

Mr. Warner Your Ex-Wife is Brilliant by Paula Chapter 350

Chapter 350

“How did you find out about this?” Jane asked patiently.

If Charles really revealed this matter, then he is too shameful.

“You don’t need to know about how I discovered it, anyway, you just need to return the company to me and your dad. Now that something happened to Amy, your dad and I are helpless. Leave us a leeway to survive.” Rosaline said with a bit of sadness.

To say that her acting skills are indeed better than Amy, if she will say this in front of the outsiders, they would definitely stand by her side.

But Jane didn’t think that Rosaline came to ask her to return to the company because of Andrew.

“It’s impossible for me to return all the shares I got from Amy, but I can give him part of the shares that my dad transferred to me before.” Jane said lightly.

It is a fact that she is not Andrew’s biological daughter, but he raised her after all. Let’s not mention the fact that he only raised her for benefits.

When she was young, Andrew was really good to her, and she never lacked anything materially in life, even better than her peers.

She hated what Andrew did to her, but she couldn’t forget how kind he was to her when she was still young, so she couldn’t cut him off completely.

But Rosaline has nothing to do with her, so don’t even think about getting the company from her.

Rosaline was a little disappointed to hear that Jane didn't want to return the company to them, but Jane was still willing to give a part of it, so her excitement was ignited again.

"Okay, then how much do you plan to give your dad!"

"Five percent." Jane said lightly.

"That little?" Rosaline frowned. Everyone knows that Jane must be holding 80% or 90% of the shares now, and the other part may be in the hands of other management and shareholders.

This five percent seemed too shabby. She thought.

Jane was also thinking. Bentley company will soon change its direction, and will also merge with Spirit. It will go public in the future. It'll only develop and expand more. Five percent is already a lot of money, enough for Andrew to support his life.

"No, five percent is too little, at least twenty percent is enough." Rosaline bargained.

"Do you think you're in a vegetable market, wanting to bargain. What's more, the shares are for Andrew, not for you." Jane said coldly.

"You senseless child, how can you say that? Your father and I are husband and wife. If you give it to him, it is also mine."

"That's really not the case. I will make it clear in the contract that these shares are for Andrew himself, and he cannot transfer nor sell them. Otherwise, I have the right to take back the ownership of the 5% shares." Jane said loud and clear.

Hearing Jane's words, Rosaline still didn't understand why she was on guard against her.

"Hmph, anyway, I don't agree, that's all. You're sending me to be a beggar. If you don't take out 20% of the shares, I'll come to the company every day to trouble you. I'll see what you can do!" Rosaline threatened.

“You can try it. Believe it or not, if you come again tomorrow, you will be sent to prison.” Jane said lightly.

Amy is still in Drake’s hands, Rosaline hasn’t been messing around, but it doesn’t mean she is clean, but if she can get an evidence of her messing around, the she can have the ability to send her to jail.

After being warned by Jane, Rosaline also remembered Amy’s current situation.

That’s right, she can’t offend Jane too much, otherwise it will be difficult for her if she’ll be pissed by her.

In the end, Rosaline left the company disheartened. Jane sat on a chair in the meeting room and couldn’t help pinching her brows.

She thought the matter of the Bentley family had been settled, but still they keep annoying her.

Jane can only deal with the company’s affairs first, and think about the future.

Three days later, Jane got up in the morning, washed up and had her breakfast. She was about to go to the company when Drake stopped her.

“What’s wrong?” Jane asked puzzled.

‘Annie is back.’ Drake said.

Only then did Jane remember that Drake had said before that after Annie came back, he would let her vent her anger first, and then hand her over to the relevant departments to continue investigating the matter of the assassins.

Jane hesitated for a while, because of the recent incident that happened in the company, Jane suddenly didn’t have the heart to see her, and then said indifferently.

“You can directly hand her over, I don’t want to bother to see her anymore.” Jane said lightly.

Hearing this, Drake frowned, not understanding what she meant.

“You haven’t seen her” Yu Mohan said softly.

Hearing Jane’s tone before, it seemed that she wouldn’t easily let her go for what she did this time, but now her attitude made him a little bit confused.

“You want me to see her?” Jane raised her eyes to look at Drake, wondering.

Drake shook his head, “No, it’s just the previous incident, I thought you wanted to see and ask her personally why she did this.”

“What else, because of you!” Jane replied indifferently.

However, after thinking about it, Jane echoed her statement.

If what Annie did now is to keep Drake away, what about before?

When Annie stayed at Drake’s side, she had already married Drake at that time, Amy could have asked him to divorce me and marry her.

But she didn’t. Instead, she did so many things like hurting and torturing me. Why?

Chapter 350

Suddenly, she decided to meet Annie.

“Make the arrangements, we’ll see her in a while.” Jane changed her words again.

Although Drake was puzzled, he still nodded.

In the remote courtyard where Annie was imprisoned, Jane and Drake had just walked in when they heard a heart-piercing shouts and curses from inside.

This voice, is surprisingly Annie’s voice.

“Bring her into the courtyard.” Jane instructed.

Because of Amy’s incident before, Jane was afraid to get a sniff of that bad smell again, so she asked Drake’s people to take Annie to the yard.

Annie knew who ordered to capture her, and after she was brought out of the house, she looked up at Drake and said directly.

“Drake, you can’t do this to me!” Annie looked directly at Drake, her words had long since lost the tenderness and attachment, only anger remained.

Drake didn’t speak, but it was Jane who spoke instead.

Jane looked at Annie with her cold eyes, and said nonchalantly, “You didn’t expect such a day to come to you, did you?”

Annie finally noticed Jane on the sideline. The moment she saw Jane, her eyes were as fierce as if a fire that was suddenly ignited.

“Jane!” A sound of gnashing teeth came out of her mouth.
