

Second Chances Protecting Mrs. Hall by Colby Stanford

Chapter 101

Chapter 101

The Halls Group's investment this time shocked the domestic and foreign investment circles. There was even financial media who evaluated the Halls Group's investment this time as a rare peak phenomenon in the investment world.

Simon did not expect Liam to have such impressive results in such a short time. This time, it was even more hopeless for Brad to surpass him.

Simon immediately prepared a party to announce to the public that Liam had returned as the CEO of the Halls Group.

When Emma returned to school, even her classmates were discussing this.

"I heard that the stock price of the Halls Group has soared this time. My parents are overjoyed," one of the classmates said.

"It's the one where Dream World is going to be built, right?" another asked.

"Yes. I've always wanted to go there to play... But I heard from my uncle that Emma has also invested this time. She should have become a super rich woman," a third said.

"Super rich woman? How much did she earn? Could it be millions of dollars?" the previous voice questioned.

Millions of dollars? No way. Probably hundreds of millions of dollars,” the third person said.

“Fk. That’s wild.” The students in the classroom exploded. “Hundreds of millions of dollars? Why is Miss Wilson still in school? If it were me, I would fg lie at home every day...”

The students were so envious that they were about to drool.

But at this moment, a girl said sarcastically, “Tsk. You’re so exaggerated. Hundreds of millions of dollars? Isn’t she just a country bumpkin who grew up in the country for more than ten years? Where did she get so much money? You’re all ignorant folks.”

Whitney Churchill had never liked Emma. Even after experiencing so many things in fencing and the City Games and the other students had gradually begun to accept, like, and even worship Emma, her thoughts had not changed.

Someone said unhappily, “Emma’s family is very rich. She’s Sean’s niece and her eldest uncle is a financier. Why can’t she be rich?”

“Tsk.” Whitney rolled her eyes. “It’s not as exaggerated as you say. Be careful not to flatter her too much. You just might get used to bowing over to her.”

Chapter 101

“Whitney, what are you saying?” a classmate burst out.

“That’s right. How can you say that?” another demanded.

“You’re the only one who’s always pretending to be lofty. Can’t you bear to see us praise Emma? Is it so difficult to admit that others are outstanding?” one of them finally stated. “Everyone, ignore her. She’s just petty.”

Whitney’s face contorted when the person hit her sore spot. “You’re all a bunch of lackeys.”

“Who are you calling a lackey?” the others shouted.

The class was about to start arguing when Emma walked in. “Don’t argue anymore.”

When Emma arrived, the originally noisy crowd instantly quietened down. She pulled out a chair and sat down lazily. “Whether you have money or not, it doesn’t matter. Everyone’s experiences are different. There’s nothing to mock. However, those who are envious and bad-mouthed others in secret should simply shut up.”

Emma admitted that she was lucky. She had uncles who doted on her, and Liam, a rich businessman. However, she got to where she was today because of her efforts.

No matter how much Whitney disliked Emma, she knew her abilities and quickly shut up.

The Hall family was holding an event tonight. Simon also invited Emma to the party. All the famous people in Troin

City would come.

After school, Emma went to the mall to choose a celebration gift to give to Liam during the party. She went straight to the mall after school, still wearing her school uniform.

The salesperson saw that she was a student and brought her to the low-priced area. "These are all classic designs.

that are more value for money. They're also very suitable for giving gifts. You can take a look first." When the salesperson finished, she left to do other things.

At this moment, Emma heard someone beside her speak sarcastically, "Didn't you just say that you earned over 200 million dollars? Why are you still looking at the cheapest basic designs?"

A second voice said, "Tsk. I told you she was bragging, but you didn't believe me."

The first voice said, "Come. Pack all these up for me."

Whitney's family background was quite good, and her grades had always been good. She was also good at writing articles. In her class, she had always been a "talented girl". Then, Emma appeared.

"Wow. Whitney, you bought such again," the second girl remarked. "Your father treats you so well."

Chapter 101

Whitney looked at Emma arrogantly, enjoying the compliments of her false friends.

Emma sneered inwardly. Not wanting to lower herself to Whitney's level, she turned and left.

Seeing that Emma was about to leave, Whitney became even more aggressive. "Since you're already here, why don't you buy something before leaving?"

"That's right. These are all basic designs. They're not expensive," another girl added.

"Everyone, stop. She definitely can't even afford the basics. She's afraid of embarrassing herself and plans to escape," a third girl remarked.

Laughter came in waves.

Emma did not retort and left the shop without looking back.

As Whitney was getting smug, an employee in a black uniform rushed over. "Miss Emma, it's you, isn't it?"

Emma looked at the person in front of her. He looked a little familiar. "You are..."

"I'm the manager of this mall. We met the last time you and Mr. Hall came to watch a movie. Remember?" the man reminded.

Emma remembered now. There was indeed such a person.

Not far away, when Whitney heard that the person was the mall manager, her expression immediately changed.

The manager was very respectful to Emma. "If you're here to shop, just call in advance. I'll personally show you around, Miss Wilson. These salespeople are insensible and I'm afraid they will neglect you Whitney was stunned. She thought, "What is happening? Why is Emma received by the mall manager?"

Whitney was extremely jealous when she saw her friends looking at Emma enviously. Not to be outdone, she stepped forward. "Hello, sir. My name is Whitney. My father is Winston Churchill." After saying that, she deliberately turned her body to the side, revealing the rows of shopping bags behind her.

Whitney thought the mall manager would also flatter her and let her friends see that she was more glamorous than Emma.

Unexpectedly, the manager only smiled awkwardly. “Hi.” His greeting was a world of difference from his respectful attitude toward Emma just now Whitney’s face turned red. “My father is a shareholder of this mall. My mother is a big client. I bought all the things behind me.”

Chapter 101

The manager’s lips twitched in embarrassment. He thought, ‘So what? Even if the Earth was bought by you, I still have to accompany this big client that Mr. Hall told me about.’

The manager said, “Miss Churchill, I’m sorry. I am busy. I can’t take up the valuable time of the important client. If you’ll excuse me.”

After saying that, the manager respectfully gestured for Emma to go before him. Without hesitation, he left with Emma.

Whitney stood there, ignored. Her face stung from embarrassment. She snorted. “He’s just a mall manager. I’ll go back and tell my father to fire him.”

Whitney was still stubborn, but no one believed her anymore. They only thought she was crazy.

Chapter 102

The gift Emma had chosen for Liam was an expensive wristwatch that she had chosen a long time ago. The price was comparable to a luxurious villa in TroIn City

After choosing the gift, Emma took the car directly to the Hall family's residence.

A group of guests had already arrived.

Tess stood among the guests. She wore a gorgeous gown today, and the jewelry she wore was priceless. She was surrounded by a few young socialites from other families doing business who curried favor with her

"Tess, your gown is so beautiful," one of them said.

"That's right. I've never seen such a beautiful gown," another remarked.

"I asked their design director to ship this over from Mayland's headquarters, isn't it beautiful" Tess said.

"Yes. It's really beautiful they cherished

The group of socialites surrounded Tess and praise her

Suddenly, someone said, "I heard Liam's girlfriend is also coming today. What's her name again? Emma Wilson?"

"Yes. She's called Emma Wihan," another said.

"Let's see who dares to steal Miss Curry's man later a second voice added

At the mention of Emma Tess's expression changed. She snorted furiously

Someone quickly comforted Tess. "Tess, don't be angry. You're beautiful today. Liam will definitely notice you."

"That's right. You've prepared a gown so meticulously. Hers definitely can't even compare to yours," another added

'll just wait to see that country bumpkin make a fool of herself a third voice said.

When the woman finished speaking someone walked in from outside the villa

Everyone subconsciously looked toward the entrance. When they saw Emma, everyone was stunned.

Emma wore a white gown today. Her long black hair flowed past her shoulders. The dress was a sy and exquisite one-shouldered design, revealing her beautiful shoulders and collarbones. Her skin was smooth, and her fishtail dress reached her ankles. The dress had a thigh-high slit, revealing Emma's slender night leg. The silk stocking made of diamonds stuck to her skin like falling meteors, looking elegant and magnificent. The countless diamonds reflected dazzlingly under the light. It was like the Milky Way, shining brightly.

Everyone in the villa fell silent for a moment.

As everyone was curious about which family's daughter this was, a man took the lead and stepped forward. "Miss Wilson, I'm Jerry Flagg from the Eastern Flag Fund. I finally met you."

Jerry was a well-known private-equity CEO with millions of dollars in funds at his disposal. Many people present tonight wanted to get to know Jerry. Tess's father had recently tried his best to pull strings but was rejected by Jerry every time.

But today. Jerry took the initiative to greet Emma.

Looking at Emma shaking hands elegantly with Jerry, Tess was about to go crazy.

"What's going on? Jerry actually took the initiative to get to know Emma? And he is so friendly," one of the girls remarked.

"Is this Emma that awesome? Wait. The design of her dress... It looks like it is from Youth," another commented.

The girls around Tess began to whisper.

One of them said, "Someone saw that she was wearing Youth's gown at her sister's engagement party last time. Could it be true?"

A second one added, "No way. If that's the case, she could buy two dresses from the most difficult-to-buy brand. Who is she?"

Tess said angrily, "The Youth gown Emma is wearing must be fake. Youth is so difficult to buy. No one in the country can buy it at the moment. How can they sell her the dress? She must be wearing a fake dress."

A girl beside Tess said weakly, "But... didn't Liam fancy Emma now? Maybe Liam..."

"Impossible." Tess could not accept to this extent today. She walked up and said that Emma had crushed her proudly, “Emma. Today is Liam’s celebratory feast. How dare you wear a knockoff. What do you mean by this?”

When Tess finished speaking, the guests came to a realization.

“Ugh. It’s a knockoff?” one of them said.

“I was wondering just now. The Best Actress Mabel Fuller wanted to wear Youth’s gown to the red carpet, but she was rejected. How could Emma have it?” another added.

“I’m speechless. If you can’t afford it, so be it. Isn’t it embarrassing to wear a knockoff?” a third chimed in.

2/4

Chapter 102

No one was qualified to wear a gown of this brand. Now that they heard that Emma was wearing a knockoff, everyone felt much better. They instantly looked down on Emma.

Liam had not arrived yet.

Tess and a few rich girls looked at Emma arrogantly.

“Emma, you’d better quickly take off this fake gown. If the Hall family finds out, they’ll find you embarrassing and kick you out,” one of them said.

“How can you be so sure that my gown is fake?” Emma retorted.

“Is there a need to be sure?” When Tess heard this, she laughed out loud. “There aren’t many gowns from Youth in the world. How could you have gotten one?”

“What if I say what I’m wearing is the real deal?” Emma asked.

“Then I’ll bow down to you.” Tess refused to believe Emma..

Emma sneered at everyone. “Does anyone here know anything about fashion design? Can you help me appraise the gown I’m wearing?”

At this moment, someone stood up. “Miss Emma, can I see your gown?”

The person who spoke was Mabel, whom everyone had just mentioned. Mabel was an internationally renowned movie star. She had a lot of fashion resources. Before her debut, she had studied fashion design at St. Martin in Lunden. Mabel had worn around 1,000 sets of custom-made gowns from all over the world. Her dream was to see Youth's design one day. Therefore, when Mabel saw Emma's gown, she could not help but tremble in excitement.

Emma thought, Today, I am wearing the gown I designed, but in the end, everyone thought it is a knockoff. These people say that they worship Youth, but they can't even differentiate between the authentic from the knockoff. Finally, there is someone who knows her stuff. Alright. I'll broaden everyone's horizons today!

Emma smiled at Mabel and nodded. "You do it."

Mabel stepped forward and looked at the embroidery on Emma's gown in admiration. She looked at the studded diamonds on the hem of Emma's dress to the hidden zipper on her waist and the lace on her back. She covered her mouth excitedly. "Yes. Such ingenious craftsmanship must have come from Youth."

After Mabel's judgment, everyone's eyes widened.

"Miss Fuller, you have to tell the truth, Don't be wrong." someone said.

"That's right. Emma is a wild woman who relies on men to get to where she is. Youth can't possibly sell her clothes," another chimed in.

Chapter 102

Mabel frowned and said, "Youth's design has always been famous for its simplicity, but the details show how low-key and luxurious it is. The designer has a set of garden-style embroidery stitches that she created herself. There are a total of 64 flower patterns. Depending on the style of each gown, she uses different embroidery techniques. For example, she used the three-petaled three-calyx-style graceful stitch from Anaur in this one... It's elegant and incomparable."

Chapter 103

Chapter 103

Before Mabel debuted, she was also an internationally renowned designer. Many socialites also admired her work. Moreover, she had worn more gowns than others. If she said Emma's gown was made by Youth, it was real.

However, some people still did not believe it.

Tess frowned and stepped forward. "Miss Fuller, take a closer look. It's impossible for Emma to wear the real Youth gown. Don't cover up for her."

"Don't spout nonsense if you don't know! This time, Mabel was furious. "Youth's design is unparalleled. How can anyone replicate such an exquisite design? You have never seen Youth's work. What right do you have to say that Miss Emma's gown is fake?"

Although Tess was a rich girl, Mabel was not to be trifled with. If Tess were a princess who relied on her father, then Mabel, who had over 10 million dollars in assets, would crush her.

Tess was seething with hatred. "So what? Even if this gown was personally designed by Youth, you relied on ment and Liam to buy it for you. You're a shameless slut." Tess cursed at Emma.

Smack.

Emma slapped Tess.

Tess screamed and looked at Emma in disbelief. "How dare you hit me."

The onlookers were also stunned. Tess came from a prestigious family. Yet, she was slapped in public. Not many people in the country would dare to do such a thing.

They saw Emma holding a champagne glass and looking at Tess coldly. "Youth's work has always been focused on design itself. It doesn't differentiate between poor and noble. Only truly independent, charismatic and outstanding women can own it. A snob like you will never get Youth's clothes no matter how rich you are."

With that, Emma turned and reached out to Mabel. “Miss Fuller, thanks for liking Youth’s works sincerely. Youth’s works are only for those who truly understand design—like you.”

Mabel was stunned, “You...”

I

Emma confirmed Mabel’s guess. “Yes, I’m Youth. To thank you for your understanding today, I will personally design a Youth outfit for you.”

Mabel covered her mouth in shock.

Everyone present was dumbfounded when they heard Emma’s words. Youth was Emma, Emma owned the world-renowned Youth haute couture.

Chapter 103

Mabel received a promise from Youth on the spot. This was the dream of all the socialites present.

At this moment, Tess laughed out loud.

“You’re Youth? You’re just a village girl who grew up in the countryside and has just seen the world. How can you actually know fashion design? If you’re Youth, I’m the hacker Stox.”

Emma looked at Tess with pity. She was so dumb it was pitiful. The reality was cruel because Emma was both Youth and Stox.

Emma said coldly, "Miss Fuller is right. The clothes I designed have a total of 64 stitches. This is the most direct way to identify them. However, there's one more detail that only the designer knows."

As Emma spoke, she pulled out a hidden button at the end of the dress. She unbuttoned the gold button and everyone saw the word printed on the inside of the button—Emma.

When Mabel saw the button, she suddenly thought of something. "I once saw Youth's work when I was studying fashion design in St. Martin, Lunden. My teacher told me that to let the world remember that this was a brand from Rhinea, Youth would write her Rhinease name in the gown secretly. However, no one has ever found where this word is written. Only Youth herself knows."

The name was a secret that only the designer knew. With Mabel backing Emma, and the button with Emma's name on it, all evidence pointed to Emma as Youth's designer.

Emma recalled that when she was young and living in the countryside, her neighbor was an old woman with white hair that reached her waist.

The other children were afraid of her. They said that she was a monster and would eat people.

However, Emma was not afraid.

One year during Christmas, Emma felt that the old lady would be very lonely. She secretly took a plate of sugared cookies from home and gave it to her.

Later on, Emma realized that not only was this old lady not as scary as the rumors said. On the contrary, there were many fun things in her mansion.

There were all kinds of gold and silver jewelry, as well as pearls, shellfish, and precious threads... They were piled up in boxes. These materials shone dazzlingly under the sun light. Emma had never seen them when she was young and poor. Those fine silk fabrics, their texture, their smoothness... This was the first time Emma knew what clothes and materials were.

From then on, Emma often went to the old lady's house. The old lady also liked her very much. Over time, taught her many skills that she had never heard of.

Ten years later, when Emma was fifteen, the old lady passed away. Before she died, she told Emma that when she was young, she was once a renowned tailor for the king. Her family made clothes for the royal family for generations. They were the only palace tailors in the country.

The old lady couldn't have children and taught all her skills to Emma. Emma was deeply saddened by her teacher's death. She spent a full 100 days creating the first Youth gown. The first Youth debut was inspired by the royal dresses. It integrated modern design and used a lot of techniques. Once it was released, it shocked the world. To this day, the work is housed in a renowned national art museum in Anaur. The name Youth resounded throughout the world from then on.

Emma was Youth's designer. It made everyone who wanted to see her make a fool of herself at the party give up.

Tess was so angry that she cried. Her face was still red and swollen from the slap. The clothing brand that all of them dreamed of but couldn't buy, was actually owned by Emma. She couldn't accept that.

At this moment, two people walked down the spiral staircase. Simon was dressed in a black tuxedo. Liam was behind him.

When Simon saw Tess crying in the event hall, he frowned. "Tess, what happened? Who bullied you?"

Tess burst into tears. "Simon."

Tess began to complain in public, but Emma turned a deaf ear. She and Liam looked at each other. She saw surprise and concern in his deep eyes.

On

ocide, Tess had just finished complaining. "Simon, you have to stand up for me."

Chapter 104

After Elsie was imprisoned, Simon's impression of Emma was average. Now that he saw that Emma actually hit someone in public, he could not help but frown in disgust. "Emma, it's your fault for hitting her. Today is Liam's celebration. You should apologize to Tess."

All the guests had seen how wild Tess was today. She deserved Emma's slap. However, since Simon had already spoken, no one dared to speak up. After all, Tess was backed by the Curry family. As for Emma, she was alone and had no one.

Some people sighed. When the two women quarreled, the Hall family would still be more inclined to Tess, who was from a prominent background.

As for Emma, although Liam treated her as his "girlfriend", she still had to give in to Tess. Even if Emma was the famous Youth designer, it didn't matter.

As everyone was sighing for Emma, Liam spoke coldly, "Since today is my celebration, no one is allowed to cause trouble."

At this point, Liam paused. His next sentence stunned everyone. "Tess, please leave."

Tess couldn't believe what she heard,

Tess's "fake friends" also thought that they had misheard. They wondered what was going on. They were shocked that Liam would kick Tess out for Emma, whose family wasn't as good.

Simon was clearly dissatisfied with Liam's reaction. "The Hall family has rules. Since Emma wants to be your woman, she has to abide by our rules. What's wrong with it? She lost her composure in public and hit someone. Is an apology too much for her?"

Simon's attitude was unyielding, clearly not giving in any way out.

Liam was about to speak when a male voice sounded. It was Jerry. He laughed mockingly. "Miss Curry is from a scholarly family. Her family is worthy of respect. But Miss Curry, you are... really brainless."

When Jerry finished speaking, everyone thought that they were hallucinating. Jerry had scolded Tess in public for Emma. Other than Liam, Jerry was the prominent man tonight.

Everyone yearned to be recognized by Jerry to successfully finance their projects. It was could be supported by him could easily go public. And it was this low-key big shot who said that the dignified said that companies that eldest daughter of the Curry family was brainless.

As everyone was in a daze, Jerry continued, "Miss Curry, I originally wanted to cooperate with the Curry family on account of your father's sincerity. But seeing you today, I realized we won't get along."

In other words, because Tess had provoked Emma, Jerry would not invest in the Curry family.

57%

Tess was humiliated. Not only did she not receive Liam's favor, but she also affected her family's business. After Jerry gave the order not to invest, other financial organizations would not lend money to the Curry family easily.

No matter how much Simon wanted to side with Tess, in this current situation, he could only bide his time.

Tess cried. "Emma is just a country bumpkin. So what if she's Youth? How can you cut ties with the Curry family for her? You're so blind."

Tess's forthrightness made the guests' jaws drop.

An assistant beside Jerry said, "Miss Wilson isn't the useless country bumpkin you think she is. The money she has in our financial institution is five times your family's assets."

Five times. When the number was dropped, all the guests were shocked.

Recently, there had been rumors that Emma had invested in the land on Holy Mountain and her personal worth had increased greatly. However, no one dared to imagine that it had increased by five times of the Curry family.

Although the Curry family did not have much material assets, they had always had a high status. Emma had five times their family's worth and she was so young. It was a terrifying fact.

No wonder Jerry's attitude toward Emma from the moment she entered today was unusual. It turned out that Emma had already become a big client of their private equity group.

Jerry looked at Tess. "Even if your father is present today, he has to be polite to her. Insulting our big client is a big no-no in our company. Therefore, I will never cooperate with your family."

After Jerry said this, everything was decided. With him taking the lead, all financial institutions would be cautious about cooperating with the Curry family. It was likely that the Curry family would not be able to do business in the country this time.

Without family support, Tess did not even have the confidence to cry. "Y-you're bullying me." She looked at Simon for help.

Simon silently looked away this time.

Tess was about to break down completely. She thought, "Why did this happen? My background is much better than Emma's, but now, everyone is helping Emma."

Tess heard everyone ridicule her quietly.

"Emma has such a powerful background," one of them said.

Chapter 104

“Tess embarrassed herself today,” another remarked.

“Did you see Mr. Simon’s face? It’s so red,” a third voice added.

“Yes. When Emma rebutted him, he couldn’t do anything at all...” someone commented.

“How could Mr. Simon not be able to do anything? It’s just that Mr. Liam has grown up. He’s so protective of Emma. What can he do?” a voice concluded.

The party ended badly. Liam and Emma left early and returned to Icovine Estate.

At Icovine Estate’s entrance, Emma sensed something was wrong. As an assassin, she concluded with her sharp senses that Icovine Estate was different tonight. She smiled at Liam and said, “I suddenly remembered I left something in the car. I’ll get it. Can you go in and wait for me?”

Liam did not notice anything amiss and nodded at Emma.

After Liam entered, Emma’s expression was solemn as she began to search thoroughly.

The footprints in the dirt had long been perfectly covered.

Emma determined that someone had invaded the villa through the changes in the growth line of the grass and trees on the usually uninhabited lawn behind the villa.

To cover his tracks so perfectly and infiltrate such a secure place without being discovered, he had to be a world- class assassin. His skills were not inferior to Emma’s.

Emma immediately called Josiah.

up all the surveillance cameras around Icovine Estate immediately. I want to know who was here tonight when Liam and I weren’t around. Also, let our people go through the black market carefully. Has anyone hired an assassin at a high price recently to kill Liam...”

Emma would only call Josiah by his other name Joshua when the situation was very serious.

Josiah knew the seriousness of the matter and immediately got into the mood. Not long after, he found everything that Emma wanted. “Boss, it’s a Dalev

Daley was the world’s second-ranked assassin on the black market. Legend had it that when Daley appeared, no one could escape.

Someone had spent so much money to hire Daley. It was obvious that they wanted Liam dead.

Chapter 105

Chapter 105

Emma’s expression was tense. Suddenly, her expression changed drastically. It was bad. She let Liam go in first. Daley had to be lying in wait for Liam in the room right now.

At that moment, Emma could not care less. She quickly put on a set of spare black clothes. She even wrapped her head and rushed into the villa.

The villa was presently empty. Although the lights were on, it was too quiet. The lights at night seemed even more strange and terrifying. There was a faint smell of blood in the air.

At this moment, Emma saw the servants and butler lying in the kitchen. ‘Liam!’ she thought. She immediately became even more nervous.

Liam had not made any sound since he entered. Emma wondered if something happened to him.

Emma walked forward silently. She did not know that at that moment, Liam was watching everything in the villa on a screen. Like Emma, he sensed something was wrong when he reached the door.

Therefore, Liam immediately went to Icovine Estate's mysterious dark room, a place that even Emma did not know about. The only thing he didn't expect was that Emma didn't go to the car to get something. Therefore, the people he sent to protect Emma did not find her.

As Liam was about to go out and look for Emma, he saw a fully armed person in black walk into the villa.

"Mr. Hall, is this the person?" The moment Levi saw the "person in black" appeared, his hair stood on end.

Liam said calmly, "No. That person has been sneaking into the villa. This is a newcomer."

Levi stared at the unrecognizable Emma in surprise. He did not recognize her at all. "Could he be an accomplice of the assassin?"

A dark look flashed across Liam's eyes. "Then we'll catch them all."

At this moment, Emma did not know that everything about her was in Liam's hands.

Suddenly, Josiah's reminder came from Emma's earpiece. "Boss, there's another system here. I can't control it, but I can sense it. Boss, someone is watching you."

Emma was a little surprised that someone was spying on her. Icovine Estate had a few surveillance cameras, including the cameras on the nearby streets. She knew all of them. 'There's a surveillance video that Joshua couldn't hack into? Who exactly is that person in control?' she thought.

As Emma was beginning to suspect that Liam had a backup plan and was about to retreat, a ghostly figure suddenly appeared behind her. A lethal blade slashed toward Emma's neck.

181 Thu 1 –

57%

Emma dedged the fatal blow by reflex. Her expression was stern as she faced the enemy head-on.

The other person fought with Emma for a bit and soon recognized her. “Emma”

Emma was shocked. She didn’t recognize the voice. Even Liam would not be able to recognize her in her disguise. She didn’t know how Daley would know her true identity.

Emma’s surprise did not affect her fight fighting.

On the other hand, Daley did not continue to attack after recognizing her. Instead, he adopted a more conservative defense.

Emma also changed her voice to a cold and elegant woman. “Icovine Estate’s defense is tighter than you think. Even if you are Daley Nash, you won’t be able to escape today.”

Levi, who saw this scene on the surveillance camera, was even more confused. “Mr. Hall, aren’t they accomplices? Why are they fighting?”

Liam did not answer this retarded question. He pressed a button.

In an instant, a sharp alarm sounded throughout Icovine Estate. More than ten men in black suddenly entered through the door and windows. They surrounded Emma and Daley.

Emma realized that the situation was out of control. She did not have any personal grudges with Daley, but if he wanted to make a move on Liam, she would attack him. But now, they had fallen into Liam’s hands.

Liam slowly walked out of the dark room. Emma looked at his cold expression and panicked for the first time. She had already exposed her identity as Youth in public. Liam also knew that she was the top hacker, Stox. Now, her identity of the world’s first assassin was at risk. It was also Emma’s most mysterious identity. She could not let Liam know.

“I’ll give you three seconds,” Liam said. “Who are you, and who sent you?”

Liam’s words were very clear. He wanted them to tell the truth. Otherwise, they would be silenced.

The Icovine Estate bodyguards surrounding them all held weapons aimed at them.

Emma tried to escape. However, it was impossible to escape the ambush of ten people. She thought, 'Do I have no choice but to be honest? Whether Liam accepts it or not...

This was the first time Emma felt so conflicted, but she didn't have much time left.

Liam counted down, "Three, two, one..."

"No." When Liam counted down to the last second, Emma finally could not help but speak.

However, at this moment, a bright light flashed. It was Daley. He carried a strengthened flash grenade with him and found the right time to throw it out when Emma spoke.

In the blink of an eye, it gave the two of them a chance.

Daley moved extremely fast. What was even more surprising was that when he fled, he grabbed Emma's hand.

Among the top ten assassins of the black market, Daley was second. His ability was speed. He appeared and disappeared unpredictably, was extremely fast, and caught people off guard. He would often complete assassinations when no one was paying attention. It was impossible to guard against him. This was also why he was seen as a thorn in the side by the world's rich and powerful.

The assassin ranked first was Phantom. Her ability was confusion. It was rumored that she could change in an instant. She could make different sounds and disguise herself as different people. She was a natural hunter. Her flawless disguise led her to be able to kill while their guard was down.

and today, Emma had a taste of what it meant to be able to move and kill so quickly. That was a brief moment that words could not describe. In the blink of an eye, she was brought out of the villa by Daley. When Liam and the others came out, Emma had already changed into her original clothes.

As for Daley, he had long disappeared.

Liam Thunder's bodyguards said seriously, "Mr. Hall, do you want us to go and get him back?"

"You can't catch him," Liam spoke calmly.

At this moment, Liam saw Emma stumbling over from the other end of the lawn. "Emma?" Liam's tone changed noticeably when he saw her.

am had sent people to look for Emma in the parking lot, but no one had seen her. He was worried. Now that he was seeing her coming over, he heaved a sigh of relief.

Are you alright?" Liam asked with concern.

Just came back with it. I've been looking for it for a long time. I almost couldn't find it." Emma's acting skills were top-notch and she did not reveal anything at all. Suddenly, she looked around in confusion when she saw the nervous bodyguards. "What's wrong? Did something happen?"

Levi was about to say something when he was stopped by Liam.

Liam spoke gently, "Nothing. I'm glad you're okay."

As soon as he finished speaking, he noticed something strange about her.

Liam's deep gaze landed on Emma's hair.

On her hair, there was pollen from murraya in this season.

She said she went to the parking lot.

However, Murraya was only planted on the low lawn behind the villa in Icovine Estate.

In other words, in addition to going to the parking lot, Emma had also been to the back of the house, which was in the opposite direction of the parking lot.

He thought, "What was she doing there?"

Liam's handsome face was expressionless.

He only took a step forward and gently brushed the pollen on Emma's head with his fingers. "Recently, Murrayal has bloomed. It's easy to get allergies. Remember to wash your hair tonight."

It sounded like a simple concern, but it had a deeper meaning in Emma's ears.

She thought, 'Oh no, I have just crawled through the Murraya... I was so eager to save him that I did not check myself carefully. Could Liam have already realized it?'

However, Liam only gave a seemingly insignificant reminder. Other than that, there was no other reaction.

Since an assassination took place in Icovine Estate, soon, the entire staff team was replaced.

Some of the spies who worked for Brad Hall and was deliberately kept by Liam had also been completely eliminated by him this time.

The defense level had increased by another level. This was to prevent Daley from attacking again.

However, ever since that incident, Daley had not returned.

Emma used the memories of her previous life to complete the top investment project in Holy Mountain and accumulated her first bucket of gold. The excitement of this life had just begun.

Chapter 106.

The semester ended quickly. Vark College entered the summer vacation.

Someone asked, "Miss Wilson, can you tell me if Mr Rivera will hold a concert this summer?"

A lot of Emma's friends and classmates were fans of Sean Rivera.

Everyone was hoping to hear some news about Sean from Emma.

Emma thought for a moment and said, "I'll ask him and tell you!"

Everyone exclaimed, "Oh yeah! That's great! Long live Miss Wilson!"

After packing up her bag, she left the campus and summer break started for her.

Emma called Sean after leaving school. "Hello? Sean?"

"Emma?" Sean sounded like he was on set and he sounded excited when he received her call. "You're finally thinking of looking for me? I've seen the news. Your value has soared. You're really amazing!"

Emma smiled sweetly. "Oh, by the way, Sean, where are you now? I'm on summer vacation, so I can visit you on set!"

"Really?" When Sean heard that his favorite Emma was coming to see him, his mouth almost broke into a smile.

The makeup artist, who was putting on makeup for him, trembled and almost drew his eyebrows crooked.

Sean said, "I'm filming at the Elder Filming World now and I am not that busy today, feel free to come!"

Emma said, "Alright, I'll go over now."

As soon as Emma arrived there and got out of the car, she saw Sean's personal agent, Jessica Reed, waiting for her at the entrance.

The last time Elsie Weeds's charity gala ended, She was the one who helped Sean and Emma line up for a spot at Larry's Lobster.

Therefore, Emma recognized her at a glance. She also recognized Emma..

"What has Sean been doing recently? Will there be a concert soon?" The two of them walked in while talking.

Jessica knew Sean's schedule like the back of her hand. She thought for a moment and answered seriously, "Recently, he will be filming a large-scale drama, Bell, in the Ancient Capital. He might go to the city of Athar next week to participate in a famous brand's live event. Then, he'll be filming a variety show in September... The schedule is very tight. There shouldn't be any room for a concert by the end of the year."

"I see..." Emma thought, it seems that my classmates are going to be disappointed. However, Bell is a drama that was very popular in my memories. Even though I didn't watch much TV in my previous life, I still have an impression of it. However, it's not because it's a great show, but because the female lead of the drama later became infamous for something. Once she was exposed, all of her works were banned. She and the people who worked with her lost hundreds of millions of dollars and this was the news of the year. So this drama is destined to fail and Sean is going to be implicated.”

In the previous life, Sean had basically left the industry because of the failure of the concert. But in this life, the concert tragedy had been stopped by Emma. Therefore, Sean had the opportunity to join the crew of Bell, which was another trap for him to fall.

“Miss Emma, is there something on your mind?” Jessica’s eyes were bright and she quickly realized that Emma had a lot on her mind.

Emma confessed, “I don’t like the female lead of this drama. Celia Ortega looks like a pure and innocent girl, but in reality, her private life is messy. She disrespects the law in public, participates in fraudulent donations, and her manager beats up fans. These are old news. Since the big shots who support her have not given up on her, they kept covering for her. Such an immoral woman will face her downfall sooner or later and implicate the entire production team!”

Jessica did not expect Emma to know so much about the internal secrets of the entertainment industry despite being a young student. She immediately looked at Emma in a new light.

Jessia said, “I have already thought of this. However, Celia has strong backing and this is the critical moment for Sean to develop a new career in drama series. After discussing it with him, we decided to accept this job.”

Emma shook her head. “He cannot do this!”

“Why?” The agent didn’t expect Emma to be so sure.

Emma added, “Unless Celia is kicked out of the crew.”

This was something that no one had ever thought of.

Celia had always received the best resources and opportunities in the entertainment industry.

Some people said that the people who were behind her were not only rich and powerful, but they were important politicians from other countries.

Therefore, no one in the entertainment industry dared to really mess with her.

Even the top female celebrities would not dare to resist if Celia stole their resources.

“What big words! I want to see who is trying to kick Celia off the crew. Turn around and show me your face!” At this moment, Celia’s manager walked over from behind.

Chapter 107

Chapter 107

Celia’s manager obviously thought that Emma was also a member of the entertainment industry.

Unfortunately, Emma had no intention of entering the entertainment industry.

90%

“She’s not from the entertainment industry. She’s Sean’s niece. She’s here to visit.” Jessica said. She then frowned and pulled Emma behind her.

When Sean’s name was mentioned, usually people would show some respect to him no matter which line of work they came from.

When the agent heard Sean’s name, she became much more obedient.

The agent snorted since she knew that she would not be able to do what she wanted to Emma in this situation, so she only said angrily, “Since you’re not from the industry, don’t meddle in other people’s business and watch your mouth!”

A staff member next to her joined, “That’s right, little girl. If you speak too arrogantly, you might offend others!” Celia’s team had always been arrogant. However, after saying a few harsh words, they turned around and left.

If not for the fact that Sean’s status was higher than Celia’s and he was not to be trifled with, they would not have let Emma off so easily today.

After a simple confrontation, Emma secretly memorized the faces of these people. She remained silent for the time being and did not want to face them head-on for now.

Jessica said, "Miss Emma, don't take it to heart. Their team is like this."

"Yeah," Emma responded, but she silently made a note in her heart.

Jessica brought her to the set and specially found a cool and comfortable spot for her. "Wait for us here. Mr. Rivera is filming a scene in water now. He'll be done soon."

Emma nodded and began to look at her phone.

away. aw

Not far away, a woman in sunglasses lay under a parasol.

From the corner of her eye, she saw Emma sitting alone under the shade of a tree.

Celia pursed her lips. "Who is that person?"

Her manager replied, "She's Sean's niece. She's indeed very beautiful, but she said that she's not interested in the entertainment industry."

宽56%

Chapter 107

Celia was a senior in the entertainment industry.

She was almost 30 years old, but her skin and figure were not inferior to younger women.

This stemmed from her extremely strict self-discipline and the hundreds of plastic surgeries that ordinary people could not tolerate.

A woman who valued her appearance so much naturally could not tolerate a face that was prettier than her on the set. Celia felt threatened.

She said, "Find a reason to get her out of here later."

Celia's agent immediately understood what she meant.

The manager said, "That is my intention. Isn't Director Martin looking for a newcomer recently? We can't let him see her. Oh, right, this girl was very arrogant. Just now, I clearly heard her tell Sean's manager that she wants to fire you!"

Celia's face darkened immediately after her manager informed her.

She thought, 'Fire me? She has not debuted and is already so arrogant! If she enters the entertainment industry in the future, she might be a big threat to me. After all, her face is so pretty!

She said, "You, come here..." A prop master came up to Celia. She added, "In a while, I want you do something to that tree..."

At this moment, on the other side, Emma was waiting for Sean and feeling bored.

She sat on the chair with her legs crossed. She was tired of looking at her phone and leaned her head against the back of the chair with her eyes closed.

Suddenly, a scream came from the front. "Be careful!"

There was a big tree behind Emma. There was no one there.

She thought that something had happened to Sean.

When she reacted, she saw a prop that was originally hanging firmly on the tree suddenly became loose and smashed straight down on her head.

That prop was not heavy enough to kill someone. However, the shape was very sharp. It was obvious that someone wanted to disfigure her.

Everything happened in the blink of an eye. Emma exerted strength under her feet and soared into the sky.

50%

Chapter 107

On one hand, she was agile, and she could jump high and fast.

On the other hand, it was her vigilance. Her experience in battle allowed her to fully awaken her limbs the moment danger approached.

Emma dodged the sharp object.

At the same time, she subconsciously raised her leg and kicked with the tip of her foot. The sharp glassware was sent flying by her kick. It was close to a straight parabola with full force.

A terrifying scream sounded. Celia covered her face. "Help! My face, my face..."

Blood trickled from between her fingers.

The glass tip that was kicked by In was kicked by Emma just now fell to the ground. Celia looked at the glass and was about to flare up when she suddenly widened her eyes as if she had touched something extraordinary.

At this moment, the staff ran over to help her. However, when they saw her face, they all looked as if they had seen a ghost.

Someone said, "What... what's going on..."

Another person pointed out, "Celia, your face!"

Celia touched her nose. It was sticky and soft. The prosthesis implanted into her nose was poked out.

Celia's nose was crooked now. She looked like a deformed person.

Her face was bleeding profusely, and her plastic surgery prosthesis was exposed.

Realizing that the prosthesis had fallen off, she screamed crazily, "Don't look! None of you are allowed to look at me! If anyone dares to say anything, I guarantee that you won't be able to survive in this industry!"

She usually treasured this face the most, and she never admitted to the media that she had done plastic surgeries.

If such a terrifying scene was seen by the audience, Celia knew that she would be accused of doing plastic surgeries and lying, which would be the downfall of her career.

Celia's manager was also anxious. "What are you waiting for? Quick, send her to the hospital!"

Some people who had been bullied by Celia quickly took out their phones and secretly took photos.

Some of the reporters who were waiting by the side did not want to let go of such a good opportunity. They tried all sorts of angles to capture Celia's ugly state.

Chapter 107

Celia's agent quickly took off her coat and covered her head. "Stop filming, stop filming ..."

The set was in chaos. Soon, an ambulance arrived at the scene.

Celia was carried to the hospital.

However, there was a group of people walking straight towards Emma.

Everyone saw that the glass was kicked over by Emma.

"Emma, right? You destroyed Celia's face with a glass. Let me tell you, even if you are Sean's niece, you are finished this time!" The man in front of her had a feminine appearance and was wearing a suit. This refined scum looked familiar to her.

Emma remembered that this person's name was Edric Willis. He was the assistant of the president of the largest entertainment company in the country, Stars Entertainment. Celia worked for that company.

The CEO of Stars Entertainment, Clay Walton, was a famous new tycoon who started from scratch in Troln City.

Clay was Celia's childhood sweetheart, and he was her most powerful supporter.

At that moment, a black Rolls-Royce Phantom drove into the set. A man got out of the car. He was wearing sunglasses and a suit. He was tall and looked like he was not to be trifled with.

"Mr. Walton!" Edric quickly told Clay about what had just happened.

When Clay heard this, he looked at Emma viciously. "Tell me, how do you plan to compensate me for this?"

Chapter 108

Chapter 108

Clay stared at Emma.

Emma was indeed quite pretty. Even a man like him, who was used to seeing beautiful women, could not help but impressed by Emma. However, no matter how good-looking Emma was, he was immune to her because he only had Celia in his heart. He would punish anyone who tried to hurt Celia.

Clay stared coldly at Emma. His aura was very strong and oppressive. However, he realized that Emma was not intimidated by him.

Emma looked up at him coldly. "You have quite a big company. It's a pity that you are blind."

"Emma, what are you talking about?" When Edric heard how impudent she was, he immediately said to Clay, "Mr. Walton, I think this woman is crazy! There's nothing to say to her. Just take her away!"

"How dare you!" At this moment, a voice interrupted their conversation.

When Sean and the executive director heard that something had happened here, they rushed over before the water scene was finished.

Sean had learned about the entire incident.

He said, "Everyone in the industry knows about the dirty tricks Celia has done over the years. Since she has the guts to lay her hand on my niece, she has to face the consequences right now."

Clay's face turned green with anger.

Edric put on a fake smile and said, "Mr. Rivera, since you're also in the entertainment industry, you should know Mr. Walton's power. With your status and your family, we cannot do anything to you, however, the trainees who work at your company..."

Although Stars Entertainment was not the largest company, it still had quite a status in the entertainment industry. Although they could not influence Sean, it was quite easy for them to take down some young celebrities.

Sean was not a saint and did not want to care about those people since they were unrelated to him. However, his agency clearly did not want him to offend Clay.

“Mr. Rivera, how about we... Jessica tried to stabilize the situation, but Sean said directly, “No one can make my niece suffer today! If so, I will quite this drama!”

The executive director was the first to panic. “Don’t... Mr. Rivera, perhaps there’s some misunderstanding? Let’s talk things out.”

Clay said, “Celia’s face is injured. There’s no room for negotiation! We must make this woman kneel down in front of Celia and apologize to her in public. She must also compensate Celia 200 million dollars for the medical fees and mental damage!”

When Emma heard this, she simply laughed and said, “Even though Celia is so popular, can her fake nose be worth this much?”

Edric mocked, “Her nose is internationally insured. Can a little girl like you afford 200 million dollars? If you don’t, you will have to go to jail!”

Clay did not relent. “Director, if I remember correctly, the investment that Stars Entertainment has spent on Bell is worth half of your fund. If Sean’s niece refuses to apologize and compensate, I request in the name of the investor that Sean be removed!”

Of course, Sean did not mind that. However, since Clay was the investor in this drama, Sean could not stand being suppressed like that.

Emma also could not tolerate her prideful uncle being bullied by such a rotten person.

She said, "Since you don't want to talk about it properly, there is no room for negotiation. Let's post this online and have the netizens comment on it." As Emma spoke, she took out her phone.

"Don't you dare!" Clay's expression changed when he saw that she looked like she was ready to take everyone down with her.

Emma held her phone and said, "In my phone, I already have the entire process of Celia colluding with the prop master. Although I didn't have the intention to hurt her with that glass, she reaped what she sowed!"

Emma had already made preparations when Celia got into the ambulance and informed Josiah Yale. Josiah had already sorted out footage from all the nearby surveillance cameras and edited the video. This video showed Celia instructing a prop master to do evil and Celia's nose implant falling off.

Emma said to everyone as she played, "Bell is a good show. It's just a pity for a sm like Ceia to be in it... If she doesn't leave the crew today, I'll post the video online and let Celia's fans and thousands of netizens see what she looks like in this state..."

Clay did not expect Emma to have a countermeasurement so quickly. More importantly, the angles in the video indicated that they were from the cameras installed on the nearby streets. Even he was not confident that he could obtain this information.

He didn't know how Emma was able to do it. Clay's face was covered in dark clouds. He was filled with murderous intent. "If you dare to post these things online, believe it or not, I'll let you die a horrible death!"

Emma said innocently. "I'm sorry, my hand slipped. The internet speed is too fast. I've already sent it out..."

Chapter 108

This time, Sean's crew weren't the only ones who were nervous.

Celia's staff crew was even more nervous.

Clay gave the order to mobilize all the media forces in the city to remove this video.

However, Emma seemed to have been prepared.

Josiah was full of confidence as he said through the Bluetooth earphones, “Boss, don’t worry. I am prepared. They won’t delete the video so easily. Celia is a cancer in the entertainment industry. I must make her suffer a blow this time.”

Now that Emma had released the video, Stars Entertainment and Sean must have become enemies. No matter how reluctant the director was, Clay was the investor. He could only remove Sean as the male lead. “Mr. Rivera, I might not be able to work with you on Bell this time.”

The entertainment industry judged people based on their skills.

Sean was very impressive. Perhaps in other production teams, he would be the investor and the boss.

However, the boss of this one was Clay.

Sean didn’t care at all. However, Jessica stepped forward and pleaded, “Director, don’t... We’ve all signed the contract. You have to pay a lot of compensation for breaking the contract. Why don’t you...”

‘There’s nothing to say. Replace Sean with Stephen Poe!’ Clay did not give her any face at all.

Stephen was just a third-rate actor. Her net worth was not even a fraction of Sean’s.

Clay’s action was undoubtedly trampling on Sean’s dignity.

Emma clenched her fists and said coldly, “No wonder the netizens criticized Celie for being supported by the investor of this crew. I promise that Sean will take the position as the male lead of Bell back. As for Celia and you... just wait and see?”

Clay looked at Emma, his eyes burning with rage.

He thought, “Very good. It has been a long time since anyone dares to provoke me like this.

Clay said, “Then let’s see what you got.”

Chapter 109

Chapter 109

On the other side, at the headquarters of Hall Group, Liam was in a meeting.

Since Emma went to Sean's set after school, Liam's people had been secretly tracking her situation.

Now that Celia and Clay were looking for trouble with Emma, they immediately reported it to Liam.

Liam asked, "Clay Walton? The only son of Star Group?"

Levi replied, "Yes, Mr. Hall."

Liam said, "Halbert Walton has always been dissatisfied with his son being with an infamous actress. It's a good time for his father to personally resolve their family's rotten matter."

Levi understood Liam's meaning and quickly called Halbert in the name of Liam.

He recounted the entire process of what happened on the set and showed Halbert the video. The Internet was in an uproar now.

Most importantly, Levi revealed that Emma was protected by Liam.

At the filming location of Bell, Clay still insisted on replacing the male lead, Sean.

Sur call came in. A staff member said to Clay, "Mr. Walton, something is up!"

Clay furrowed his brows. "What is it?"

"After the chairman found out about Miss Celia's incident, he personally went to the Cultural Administration, the police station, and various media outlets to ask for a strict investigation of Miss Celia! She will be arrested by the police after the operation in the hospital!"

Clay's face instantly turned ashen.

He thought, "What is going on? I thought Father had been too busy to interfere with my relationship with Celia. Who has tipped him off and made him take action so quickly?"

Emma saw the change in Clay's expression and knew that things had turned around.

Not long after, many police officers arrived at the set.

Everyone present had to be taken to the police station for investigation.

Clay looked defeated the entire time he was taken away.

Chapter 109

No matter how powerful and influential Clay was, there was nothing he could do in front of his father and the police.

As soon as Emma's video was released, the news on the Internet about Celia's disfigurement and Celia's dirty tricks had already caused an uproar.

What was originally a fight between Celia and Emma had already fermented into a social event.

There were hundreds of millions of discussions, and the server had crashed countless times.

Emma's video was in high-definition. It was still very popular, and there was no way to delete it.

As more and more big-name brands released announcements to terminate Celia's endorsement contract, many people who claimed to be insiders came out to expose Celia for the evil things she did in the past.

A female actress, Nina Chandler, commented: [Five years ago, Miss Ortega and I were working on a movie. She put a towel full of blood-sucking lice under my blanket and disfigured my face... I have never had the courage to say this. I can only say that Celia is definitely not innocent in this matter!]

A netizen commented: [I support Halbert's proposal. Please clean up the chaos in the entertainment industry!]

An actress, Joy Jensen, commented: [Celia interfered in my relationship with my husband. We were together for 15 years. Three years have passed and I still haven't recovered from the trauma of this relationship. I'm suffering from serious depression and have to take several kinds of medication every day! I just want to ask you, Celia, since you're so close to Mr. Walton of Stars Entertainment, why did you seduce my ex-husband in the first place?]

A singer reposted this comment immediately.

In an instant, many people in the industry started to criticize Celia.

The followers of Celia's account dropped drastically.

There were also some diehard fans who refused to give up and tried to clear Celia's name. They said that these people had no bottom line and were trying to ride on Celia's incident to gain popularity.

However, the actions of these die-hard fans undoubtedly made Celia even more hated.

The netizens denounced Celia while criticizing Celia's brainless fans.

The two sides were scolding each other,

At this moment, the police report finally came out. [Celia Ortega is suspected of intentional assault, attempted murder, tax evasion... She will be arrested!]

Chapter 100

As soon as the announcement was made, the Internet exploded.

The police report was undeniable.

At this moment, Celia was in the hospital. She did not know what was waiting for her outside.

On the other hand, Clay had already finished recording his statement. Emma also took the statement. The two of them walked out of the police station together, Emma saw that Clay's expression was extremely ugly.

As soon as Emma and Sean walked down the stairs, Clay's threatening eyes looked at Emma. "I'll do my best to keep Celia safe, but you're done for!"

Emma saw the murderous intent in Clay's eyes.

She mocked, "Do you still want to kill me for revenge? Miss Ortega has already been arrested. Treat her as an example. Do you want to follow her lead?"

Clay said, "You can see if I..."

Emma said, "Come on!"

Clay exclaimed, "You!"

"Shut up!" Before Clay could say anything more arrogant, an angry middle-aged man's voice interrupted him.

Halbert alighted from a black top-of-the-line Rolls-Royce. With his crutch, he went up and gave Clay a tight slap. "Aren't you embarrassed enough?"

Clay's expression was extremely ugly after being slapped in public.

Halbert was extremely furious. "You've never been able to make up your mind to break up with that woman. This time, I'll help you! She's going to spend the rest of her life in prison! Just give up!"

The veins on Clay's forehead bulged.

He thought, 'Emma, all of this is because of this woman!'

Emma saw the murderous intent in his eyes and said faintly, "Clay, listen to my advice. If you don't listen to your elders, you'll suffer. It's not Cella's fault for you to suffer a setback this time. It's because you are blind and being stupid!"

cofy

Clay raged, "It's not your place to judge my Who do you think you are?"

Emma looked at him with pity. She was indeed not the CEO of a company, but she had so many identities. Any one of them would scare him to death.

She couldn't be bothered to take Clay seriously.

Emma took a few steps and saw a black Rolls-Royce that came to pick her up. She then got in the car.

When Clay saw the license plate number, he seemed to instantly understand why Emma was so arrogant even though she was a student and why she was able to notify his father. The car belonged to Liam. Clay realized that Emma knew Liam.

This time, Liam contacted Halbert to deal with his son, so Halbert took advantage of the situation and did what he had to do.

He destroyed Celia to forcefully remove what had been dragging his son.

Halbert originally didn't have any impression of Emma.

However, when he first saw her just now, he felt that she had an extraordinary bearing.

She was so calm that she did not flinch in the face of the rich and powerful. It was something that none of her peers had.

Halbert had a good first impression of her. Emma was his ideal daughter-in-law candidate.

He thought, "What a pity... She is Liam's woman. My son is in no place to compete with Liam..."

Halbert was now a little envious of Simon since Liam's woman was so outstanding.

Looking at his useless son in front of him, Halbert really wanted to slap him again.

He said, "What are you looking at? Have you seen enough? You blind fool."

Chapter 110

Even though Emma did not know Halbert, she could most likely guess that only Liam could alert someone like Clay's father.

Now that she saw the Rolls-Royce that had been waiting for her for a long time, Emma was even more certain that it was Liam who had contacted Halbert.

Liam rushed over as soon as the meeting ended. In the car, he said to Emma, "Did Clay make you?"

Emma shook her head. "He can't make things difficult for me. After his father came, there was nothing he can do!"

Liam could not help but hold her hand. "Celia will be banned from the entertainment industry in the next few days. Her collaboration with Sean will end soon. The male lead of Bell will remain Sean."

Emma leaned on Liam's shoulder and nodded obediently.

She thought, 'I already know that Bell will be popular from my previous life. Sean was supposed to join this show. However, because of the concert tragedy, he had to quit his career. In my previous life, another famous male celebrity took his place and joined the show. This show was well-made and was expected to win many international awards. However, because of Celia's incident, it was banned even before it was able to air. Now that Celia is gone, Sean can focus on his work.'

The next day, Emma received messages from a lot of friends.

Someone asked: [Emma, you're the one who was in the video, aren't you? You're so cool. You even defeated Celia!]

Another person asked: [Emma, did you go to the set to help us ask about Mr. Rivera's concert?]

Someone else asked: [Emma, are you hurt? I still want to participate in the following summer camp with you. Please be okay.]

Seeing that everyone wa

so concerned about her, Emma replied in the class group chat: [Thank you for your concern. I'm fine, but I've asked about the concert. Sean doesn't have any concert plans for the time being.]

When the students heard that there was no concert to watch, they were instantly filled with sorrow.

A person asked: [What about the TV series? Will the male lead of Bell still be Mr. Rivera?]

Another person added: [That's right, that's right. That shameless fake-faced Ceila is in jail. Mr. Rivera shouldn't be implicated, right?]

Emma: [The male lead will remain unchanged. The female lead will be replaced.]

[Yes!] Sean's fans heaved a sigh of relief for their idol.

Someone wrote: [I've always disliked Celia!]

Another person texted: [Celia has a fake face, a fake personality, and a bunch of brainless fans!]

Someone else wrote: [That's right. It's such a relief to see her being arrested.]

A person added: [I've following the trend for the past few days. Have you seen the post from that actress, Joy Jensen? She's really pitiful...]

The conversation in the group chat carried on.

However, there was one point that caught Emma's interest. The summer camp of Vark College was going to take place soon.

The summer camp of Vark College was very famous internationally. The people who participated were all elites from all over the world.

If one was rated an outstanding camper, they would be exempt from all subsequent courses and be aware a graduation certificate right away.

Emma was still very tempted to graduate early, so she put the summer camp on the agenda.

Before participating in the summer camp, Emma had to accompany Sean to participate in the discussion meeting of Bell.

The television drama had just started filming, but the female lead had already gone to jail. It could be said to be a bad start.

After Celia's scandal, many rival companies began to write drafts to defame Bell.

This affected the reputation of the entire production team. Everyone was having a headache.

Vaguely, the crew members were also resentful of Emma.

Nowadays, everyone celebrity had the chance of being taken down of some scandals suddenly. Everyone wanted to turn a blind eye to it for the sake of earning money.

However, now that they had to change the main lead and film again, the workload had increased. Many people hated Emma. However, because of Sean, no one dared to say anything.

At the meeting, Everyone was in a terrible fix over the selection of the new female lead.

Someone asked, "Who can be as popular as Celia and have no scandals? Not only does she have to have no scandals, but she also has to be suitable for this show, be available, and not too expensive. Do you all think it's so easy to find actresses nowadays? How can we find a replacement so soon?"

At this moment, Emma thought of Mabel Fuller.

The last time at Liam's celebration banquet in the Hall family, Mabel had helped her out. Emma had a good impression of her.

Mabel was not only a person who knew how to perform and design, she was also a person with a strong sense of morality and did not go with the flow.

"I recommend Mabel Fuller." As soon as Emma finished speaking, the entire production team fell silent for a moment

The first to break the silence was Sean. "I agree."

Jessica nodded as well. "Mabel's acting skills and popularity are all passable, but..."

Before Jessica could finish, another voice mocked her, "Mabel has not acted in television dramas for many years. Even if she does, she will ask for a very high pay. If you suggest her, can you afford to pay her?"

The person who mocked Emma was none other than Stars Entertainment's representative, Edric.

Today, he was representing the investors at a meeting with the production team.

The Celia incident made the entire Stars Entertainment very dissatisfied with Emma.

The moment Edric opened his mouth, his staff started mocking Emma one after another.

One said, "Some people are just so full of themselves."

Another person said, "She acted as if she was an investor. What a joke!"

Someone else said, "This is a professional seminar. I suggest Mr. Rivera not have any favoritism by bringing his family into the meeting."

Emma didn't want to come today. However, Sean had strongly invited her to participate in this meeting.

"I can invite Mabel," Emma added.

This time, Edric sneered. "You're an unknown outsider in the industry. How can you contact Mabel? There's a limit to bragging Director, you know celebrities the best. Don't you find this ridiculous?"

The executive director felt a little embarrassed. "Mabel is indeed outstanding in all aspects, but even if she can come, we can't afford to pay her. Therefore, we should basically not consider her."

Other than Sean, everyone thought that Emma was being unreasonable.

Even Jessica could not help but frown.

She thought, 'I should not have allowed Mr. Rivera to bring his niece to the meeting. It will not be good for his image if she keeps bragging like this!'

However, at this moment, Emma said, "What I mean is that I can invite Mabel at half of your expected price. Is that within your budget?"

As soon as she finished speaking, the entire meeting room fell silent.

Everyone thought that she was bragging for certain because Mable was much more valuable than Celia. If Emma managed to take Celia out and have Mable come instead. This would not only be a slap in the face for Stars Entertainment, but she would also be the savior of the entire crew.

The director's gaze on Emma had already changed subtly. He thought, 'Could it be that this young lady really be that resourceful?'

Only Edric's words were still unpleasant. "You are just bragging. I dare you to invite her here right now."
