls shouldn’t participate in the competition. I apologize to you for what I said and did. I hope You can accept it” not expect that the other party was here to apologize. After listening to his sincere apology, her impression of him was not that bad.

Zoe did

“It’s good that you can recognize your mistakes.” Zoe nodded, and she did not have the indifference before. Mummy had said that knowing her mistakes could improve a lot. Since the other party had already sincerely apologized, then she wouldn’t hold grudges all the time. Seeing that Zoe’s attitude had improved, Little Richard was very happy in his heart, and continued to say, “Zoe ... To express my apology, I want to invite you to dinner, okay? You can eat anything you want. I’ll treat you“.

However, as soon as he said that, two pairs of eyes fell on him, both of them annoyed.

“Who’s your sister?”, Zane and Zac both looked at Little Richard with a fierce expression that shocked him.

“She looks a little younger than me....so she could be my younger sister“, Richard said looking indifferent.

“Anyway, you’re not allowed to call her sister“. Zac and Zane said in unison. Zane was even more unhappy in his heart. Originally, his lovely sister had to be shared with Zac, now there was a nother one who wanted to steal his sister from him.

“You guys misunderstood, I don’t want her to be my sister. I want Zoe to be m y girlfriend. Zoe, is that okay?“, Richard said shyly.

The moment he finished speaking, the two pairs of fierce eyes glared at him. They were not only fierce, but they directly regarded him as an enemy. The tw o of them protected Zoe behind them at the same time, and looked at Richard aggressively, almost tearing him apart with their gaze.

“You... immediately disappear from our eyes, Otherwise, don’t blame us fo r being rude to you“.

Seeing that the two brothers looked like they were about to attack Richard , Zoe quickly persuaded him, “Brother, Zac, don’t be angry. If you cause trouble later, Mummy will be an gry“.

Hearing her say, Richard’s eyes instantly lit up. He thought that Zane and Zac were competitors, so they hated him so much but he turned out to be Uncle.

“I misunderstood... I’m serious about Zoe, don’t worry, as long as Zoe i s my girlfriend, I will treat her well in the future, and I will give all my robots to her, for Zoe to play...“.

Chapter 133

Richard spoke vigorously but did not notice that Zane and Zac’s expression s had become darker. Finally, Richard stopped chattering, and Zoe respo nded indifferently.

“Sorry, I’m not interested in being your girlfriend. Besides, we’re both still young, so it’s not time to talk about this yet”.

Hearing Zoe’s rejection, Richard looked a little disappointed, but he still smiled.

“It’s alright. I’ll try my best to get your approval since you said we’re young, then I’ll confess to you when we grow up”.

Listening to Richard’s description of his future expectations, Zane said with a cold face, you still figuring out the situation? Not only will my sister not agree to you now, but she will also not agree to you in the future”,

“Uncle, don’t say that, Zoe only said that we are young now, but she didn’t say that when we grow up, I can’t pursue her”,

“You want to pursue our sister after we agreed”, Zaç said not to be outdone.

Hearing this, Richard became even more eager,

“Two uncles, don’t worry, I will work hard to get your approval, and then pursue Zoe”.

Zane

and Zac did not look good. In their opinion, the boy in front of them was not worthy of their sister. Richard looked at Zoe again and said eagerly, “Zoe, can you leave me a contact information so that we can exchange some questions about the robot in the future”.

Zoe did not have any thoughts of communicating with the other party in-depth, but when she heard that the other party mentioned robots, she made an exception and gave the other party the contact information of her phone and watch. After getting the contact information, Richard danced happily and then left under the cold gazes of Zane and Zac.

“Zoe, why did you give him the link?”, Zac asked unhappily. Zoe thought for a moment and replied indifferently,

“His research on robots is still good. I think there is still room for learning“.

Zac was not very clear about the answer given by Zoe. He did not know much about robots, and he was more inclined to various extreme sports. At the end of the exhibition, Drake took a few people to a very good restaurant. Jane wanted to refuse, but her refusal had no effect. When they arrived at the restaurant, Jane went to the restroom, leaving behind Drake and three cute treasures. The few people had just finished ordering when a figure walked towards them with a sweet smile on their faces.

“Mr. Warner...“.

The greasy voice aroused Drake's gaze, only then did he realize that it was Amy Bentley who had suddenly appeared.

“Is something wrong?“, Yu Mohan's attitude was very indifferent, and he withdrew his gaze with just one look.

“Mr. Warner, what a coincidence, I didn't expect to meet you here, are these two friends of Zac?“.

Amy looked at Zane who was sitting with Zac and Zoe with her best smile. And Zoe, because she had never seen met them together, Amy did not know that she was Jane's child but the last time she had seen Zane, she had even tricked him into believing Zane was Zac's friend.

Seeing Amy, Zane's face instantly turned ugly. He would not forget that last time Amy spoke ill of his mum.

“You have something to do? If you have nothing to do, move on. It will disturb our mood“, Zac said impatiently. Hearing what Zac has said and Drake not answering her, she was a little embarrassed but she did not want to miss this good opportunity,

“It's been a long time since I saw Zac, you seem to have grown taller“,

“Who are you?“, Zoe asked. She had never met Amy before and did not know her identity.

Hearing Zoe’s question, Amy pretended to smile,

“You’re so cute, I’m Zac’s aunt“,

“You’re not“, Zac denied it, his attitude towards Amy was indifferent.

“Zac, although you were not born to my sister, my sister is your father’s wife after all so of course, I’m also your aunt“. Amy cheekily ignored Yu Yan’s indifferent attitude.

“Enough is enough. I don’t want to see you at all. Hurry up and leave“, Zac said ignoring her words but she lowered her face and scolded coldly.

“Zac, children can’t be so rude“,

“I don’t need you to teach me“, Zac responded coldly.

“Mr. Warner, look, my sister taught Zac to be so outrageous, how could she be so rude? If it spreads out, everyone will talk bad about Zac“, she said looking at Drake and wanting to use the opportunity to slander Jane’s ability.

“You’re not allowed to speak ill of Teacher Beautiful“, Zac coldly scolded Amy again, not attempting to hide his dislike of this woman.

“My mommy doesn’t have a sister like you, get away and stop being disgusting here“, Zane couldn’t take it anymore and scolded Amy

“Stay away!“, Drake spit out the two words coldly and indifferently. Hearing that, even if Amy was thick-skinned, in front of everyone’s eyes, she did not have the face to continue to stay there, so she could only walk away. However, she was still unwilling to leave like this, so she found a seat not far away and secretly observed a few people. After a while, Jane returned, the dishes were ready, and everyone began to eat. Amy looked at this scene, her face twisted and ugly because the distance was a little far, she could not hear what they are saying. However, when she heard Zane and Zoe calling Jane mommy, she was shocked. When did Jane give birth to a child? In her and her mother’s investigation, Drake did indeed have a son, but it was not Jane’s son, but Annie’s. But now the two children called Jane mummy, could it be that Jane had also given birth to two children for Drake? It's just that outsiders don't know. With this thought in her head, Amy was even more jealous and unwilling. The menu in her hand and was about to be torn apart by her as she squeeze it angrily.

However, after listening for a while, Amy was even more shocked when she heard Zoe call Drake 'Uncle Drake'. All kinds of thoughts went back and forth, but Amy could not even use her brain to figure out what was going on. Could it be that Jane had given birth to a child, but it was not to keep out the cold? This realization shocked Amy.

Chapter 134

Jane and the others did not notice Amy who had been hiding in the dark. After eating, they got into the car and prepared to return to Silverbourne. Amy chased after them and saw a few people getting into a luxury car, the jealousy in her heart was like a volcano erupting, and she could not stop it. How could Jane be able to ride in such a luxurious car after giving birth to someone else's child? All of this should belong to her and not Jane. With a heart full of jealousy, Amy bought a train ticket back to Silverbourne and immediately returned home to talk to her mother about it. Returning to Silverbourne, Jane found a quiet afternoon to meet with Charles and gave him his pocket watch. When he received Jane's gift, he was overjoyed.

"This is a thank you gift for you. Because I was injured before, I couldn't take care of you."

The surprise on Charles's face froze when he heard that Jane's gift was because of a previous car accident. It turned out that she was just repaying her favor, not because she wanted to give him a gift.

“Thank you, I like the gift very much”, he said. No matter what the reason was, Charles happily accepted the gift. Then, he brought up the fact that Drake was also injured in the car accident.

“Did you also give Drake the same gift to express your gratitude?”, “Why am I giving him a gift? he’s pretending”, Jane said subconsciously.

“Such a dangerous thing is like a child’s play. I don’t know if his brain is a watt”. When she thought about that, Jane became a little angry. Hearing this, Drake looked a little complicated.

“Then what if I’m like him? Do you think I’m overthinking?”.

Jane was startled when he said that. After reacting, she looked at Charles and said,

“You shouldn’t do such a thing”.

Jane was suspicious for a moment, but she felt that something was wrong. Based on her understanding of Charles, he did not seem like someone who would do such a thing.

“I just said that, don’t worry about it”, Charles quickly said seeing that Jane’s expression has changed, he quickly smiled and changed the subject. Afterward, the two of them chatted again.

Jane mentioned her cooperation with the Warner Group, not wanting Charles to look at her in shock.

“Don’t you know that the cooperation between the Holbrook Corporation and the Warner Corporation has ended“?

Jane was stunned.

“I don’t know”, she said,

“President Warner personally came forward to terminate the cooperation and compensated for the liquidated damages, though, this cooperation is very important from the beginning, and it takes a long time to transfer goods from abroad. Our group has also terminated because of this sudden cooperation so the project stopped, and because of this, I lost my position as the group president, and now I’m just a vice president”, With that, Charles smiled bitterly, "You know my background, I'm the illegitimate son of the Holbrook's family. To be able to return to my family and become the CEO of the Holbrook Group, I don't know how much effort I put in, but a little. A small collaboration brought me back to my original form in an instant".

A look of grief appeared on Charles's face.

Jane didn't know much about Charles's past. Charles's father was romantic and affectionate when he was young. There were many women outside, and the family had many children one of them is Charles. Because of his academic excellence, Charles Holbrook won various double degrees and became famous at a young age. He was brought back by the Holbrook family as an exception. Unlike Drake who was born the son of Heaven's Chosen, Charles could almost be said to have used his efforts to get to where he was now. Seeing the sad expression on Charles's face, Jane also felt a little sympathetic.

"Why did the Warner Family terminate the cooperation?", She asked.

Charles shook his head, showing an innocent expression.

"It's probably because President Warner doesn't like me".

Hearing that, Jane's impression of Drake was even worse. He must be avenging his revenge, because she left him, he terminated the cooperation. Thinking of this, Jane felt a little ashamed of Drake and when she left Charles, she went directly to meet Drake.

Drake was a little surprised when he heard that she was there. After she entered the office, he was greeted with a question.

"Why did you terminate your cooperation with the Holbrook Corporation? Do you know how much of an impact it has had on Charles and how much loss it has brought to the Warner Corporation?", She had always been in charge of the cooperation with the Lu Corporation.

Jane naturally knew how much damage it would bring to the Warner Corporation, but after her words, Drake did not listen to her last words at all. He only listened to how much impact the previous words had on Charles. It was because of the good mood that she took the initiative to find, but because of her words, it became a cloud of clouds. He stood up and walked in front of Jane. He said in a low voice, "You came to me because of the bad influence that the termination of cooperation had on him?",

"Drake, I know you are bad at me but why? Don't implicate the innocent people".

Jane's tone was also very bad. He repeatedly implicated the people around her, which made Jane feel very annoyed. She felt that the man in front of her was too arbitrary and unreasonable.

"Heh, innocent person!"

The corner of Drake's mouth evoked a sneering smile, thinking it was ridiculous. Since she thought that he was that kind of person, then he would have done a good job.

"Yes, I've implicated innocent people because of you, what's wrong? what can you do to me",

Hearing Drake's words, Jane felt more annoyed.

"What exactly do you want, Drake?",

"I want you to stay by my side, all the time, every second, it's not that I can't continue to cooperate with the Holbrook Corporation but as long as you return to the Warner Corporation to work as my secretary, I will continue to cooperate with the Holbrook Corporation. Moreover, I can give him the lowest price for the cost of cooperation".

Drake's request was for cooperation. Since she came to him for cooperation, he should keep her by his side. Instead of letting her meet other men in front of him, it was better to stay by her side and see them all the time. But what Drake said makes her angrier.

"You are too despicable, Drake".

He knew that he had threatened her with the people around her. How could he be so shameless?

“You’re saying that I’m despicable. If I don’t do it to the fullest, I won’t be worthy of your praise”, Drake replied indifferently. Jane, who was mad at him for his shamelessness could only return to Warner’s work in the end, but she also scolded Drake to death in her heart.

Chapter 135

Because he met with Jane, Charles gets to know that she was not working at the Warner Company. After returning to the company, Charles planned to let Jane work in the Holbrook Corporation. In this way, even if he lost his cooperation with the Warner Corporation, he would not lose too much. However, the next day, he received news from the Warner family that they would continue to cooperate and that the cost of cooperation had been reduced by 20%. When Charles received this news, he immediately thought that Drake must have no good intentions and wanted to do something nonsense. However, the news from the Warner Family required him to personally come forward to discuss the details of the continued cooperation. With a cautious and subtle heart, Charles came to the Warner Group to meet Drake, In the conference room, Charles looked at Drake who was sitting in the first place calmly, he rolled his eyes and sat down. Without beating around the bush, he directly asked his doubts.

“How could President Warner want to cooperate again? It’s still 20% lower than before?”, a member of Holbrook Cooperation asked, Drake did not answer. The member’s frivolous words directly aroused Charles’ competitive spirit and responded directly.

“Why don’t you dare? The big deal is that I, Charles, can pay tens of millions to cooperate with President Drake, when the cooperation was terminated, it was not only the Holbrook Corporation that suffered losses. The Warner Corporation also lost money. The large amount of liquidated damages was not small and since Drake was so willing, what did he dare not do? Only this time, he would prepare a way out for himself“.

When he saw Charles’s enthusiasm, a cold smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

“I’ll wait and see!“.

It was only tens of millions, and he hadn’t seen it. The cooperation was finalized in detail. The two signed a contract again. When Charles took out a pen from his pocket, he took out a pocket watch and placed it on the table. When his eyes touched the pocket watch that Charles had brought out, Drake’s hand paused to sign, and he made a big deal on the contract. He was already familiar with this item. It was exactly what Jane had said he wanted to give to Charles.

He picked up his pocket watch, and Charles held it in his hand.

“Fortunately, it’s not bad, this is a gift from Miss Jane if it’s broken, I don’t know how to explain it to Miss her“.

Hearing this, Drake’s face darkened even more, but Charles still smiled as he looked at Drake.

“Boss, can you tell what era this pocket watch is? I don’t know much about antiques. If President Warner knows, I will explain a few things to Charles. Next time I see Miss Jane Charles will be able to talk to her more. Just a few words“.

Charles’s words were deliberately meant for Drake to listen to.

“It’s just a broken pocket watch. What’s the point? It’s not necessarily just a piece of merchandise“, Drake said coldly.

“Really, but even if it’s a street stall, as long as it’s from Miss Jane, I like it“, Charles said affectionately.

Chapter 735

Yeah, since Mr. Holbrook likes it, it's best to keep it. Don't lose or break it", Drake said in a low voice.

"Don't worry, Mr. Warner, Mr. Holbrook will not let such a thing happen".

A triumphant smile appeared on Charles's face. After the tense atmosphere was over, Charles made to leave the Warner Corporation. After he left the meeting room, Drake called Jane directly.

"Go and ask Secretary Bentley to escort President Holbrook downstairs".

Hearing Drake's words, Charles felt a strange feeling in his heart. The secretary Bentley he was talking about was not Jane Bentley, was she?

When he called Jane over, the corner of Charles's face that was still rising, instantly suppressed it. He did not expect that the secretary Drake was talking about would be Jane. There was a look of astonishment on his face, but because Drake was in front of him, it was difficult for Charles to ask. When Jane took him to the elevator, Charles couldn't help but ask.

"What's going on? Didn't you say you're no longer working with the Warner Family? Why are you back again?".

Jane hesitated for a moment. Charles was targeted by Drake because of her. Of course, she would not add fuel to the fire at such a time. He could only give another explanation, "I can learn a lot in the Warner Family, so I came back a gain",

Hearing Jane's explanation, Charles quickly said,

"If you want to get in touch with this field of work and gain experience, you can come to the Holbrook Corporation. The Holbrook Corporation is no worse than the Warner Corporation", he said what he had already thought, but after his words, Qiao Huan shook her head.

"It's alright, I'm fine with the Warner Family".

With this, Charles was a little disappointed, but he thought of something.

"The cooperation with the Warner Family was something you won for me, wasn't it?",

No wonder Drake would suddenly cooperate again. It turned out to be because of Jane. Thinking of this, Charles's feelings for Jane deepened. He felt that Jane had done too much for him.

"It's not a big deal. The termination of this cooperation will be a loss for both the Holbrook Corporation and the Warner Corporation".

Jane gave her thoughts and opinions. Although she explained Charles still believed that everything Jane did was for his sake, and he became even more determined toward her. Afterward, he asked Jane to have dinner together after work. These words quickly reached Drake's ears. When he learned that Jane had not rejected Charles's invitation, his mood sank again. Then, on Jane's first day at work, it was darkened by the heavy work arranged by Drake. When the overtime was over, the man insisted that she accompany her to see some clients. After arriving at the restaurant, he ordered a meal and waited for a while but the customer did not come. After the food came, the man immediately moved his chopsticks. Looking at this situation, there was nothing Jane did not understand. She was fooled by Drake again, and he did not have any customers at all.

With a cold snort, Jane just looked at him coldly and did not eat.

"Why don't you try it? It's all your favorite dishes",

"Is it interesting that you lie like this?", Jane said coldly,

"If I didn't say that, would you agree to accompany me to dinner?", Drake asked.

Jane did not answer because she knew the answer in her heart that she would not agree.

"Even so, you can't use such a deceitful method",

"If you don't refuse, I don't have to use any means", Drake said indifferently.

Jane was speechless, angry, and helpless.

‘Drake, I’ve said it many times, no matter what you do, I can’t go back to the past so you don’t have to do these meaningless things’, Jane reiterated.

Chapter 136

“Does it make any sense?”, Drake said unmoved.

“Drake, just treat me as I beg you. Let me go”, Jane said tiredly.

“You just want to divorce me?”, Drake asked coldly.

“Yes!”, she replied without hesitation.

“Why?, Do you have another man in your heart?”, he asked.

Jane looked at him, hesitated for a moment, and nodded. After receiving such an answer, Drake’s face was ugly, and he finally sighed.

“Eat first, then we’ll let’s talk about the divorce”.

After that, Drake continued to eat. Jane thought that what Drake said was true, and after working all night, she was also hungry, so she used her chopsticks. But she didn’t want to, the conversation between the two was vaguely overheard by Amy in the dark. She did not hear the details.

Ever since she learned that Jane had two children in the state, Amy had been desperate to find out the truth, but the investigation could not find anything at all, so she had been secretly following Jane. She didn’t want her to hear this shocking secret. Drake and Jane were discussing divorce which means their relationship was not good, and they would divorce soon. Thinking of this, Amy felt excited. She had always wanted them to divorce, so how could she pass up this great opportunity? When she found out the big secret, Amy quickly went home and discussed with her mother about getting Drake and Jane to divorce as soon as possible.

After Drake and Jane finished eating, Jane mentioned the divorce again, but Drake refused it. She knew that this matter was gone again, so she could only return home.

A few days later, Jane received a call from Andrew asking her to come home. When she received his call, she was a little surprised. After the last incident, Andrew had not disturbed her for a long time. How could he suddenly contact her again? Jane did not answer the phone. In her subconscious, there must be nothing good for Andrew Bentley to find her. She was too lazy to pay attention to the people over there, so she simply did not answer the phone. But the phone rang over and over again, and Jane was irritated. Andrew's attitude on the other end of the phone was not bad. He only said that letting her go back to dinner was a family dinner Jane directly found an excuse to be busy with work to refuse. Andrew on the other end of the phone seemed to have guessed that Jane would refuse, and then said,

"The relic left by your mother before has been found again. Are you sure you don't want to come over to take a look?"

Seeing that he's trying to threaten her with her mother's belongings again, Jane sneered in response,

"Don't you think it's boring to use the same excuse twice",

"What I said is true. If you don't believe it, I can't help it. There is also a photo of you and your mother's grandfather in the relic, If you don't come back and get it, I'll let the servants burn them".

Jane had no choice but to return to Bentley's house. She could not care about anything, but it was about her mother, so she still could not be cruel. As soon as she returned to the house, Jane immediately asked Andrew.

"Where's my mother's stuff?"

Andrew opened his mouth and wanted to say something, but Jane interrupted him,

“If you don’t give me anything, I’ll leave now”.

Seeing Jane’s attitude, his face was ashen as he gave it to her. When she saw that the bag was filled with her mother’s belongings, Jane’s expression improved a little, and then she looked coldly at the three people in the living room.

“Tell me, what’s the matter with me coming back?”,

Jane didn’t think that their rhetoric on the phone had told her to come back for dinner. Jane’s direct question but Andrew did not immediately answer, delaying the time.

“I’ll let you come back for dinner. You still have so many questions, if you have anything else, I’ll talk about it during dinner”, Andrew said and settled down.

Jane hesitated for a moment, but she stayed. She wanted to see what kind of demon Andrew and the others wanted to be. At the dinner table, Andrew ate the rice in his bowl.

“Did you have two children?”.

Hearing that, Qiao Huan stopped chewing and looked at Andrew indifferently, but she was a little shocked. She hid Zane and Zoe so well, how did Andrew know?

“Don’t be in a hurry to deny it, since I said it, I must have already found out”, Andrew added

Jane did not intend to deny it. Although she did not want the Bentley family to know about the existence of Zane and Zoe, they were her children and she would not hide it.

“Yes, what’s the problem?”, Jane asked coldly.

“Who is the child’s father?”, Andrew asked,

“What do you want to do?”,

Hearing Andrew’s questioning, Jane’s face darkened.

“I’m your father, may I ask what’s wrong with you?”, Andrew glared at her.

“Yes, Jane, how can you say that you also hold 20% of the company’s shares now, and you are considered to be Bentley’s family? Your father asked about your situation for your good, did you still think he’ll want to harm you?”, Rosaline said with a smile on her face.

Listening to the other party’s words, Jane’s expression did not improve at all.

Humph, who knew what bad idea they had in their minds?

“Since you’ve already given birth to a child with another man, then Mrs. Warner’s position is not good enough. I’ve found a new man for you. You’ll meet him after dinner if you can, If you’re divorced, then get married“, Andrew Bentley said indifferently.

His words were plain and simple, as if marriage and divorce were as casual as buying Chinese cabbage,

Listening to Andrew’s words, Jane only felt that her heart was full of ridiculousness. To give Amy the position of Mrs. Warner, the three of them took great pains. After the divorce, all the marriage partners had been found for her. Although she did want to divorce Drake, she couldn’t marry any man, especially the man the Bentley family had found for her.

1. 2.

“Sis, don’t you want to divorce Mr. Warner?, If you have someone you want to marry, Mr. Warner should divorce you soon“.

Jane was still a little angry, but after hearing Amy’s words, her eyes lit up. Yes, Drake did not agree to divorce her, but if she had the idea of marrying another man, Drake would divorce her. Thinking about this, Jane was not so repulsive to the blind date arranged by Andrew. When she saw Amy’s gleaming eyes, she was afraid that this blind date would not be easy.

After hesitating for a moment, Jane agreed to meet whoever Andrew wants her to meet. Seeing Jane agree, Amy was overjoyed!

Chapter 137

In the afternoon, Jane sat in a cafe with a man in a suit. The man's name was Collins Graeme and in his forties. He was the owner of a supermarket chain. He wore a tight suit and a large gold necklace around his neck. When he saw Jane's at first glance, Collins's eyes widened, coveting Jane's beauty. Then, he showed his yellow teeth and spoke critically.

I

"I'm very satisfied with you. I heard that you have already given birth to two children and one of them is a boy. I have no problem with you having children, after I get married, I can also raise your children but on the promise, you must give me a son. Don't worry, my family is rich and can raise your children, moreover, I already have five daughters in my family so when your children come to my house, I will treat them equally", he said and proceeded before Jane gets to talk.

"However, after you get married, you have to quit your job and take good care of your children at home. My family runs a supermarket, and work is usually very busy, so you have to take care of the family. Can you do this?"

Upon hearing Collins's various requests, Jane was shocked. At this time, the Internet was developed, and it was common to see people meet a strange ordinary man on a blind date, but Jane did not expect that the Bentley family would be able to find such a strange man for her. How did they think that she would like this kind of man?

Surely it wasn't to disgust her. On this side, Jane was dealing with the strange man.

On the other side, Amy took a picture of the two of them sitting together and sent it directly to Drake accompanied by the address and the words of Jane's b blind date with the man. After sending the message, Amy looked in the direction of Jane and Collins and showed a smug smile.

“Sir, I want to ask, what’s your annual income?”, Jane asked as she was unable to listen to the other party’s words and interrupted him.

“The annual income is at least over one million so don’t worry, I will be able to support you. Usually, you can buy gifts or something, you women just like small surprises like this, I know. However, before we get married, we must notarize our property. If you divorce me, I won’t give you a penny but after marriage, I can give you two thousand dollars a month for living expenses, you can just use it for your expenses”, “Sir, I think you’re here to look for a nanny. I’m afraid you’re not looking for a wife”, Jane couldn’t listen anymore and said coldly.

Seeing that Jane’s attitude was not good, Collins’s face also turned cold.

“What are you talking about?, If I’m looking for a nanny, why do I come here to meet you? do you know how much a cup of coffee is? It’s over a hundred. Can I invite the nanny to drink such expensive coffee?”, he just ordered these two cups of coffee and he felt bad about it already. It was just such a small cup of coffee. It was so expensive. This was the cheapest in the store. Jane was successfully laughed at by Collins’s words.

She just wanted to divorce Drake, she could not find such a low-level man to disgust herself.

“Sir, today’s coffee can be treated as if I invited you“, Jane said coldly.

Hearing that, the man was overjoyed at first, but then he regained his senses and looked at her, “What do you mean? you’re not going to marry me?“,

Chapter 737

“I’m not worthy of Mr. George, I don’t dare to climb high“.

No matter how stupid Collins was, he could hear the sarcasm in Jane's words and his face shows he was annoyed.

"I don't even think that you are a divorced person with children, you still dare to hate me. Believe it or not...", With that, Collins raised his hand and wanted to do something to Jane but she quickly avoided his actions, hating Andrew and Amy even more in her heart. Introducing this kind of man to her showed how vicious they were in their hearts and how embarrassing they were.

"Sir, pay attention to your words."

After that, Jane did not want to deal with the man anymore, so she stood up and left.

"You're not allowed to leave".

After finally meeting such a beautiful and agreeable woman, Collins did not want to let her go. Even if he could not marry her, at least he had to take advantage of it. After he finished speaking, he stood up and immediately chased after her. Just as he was about to succeed, a pair of big hands grabbed him directly and squeezed his hand hard. With a click, along with the man's painful cry, Collins's arm fell straight down, showing that it was dislocated. Hearing the cry, Jane turned around and saw Drake's tall figure, exuding a cold aura. When she saw Drake, a panic flashed in Jane's heart, and then she returned to normal.

The man, after screaming in pain, looked at Drake and asked angrily,

"Who are you? you dare to hurt me, believe it or not...ah...",

Before he could finish speaking, Collins's other hand hung down again, dislocating both of his hands.

"Get out!", Drake coldly spit out the words, the coldness exuding made people shudder. Both of Collins's arms were dislocated. At this time, there was no way to deal with Drake.

In addition, he was afraid of his aura, so Collins could only walk away in pain. As soon as he left, Drake's gaze fell on Jane, and he spat out words coldly,

"Do you know that bigamy is against the law?".

Even hearing this, Jane was unmoved.

“The family arranged it, I can’t refuse. Besides, I didn’t do anything”.

He did not remember, but Jane would not forget the blind date dinner that his mother-in-law had prepared for him.

Hearing Jane’s words, Drake’s momentum weakened a little.

“I didn’t know about it. Unlike you, you knew and you would come”, Drake said a little wrongly.

“The family is persecuted, there is no way“, Jane once again threw the blame on Andrew.

“Since the Bentley family is so busy, then let’s find them something to do“.

After that, Drake took out his phone and called Assistant David. Jane who heard Drake’s instructions was unmoved. Since the Bentley family didn’t care about her at all, and the men they introduced were so disgusting, they let them suffer. She didn’t bother to remind them. Andrew did not know that because of his actions, he had provoked Drake’s anger again. Amy also heard Drake’s instructions and hurriedly stepped forward and looked at Yu Mohan affectionately.

Chapter 137

“Mr. Warner, you can’t blame our father for this. It was my elder sister who said that she wanted to divorce you and that’s why my father arranged a blind date for her. Sister, since you’re against the blind date, you should have rejected it when Dad proposes it, why did you say such things after the blind date and blame all the faults on Dad?“, Amy defended and pretended to be a victim.

Chapter 138

Amy's pretense did not attract the attention of Drake and Jane. Both of them glanced at her and turned away. When Amy saw this, she instantly panicked. She wanted to use this to make the relationship between Drake and Jane worse.

"but it was best to get a divorce", she said again which angered Drake. If she didn't want the plan to fail or implicate the company, she better leave. Jane did not care about Amy's difficulties but after she left, Drake grabbed her arm and said,

"There's an auction I'm attending and you need to accompany me",

"I'm not going", Jane refused.

She was about to get a divorce and didn't want to get too close to him.

"You want me to use despicable methods against you again?", Drake raised his eyebrows.

Hearing that, there was still something Jane did not understand and Drake threatened her again. Why, why, why? She always could attack the people around her. Jane couldn't help but slander. Sometimes, she wished that she was alone and had nothing to do with him. No matter how good or bad he was, she would dare to confront him. However, this was not the case in reality. In the end, Jane could only go to the auction with Drake. Fortunately, there were many rare treasures and antiques at the auction. Jane was also very interested. After the auction started, Jane's eyes were focused on the stage, she was very interested in every piece of antiques that was auctioned. The price was not cheap either. Although she was interested, she hadn't met anyone she liked, and she didn't plan to make a move. Later, the auction item that was put on the stage was an ancient pocket watch. I heard that it was the favorite item of a famous warlord in the late Qing Dynasty. Although it was damaged, its collection value was still very high. After taking a closer look, Jane noticed the damage. She did not raise a placard. Drake raised his card.

“One and a half million...“, hearing Drake’s sign, Jane looked at him and reminded him softly.

“The pocket watch is damaged. It’s not worth your price“,

“As long as you like it, it’s worth it“, Drake replied. With the increase in the price of Drake’s, the rich woman who wanted to buy the pocket watch for 1.5 million increased the price again, and the price soared by 1.7 million. Not to be outdone, Drake raised the price again, and the price soared. Seeing that Drake had spent so much money on a pocket watch that was not worth it, Jane wanted to say that there was no place to spend it but thinking about Warner’s assets, Drake had too much money to spend.

At the end of the auction, Jane did not buy anything. Drake got the pocket watch that the waiter had packed and sent him. At this moment, a graceful figure walked toward the two of them. It was the rich woman who had just competed with him to buy the pocket watch. The other party was in her thirties. She was well-maintained, raised front and back, elegant and luxurious. She was a really rich woman.

“President Warner, long time no see. You’re more mature and attractive“, the woman smiled and greeted him. When Drake saw the other party, his expression was cold and he responded indifferently.

“Mrs. Smith, you’re very welcome“,

“I like that pocket watch very much. I don’t know if President Warner can give up my love“.

Hearing this, Yu Mohan also refused directly, “I’m sorry, Mrs. Smith, I like this pocket watch very much so I’m sorry that can’t agree to your request“.

Even after hearing Drake’s refusal, Mrs. Smith didn’t seem to be surprised. She covered it and chuckled, full of charm.

“President Warner is outspoken. You’re like this but it makes me very sad, I came from Macau just for this pocket watch". Mrs. Smith smiled and winked at Drake. Jane couldn't take it anymore. If she was a man, she probably couldn't take it. And Drake still looked indifferent,

"That means Warner has a good vision. This pocket watch is very fateful with me", Drake, and Mrs. Smith was not an uninformed person.

"What Mr. Warner said is very true, then I won't fight with it. However, Mr. Warner has to invite me to dinner to make up for my failure to do so",

Hearing that, Drake hesitated for a while but did not agree.

"Sorry, Mrs. Smith, I'm very busy and don't have time", he took Jane's hand and left, ignoring Mrs. Smith's ugly expression.

Back in the car, Drake handed the watch to Jane but she was stunned and did not pick it up

"Let's see if I can fix it", he said,

Because of the previous incident, Drake knew that Jane was very good at restoring cultural relics. Hearing his words, Jane came back to her senses, then took the pocket watch and checked it carefully.

"It can be repaired, but it will take a long time".

After watching for a while, she answered. Drake hugged his chest and leaned on the leather seat. He nodded slightly. Looking at Drake's expression, Jane felt angry for a while. How could she have time to help him fix these things?

"I don't have time", she refused.

She had not finished repairing the cultural relics that she had promised to help Sarah.

"I think you're too busy, otherwise there's no time to go back to Bentley's house and go on a blind date with another man", Drake said lightly, and once again brought out Jane's blind date with another man.

Jane pouted and did not refute. To divorce Drake, she felt guilty.

“In the future, if the Bentley family tries to trouble you for various reasons, you can use my name. I’m a man who protects from the cold, It’s not their turn to point fingers“, he said in a low voice again. Hearing this, Jane was stunned for a moment and did not answer. At this moment, the Bentley family was afraid that they were already in trouble and did not have time to come to trouble her.

However, what Jane did not expect was that the next day, Rosaline found the Warner Group and went straight to her. Be cause of being the secretary to keep out the cold, Jane had her own office.

After Rosaline came, she immediately found the office.

Jane, Aunty cooked chicken soup for you. It’s time for lunch. You won’t want to miss it, you it“, Rosaline said as soon as she came in with a fake smile on her face but Jane returned it with a cold and indifferent expression.

should

“I don’t dare to drink the chicken soup you sent me“, she said bluntly. Hearing that, the smile on Rose’s face froze.

“Jane, what are you saying, how did I hurt you?“,

“We shouldn’t be familiar with each other. You have no hospitality to offer so how could I dare to drink your soup? besides, there are no outsiders here, so you don’t have to pretend to be a good wife and mother“, Rosaline did not expect that Jane would not even have the intention of being in a relationship with her.

Chapter 139

“My Jane, I came to see you, I want your help, something happened to the company and Drake was behind it. Now your father’s company has entered an economic crisis so I came to you, just want you to persuade Drake to let him let go of the Bentley family“, Rose said in a humble tone.

Jane knew it so she wasn’t surprised, she was there when Drake was giving out the instructions and she made no attempt to stop him since she also wanted to teach Andrew and Amy a lesson.

“Do you think I can influence Drake’s decision?“, Jane asked coldly.

Moreover, even if she could do it, she would not do it.

“My Jane, no matter what, you are Drake’s wife and I’m sure he’ll listen to you“, Rose said unwillingly.

“So you still know that I’m Drake’s wife. If that’s the case, what is the blind date you arranged for me yesterday?“, Jane coldly replied.

Rosaline’s face paled when she said that, but she quickly reacted and immediately thought for her.

“My Jane, I and your father are all for your good. Drake is cold and ruthless, and his methods are cruel. You have been married to him for so many years, but you can’t see that you are half good. You even gave birth to a son with another man. I and your father want you to get out of the Warner family so that you can live a free and comfortable life. Look, you’ve been married to him for so many years, and he has never thought of pulling his old husband“, Rose said that she was extremely aggrieved.

Jane’s brows furrowed. She felt that Rosaline’s words about Drake were just a person with a greedy temperament and a ruthless heart. Jane interrupted her words.

“What is Drake’s character? It’s not your turn to say anything, to put it mildly, you are my stepmother, but I don’t recognize you. You are nothing. You and I have no right to question his character. Furthermore, the things he did to the Bentley family were because you guys were acting like demons. Even if he doesn't like me, I'm still his wife. You guys want me to go on a blind date with other men behind his back. It's just a small punishment for you",

"Jane, how can you say that? You are also Bentley's family. The company has your share. If Drake does this, you'll also have a loss." Rosaline quickly took out Jane's shares and said wanting to use this to make Jane move toward the Bentley family. Jane had never taken that stake in her eyes, but she did not want what belonged to her and her mother to fall into the hands of Rosaline and her daughter.

"It's a loss but I don't care", Jane said indifferently. Rosaline was very helpless when she saw Jane's indifferent attitude. Pretending to be pitiful, she said,

"My Jane, are you sure about this? Look at the company that your father founded, you just want it gone?"

Looking at Rosaline's pitiful appearance, Jane's expression was indifferent and she scolded her directly.

"Dad is not here, you don't have to pretend to be pitiful. It will only make me feel that you are even more annoying".

Rose's fake cry was instantly choked in her throat, and she was unable to make a sound. In the end, she could only leave in despair. Just as she left, Jane sat back and was about to continue her work when the office door was pushed open again, and Drake's tall figure walked in. Hearing the sound, Jane raised her head. She thought it was Rosaline who was not giving up.

"If there's something you can send it Mr. Warner, why should you come in person?", Jane just looked up and then lowered her head to continue her work. Her voice was also indifferent. Drake walked to her side in a few steps, his eyes on her, and he said with a hoarse voice.

“You don’t have the slightest complaint when I do something to the Bentley family?”.

Hearing this, Jane understood. Drake should have listened to the conversation between her and Rosaline just now. With the same expression, Jane raised her eyes and met his gaze.

“I’ve complained a lot about President Warner, and it’s not bad at all”.

Hearing this, Drake’s brows were slightly wrinkled, with a bit of displeasure.

“Oh? Really? Since you already have so many complaints in your heart, you don’t care anymore”.

After saying that, he raised his hand and clasped Jane’s chin. Her thin lips were directly attached to Drake’s. In shock, she kissed his lips again.

Jane came back to her senses and struggled hard for a while before breaking free from Drake’s imprisonment. Wiping her lips fiercely, Jane fiercely looked at the man who was still unfulfilled, cursing coldly.

“Drake, are you sick”,

Yes I’m sick, and you’re my medicine”.

Jane’s body was covered in goosebumps as she looked at Drake angrily.

“When will the pocket watch be repaired?”, Seeing Jane’s fierce little eyes, he quickly changed the topic. She was still angry. Hearing the man’s words, she said coldly,

“I don’t have time to repair”,

“I’ll give you a day off today. You have to fix it tomorrow”, he gave an order.

The next day, Drake received the pocket watch that Jane had repaired. When he got home in the evening, Drake couldn’t help but take out his pocket watch to observe, but Zac found out.

“Daddy, where did you get that pocket watch?”, he asked curiously. The main reason was that he felt that Daddy’s expression was a little abnormal. He did not see him looking at anything else.

“It’s from your beautiful teacher“, Drake said slightly. Hearing this, Zac couldn’t believe it. “Impossible, the beautiful teacher gives you something? Why are you two developing so fast?”.

Drake did not answer. Although he bought the item, it was repaired by Jane so it could be regarded as a gift from her. Zac did not know the inside story, but Daddy received a gift from the beautiful teacher, which made him fiercely envious. To get the gift, Zac went to Jane’s house with Zane after school the next day. After Jane gave the three of them supplementary lessons, Zac secretly expressed his envy at the bracelets on Zane and Zoe’s hands and said that no one had ever given him a bracelet before. Hearing his words, Jane looked at Zane and Zoe’s bracelets. It was the jade bracelet she bought and made by herself. However, at that time, she did not know about Zac’s existence, so she naturally did not prepare him.

Chapter 140

When Zac mentioned this, Jane also felt guilty about Zac and decided to give him an identical bead bracelet. Within two days, he received the beaded bracelet from Jane and danced happily.

Back home, Zac showed the string to Drake.

“Where did it come from?“, Looking at the bracelet, Drake had a slight guess in his mind, but he still asked.

“It was given to me by the beautiful teacher. It’s the same as Zane and Zoe’s“.

Zac felt happy when he mentioned this. He originally wanted the beautiful teacher to give him the same gift, but he did not expect that the beautiful teacher would give him the same bracelet as Zane and Zoe's which made him flattered and very happy at the same time.

It proved that he was with the beautiful teacher and was the same as Zane and Zoe.

Hearing Zac's words, Drake felt a little pantothenic in his heart, this is the difference.

Jane treated Zac, Zane, and Zoe the same, but he was as good as a foreigner to his legal wife. He had to buy the gifts himself.

The more he thought about it, the colder Drake felt.

At this moment, the butler came to report that it was Michelle.

Drake was in a bad mood and did not want to pay attention to these matters at all. He excused himself to the study and left Zac to entertain Michelle even though he was the one Michelle came for because she believes as long as she got Drake, she could marry him and become Mrs. Warner.

Zac was in a good mood today so when he saw Michelle coming, he did not act too indifferent. Instead, he even let the servant serve tea. Michelle was very happy when she saw Zac's attitude.

"Zac, this weekend, do you want Aunty Michelle to take you out to play? Where do you want to go?" Do you want to go to kindergarten?", Michelle asked with a smile on her face.

Hearing this, Zac shook his head and fiddled with the bracelet on his wrist.

"I don't want to go, I've been there, It's not interesting".

The amusement park in Silverbourne was designed to keep out the cold.

"Then where do you want to go, tell Aunty Michelle, she will take you there, or do you want to eat something?", Michelle continued to ask.

“No, I can't finish all the snacks at home“, Zac shook his head indicating that he was not interested.

“Um, then you don't have anything to do?“, Michelle insisted. Seeing her attitude, Zac looked at the bead bracelet in his hand and suddenly thought of the idea of giving the beautiful teacher a gift. Then, he said to Michelle, “Uh, for the sake of your desire to play with me, then I'll reluctantly go shopping with you“.

Hearing that, Michelle was overjoyed and happily took Zac to the mall.

Zac's purpose was also very clear. The beautiful teacher did not lack good — looking clothes, and there were quite a few cultural relics at home. As for cosmetics, the beautiful teacher did not seem to need it.

After thinking about it, Zac decided to give her jewelry and took Michelle directly to the jewelry store. At first, Michelle did not know the purpose of Zac's visit to the jewelry store.

After Zac and the waiter told the waiter to see the latest jewelry for women, Michelle was overjoyed.

Could it be that Zac wanted to give her a gift?

Michelle, who had this kind of expectation in her hands, also cooperated with Zac to choose beautiful jewelry. Michelle took a fancy to a four-leaf clover necklace and said to Zac,

“Look at this Zac, this necklace is so beautiful, why don't you buy this?“,

Hearing Michelle's words, Zac raised his eyes and said indifferently,

“No, it's too naive“, he said and picked up another beautiful bracelet and asked the waiter to wrap it up. Originally, because of Zac's denial, Michelle was still a little unhappy. When she saw that Yuyan had bought another bracelet, a smile appeared on her face. Then he said to the waiter who was about to pack,

“No need to pack, I'll just put it on“.

Hearing that, the waiter thought that Zac was going to buy it for Michelle, so she prepared to put a bracelet on her neck but when Zac saw this, he quickly stopped her.

“What are you doing? I bought this bracelet as a gift, If you like it, why don’t you buy one for yourself”.

Hearing that, the smile on Michelle’s face froze, embarrassed and indignant.

“Didn’t you buy it for me?”,

“Why did I buy it for you? I bought it for my future mother. You are too narcissistic”, Zac ruthlessly exposed Michelle whose face turned blue and white, and he did not bother to pay attention to it.

When Michelle came back to her senses. Zac had already walked out of the jewelry store. She quickly chased after him, enduring the ugly question on his face.

“Zac, you said you want to give a present to your future mother. Who is your future mother?”,

“I’m sorry, I have no comment”, Zac, the small person, pretended to be serious. Michelle’s face becomes even more ugly. She wanted to continue to be close to Zac, but he was too lazy to pay attention to her.

“Don’t follow me, I’m going back. Go do what you like”.

Feeling Zac’s disdain, Michelle’s face became more and more ugly, but Zac had chased her away, but she didn’t want to miss out on this opportunity, so she secretly followed him to see what he was going to do.

Zac left Michelle and called Jane saying that he had lost his way in the mall and asked Jane to come pick him up.

Jane received the call and came over without thinking. When they arrived at the mall, Zac was at a KFC store and ordered a fried chicken. Seeing Jane coming, he quickly put down the fried chicken in his hand, wiped it with a tissue, and looked at Jane with a smile on his face.

“Beautiful teacher, you’re here!”.

Michelle hid in the dark and saw Jane appearing and sitting opposite Zac, Zac was still smiling at her.

After a while, Zac took out the bracelet he had just bought at the jewelry store and pushed it in front of Jane. Jane was still a little stunned when she received Zac’s gift.

“Beautiful teacher, this is my gift in return. I hope you like it”.

Hearing that this was a gift from Zac, she was a little surprised and relieved at the same time.

*Zac has a beautiful heart and the teacher likes it very much, but don’t spend money indiscriminately in the future, okay?”. She said and accepted the gift happily, after all, it was Zac’s first gift.

“Teacher, I’ll put it on for you to see if it looks good,” Zac suggested.

“Okay“, Jane said with a smile and stretched out her hand to let him put the chain on. She then waved her hand to express her liking.

Michelle in the dark took this scene into his eyes and stared at it with a ferocious face, feeling extremely humiliated. She also held a grudge against Jane in her heart.

Zac said that he wanted to give the bracelet to his future mother, which meant that this woman was her enemy!
