Chapter 354

“Mommy, what’s wrong with you, why do you looked so tired?” Zoe noticed something was wrong, and immediately asked with concern.

Upon hearing their sister’s words, the two adorable babies turned their gazes at Jane expressing concern, “Mommy, what’s wrong?” they asked worriedly.

Hearing the worried and concern voices from the three, Jane felt that her mood was lifted up.

Crouching down, Jane hugged the three children, then sighed and said, “Mommy is fine.”

“Is Mommy having problems at work? If you have any troubles, you can talk to Zane. I will definitely find a solution for you.”

“And me, Mommy, Zach can help too.” Zachary said not to be outdone.

“Mommy is really fine!” Jane shook her head, and brought the three cute babies into the house.

Inside the house, April saw Jane coming back, she was lazily slumped on the sofa and didn’t want to move, she still felt a little uncomfortable.

“Honey, you’re back!”

Jane walked over and asked worriedly, “Are you feeling better?”

“Well, it’s better.” April nodded, her face still blank.

“If

still vomiting like this. We can invite a doctor at home to see you.” Jane comforted her.

“No need, I have no problem. Compared with the previous weeks, I vomited better these two days, and today Zoe made small pan cakes, I ate two.” April said with a smile.

Just as he was talking, Zoe had already bring out the small cake she had made.

“Mom, this is the little cake I learned to make from the pastry chef in the house today, try it.”

Hearing this, Jane was also delighted, picked it up and tasted it, the sweet taste spread in her lips and tongue, and her irritable mood dissipated a bit.

After eating the whole cake, Jane gave Zoe a thumbs up, “Zoe is really capable now, and the cake is delicious! Thank you baby.”

“As long as Mommy likes it.” Zoe smiled sweetly, a little sweeter than that little cake.

“By the way, your mother-in-law is here.” April said suddenly.

Hearing this, the pleasant mood on Jane’s face dropped, and she looked at the three cuties, wanting to ask them what Courtney was doing here?

If it is to see the children, she has no objection, but if she wants to trouble them again, it depends on whether she agrees or not.

“Daddy reserved a room for grandma in the house. Grandma played with us for a while in the morning. When she was tired, she went back to her room to rest. She said she was waiting for you to come back and had something to tell you“, Zach said.

Among the three of them, Zachary and Courtney have the closest relationship, so he told her what his grandma had said.

Chapter 354

Your mother-in-law is quite powerful.” April also commented.

Jane didn’t take it seriously. Of course Courtney was amazing, otherwise it would be impossible for her to support the entire Warner family and make it better after Mr. Warner’s absence.

But thinking of her way of maintaining it, which was to send the younger generation of the Warner family to that place, Jane disagreed very much.

Just when Jane was thinking about what Courtney would say to her, the servant came to invite her.

“Madam, Mrs. Warner said, she’ll be waiting for you in the study.”

Hearing this, Jane glanced at the location of the study with an indifferent expression.

“I see.”

After the servant left, Jane sorted out her emotions and walked into the study.

In the study, Courtney was playing with an ornament in the house, when she heard Jane’s voice entering the room, she turned around slowly.

“Madam...” Jane said lightly, after what happened with Zane, the estrangement between the two of them could never be resolved.

Courtney didn’t care about these things either. After Jane came in, she first sat down on the main seat, and then called Jane to sit down.

“sit down.”

Jane sat down, and the two were relatively silent.

“I heard from Drake that he wants to hold a wedding with you?” Courtney said slowly, parting her red lips.

Jane nodded with a generous attitude, “Yes.”

She agreed to hold a wedding with him, but if he doesn’t have a reasonable explanation for Annie’s matter, it will be uncertain whether the wedding could be held.

“I have no objection to your wedding, but you should make it clear in advance about Zoe and Zane.” “They are the children of Warner family after all. Although they have the same household registration with you, but you surname is Bentley...”

Before Courtney could finish speaking, Jane already knew what she was planning, and her face turned cold instantly.

As days go by, she really couldn't understand Courtney at all. Now that she hadn't acted like a monster for a day, does she feel uncomfortable?

"Madam, if your purpose is to change Zane and Zoe's surname, then that is impossible." Jane interrupted her coldly.

"They are the children of the Warner family!"

Courtney was also slightly upset, because of Zane's incident. Jane had been treating her coldly, and she could still bear it. But now that it was about Zane and Zoe's family surname, she couldn't bear it anymore.

"I gave birth to them." Jane responded to Courtney without giving in.

Why can't her children follow her surname?

Furthermore, Drake didn't say anything about it, but she, a mother-in-law doesn't have to mingle into this matter.

"Jane, I'm discussing with you right now. Put away your emotions. You and Drake will be having a wedding. You still need to display the children's pictures of memories, by then everyone will know. When that time comes, how can we explain to the public that the two children of Warner family weren't named after us." Courtney snapped.

"Then there will be no wedding!" Jane was originally upset about Drake sending Annie back to the Carltons home and didn't provide any explanation to her. And now her mother-in-law used the wedding to force her to change the children's surname. She was so angry that those words just came out of her mouth without thinking.

Courtney was so angry at her words that she stood up trembling and pointed at Jane angrily.

“Jane, don’t be ignorant. There are so many women who wanted to marry my son, and you’re not a loss to this family. What are you...”

Jane also stood up, and looked back at Courtney coldly,
“You can just find another woman for your son, anyway, it’s not the first time you’ve found one for him.”

Jane will never forget that woman that Courtney found for Drake before, and that woman did something that hurt her child.

Jane’s words completely angered Courtney, she glared at Jane angrily, but couldn’t say a word.

Jane was too lazy to talk nonsense with her, so she left the study directly.

Courtney was too furious at the moment and thought that, just because she had given birth to three children to Drake, so she started to act presumptuously

“Don’t think that you are the only one who can have children for my son. In Silverbourne, there are too many women who’s willing to give birth for my son.”

At this moment, an impulsive thought came to Courtney’s head.

That is, to find a woman to gave birth to Drake’s child, if Jane’s children doesn’t want the surname Warner, then she can just find a woman who is willing to let the child’s surname be Warner for Drake.

Courtney originally wanted to wait for Drake to come back in the villa, and tell him about Jane’s presumptuousness. But she didn’t know that Drake will come back late at night, so she lost her patience and had to leave first.
