

Mr. Warner Your Ex-Wife is Brilliant by Paula Chapter 437

Chapter 437

“Can’t wash!” Drake shook his head.

“It’s against the rules to come back this time, and we can’t let people find anything unusual, so I can only bear it.” Drake said with a light smile.

Hearing what Drake said, Jane didn’t hesitate, so she pulled Drake to the bed and sat down, and then couldn’t wait to ask him.

“You’ve been there all this time, what have you done?”

Drake had known for a long time that Jane would definitely ask, so he said perfunctorily, “It’s nothing, it’s just to carry out actions to defend the country.”

Hearing Drake’s light and calm answer, Jane was not at ease.

“Are you injured? Is it dangerous?”

From the time Drake decided to do this, Jane knew that it must be a dangerous thing, but she supported him wholeheartedly, so she could only support Drake without hesitation.

But his comfort, she is still very worried!

“There will definitely be dangers, but it’s not like you don’t know how powerful your man is.” Drake remained calm for fear that Jane would be worried.

“Don’t say that kind of thing. If you were really powerful, why would you hurt your eyes back then? Even if you were powerful, you are still a mortal body. You have no eyes, and you can get hurt easily. You have to pay attention to it?”

Listening to Jane’s instructions, although trivial, Drake felt warm in his heart, did not speak, and just looked at Jane with a smile, as if he would never see through.

“In the past, I was young and ignorant, but now, I won’t!” Drake shook his head and said.

“Nothing happened in Silverbourne recently, right?” Drake was also worried about Jane, and immediately asked, he was often in a state of no news, and could not get news from Jane quickly.

Hearing Drake’s questioning, Jane hesitated for a moment, wondering if she should tell him what happened to Warner’s recently.

But when she hesitated, Drake immediately sensed something was wrong.

“What happened?” The man asked bluntly.

Seeing Drake’s attitude, Jane also knew that it would be impossible not to talk, so she could only talk to Drake evasively.

“The hand behind the scenes must be the Franklin family!” Drake said through gritted teeth.

Hearing what Drake said, Jane told Drake about Adam again.

After hearing this, Drake’s expression also became complicated. He knew something about the previous generation, but he was not very clear.

Now hearing Jane talk about his husband’s father’s involvement with the capital, her heart is also in confused.

09:52

Mr Warm Your Ex wife is

Chapter

As a son, he naturally couldn’t benefit from his father’s choice back then, but if it attracted the covetousness of other big families in Berlin, then the Warner family would indeed be quite dangerous.

However, he couldn’t be by Jane’s side yet, making his wife bear everything, Drake felt even more uncomfortable.

“Jane, remember, the Warner clan is not the most important thing, you and our children are. If it reaches a certain point, the Warner clan must be the first to give up, you know?”

Because she couldn't be by Jane's side now, Drake could only tell Jane that at the critical moment, nothing about the Warner family was important, and they themselves were the most important.

Hearing this, Jane's heart felt warm, which proved that they were also very important to the man.

"Well, I understand!" Jane nodded. Of course, she would not joke about the child's life. If it really came to the point of necessity, she would definitely choose the child.

With Jane's answer, Drake felt relieved.

The two just stared at each other, and the atmosphere gradually became ambiguous and hot.

Drake had worked so hard to come back to see Jane, of course it wasn't really just to see his wife.

When it was hard to control himself, Drake grabbed the back of Jane's head and kissed her.

Jane also responded enthusiastically to Drake's kiss. When the dry wood met the raging fire, the whole burning room became extremely hot for a while.

In the morning, before dawn, Drake got up, and when he moved, Jane also opened her eyes.

If it was a normal days and Drake was tormenting her so badly, it would be impossible for Jane to wake up so early, but because of the reunion with him after a long absence, Jane didn't feel sleepy either.

After Drake got up, Jane also sat up.

"Are you leaving?" Jane said with a tone of reluctance and nostalgia.

Drake had already put on his clothes, and when he heard Jane's voice, he turned around and sat on the bed again, raising his hand to stroke Jane's hair, full of pampering and tenderness.

"Sorry, I have to go!"

Hearing Drake's apologetic words, although Jane was heartbroken, she still held back her tears.

"Well, be careful, our children and I are waiting for you to come back."

"I'll be a fine and be a good boy!" After touching Jane's face again, Drake got up and left.

Until Drake's figure disappeared from the room for a long time, Jane never recovered, tears also slipped down unconsciously

The next day, Jane didn't wake up until after ten o'clock in the morning. After opening her eyes, Jane stared blankly at the ceiling, feeling a little dazed about what happened last night.

She was even a little unsure if Drake had come back last night.

But when she sat up, feeling the pain like being run over by a car, and the bruises on her chest, Jane finally affirmed that everything last night was not a dream, and her husband really came back.

2118

Chapter 437

But he left again!

Thinking of this, a touch of sadness and loneliness emerged in Jane's heart.

In order not to let herself be immersed in this kind of sadness, Jane decided not to go to the company directly today, first got up and took a shower, then changed into a swimsuit, and went swimming in the swimming pool in the villa.

The three little guys saw that Jane rarely had time to stay at home, and saw that Jane wanted to swim, so they also put on their swimsuits and followed their mother, Jane to play in the swimming pool.

With the company of the three little guys, she really stopped thinking about the head of their family. Drake and her mood improved a lot.

Just when she was enjoying herself playing with the kids, her senior friend, Adam came out rubbing the round of his eyes.

Seeing Jane and the three little guys in the swimming pool, he immediately walked over.

“You still have confidence and time to swim, so come help me with that vase when you have time.”

Uncle Adam walked over, and Zachary in the swimming pool immediately swam towards Jane and blocked her.

Although she was wearing a swimsuit that wasn't very sexy, she still showed her legs and arms. Of course, her son, Zachary didn't want to be seen by other men for such a beautiful and sexy mommy.

Adam didn't feel anything, and rubbed his sleepy eyes, walked to the side chair and lay down.

Jane also didn't notice Zachary's small movements, and told the three little guys to be careful, then went ashore, pulled the bathrobe beside her and wrapped herself directly.

Seeing Jane's movements, Zachary relaxed his tense nerves.

“You haven't finished that vase yet?”

“You think it's that simple!” Adam said with a sullen face. He stayed up all night and only completed one-third of the project.

C (0)

1(0)