

Second Chances Protecting Mrs. Hall by Colby Stanford

Chapter 161

Chapter 161

Emma suppressed her excitement.

Under the guidance of the assistant, they walked for less than ten minutes and indeed saw a tall man under the towering pine tree.

She strode forward. Her pace became faster and faster.

In the end, she couldn't help but run and throw herself into his arms!

She said, "Liam, I knew it was you who came to visit me."

Liam picked her up and did a twirl.

After instructing Levi today, he immediately rushed over to Charon Military School.

He had always wanted to find an opportunity to come to meet Emma.

However, Charon Military School's management was completely closed off. This was the first time he could enter the school to visit her.

He said, "I heard about what happened today. If something like this happens in the future, remember to tell me, okay?"

Emma stuck out her tongue playfully and replied, "I didn't make it in time. I was brought to the Hero Rank immediately after the duel. But how did you know so quickly? You sent someone to follow me, didn't you?"

Liam patted her head and said, "I'm just concerned about you."

Another man at the side also said, "If it weren't for Liam, your emblem would have been taken off by now. You have to thank him."

Only then did Emma see that another person was standing beside Liam.

When Emma saw Richard, she felt a little embarrassed. She climbed down from Liam's body and stood steadily.

She greeted, "Hello, Richard."

Richard just smiled dotingly.

He said, "As expected, you only see Liam, you can't even see me."

Emma smiled playfully and replied, "I saw you now, but I still saw Liam first. He is standing in front."

Chapter 161

Richard smiled and shook his head. "You have a glib tongue. What can I do to you?" His tone was indescribably dotting.

Liam was very happy when he heard Emma call him intimately.

He held her tightly in his arms, unwilling to let go.

He said, "You have to thank Richard for what happened today.."

"If it wasn't for him, Jerome wouldn't come here." As soon as Liam finished speaking, Jerome came over.

He said, "Mr. Hall, don't say that."

There was no one else in the forest.

Jerome looked at Emma and did not hide his admiration for her.

He added, "It's been many years since Charon Military School recruited such an outstanding student. The last time there was such a good student was five years ago..."

Emma's heart sank when she heard this.

Five years ago! Wasn't it Justine?

Only then did Emma realize that in terms of skills, she and Dummy were trained in the same organization.

She thought, 'Even though her actual combat experience was not as good as mine, with her skills, she was the best one in the Charon Military School.'

'Such an outstanding Justine should have also caused a stir and attracted attention back then.

'Otherwise, she would not have represented the school to participate in the Krot Competition.

'How could I have overlooked such an important matter?'

Liam immediately saw a change in Emma's gaze and narrowed his eyes.

Emma stared straight at Jerome.

However, Jerome only shook his head.

He continued, "What a pity... Forget it. Let's not talk about the past! Anyway, it's our honor to have Emma join us!"

Richard could hear the hidden meaning in Jerome's words.

Emma had once asked him to investigate Justine. Just as he was about to ask Jerome, he was interrupted by

Chapter 161

Emma. She asked, "Mr. Zahn, I heard that you're Richard's teacher. Is that true?"

Emma felt that now was not the time to alarm Jerome.

Receiving her reminder, Richard stopped saying.

Jerome nodded and replied, "Of course it's true! He was also very outstanding back then, just like you."

"Mr. Zahn, you flatter me. Richard is a great hero. How would I dare to compare myself to him?" Emma said.

"If you work hard, you will have a bright future," Jerome said.

Then, Richard and Jerome went to discuss important matters.

In the forest, there were only Liam and Emma.

There was another reason why she did not ask Jerome directly just now. It was because Liam was present.

She had not clearly told Liam about her investigation of Justine.

She didn't want him to misunderstand.

She was originally worried that Liam would be able to easily find out all her past experiences.

But now, she did not want to hide it anymore.

Hence, she decided to come clean. She said, "Actually, I'm here to investigate something."

Emma told Liam the whole story.

She did not know that Liam had already guessed everything.

Therefore, there was no shock in his eyes. He only hugged her tightly.

He said, "I'm glad you're willing to tell me this."

Emma said, "I'm sorry I didn't come clean earlier."

Liam shook his head.

He thought, "It is enough that you are willing to be honest with me.

'I can wait when you trust me completely and you feel safe enough.

Chapter 161

'I didn't ask because I love you deeply!'

Emma felt his deep love.

Much longing surged into her heart.

She could not help but tiptoe and kiss his lips.

Emma in uniform and Liam in a suit were kissing under the setting sun.

They were in deep love.

"Mr. Hall, as you expected, Blanche was attacked," Josiah said.

After Liam left school, Emma had to devote herself to the training.

At night, she could only call Josiah.

Josiah said on the other end of the phone, "But we've already dealt with all the people who attacked Blanche. We even captured one alive.

"See if you have time recently. You can personally interrogate him."

Emma looked at the class schedule. The next few days were busy.

She thought for a moment and thought that she could ask Liam for help.

However, the person who could make a move in the Krot Competition probably had a powerful background.

She did not want to drag Liam into this mess.

She replied, "Got it. You guys interrogate him first. I'll find a chance to slip out as soon as possible."

Three days later, Emma walked out of the school gate openly.

She applied for an off-campus task.

It would last for three days, giving her plenty of time to investigate.

After leaving the school gate, she turned at several intersections.

According to the agreed location, she immediately saw an extremely ostentatious rose-red car.

No need to guess, she knew who this flashy car belonged to!

She said, "Josiah, how many times have I told you not to embarrass yourself, okay?"

Sure enough, as soon as Emma finished speaking, Josiah got out of the car.

He said, "Miss Wilson, it's rare for us to go on a mission together again. I drove my most luxurious car.

"With it, we can reach the underground factory that that person mentioned in an hour."

In the past three days, Josiah had already brought people to investigate new clues.

The process was a little violent and difficult, but the outcome was good.

Emma put on her sunglasses and said, "Let's go.

"Tonight's task will be a little dangerous. Tell everyone not to let their guard down!"

Josiah, who had been smiling cheekily just now, became serious in the blink of an eye.

He replied, "Okay! Miss Wilson!"

Chapter 162

In an abandoned warehouse in the southern suburbs of the city.

According to the investigation, this warehouse was the gathering place of this group of people.

Of course, Emma would not come alone.

Before setting off, she had already ordered a group of people to take action.

By the time she and Josiah arrived, the people in the warehouse were basically under control.

Emma and Josiah sat in the car for a while.

When the sounds inside ended, she walked in with her arms crossed.

About a dozen people were gathered here. One of them was lying on the ground.

Josiah said, "Miss Wilson, it's him. He was related to the death of Bunny back then."

Emma's eyes were bloodshot as she squatted down.

She asked, "Do you know who I am?"

The other party knew Justine's identity and the organization she was in when she was a live.

It was said that everyone in this mysterious organization was an outlaw!

He looked at Emma and instinctively felt fear.

He said, "What do you want to ask!"

"This person." Emma took out a picture of Justine. "How did she die back then?"

"Say it and I'll spare your life. If you can't say it..."

He had already been taught a lesson before Emma arrived. At this moment, he had no intention of resisting.

He replied, "I... I'll say!"

At this moment, a voice sounded in the warehouse.

It was a phone on the ground, on call currently.

The other party said, "He won't tell you."

Emma heard the voice on the phone. It was obvious that he had used a voice changer. She asked coldly, "Who are you?"

An unpleasant, hoarse laugh came from the phone.

He said, "Blaze, long time no see.

“I’m looking forward to seeing whether you are better or I am better in the past five years.

“So I’ve put a time bomb round this man’s neck. It’ll go off as soon as he says the truth! None of you will survive.”

Emma bit her lips and said, “It’s you.”

Previously, he assassinated Blanche, and now, he was using a bomb!

After repeatedly being obstructed, she was certain that this person had killed Dummy.

She continued, “Don’t hide behind the voice changer and be a coward! Fight me one–on–one.”

The other party smiled darkly and replied, “One–on–one? I’m not that stupid.

“I can’t beat you, so I can only scheme against you. Don’t you know how to dismantle bombs? I forgot to tell you that you can’t dismantle this bomb. So, you must choose. Do you want the truth or live?”

With that, the other party hung up.

Emma was furious. She almost got it!

Unfortunately, when that person heard about the mechanism of the bomb, he was already so scared that he went crazy and could no longer say anything.

“Miss Wilson, this bomb seems to be connected to his heartbeat.” At this moment, Josiah had already completed the data analysis the fastest..

He continued, “If he dies, the bomb will go off.

“He’s already seriously injured and in critical condition.”

“Bitch!” Emma cursed.

She thought, ‘The other party is so arrogant.

‘Moreover, from what he said, he is my old rival.

‘I couldn’t think who it might be.”

The sudden shout shocked Josiah. He thought that the death.

It was still Emma who managed to stabilize the situation in time. "Cut the crap. If you don't tell me the truth quickly, even God won't save you!" she said.

He replied, "No, I can't... If I tell you, the bomb will explode."

At the thought of the explosion, he was so frightened that his chest felt stuffy and he was about to faint.

Josiah said, "Miss Wilson, he's going into shock."

If his heart stopped beating, the warehouse would explode.

They had seen Emma's medical skills before.

With this needle, he could forcefully wake up for half an hour,

They were safe for the next half hour.

However, this method consumed a lot of energy. After half an hour, it was hard for him to survive.

Emma said, "Everyone, prepare for an explosion. Carry him to the open space outside."

The group followed her instructions.

Josiah frowned and asked, "Miss Wilson, what do you plan to do?"

“Should we lie to him that we’ve already turned off the bomb and let him tell the truth before we do an evacuation?”

This was the best way.

They could know the truth, and Emma’s life wouldn’t be in danger.

The only sacrifice was that this person would die.

However, he was the murderer of Justine. His death was not worth pitying.

Chapter 162

Emma frowned and did not agree with his suggestion immediately. “Let’s go to the open space first. We’ll talk later,” she said.

Going to the open space outside would ensure that the damage from the explosion was minimized.

However, when everyone reached the open space outside, that person suddenly went crazy.

He shouted, “You’re lying! You’re lying to me!

“You won’t save me. I’m going to die with you!”

He was afraid of death. Jealousy and fear would lead to madness.

his knife and slashed himself. Everyone around him broke out in cold sweat and subconsciously

Only Emma’s expression did not change. She even stepped forward.

She said, “Put the knife down!”

That person pointed at Emma and shouted, “You’re a liar. I won’t let go. Don’t think I didn’t hear you!

“You want to trick me into telling the truth and then blow me up. Isn’t that right?”

Emma did not expect his hearing to be so good.

Josiah lowered his head in shame. Those were indeed his words.

Emma suddenly shouted, “Shut up if you want to live!

“If you commit suicide now, you’ll die. However, if you cooperate with me, there’s a chance that you can survive.

“A person’s life is very short and fragile. However, you can choose to fight and live.”

Emma’s words undoubtedly moved him.

He knelt on the ground and wailed.

His entire body was trembling, and the ring of bombs around his neck emitted a faint green light, like a death.

timer.

“Put the knife down,” Emma said as she patiently approached step by step.

At this moment, Josiah saw that person suddenly brandish his knife. He shouted nervously. “Miss Wilson, be careful!”

Chapter 162

But in the next second, the knife was thrown out.

Emma heaved a sigh of relief. Then, she squatted beside him and began to study the bomb.

This bomb was very difficult to defuse.

It was several times more complicated than the device at Sean’s concert that day.

If there was something wrong, they would all die.

The man was on the verge of breaking down. Although he had thrown his knife, he might commit suicide at any moment.

He said, "I don't want to die... I won't say it... You're all lying to me..."

He was already scared silly. Emma could not learn anything useful from him in this situation.

However, this was the last chance to find out the cause of Justine's death.

Emma took a deep breath. Her heart sank and she went all out.

She took out a special device and handcuffed herself to the bomb on that person's neck

After the switch was closed, she threw the lock!

When everyone saw this, they were all shocked! "Miss Wilson!"

That was Emma's special lock!

Without a special key, no one could open it.

Chapter 163

Chapter 163

Now that Emma had handcuffed herself to that person, she was undoubtedly risking her life.

When he saw Emma's actions, he was both puzzled and shocked.

Emma was now terrifyingly calm. She said to her subordinates, "You guys go first."

After she finished speaking, everyone objected. "Not Miss Wilson, we came together. If you don't leave, we won't leave either!"

"Yes, we're not leaving!"

Emma said, "Go! This is between me and Justine. This is an order!"

They knew that Emma wanted to protect them. They did not want to leave.

However, this was an order....

There were more than ten people on the mountain, but none of them left.

Emma continued, "Those who disobey my orders are never allowed to follow me!"

Some of them had tears in their eyes as they knelt to Emma.

They both knew what Bunny meant to her.

That was the only kinship and warmth Emma had in her childhood.

Emma was willing to pay any price for her.

However, each of them had received help from Emma more or less. She even saved so meone's life.

If they left now, it would undoubtedly break Emma's heart.

However, they would never be qualified to follow Emma. That was simply like killing them.

In the end, it was Josiah who shouted with a trembling voice, "Go!"

With that, he got up.

The other people also stood up. Their evacuation began.

Emma had her subordinates leave the mountain, but they did not leave.

As soon as Josiah left her line of sight, he immediately stopped.

Chapter 163

He turned on his equipment and tried his best to find external help for Emma.

He thought, "Who? Who could save Emma?"

Suddenly, he thought of someone.

That person who had once secretly protected Emma when she met Blanche, was the person he could not find not matter how hard he investigated.

Only someone that even he could not find out about would be powerful enough.

For some reason, Josiah felt that this person was extremely capable.

It was even surpass Emma!

Therefore, he quickly found the signal path that day and sent a distress message and coordinates over.

On the other side, after everyone evacuated, Emma and the man sat in the night with bombs.

Emma was not in a hurry to ask. Instead, she spent more than 20 minutes to ease his mind.

She only had half an hour, but if she didn't ease his mind, he wouldn't tell her.

The bomb was around his neck, and he was extremely frightened.

Now that Emma was around, and she was facing it with him, his trust in her would increase immediately.

Finally, after twenty minutes, he slowly let down his guard.

Emma gradually got to the point and said, "Look, I have a bomb on me now.

"I believe that with my abilities, I can defuse the bomb.

"But you injured heavily. Even if we don't detonate it, you won't survive. So, can you tell me?"

Indeed, he could not withstand her professional psychological tactics and began to say, "Back then, she died in a competition.

"Foaming at the mouth... Twitching limbs... She was dead in less than a minute." That scene was extremely miserable.

When Emma heard these words, her body trembled!

It made her feel as if she had seen the scene.

19:03 Thu 12 Ju

Chapter 163

Her heart felt like it was being stabbed by a knife!

She said with difficulty, "Is it because of a heart attack?"

“No, it’s not,” he said, but he did not dare to continue.

He looked at Emma fearfully.

Then, he stretched out his finger and drew something on the ground....

Suddenly, at this moment, the timer of the bomb started wildly!

He shouted, “What’s going on?”

“It’s going to explode! You said you wanted to save me, you said it before!”

Emma frowned. She did not expect this device to be so precise that it could detonate with a move of his finger.

She said, “Move aside, don’t affect me!”

She had learned an emergency stop before. Although the probability of success was only 50%, it also meant that they still had a chance of surviving.

However, that person was not cooperating at all. He was so frightened that he kept moving around crazily, making it impossible for Emma to use her skills.

She shouted, “Don’t move!”

Ten seconds, five seconds...

Emma was so nervous that her heart was about to jump out.

She gritted her teeth. Finally, the bomb was dismantled.

The screen went out.

The two of them heaved a sigh of relief!

The man collapsed to the ground, tears and snot flowing down his face.

There was a faint smell of urine in the air.

Emma frowned and stood up. She was about to tell him to leave quickly, however, the screen suddenly lit up!

The numbers were flashing wildly!

09:03 Thu, 18 Jul

Chapter 163

There was something wrong with the bomb.

She shouted, "Be careful!"

Just as she jumped and lay down, with a bang, the entire mountain was covered in flames.

The familiar heat wave was like an approaching death god. As she waited for the heat wave to hit her, a helicopter appeared in the sky.

The long ladder was lowered from the door.

A person, wearing a mask, pulled her away from the fire.

Josiah and the others ran over immediately when they heard the commotion.

When they arrived, they saw Emma being pulled onto the helicopter by the masked man.

Josiah immediately took a photo of the man and the helicopter.

He thought, 'Emma has been asking me to find out who Toby is.

'I can't find it, but now I have the photo.

At the hospital.

Emma was evacuated in time. Fortunately, she was not injured.

She was in the hospital for a full body check-up.

Liam stood guard at the door.

Not long after, Josiah was brought over.

Josiah looked at Liam thoughtfully and asked, "Mr. Hall, why do you call me here?"

He did not interact with Liam, but Liam had always known that there was such a person beside Emma who was helping her.

The video of Ruby's wrestling competition was sent by Josiah.

“Delete the photo on your phone,” Liam suddenly said.

Josiah was already shocked and said, “You are...”

Chapter 163

“Yes.” Liam said bluntly, “I’m T. I’m also the person who has been secretly protecting Emma.”

“You should have heard of Team Thunder, right?”

Josiah was stunned.

He thought, ‘Liam is Team Thunder’s master!

‘It is as powerful as our organization.

“I have always thought that Emma hides it very well. I don’t expect Liam to hide it even better.

‘It turns out that he has been secretly protecting Emma.”

At this moment, the door of the operating theater opened.

The doctor asked, “Who’s the patient’s family? The patient is awake.”

Liam hurriedly went forward.

Before entering, he looked sideways at Josiah and said, “Protect Emma well. As for my identity, you know very well what to say and what not to say.”

Josiah was about to cry.

He thought, ‘It’s fun for you two to play guessing games. I’m stuck in the middle. It’s so difficult for me...”

He was unhappy for a moment and could only pretend that he did not know anything as he followed.

“Emma,” Liam said.

When Emma woke up, the first person she saw was Liam.

She reached out to touch him.

She had just raised her hand when he grabbed it tightly.

ing for a few

“Don’t be afraid. You’re fine. The doctor said you are just a mild gas poisoning. You’ll be fine after resting for a few days,” he continued.

Emma nodded,

That day, other than seeing a helicopter and a black mask, she couldn’t remember anything else.

Suddenly, she thought of something very important. Her voice was a little excited.

Chapter 164

At this moment, she saw Josiah,

Josiah said, “Miss Wilson, even if you ask Mr. Hall, he doesn’t know. He just came.”

He had just heard Liam’s warning outside the door.

Liam was Team Thunder’s boss, and Emma was his boss.

He could not afford to offend them. Therefore, his words were actually helping Liam to establish an alibi.

Liam secretly glanced at him to express his approval.

When Emma heard Josiah’s words, she did not suspect much.

She asked, “So? Is he still alive?”

“Dead.” Josiah said regretfully, “Miss Wilson, did he say anything else to you that night?”

Emma could not help but feel disappointed. She shook her head and said, “No, he only drew something for me.”

Regarding it, she had thought of all kinds of possibilities.

She thought, ‘What did his painting mean?’

‘Was it a cross?’

There was too little information for her.

As she thought about it, Emma’s head started to hurt again.

Liam quickly supported her and said, “Emma, your body has just recovered. Don’t overwork yourself.

“Why don’t you draw the painting exactly for me and I’ll help you think about it, okay?”

Emma nodded. She took a pen and paper and copied it to Liam according to her memory.

She was discharged not long after.

After discharge, she took sick leave from Charon Military School.

On the one hand, it was because her body needed to recuperate.

On the other hand, she had to find out the information in that painting with Liam.

Emma said, “Many people said that Justine died of a heart attack, but there was no heart attack in her autopsy report. That person also said that there was no heart attack.”

Liam said, “So at the very least, heart disease can be ruled out.”

Emma lowered her head in deep thought and said, “What kind of method could allow someone to die without warning in front of so many people in the Krot Competition?”

“Moreover, she was foaming at the mouth and her limbs were twitching. Could it be that someone poisoned her?”

Liam had also been looking for the mastermind behind the bomb.

However, the internet address showed that it was overseas.

Even if the murderer was sent back, it would take a long time.

It seemed like there was no progress, but Liam had made a major discovery.

He asked, “Do you remember Blanche?”

Emma suddenly thought of this and replied, “Yes. Did she remember anything?”

Liam shook his head and said, “Her skills are ordinary, but I found her coach back then.

“Her coach witnessed Justine’s death with his own eyes.

“That’s where he was standing.”

Then, he gave Emma a rough direction on the field.

When Emma saw this direction, her eyes immediately lit up!

She thought, ‘It was a low pile net!

Justine died when she crossed the low pile net.’

Liam continued, “Emma, you have to make a trip to the scene personally to investigate what’s wrong with the low pile net.”

Emma looked at handsome Liam and suddenly felt a surge of passionate love in her heart.

She suddenly threw herself into Liam’s arms!

Liam was surprised by her sudden enthusiasm. He hugged her even more firmly and felt the moisture in her eyes.

His voice was dry and he asked, “Why are you crying?”

Emma replied, "I just suddenly want to thank you!"

Three days later, Emma returned to Charon Military School.

After returning to school this time, she trained even harder because she wanted to participate in the Krot Competition at the end of this year.

This was the only way she could personally go to the site for a field trip.

There were often people who saw her wake up early to train.

At night, she also trained crazily.

Sometimes, one could still see her staring blankly at the low pile net.

Her previous leave had already deducted a lot of her points.

If she wanted to qualify for the Krot Competition, she must be the top one in the entire school every time.

Lane could tell that something was bothering her.

One night, she deliberately watched Emma's training quietly from afar.

Only after her training ended did Lane dare to go up and disturb her.

She said, "Miss Wilson, did something happen when you took leave this time?"

'Lane understood Emma. She would not take leave unless she had no choice.

Emma confessed, "I want to participate in the Krot Competition at the end of the year!"

Lane's eyes lit up when she heard that she was going to participate in the Krot Competition.

She asked, "Really? That's great! That's my dream competition!"

Emma said, "That's why I want to train hard."

Suddenly, she felt a sharp pain in her calf,

09:04

“What’s going on? Are you alright?” Lane asked as she quickly went to support her.

Emma replied, “I’m fine. I might have strained my calf because of the intensity of the training recently.”

97%

Lane frowned and said, “You should rest well. With your standard, you don’t need such high-intensity training.

“Don’t forget, the midterm exam is in half a month.”

The midterm exam was more important than the monthly exams.

The method of this midterm exam had yet to be announced, but there were rumors that it might be a field battle and there was a certain level of danger.

Lane continued, “It’s not worth it if you fail the midterm exams because of excessive training.”

“Lane.” Suddenly, Emma grabbed her hand.

“No matter what happens, we have to be safe and sound in this exam!”

Her words were a little sudden.

Lane was a little confused. But soon, she nodded solemnly.

She replied, “Don’t worry, Miss Wilson.

“I’ll always be there for you!”

“Emma, I want to be with you forever and take care of you.” In that instant, she thought of Justine’s words again.

Lane was sometimes very similar to Justine, but they were two completely different people.

In the dark night, there was a faint sigh.

Emma thought, 'Dummy, I'll be able to avenge you soon.'

The next day, the instructor started a new course.

He said, "Attention! At ease!

"Today, we will officially start learning how to shoot in the wild! Every one of you has a chance to touch a real gun.

"But I'll say this first. Weapons are very dangerous! If anyone is stupid and doesn't practice according to the rules, regardless of whether they lose their lives or kill someone, they will bear the consequences!"

Emma was now dressed in uniform and carrying an automatic rifle.

Chapter 164

Everyone faced the forest and prepared for the shot.

The instructor carried his weapon and introduced it in a strong voice. "Our common guns are automatic rifles, assault rifles, machine guns, carbines, and submachine guns.

"What you're holding in your hands is called an automatic rifle.

"It uses the pressure of the gunpowder gas and the force of the spring to complete a series of actions such as pushing, locking, firing, ejecting, and feeding, just like this."

After the instructor finished speaking, he immediately opened fire at the deep forest where there was no one in the distance.

The sound was majestic and powerful.

was!

This was the first time the students had touched a real weapon. All of them were hot-blooded!

Each of them had a target in front of them.

The instructor reminded them again, "It's your first attempt. You'll be considered outstanding if you hit the target.

You'll be rewarded if you hit the bullseye!

“I’ll emphasize again! Safe! Safe! Be safe! Do you hear me?”

“I hear you!” Everyone spoke in unison. Once they were at a safe distance, they opened fire together.

Emma was not in a hurry to shoot.

She just stared at the target, her eyes slightly narrowed.

She thought about the way Justine died that day and her eyes were filled with anger!

A boy stood beside her. Seeing her like this, he thought that she was afraid and did not dare to shoot.

The boy immediately smiled proudly and said, “Miss Wilson, I didn’t expect you to be afraid of something too.

“It’s okay. Girls are weaker than boys. It’s normal for you to be timid.

“This rifle is for practice. It won’t kill you! You can learn from me. Look!”

As he spoke, he fired a bullet.

Chapter 165

The boy was not bad. He had hit the target.

However, it was the outer ring of the target.

He said proudly, “How is it? Not bad, right?”

“Emma, do you need me to teach you?”

Emma was already annoyed. With such a person chattering beside her, she instantly became even more annoyed.

She fired three consecutive shots in one go.

Ten rings!

Ten rings!

Ten rings!

All shots hit the bull's eye!

Not only did she shoot three shots and hit the bull's eye, but all of them hit the same spot, leaving a huge hole in the target!

The boy, who had been smug just now, suddenly was shocked by this scene.

He thought, "Oh my god, so capable?"

Emma's expression was cold. She said, "How is it? Do you need me to teach you?"

The boy immediately blushed in embarrassment.

He replied, "I... I'm sorry, continue..."

After the morning's shooting practice, they ran with weights in the afternoon.

Everyone carried sandbags on their backs. The girls' sandbags were lighter while the boys' sandbags were heavier. They crossed the forest together.

The knowledge and techniques they learned now were the contents of the upcoming midterm exam.

Emma studied very seriously. After class ended at night, an instructor from another class suddenly came to their class.

He asked, "Emma, are you there?"

Emma raised her hand and replied, "I'm here."

The instructor said, "Jerome wants to meet you. Come with me."

Emma replied, "Okay."

She thought, Jerome doesn't know about Justine, so why is he looking for me?"

Emma had such a question. When she saw Jerome, she realized that Richard was also there.

She greeted them, "Mr. Zahn, Richard."

Jerome was wearing a green military uniform today. He looked very domineering.

Richard was also wearing his uniform, looking majestic.

To Emma, their outfits were undoubtedly very eye-catching.

Emma asked, "Why are you looking for me?"

Richard said, "It's like this. A few days ago, the National Boxing Association came looking for us. There's an international Youth Boxing Competition now and they want us to recommend outstanding students."

Richard glanced at Jerome and said gently to Emma, "We thought about it and felt that you're the most suitable person in terms of overall strength and identity.

"Emma, are you willing to participate?"

Richard was doting on Emma. Everything depended on Emma's wishes.

Of course, Jerome hoped that Emma would be willing to participate.

Jerome said, "In recent years, traditional boxing has been severely suppressed overseas. There are also people online who are questioning our traditional boxing.

"If you're willing to participate, you can fight for traditional boxing."

many

Emma knew that the National Boxing Association was just like the Pharmaceutical Medical Association. It was a very high-ranking industry organization,

Of course, she didn't mind participating, but the most important thing now was Justine.

Hence, Emma said, "Mr. Zahn, I'm sorry. Actually, my goal is to participate in the Krot C ompetition at the end of the year.

"As for your midterm exam, as long as you can get a ranking in this boxing competition, I'll give you full marks in the midterm exam and 50 pointe

"And if you fall behind in military theory, you can ask Richard to teach you. Don't you ag ree, Richard?"

Richard smiled and nodded. "Of course. However, Emma, it is still up to you," he said.

Emma thought for a moment.

In the end, she replied, "Alright then, I'll participate."

That night, she told Liam in person that she was going to participate in the Youth Boxing Competition.

She said, "I don't care about personal honors.

"It's just that I thought I could spend more time with you this way, so I agreed."

Liam looked at Emma under him and his breathing gradually became heavy.

Her every frown and smile affected him.

Emma saw the darkness in his eyes and smiled enchantingly.

She continued, "Honey, I think I'm a little too full for dinner."

Liam's voice was rough and pleasant to the ear. "I will rub it for you, okay?" he asked.

Emma shook her head and held his hand. She replied, "We haven't hugged for a long time, right? Don't you miss me?"

Liam's eyes darkened.

He could not longer resist. He buried his head in her arms, and they held together.

The next day, the people from the National Boxing Association came to Icovine Estate.

Before they came, they had seen a few videos about Emma that had been circulated on line.

For example, the wrestling match against Ruby and the fencing match against Alva.

They were very confident that Emma would win.

Of course, they could also see some of her weaknesses.

After they communicated fully, the people from the National Boxing Association looked at Emma with approval.

A person said, "The younger generation will surpass us! I didn't expect you to have such a deep understanding of traditional boxing at such a young age.

"Originally, based on your standard, you would be the champion. However, we received news that there's a participant from Nuverland this time. Her situation is a little special.

"She used to work for Nuverland's underground market. Her fighting style was very fierce.

"In addition, she is powerful. This time, she is using boxing, which is known for its attack power.

"If you fight her, be careful. Don't fight her head-on, understand?"

Emma took her information.

It didn't matter if she didn't look, but when she did, her pupils constricted.

She thought, 'It is her!'

A chill rose from the bottom of her heart!

They saw her reaction and asked, "Why? Do you know her?"

Emma secretly clenched her fists and said coldly, "Yes."

She thought, 'We know each other better than that. We are simply too familiar.'

"Dana Coast, like Dummy, was once a member of our organization.

'However, Dana later betrayed us. The long scar on her face was left by me when I fought on behalf of the organization to capture her:

'That duel ended with Dana falling off the cliff. From then on, her whereabouts were unknown.

'After the organization was disbanded, no one knew about her, and neither did I.

'Now, it seems that she has indeed survived.

"The only thing I could confirm is that Dana hates me to the core!

Chapter 165

'Moreover, her strength is not inferior to mine.

"If we are to fight, it would not be as simple as a competition.

'It is a life-and-death battle!'

Some distant memories appeared in Emma's mind...

That was because when she first joined the organization, she had not learned the ability to protect her life.

Living in a foreign country, she had been beaten and bullied quite a few times.

In the cruel organization, she and Dummy were most afraid of facing Dana in the competition.

Dana's body size was almost twice theirs.

In the beginning, they would be beaten half to death by Dana every time they fought.

Dummy was weak and almost killed several times..

After that, Emma practiced day and night. To protect herself and Justine, she won and became the dark horse of the organization. She became the boxing master Blaze who could compete with Dana!

After they left, Emma gripped Dana's information tightly.

She thought, 'What would come would come.

'Those people in the organization are finally going to meet again.'

Simon cleared his throat. "Emma, everyone is here because they have heard you will represent our country in this year's Youth Boxing Competition. They've come to wish you the best in advance."

Today, the Halls Group's tourism group's subsidiary company went public. Liam single-handedly completed the Holy Mountain project recommended by Emma and made a huge profit. Now they held a party and invited their business partners.

Simon's attitude toward Emma had changed drastically since her first two aliases had been revealed.

Emma knew this very well. So she said gently, "Thanks, Simon."

At this moment, a sarcastic voice sounded. “Emma, are you really going to participate in that competition? People die every year in that competition. It’s just that they don’t report it. Liam allowed you to go too?”

It was Brad. Since Liam returned to take over the company, Brad was removed from power.

This was the first time Emma had seen Brad after a long time.

Simon glared at Brad.

Emma stepped forward and said, “Your brother supports me. I am also very strong. I fight to win. This is a joy that you can’t experience after lazing at home for so long, Brad.”

Emma’s every word undoubtedly hit Brad’s sore spot.

As expected, Brad’s face darkened.

Simon could not be bothered with their bickering. He walked away with his cold expression.

Only Brad and Emma remained.

Brad retorted, “Emma, don’t be too smug. The National Boxing Association has very high standards for the integrity of its members. They definitely won’t allow someone who used stimulants in competitions to participate.”

Emma frowned. “What do you mean?”

Brad suddenly smiled evilly. Then, he shouted toward the crowd, “Mr. Harrods, come out.”

Emma looked warily at the person who walked out.

Everyone at the party was looking at them.

Liam also walked over and stood beside Emma. There was a warning tone in his voice. "Brad, what are you doing?"

Brad sneered. "Mr. Pete Harrods is Emma's gym teacher at Vark College. He once saw Emma used stimulants in a boxing match with Ruby half a year ago."

"What?" someone gasped.

"Emma used stimulants in competition?" another asked.

"Although it's an unconventional competition, using stimulants is not glorious..." a voice pointed out.

"National Boxing Association has stipulated that athletes who are tainted are not allowed to represent the country in the competition. Is Emma done for this time?" another voice asked.

Everyone discussed animatedly.

Not far away, Simon also had a serious expression. "Emma, did you really use stimulants?"

Simon had just changed his opinion of this daughter-in-law. He did not expect Emma to be so unpresentable.

I

Emma raised her exquisite chin. Her expression was cold, and her voice was icy. "You said I used stimulants.

Where's the evidence?"

It was obvious that everything that happened today was a conspiracy by Brad. It would be a blow to Emma, as well as a blow to Liam. It would be best if she could not participate in the boxing competition.

Brad met Emma's gaze. "This is the evidence."

As Brad spoke, he showed a photo on the big screen.

In the photo, "Emma" walked into the female washroom with a box of medicine. On the side, there was even a comparison picture of the box of medicine. It was a stimulant that was prohibited by competitions.

Everyone in the party was in an uproar.

“She really did use stimulants,” another commented.

Brad said in satisfaction, “Did you see that? Mr. Harrods has already taken a photo of you using stimulants.”

Emma’s expression did not change. She held her wine glass and looked at Pete elegantly. “Mr. Harrods, is that so?”

Pete said, “Y–yes...”

Emma added, “You can be arrested for defamation. If it’s serious, you’ll go to jail.”

Chapter 166

Pete went silent. He was an older man, but could not look into Emma’s eyes. He had lied. The person in this photo. was not Emma... Instead, Pete had received a mission from Brad a few days ago and deliberately found a female student to pose for a photo.

Of course, Emma had seen through their tricks. The best way to deal with such slander was to give them a taste of their own medicine.

“Oh, yeah?” Emma smirked. “Since you’re accusing me with such a nonsensical picture that doesn’t have any time evidence, I can accuse you in the same way!”

With that, Emma immediately used a special software to control the screen. She put the photo she had synthesized in a few seconds on the big screen.

If everyone was shocked when they saw the photo of Emma taking the medicine, when they saw Brad’s photo, they wished they were blind. They thought, ‘Fuck. What the hell is this?’

The naked photo caused Simon’s face to turn red.

Brad’s face immediately contorted. “Emma, what are you doing? You bitch=”

“The second son of the Hall family, Brad, is not only a playboy but loves prostitutes,” Emma in the black velvet gown said, pressing the screen as she continued to scroll.

Then, an even crazier image appeared. Emma went on, “He is a bisexual too and likes them from all ages...”

Brad shouted, “Emma.” He felt like he had eaten shit. This woman was a freaking demon. He thought, ‘When did she photoshop so many high-definition and flawless naked photos of me?’

The most shocking ones were of Brad and Pete having sex. Brad was on top, waving a small whip. Pete was under him with a bashful expression. There were also words written on it—birds of the same feather.

When everyone saw this picture, they burst into thunderous laughter.

Levi, who was watching from the side, almost burst out laughing.

Liam, who was originally angry and wanted to protect Emma, could not help but smile. Emma was always so talented.

“How outrageous.” Simon did not expect Emma to be so out of line this time. “This is the Hall family’s party. What are you doing?”

Liam stepped forward. “Dad, don’t forget, Brad was the one who was out of line first. If anyone is going to be embarrassed, it’s Brad.”

Liam was being overbearing and protective of his wife. He refused to barge on this.

09:05 Thu, 18 Jul

Simon was about to faint from anger. Of course, he could tell that those photos were all photoshopped by Emma. However, the photos were too realistic, and in those shocking poses. It was enough to give him high blood pressure.

Brad was so angry that his body trembled, “Y— you bitch. Turn it off now. I’m not that kind of person. It’s not me.”

Emma laughed. “What a coincidence. I was there when you did all this. Now that everyone has seen the photos and there is a witness, what do you have to say?”

Emma’s move was very brilliant. An eye for an eye. Emma used absurdity to deal with a bsurdity and went straight for Brad’s logical loophole.

“Then why mention my photo? What can you prove?” Emma countered.

Brad fell silent.

Anyone who knew would naturally understand Brad’s reaction. They were all from wealthy families and were used to grudges and conflicts.

However, Emma’s boldness and her ability to photoshop such “detailed” photos so quickly to rebut Brad’s argument was unprecedented.

Chapter 167

After that, the party ended with everyone laughing. Although they were trying to persuade them to make peace, they were laughing at Brad.

The National Boxing Association subsequently investigated Emma’s match then. The investigation proved that Emma did nothing wrong. The association even posted a statement online to prove Emma’s innocence.

Those who spread rumors should have some self-respect.

Brad's scheme not only failed but he took a heavy blow. The photos from the party were unknowingly leaked. Now, photos of Brad having sex with men had spread all over the Internet.

Although Brad was not good at anything else, he inherited good looks and was enough to satisfy the imaginations of thousands of dirty minds....

Everyone photoshopped Brad's various photos into different emoticons, putting them up on the internet.

Brad was completely humiliated in society.

Simon was very dissatisfied with Emma's performance this time. It wasn't easy for him to change his opinion. He didn't expect Emma to have such a temper.

Emma did not care. She dragged Liam back to Icovine Estate to live their comfortable life.

Not long after, Richard brought three young and strong men to Icovine Estate to help Emma train.

The first one said, "Miss, I'm One."

"I'm Two," the second guy added.

"I'm Three," the last guy said.

Emma listened to their self-introduction. "That's not your real name right?"

The three of them laughed in unison. "No. It's just easier for you to remember. Captain gave it to us."

Richard said gently to Emma, "One is good at punches. He is agile and is good at deflecting blows. Two is extremely strong. If you can beat him, you won't have to be afraid of Dana physically. Three has rich combat experience and is very adaptable. He can improve your adaptability."

To help Emma train, Richard invited all three of his most capable subordinates. It showed how much he valued his niece.

Richard's training was much stricter than Charon Military School. Emma was exhausted after practicing every day but she was improving very quickly.

Emma was so exhausted that she fell asleep when taking a bath one day. Fortunately, Liam discovered it in time.

Otherwise, she would have drowned.

Liam wrapped the wet Emma in a towel and carried her out.

Emma woke up in a daze. "Did I fall asleep?"

Liam sighed indulgently. "You're too tired from training. I'll tell Richard tomorrow and ask him to reduce your training."

Emma protested, "No, I can't lose to Dana."

Liam tapped Emma's nose. "So competitive?"

Emma pouted. "What's wrong? Don't you like me like this?"

"I like you however you are," Liam said, kissing the tip of Emma's nose lovingly.

Emma looked up. "How about this? You can tell Uncle Richard that there's something on at the company tomorrow and you want to bring me to a meeting. We'll trick him and sneak out. We can go to the newly opened Dream World..."

Liam thought for a moment. "Sure."

"Yay!" Emma had always wanted to go to Dream World. In her previous life, she had not been there since it opened. This time, she and Liam were shareholders of Dream World.

Liam had closed beta tickets. It was not difficult for them to go in early to play.

The next day, Emma said she had something to do at the company and followed Liam out in his car. But the car drove out of the boulevard at the entrance of Icovine Estate and suddenly changed direction. It headed straight for the amusement park.

Liam had deliberately driven the convertible sports car to take Emma for a spin today.

Emma had put up her hair into a bun. The wind blew at it. Her face under the sunglasses was youthful and beautiful. The collar of her shirt fluttered. "Drive faster. Don't let them find out."

Liam's lips curled up as he stepped on the accelerator.

Chapter 167

When Emma and Liam returned, the sun had already set.

The sunset was beautiful. Emma and Liam had gone wild playing today. Emma's hair was a little messy, and there was still chocolate on her lips.

Before entering the house, Liam suddenly kissed Emma.

Emma was slightly shocked by the sudden kiss. "What's Liam smiled and smoothed Emma's hair again. "Nothing. It's fine now." He helped her with the chocolate powder and her hair.

Emma smiled at Liam playfully and stuck out her tongue.

Unexpectedly, they were seen by Richard, who happened to come out of the house. "Where did you go to play? Did you have fun?"

When Emma heard Richard's voice, she jolted. Her voice gradually became flattering. "Uncle Richard." She grinned.

Richard said, "I'm asking you a question. Where did you go to play?"

"I-Emma knew Richard was a soldier. Their training was very strict.

Emma was feeling lazy. If she hadn't wanted to relax with Liam, she would not have gone out to play at this juncture.

Emma bowed her head and walked forward, speaking humbly to the burly Richard. "I know I was wrong... I shouldn't have lied and said I was going to the company when we had gone to Dream World this afternoon... Sorry.. I won't do it again, okay?"

Richard was silent. He cursed inwardly. He couldn't get angry at all...

"Uncle Richard, please. You shouldn't have been so strict just now," Emma pouted Liam could not help but laugh. It turned out he was not the only one who could not handle Emma...

Emma was invincible.

When Emma acted coquettishly, people couldn't do anything to her.

One, Two, and "the Outlaw" Three's eyes almost popped out when they saw Richard's reaction. They thought, 'Fuck. You're not like this in the military, Captain Rivera.'

Chapter 167

Emma continued to look pitiful. "Uncle Richard, why don't I make up for it now? I'm willing to accept punishment."

Richard finally said, "No need. You're exhausted after playing all day. It's better to sleep early. We can continue this tomorrow."

One, Two, and Th

were shocked. They thought, 'Where is the commander who threatened to skin Emma when she returns?"

The next day, Emma woke up early to train.

Emma played hard and worked hard. She wasn't one to slack.

Liam saw how hard Emma was training and did push-ups with her in the courtyard.

Meanwhile, Richard, who was in the guest room upstairs, had woken up It was not even dawn yet.

Richard stood on the balcony upstairs and saw the couple working out in the courtyard. He lit a cigarette in the dark. He looked at the starry sky and sighed. He thought, 'Stella, your daughter is so promising and your son-in-law doted on her so much. You must be happy in heaven right?"

A few weeks flew by. In the blink of an eye, the Youth Boxing Competition began. Emma was one of the two female contestants representing their country this year.

The other was an older athlete who was almost thirty years old and about to retire. She was very experienced. Before the competition began, she had told Emma a lot of professional knowledge and key points of such competitions.

Emma listened very carefully.

At this moment, the entrance opened.

Chapter 168

The host of the competition introduced the four contestants of the country that Emma represented in the live broadcast.

The camera panned over their faces.

EME

Soon, Emma's exquisite features were projected on the largest main screen of the stadium.

At the center of the venue, as the representative of the world's strongest country, a blue-haired woman nearly 6.56 feet tall was drinking water. When she saw the person on the big screen, she immediately crushed her cup.

"Dana, what's wrong?" someone asked.

When Dana saw Emma, her face was filled with jealousy and hatred. With trembling hands, she touched the scar on her face. She thought, 'It's her. I'm going to kill her.'

Dana's coach quickly saw Emma. They were also discussing her.

This year, Rhinea's National Boxing Association specially poached a new contestant before the competition began. Everyone knew very little about this new contestant.

According to the videos of Emma posted online, the young athlete was not to be underestimated.

Dana's coach said, "She is Emma Wilson. This is her first time participating in this competition. We've analyzed her. The competitors in this competition are generally inferior to you, except for... Emma."

Dana's blue eyes emitted killing intent. She thought, 'We meet again.' She snickered inwardly. This time, she was way stronger. She would definitely tear this bitch who disfigured her into pieces...

Serene Stone was participating in the competition with Emma. She was good with her punches and her personality was similar to Lane's. Hence, Emma and Serene hit it off at first sight..

In the first few matches, Serene and Emma were allocated opponents from small countries. It wasn't hard to win, and they both made it to the semi-finals.

Emma was not surprised by her results, but she had a bad feeling these last few days. Dana had also entered the semi-finals. They had never fought each other. But Emma knew that, like her, Dana had been watching her.

Like a venomous snake, they would wait for an opportunity to appear and give a lethal strike.

"Oh. What bad luck. I drew Nuverland's Dana tomorrow," Serene said.

Emma had expected that one of them would face Dana tomorrow. No matter who faced the Dana, a battle to the death was unavoidable.

Emma's expression was grave. She began to worry for Serene. "Serene, Dana is not easy to fight against. Don't hang in there. Safety first, get it?"

Emma had a bad feeling. No one knew Dana better than her. In the organization, Dana trained specifically in non-lethal injuries. There would be no blood but her victims would suffer from long-term consequences.

In the first few matches, Dana did not use 50% of her strength. Even so, many contestants were sent to the hospital by her.

Emma repeatedly reminded Serene, but Serene was very determined. She laughed heartily and patted Emma's shoulder. "Don't worry. I've lost too many competitions over the years. Otherwise, I wouldn't have been unable to promote traditional boxing."

Serene sighed. "I'm fine. I just want to bring glory to the country. So no matter what, I will hold on until the last moment."

As Serene spoke, her eyes seemed to shine with determination. "Besides, if I can defeat her, it'll be easier for you to win the championship later, right?"

Emma was even more worried about Serene. Serene was a contestant with a good heart. She hoped Dana had a conscience and wouldn't vent her anger on Serene and kill her...

Emma hesitated again before finally taking out a medicine bottle and giving it to Serene. "This drug is not a stimulant. It can't be detected. Although it can't help increase your combat power, it can save your life in the critical moment. Do you trust me?"

Emma hoped that Serene would trust her. This was the only way she could ensure that Serene would not be maliciously beaten to death by Dana.

Serene looked at Emma for a while. Then, she took the medicine solemnly and said, “Thanks, Emma. I’ll consider it.”

Serene didn’t eat it but she took the medicine.

Emma watched Serene enter the arena worriedly. She had done her best. What happened next would depend on Serene’s luck..

Emma was about to start her match soon. She couldn’t watch the match between Serene and Dana.

Her opponent this time was a boxing female professional from Niganro. She often won the global championship of boxing, so her strength could not be underestimated.

After they went on stage, Emma chose to focus on throwing punches, which had been underestimated for a long time. When the netizens saw the tactic that Emma announced, they all complained.

One of them remarked: [Are you serious? Punching?]

Another added: [Even my grandma can punch. This is ridiculous.]

A third commented: [How can you still laugh? Can’t you tell that she is determined not to win against Niganro?]

A netizen typed: [Rachel Forrest is indeed excellent. But even if Emma can’t beat her, she can’t choose to only use punches, right? This is a joke. Can she defeat Rachel like this?]

Someone wrote: [Fuck. Get lost. How can you bring glory to the country? You’re simply embarrassing us.]

There were also calmer people who said: [Isn't it possible to deflect blows with punches too? Let's take a look first. What if she can win?]

The netizens were very nervous and looked forward to Emma's counterattack.

But in fact, Emma did not start well. She didn't seem to use her full strength. Every time she seemed to have a chance to counterattack, she was suppressed again.

Richard, who was sitting in front of the TV, could tell at a glance that Emma was distracted.

The comments became even more vicious.

Someone said: [Fuck. Is this woman trash?]

Another added: [I'm fucking better than her. What the hell.]

[You better shut up now. If you're so awesome, why don't you do it? Can't you just watch the competition?] Levi angrily took out his phone to speak up for Emma. Unfortunately, those two comments were quickly drowned out by others.

Liam ordered angrily, "Silence all these people."

Levi wanted to confirm he did not hear wrongly. "Mr. Hall, what do you mean?"

One of them asked: [Wait. Is she going to Serene and Dana's match?]

Somebody remarked: [Is Emma a fan of Serene?]

Amidst the crazy spamming in the comment section just now, Emma had a very bad premonition. The bad feeling grew stronger and stronger. Only then did she speed up and end the competition.

When Emma reached the arena of Serene and Dana's match, the competition had long ended. The scene was a little chaotic. There was a large pool of blood in the arena.

Emma's mood plummeted. She grabbed someone and asked anxiously, "Where's Serene?"

"You mean that teammate of yours?" The foreigner shook his head and sighed. "She lost. She's seriously injured."

He added, "She was very stubborn. She fell several times, but still forced herself to kneel and refused to admit defeat. Dana was too ruthless and knocked out her teeth. Her abdomen and chest were bleeding profusely. The ambulance just carried her away."

An explosion went off in Emma's mind and she almost fainted. She knew it. That was Dana. The Dana who had been trained by the organization was a violent killer.

Dana hated it the most when others refused to admit defeat. Serene stood up again and again, which undoubtedly angered Dana's sadistic psyche. Of course, Dana would lose her rationality and beat Serene to death.

Emma and Justine had been beaten up like this. Justine was just as stubborn. She was almost beaten to death once. This was also why Emma trained so hard back then. Those without special training could usually not withstand the sadistic attacks from Dana.

Most of the time, they were carried out alive with what looked like “light injuries“. However, in reality, their internal organs were bleeding profusely and they would die not long after.

It was also difficult to appraise the injuries through forensics. This was the technique the organization had learned.

‘Serene, you have to take the medicine I gave you...’ Emma thought as she rushed to the hospital. With the medicine and her medical skills, Serene might be able to survive....

However, at this moment, a black car ran a red light and headed straight for Emma at an intersection.

Emma hurriedly stepped on the brakes. The front of the two cars caved in. She immediately opened the car door and got out.

The other driver also came out. She was a 6.56-foot-tall woman with blue hair and blue eyes. She was chewing bubble gum as she greeted, “Long time no see, Blaze.”

Dana’s voice was filled with laughter. The scar on her face was hideous and twisted, attracting the attention of many passersby.

Emma clenched her fists. “If you have a grudge, come at me. Why did you injure her so badly?”

Dana laughed. She clenched her fists and released them, as if she was letting sand slip from her hand. “Her? Who? Do you mean that weak woman just now? Her life is insignificant. It’s her honor to be killed by me. After so many years, Blaze, you’re still so emotional and indecisive.”

Dana suddenly exerted strength. Her iron fist swept toward Emma with a bang.

Emma quickly dodged.

At that moment, even Dana couldn't find Emma's location. She was shocked for a moment.

However, Dana soon sneered. "As expected of the number one assassin, Phantom. I wonder, if I didn't fall off the cliff back then, would you still hold the position of the number one assassin?"

As Dana spoke, she punched the wooden wall that Emma had dodged behind. The wooden wall shattered. Dana's immense strength was incomparably terrifying.

"Get lost. I don't have time to play games with you now." Emma gradually lost her patience and began to counterattack.

Dana had no advantage over Emma. Soon, the traffic police arrived. They saw the video recording and concluded Dana was causing trouble.

Dana had to be taken to the police station for a statement in the middle of the competition, and she couldn't attack the police. She was so angry that her eyes almost popped out of their sockets, but she could only watch helplessly as Emma left.

At the hospital, the doctor said, "The patient is seriously injured and is still undergoing emergency treatment."

Serene was still being resuscitated, which meant that there was still time. The reason why she could persevere until now was very likely that she had taken the medicine Emma had given her.

"That's great," Emma said with tears in her eyes. "Leave it to me. I know how to save her."

After Emma changed into the appropriate attire, she quickly entered the operating theater.

The medicine was invented by Dummy.

Emma remembered that there was once when she was beaten half to death by Dana, Dummy hugged her and bawled her eyes out.

Emma survived in the end. Dummy had also developed this special medicine to guard against Dana.

This time, after Emma's efforts, Serene's life was finally out of danger.

However, Dana was too ruthless. Serene's body was swollen and her bones were shattered in various places. The soft tissue on her face was also damaged and she was disfigured in many areas.

Emma repaired as much as she could. Serene could recover, but she would suffer a lot.

Emma looked at Serene and was silent for a long time in the operating theater. New grudges and old grudges had intertwined. She had to win tomorrow.

A sense of powerlessness spread in Emma's heart.

When Emma left the operating theater, she saw sunlight streaming through the hospital windows. A man in a suit stood in the white light. He walked toward her in the light, as if sent by God. It dispelled the heaviness in her heart.

Emma was pleasantly surprised to see Liam. She rushed forward. "Why are you here?"

Liam had been anxious. When he saw Emma was not injured, he heaved a sigh of relief and hugged her tightly..

"Emma."

Emma fell into Liam's arms. "Honey..."

No one was allowed to visit the venue of the competition just now. Liam could only watch Emma on the screen. He didn't watch Serene's match.

However, after hearing about Serene's injuries, Liam was very worried about Emma. "Are you going to fight that woman tomorrow?"

Emma nodded.

Liam couldn't say that he wouldn't let Emma participate. He knew how long Emma had been preparing for this match.

But Liam was too worried. "I don't want to see you hurt."

In today's match against Rachel, Emma was beaten to the ground several times. Liam could not accept it. The match with Dana tomorrow would only be more cruel.

Emma knew what Liam was worried about. "I won't let anything happen to me," Emma said. "I have a home now... and people who love me. How can I bear to let anything happen to me?"

After Emma finished speaking, she lowered her head shyly. Her face was pink, her eyelashes were long, and her face was exquisite and beautiful.

Liam bent down slightly and cupped Emma's face. He kissed her in public. "I won't let anything happen to you. I'll find a way to enter the venue tomorrow. If anything happens then, I can do something in time."

Liam could tell that Dana had a personal grudge against Emma, but Emma had him now. He would protect Emma for the rest of his life. He could die for her.

If Dana dared to harm Emma, Liam would make her wish for death....

Chapter 170

However, to everyone's surprise, the competition was postponed.

The impact of Dana's malicious collision was serious. The police wanted to detain her for a few days, so she naturally could not participate in the competition.

Emma did not let her guard down and trained even harder. She wanted to avenge Justine and Serene.

Serene's competition had already attracted the attention of the entire country. Originally, there were not many people watching the International Youth Boxing Competition. However, the match that day was too bloody. Many citizens denounced it, successfully stirring up the anger of the nation.

Richard rushed over immediately after seeing the video of Dana fighting Serene. He wasn't the only one who turned up. Daniel and Sean did too.

Sean said, "Emma, at most, we won't compete. You're our precious niece, not a heroine who must save the world. That woman is full of evil tricks. Let's not compete anymore."

What Sean said was also what Daniel, Richard, and Liam were thinking.

However, Emma had no choice but to compete. "Don't worry. I know what to do tomorrow."

"Emma, have you thought it through?" Daniel also asked.

Emma nodded. "Yup."

After Dana was released, her resentment undoubtedly grew. It was said that this country was number one in the world in terms of security.

If this were in Nuverland, it would not be a problem for any shooting or carjacking to happen. It was only a car accident but the police detained Dana in prison for a few days.

Dana was furious that such a humiliating thing happened before the competition started. She would definitely rip Emma's face off this afternoon.

After three days of heated discussion, this highly anticipated battle had finally begun.

Emma's uncles could not enter the venue and could only sit in the car outside the venue to watch the live broadcast. They even formed a group/chat with Liam, who was the only one who could enter the venue. They wanted Liam to broadcast Emma's news in real time.

The organizers of the competition probably couldn't imagine that at this moment, so many big shots in the world gathered together to cheer for Emma. It was such world news.

The blue side was represented by Emma this time and the red side was represented by Dana.

Before Emma went into the arena, Josiah's voice sounded miserable on the phone. "Boss, your lucky color has always been red... This time, you got blue. Will you lose?" He even sobbed exaggeratedly.

Emma rolled her eyes inwardly. "When I lose, will you be recruited by Dana?"

Josiah said, "No, of course not." Dana was an old acquaintance of his too. Everyone in the organization was afraid of her.

At the mention of working for that ugly woman, Dana, Josiah instantly wilted.

Before entering the arena, Emma looked at Liam, who was in the audience. Liam was wearing a pair of sunglasses today and was very handsome. Emma could find him at a glance.

Separated by the crowd, Liam mouthed silently to Emma, "Go for it," and "Love you."

Emma read Liam's lips and made a heart gesture at him.

Liam could not help but take a photo with his phone. He sent it to Emma's uncle's group chat.

Sean: [Fuck. Who wants to see you two act lovingly? But Emma is so pretty even without makeup. Tsk.]

Richard: [Don't affect Emma. Thanks for your cooperation.]

Daniel: [It's only right for Emma to strike a balance between work and rest. It seems that she didn't have stage fright. As expected of Stella's daughter. She is such a leader.]

"Now, let's invite our two contestants to take their positions," the host announced.

Amidst the blinding lights and deafening shouts, the match was about to begin. This was a grand competition that the entire world would pay attention to. The final winner would become the champion of this year's boxing competition.

Emma glared at Dana in red attire and blue hair before her.

Dana had an overwhelming advantage over Emma in size, but Emma wasn't intimidated

Dana said provocatively, "The handsome man outside the arena just now is your boyfriend?" She snickered. "The kill him?" King's Association strictly prohibits members from falling in love. Do you want me to help you

Of course, Emma knew how crazy Dana was. When it came to Liam, her expression instantly turned serious. "You dare?"

Chapter 170

Accompanied by an angry shout, Emma was the first to charge forward. This was the first time she attacked first.

Emma grabbed Dana's head and lunged on top of her. She began hitting Dana. Although Emma was not big, she was agile and extremely strong.

Dana's face turned red from the pain. "It's not too late to admit defeat now. If you don't want him to die, surrender

now. Otherwise, when I tell the King's Association of your whereabouts, even if I don't kill him, the organization will hunt Liam down to the ends of the world..."

Dana's words interfered with Emma's focus. Emma was thrown off her shoulder.

Emma fell heavily to the ground.

This blow was very painful. Everyone who saw it was worried.

Liam stood up from his seat.

At this moment, Emma, who had fallen to the ground, got up. "You can't defeat me, and you can't kill him."

Dana looked loftily at Emma. "Is that so? Then use your trash skills."

e that day

Emma was enraged. It was not only for her. When Dana fought she also humiliated their traditional boxing skills.

Dana had humiliated Serene after defeating her, remarking that Serene's punch was trash.

Many people were filled with righteous indignation when they saw this. That was why they were so eager for Emma to take revenge.

However, revenge was easier said than done. Soon, both sides were injured.

But Emma was not at a disadvantage.

"Emma is smaller in size. It's not good for her to drag it out like this." At this moment, Liam suddenly instructed

Levi, "Do as I say..."

Levi immediately set off. "Okay, Mr. Hall."

Liam looked at the two fighting in the arena and narrowed his handsome eyes.

Dana would never have thought the weak Blaze had already grown so powerful. However, her greatest enemy was not only Emma. It was Liam.

Bang! Bang!

Chapter 170

At this moment, fireworks began exploding in the night sky above the arena.

Hundreds of thousands of fireworks burst into the sky. The sound was very loud. The fireworks were in blue, the color represented by Emma.

Emma quickly guessed that this was the “surprise” Liam had prepared for her.

At this moment, Dana seemed to have been agitated by something and went crazy. She began to lose control. She launched a suicidal attack on Emma.

Emma quickly saw that something was wrong. Dana’s eyes turned white and her face turned red. It was as if she was possessed. She instantly understood that Dana must have injected a special drug called “Knockout“. That drug could temporarily stimulate one’s potential. The individual would have hallucinations and would be numb to pain.

But in the long run, the drug was addictive, It was prohibited internationally.

The organization had used it before when they sent people out to fight to the death to make them braver and better at fighting.

Emma had never used it because she knew how harmful it was to the body.

This was how Dana became an “addict“.

Emma didn’t know if it was because Dana wanted to win too much or because she had injected too much. In addition, the lights in the venue were flickering. Suddenly, there was the stimulation of fireworks. Dana couldn’t hold on anymore and went into a frenzy.

In this state, Dana was stronger. However, she also had more flaws.

Emma found an opportunity to charge Dana from behind and attack with all her might.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Emma threw many punches in a row, each one a critical hit. Her speed was extremely fast and elegant.

The people watching the match immediately shrieked. Fans of traditional boxing were so excited that tears welled in their eyes.

Someone shouted, "She's using lightning punches."

People were screaming at how cool Emma was.

It had been many years since they had seen traditional boxing moves presented so brilliantly internationally. It felt good to them.
