

Mr. Warner Your Ex-Wife is Brilliant by Paula Chapter 341

Chapter 341

“Mommy, you’re awake?” Seeing Jane going downstairs, Zachary was the first to run up, took his mother’s hand, and led her towards the kitchen.

“Mom, are you hungry? Daddy asked the kitchen to prepare breakfast for you and he told us to tell you to eat more. After eating, you should rest at home.”

Whilst saying that, Zach had already pulled Jane to the dining table, and ordered the servants to bring the breakfast.

The dining table in the new house is larger than before, and the decoration is more innovative. The dining table has the function of automatic heating and heat preservation.

“Zach, do you want to eat some more?” Jane looked at the sumptuous breakfast, she couldn’t finish it all by herself.

“No, Mommy, we’ve already eaten. Daddy asked the kitchen to prepare it for you.” Zach replied refusing to eat again.

Looking at the table full of foods, and recalling the beast-like appetite of a certain man last night, Jane silently chose to eat it all.

After eating, Jane went back to her room to change her clothes, and opened the cloakroom. Jane was astonished to see the huge cloakroom full of hanging clothes for her, and some of them were even new.

Looking at the fully prepared clothes, Jane felt her heart swell at how thoughtful Drake was.

She didn’t know that he was such a careful person. Before, Annie used to experience such thoughtful side of him. But she lack the understanding of appreciating him, which led to the destruction of their relationship.

Jane put aside her thoughts and change into some simple clothes. She picked up a bag and turned to leave.

She plan to go out today to buy a new phone and card. Anyway, she has to call April and inquire about her situation.

“Mommy, are you going out?” Seeing that Jane was about to go out, Zane walked over immediately, and the two little guys followed as well.

Looking at the bunch of soft and white buns, Jane was very reluctant to leave to go to work, but she needed to. She couldn't rely on Drake all the time to support her and the three children.

“Well, Mommy is going to go to the company, and I'll be back soon, so you have to be good and stay at home, okay?”

“Understood, Mommy.” The three little guys nodded in agreement sensibly.

Mommy, Daddy said that if you want to go out, remember to take the uncle driver with you.” Zane said reminding his mother.

“Okay, Mommy understands.” Jane nodded, it would be best to have a driver.

When she came out of the door, sure enough, there was already a driver waiting outside beside the car, But to Jane's surprise, the driver turned out to be a girl, dressed in black, with long hair pulled high. She looked capable and tough and possessed such a cold face. She maybe possessed a cold personality as well. Jane thought “Madam!” The woman greeted Jane respectfully.

“What's your name?” Since she will be her bodyguard and driver starting today, who will also be protecting her closely, so Jane needs to know the her name.

“My name is Thea Jones,” the woman said.

What a cold beauty, Jane thought to herself. She then stop asking, and got into the car directly. She then told her where to go, and leaned on the back seat to play with the tablet.

She doesn't have her mobile phone, so she took a tablet used to be played by the little. opened it and logged into her account, the Jane sent a message to Christine.

guys. She

When Christine received her Jane's message, she felt happy and very excited, and then immediately sent a message back to her boss, asking how her injury was and whether she had recovered.

It was only then, Jane realized that Christine probably isn't aware about her kidnapping, so she just thought she was in a coma after that car accident. But the person who was in a coma was not her.

"I'm fine, and I'll be at the company in a while." Jane sent a message back to her. She informed Christine to go to the nearest mobile center and help her buy a new phone and card.

After receiving her boss order, Christine went to take care of it.

Half an hour later, Jane arrived downstairs of the company.

After parking the car in the garage, the two took the elevator upstairs. When they reached her floor, Jane felt that the company is having a good atmosphere today.

Everyone was busy doing their own work, when they noticed Jane's arrival. Although the employees were surprised, they all reacted quickly and greet Jane. After that they continued on their work.

And what surprised Jane was that the previous thorns in the company were gone.

When she walked to her office, she then understood what happened.

As soon as she walked in to the door of her office, she saw Daniel and her assistant Richard welcoming her.

"Congratulations to Mrs. Warner for returning safely and taking over the company." Daniel said with a smile.

Seeing Daniel here, Jane was a little dazed. But then, the two of them had already worked together before, and their relationship was okay, so she immediately ask.

"Why are you here?"

“Mrs. Warner, let’s talk about it inside the office.” Hearing this, Jane nodded and followed the two into the office.

After sitting down, Daniel immediately explained the reason why he appeared in the Bentley company.

“Madam, after your accident, Mr. Warner asked me to bring a few capable secretaries to take care of the company. Moreover, the entire company is now under your name. You are already the president of the company. It’s up to you how to handle it now.”

“Those who disagree with you in the company have already been dealt with by us.”

After listening to Daniel’s words, Jane didn’t know what to say.

She originally wanted to rely on her own strength to acquire the company, but in the end she still relied on Drake.

Forget it, what was his is also hers, so it doesn’t matter so much.

“You did a great job. Didn’t any major events happen in the company during this time?” After feeling relieved, Jane asked about the company’s situation

“It’s nothing serious, all cooperations are going on in an orderly manner, and a lot of cooperations have been added as well during this period.” Daniel took the document and reported it to Jane in detail.

After listening to Daniel and Richard’s report, Jane nodded in satisfaction, and asked them to put the documents that needed to be processed on the table for her, and then let them go out to continue their work.

Walking out of Jane’s office, Daniel was about to return to his post when he was suddenly stopped by Richard.

“Assistant Turner!”

Hearing this, Daniel stopped in his tracks and looked back at Richard with a slight smile on his rather handsome face.

“Do

you need anything?" Daniel asked suspiciously!

"Ms. Jane is back, are you... are you going back to Warner's Group too?"

Hearing Richard's question, Daniel was stunned for a moment, and then his smile deepened.

"It depends on Mr Warner's orders, I should go back

Daniel is Drake's most capable assistant. He can be regarded as Drake's right-hand man. Either arranging Drakes' various itineraries or handling billions of project cooperation, he was capable. Thinking about it, Mr. Warner should let him go back

"Oh, okay." Hearing Daniel's answer, Richard showed a bit of disappointment on his face, but he quickly adjusted his emotions.

'It's a pleasure working with you then, Assistant Turner!" Richard said suddenly, and then walked away quickly with the documents in his arms.

Looking at the man's running back, Daniel scratched his head with a puzzled look on his face.

As the first sword to work under Silverbournes's cold blooded Hades, no one can ever tell how happy he is to work with him. And until now, it was still the same.
