

Second Chances Protecting Mrs. Hall by Colby Stanford

Chapter 181

Chapter 181 "Yes, Mr. Hall" After saying that, Levi promptly sprang into action.

Only Emma and Liam were left in the room. They appeared calm, but deep down, they were very clear about the severity of this matter.

Liam stepped forward, placing his large hand on Emma's head. Then, he gently pressed her cheek against his chest and pulled her in his arms.

He comforted her, "Don't be afraid. I won't let anything happen to you. If we can't find the chip within 48 hours, I have other ways." Liam was even willing to take the blame for her.

The dignified heir to the Halls Group would rather go to prison himself than let Emma suffer.

Emma understood his feelings and hugged him tightly in return.

She could smell the cedarwood scent on the man's body and gradually calmed down.

Having experienced their separation in the previous life, every minute and every second in this life was so precious.

She didn't want to be separated from him anymore.

"I have a suspect," Emma confessed.

Liam stared into her eyes. "You have a lead?" Emma recalled Faith's sudden friendliness that morning, and the shooting angle of the video subtly reminded her of something.

However, everything was just a speculation.

The police had taken the video. So, they couldn't watch it again.

Fortunately, Emma had a good memory and could roughly reconstruct the filming location.

She immediately called Josiah.

"Josiah, send screenshots of all security cameras at Charon tonow!" 24%8 Chapter 181
Josiah was very skilled at accessing surveillance cameras.

In just a few minutes, he sent all camera locations at Charon Military School to Emma.

Emma carefully inspected the screenshots of hundreds of cameras.

Soon, she discovered that the video wasn't taken from any of those cameras.

Even if the discrepancy was less than one inch, she could tell immediately.

Emma looked at the computer screen and said seriously, "Honey, someone has been following in secret. recently." Liam's expression instantly darkened.

"Are you saying that the video just now wasn't taken from a security camera?" asked Liam.

Emma replied, "Yes, someone followed and took the video." This person was very familiar with her every move and even recorded it.

Obviously, Emma was targeted.

"If I find out who this person is, I won't let him off," Liam said.

His tone revealed a murderous intent.

Emma exited the program and stood up straight, saying, "We just need to find out who took this video and we'll know where the chip is." At the stime, Emma reminded Lane to be wary of Faith, "If you see Faith acting suspiciously or trying to plant something, just catch her in the act and report it immediately." Faith realized it was more difficult to execute her scheme.

No matter what she tried, she couldn't get close to Emma's personal belongings.

Whether it was the dormitory bed or the classroom, someone was always guarding.

Even in the locker room where they had tampered with Emma's belongings last time, Emma had replaced the lock with a custom one that couldn't be opened.

Faith could only contact Derek in frustration.

She hoped that they could send speople to lure Lane away.

Chapter 181 The 48-hour deadline was pressing.

In the blink of an eye, a large portion of the thad passed.

But Emma hadn't made any progress.

She had taken leave to focus on finding the chip and returned to Icovine Estate.

As she stepped through the large black iron gate of the spacious courtyard, she felt her phone vibrate. Seeing the caller ID, she stopped in her tracks.

"Hello?" The voice on the phone was altered by a voice changer. It was a woman's sharp voice that sounded cold and clear in the quiet night. "Guess what will happen if I reveal your glorious past deeds in King's Association?" Emma's expression turned grim. The King's Association was an underground organization. Exposing her past training at this critical juncture would only aggravate things.

She knew that if something happened to her, the King's Associate would definitely throw her under the bus. "So? What do you want?" asked Emma.

The caller said, "Look, even if you're not in the King's Association, there are many people with ulterior motives out there. Without the protection of the organization, how long do you think you can last? Cback. As long as you show undivided loyalty, I can let bygones be bygones. Or do you want to go to jail and be separated from your beloved Mr. Hall?" Emma did not respond.

She glanced at the brightly lit villa not far ahead.

Under the streetlight, her red lips curved into a cold smile.

'Now that you mention it, I feel like giving it a try," said Emma.

She wanted to see if she could manage just as well without the King's Association.

As long as she got through this, what didn't break her would make her stronger.

Emma hung up the phone and walked inside.

The living room shone brightly with the presence of the four extraordinarily handsome sitting on the sofa There were Liam, Daniel, Richard, and Sean.

-men looked at Emma in unison.

23% Chapter 181 Any one of them alone was strikingly handsome, and together, the visual impact almost made Emma They looked like they could debut as a boy band right then Emma asked, "Uncles, why are you all here?" and there! Sean was the first to step forward. He had just finished filming and looked dazzlingly handsome.

He said, "Emma, we are worried about you, so we're discussing a plan together." Richard nodded.

gasp.

Daniel also said, "Philip will be here in an hour. He's usually busy in the lab, your situation, he dropped everything and chartered a flight back!" Read the latest but when he heard about chapter there! "What? Uncle Philip is coming too!" Emma was surprised.

This news undoubtedly lightened up her recently stressful life.

Emma had never seen Philip before but had heard that he was a genius.

She had admired him for a long time.

Liam walked over and gently helped her remove her backpack before handing it to a servant.

He said, "You must be tired. Sit down and get srest while we talk about this." "Okay. You're the best!" said Emma.

Seeing everyone there, she felt a little better.

Especially when she was with Liam, she always felt a sense of security..

Sean felt a pang in his heart seeing the affectionate interaction between his niece and Liam.

Sean remarked, "Emma... we are heartbroken hearing you say that You only have eyes for your En husband." "You should be happy forthat my husband treatswell," Emma retorted.

Richard agreed and said seriously, "That's right. Liam is a good man It's a good thing that Emma is in love with him. Sean, we should give them our blessings." Sean thought, "What do you know, you stupid straight guy?" But he didn't dare to say it, fearing Richard would beat him up.

09:20 Sat, 20 Jul G Chapter 181 Daniel was long accustomed to their bickering and smiled faintly.

With the return of their beloved niece, the previously tense atmosphere in the villa eased a bit.

Emma sat on the sofa and leaned against Liam while eating the dessert he had brought back. "Uncle Philip gets here, he will also support me. Right, Uncle Daniel?" asked Emma. Daniel nodded. "Yes, he cback to help you." 23% X Discover Love on CouldSee! Join Couldsee for Romance and Exciting Connections! Sign up now for free!

Chapter 182

Chapter 182 Emma asked, "Help me?" "Yeah," replied Daniel.

Emma was shocked to hear their plan.

She never imagined that there was such a way.

From Liam's discussion with her uncles, she learned that they wanted to replicate the chip to clear her suspicion.

"Don't worry. You have us. We'll protect you. Sean patted Emma's head fondly.

Richard nodded and said, "That's right. Even if the worst happens, we will always have your back!" Suddenly, Emma's nose tingled with emotion.

She felt fortunate to have so many outstanding uncles who loved and protected her.

She looked up at Liam.

The man noticed the tears in her beautiful eyes and leaned down to kiss her eyebrows.

"Don't worry. We're all here for you. We'll protect you," Liam said.

Emma was overwhelmed and clenched the hem of her clothes tightly Not long after, the butler ran in happily.

"Mr. Hall, Mr. Philip is here." Philip's name was known throughout the country He was a legendary genius in physics with an exceptionally high IQ.

It was said that many countries were vying to hire him with lucrative offers Despite studying abroad for years, Philip remains fiercely patriotic and devoted to his homeland.

When Emma saw him, she thought he indeed looked like what the rumors said..

Philip had a cold and aloof demeanor/unlike her other uncles who would show their excitement when they first saw her.

However, every tPhilip looked at her, Emma could feel his tenderness.

1/5 09:20 Sat, 20 Jul Gu Chapter 182 Even if he said nothing, his gaze made her feel warm.

Philip only nodded at her politely.

"Emma, nice to finally meet you," he said.

Emma was dazzled by her uncle who exuded confidence and ingenuity. She nodded and said, "Uncle." It was like a breath of fresh air! Emma thought that it was no wonder everyone said that he was a rare genius.

Though she prided herself on her intelligence, facing Philip still made her feel somewhat inadequate.

Liam stepped forward and said, "Mr. Philip, I've prepared all the materials you asked for." Philip certainly knew about Liam's relationship with Emma. He nodded and said, "Okay, thank you." That was Liam's backup plan.

23% With less than 20 hours left until the 48-hour deadline, if they couldn't find the mastermind, Philip would be their last resort.

Richard stood up and said, "If there are any consequences to this plan, I will bear them." Daniel shook his head. "No, as the eldest brother, it's my duty to protect Stella's daughter." Sean, who was sitting on the sofa, said annoyingly, "Stop it. One of you manages immense wealth, and the other is a military hero. I'm just an actor, so I should be the one to take the fall." Emma watched as her uncles fought to take the bullet for her.

Even Philip, who had just met her for the first time, said, "A man should be accountable for his actions. Since I'm making the chip, if anything goes wrong, it should be on me.." Emma looked at him and said, "Uncle Philip, you don't have to do this." Philip was incredibly perceptive.

One look from Emma and he knew what she was thinking.

He smiled rarely and said, "We should protect you. I'm sure if anything happens, Mr. Hall also won't stand idly by, right?" This was Philip's first tmeeting Liam.

09:21 Sat, Chapter 182 He wanted to assess if the man deserved his niece.

Liam saw through his intention.

23% He held Emma's hand and said firmly, "Emma won't let you guys take the blame for her. As her husband, if she's in trouble, I'll definitely stand by her side." Hearing his words, the four men were relieved.

Even Sean, who was usually jealous of Liam, clicked his tongue in approval. "Alright, who'll take care of Emma for the rest of her life if not you? Emma, we just want you to be happy!" "Alright," Emma said, holding back her emotions. "Let's not be so pessimistic. Maybe we'll find the original chip soon." Levi had been out for a long time, with no news yet. So, the outcome seemed bleak.

Late at night, Liam called Levi.

At that moment, Levi was working late, with no leads yet.

Suddenly, Liam said into the phone, "Levi, go to the old mansion secretly tonight and check on Derek." Levi instantly understood Liam's implication. "Mr. Hall, do you... suspect Mr. Simon?" "Yeah," replied Liam.

Not long ago, Simon had threatened him to break up with Emma.

Liam didn't want to strain their father-son relationship.

But this time, for Emma, he couldn't worry about that anymore.

It was late at night at the old mansion.

Before Levi stepped inside the house, an old man in a suit was sitting in the garden.

Levi was surprised to find Simon waiting for him so late.

"Mr. Simon?" said Levi nervously.

The old man smiled. His face was wrinkled and commanded respect.

"Liam was right. It's me!" Simon said.

Levi was stunned. "Mr. Simon, you..

09:21 Sat, 20 Jul Chapter 182 "I know you are loyal to Liam," Simon interrupted him.

"But don't forget your sick sister back home." As Simon spoke, he took out his phone.

On the screen was a pale, sickly girl. She greeted him in the video.

23% "Levi! Mr. Simon has sent someone to take care of and even brought a lot of supplements. Your boss is so nice!" +6 Levi's face tightened, but he forced a smile and chatted briefly with his sister.

After hanging up, Levi clenched his fists tightly.

Simon was threatening him.

He said confidently, "Sharon is a good kid, but she's not lucky. She was born with hemophilia and a rare blood type. This illness isn't too dangerous as long as there's a steady supply of blood. But without it..." "Enough!" Levi trembled slightly.

He knew very well how powerful the man in front of him was.

Simon could completely cut off all of Sharon's blood supply and prevent anyone in the country from providing her with assistance.

Levi had grown up without parents, and Sharon Qi was his only family.

Protecting his sister was his belief.

"Sharon is just an ordinary girl. She's innocent." Simon's smile faded as he brushed the dust off his suit.

"I don't care. All I know is, that my goal is to see Emma imprisoned for life! Your sister's life is in your hands. As long as you do a good job, I can make sure she never has to worry about blood supply. It's up to you." Levi returned to Icovine Estate with heavy steps.

Chapter 183

Chapter 183 He did not want to betray Liam, but he could not stand by and watch his sister die.

He was conflicted and torn.

When Levi walked into the garden, Liam saw his every reaction from the master bedroom balcony. He held a cigarette between his fingers. After a while, he stubbed out the smoldering end and met Levi in the study.

"How did that go?" asked Liam.

After a moment of silence, Levi replied, "I... saw Mr. Simon." Liam knew his father, so he asked directly, "Did he threaten you?" Levi had worked for Liam for many years and knew his ways of doing things. Search the Findwebsite on Gøøgle to access chapters of early and in the highest quality.

He bowed and said, "Mr. Hall, I'm sorry! You have to save my sister!" Levi confessed everything.

28 hours had passed, and there was less than a day left.

Liam already knew who the mastermind was.

Hence, he sent smen to capture Faith.

"Where is the chip?" By the river, Faith retreated in fear and trepidation. "Who are you? I don't know anything about chips!" "You're not telling the truth, huh?" Liam's men were tough and ruthless.

Faith's weak resolve crumbled quickly under their pressure.

One man said, "I'll give you one last chance to hand over the chip. Otherwise, not only will you not be able to get what you want, but you'll also be imprisoned for life!" Stealing and hiding classified information was a felony.

Faith bit her lips, remembering Simon's promise to protect her, but still feeling uncertain.

"As long as the chip is not in my hands, no one can give a heavy sentence!" With that, she threw a black box 1/5 10:58 Chapter 183 into the river behind her. "Shit!" Seeing that, a man immediately rushed out of the car and jumped into the river.

"Liam!" Emma shouted.

It turned out that she had been observing from the car with Liam.

When Liam saw that Faith wanted to destroy the evidence, he jumped into the river without hesitation.

Emma quickly ran out of the car, but the man had disappeared into the water.

Emma stared intently at the river, which appeared calm but could have deadly whirlpools.

Just as she was about to jump in as well, Liam's men stopped her. "Mrs. Hall, don't worry. Mr. Hall is a good swimmer. We'll go down and take a look." Another man said, "Yes, Mr. Hall will never let you get in the water. Let us find him." Emma nodded. "Thank you. Please be careful." A few of them dived into the water one after another.

A minute passed, feeling as long as a century.

Emma was getting more and more anxious.

Just as she wondered if something bad had happened to Liam, a few men emerged from the water.

"We found it!" one of Liam's men shouted, "Mrs. Hall, don't be afraid. We're bringing Mr. Hall back now!" The river current was getting stronger, but the few of them worked together like an unbreakable wall, pushing against the torrent.

Not long after, they all made it ashore.

Liam was drenched. Water was dripping from his hair onto his pale skin, making him look sexy.

He held the chip in his hand and said, "Emma, I got it." Emma quickly took off her coat to dry him off. "Hurry and dry yourself, don't catch a cold." The weather had turned cold. The wind by the river was strong, and the temperature of the river was low.

Despite the chill, Liam felt warmth from Emma's concern.

10:58 Sun, 21 JUI Chapter 183 Faith bit her lip in humiliation.

Liam's gloomy gaze fell on her. "Whatever you have to say, save it for the police." The dashcam in the car had recorded the entire process of Faith throwing the chip into the river.

Not only could it prove Emma's innocence, but Faith was also suspected of leaking state secrets.

The Jennings family panicked and sent Gordon Jennings, Faith's grandfather who was a decorated war hero to take care of it.

However, due to the gravity of the situation, he was unable to help his granddaughter clear her name.

In the end, Faith was sentenced to three years in prison on account of Gordon's contribution and her first offense.

When Faith heard that she was going to jail, she caused a commotion at the police station.

She cried, "Grandpa, I don't want to go to jail! Please help me! I didn't steal the chip. I was just following orders.

"It steal the chip!" was Simon Hall! He instructedt As soon as she finished speaking, an elderly man walked into the police station. "Miss Jennings, what are you talking about? I don't quite understand. Perhaps my old ears are failing me. How could I have instructed you? Isn't today the first twe've met?" With just a few words, Simon completely absolved himself of any involvement.

Faith was so angry that her face turned red, and she clenched her fists tightly.

She knew that she could not afford to offend Simon, and even her grandfather couldn't stand up to him.

Her eyes were filled with hatred.

Just then, Derek stepped forward and said, "It's not too late to repent now. You're still young. After three years, you can start afresh and still have a great life ahead of you!" Faith screamed, "No, you're lying! It was you!"

Simon laughed. "I've never been to Charon Military School. How could I have taken the chip from there? The En surveillance footage shows only you." Simon always acted flawlessly, leaving no loose ends.

Faith was no match for him.

It wasn't long before Faith was taken away.

Chapter 18T Gordon stood rooted to the ground and looked at Simon coldly, seething with anger.

He had guessed the intricacies involved.

However, without any evidence, he was powerless and could only clamp down on his anger.

"Mr. Hall, you'll get retribution!" Gordon said.

He would never forget the injustice his granddaughter suffered that day.

Simon, on the other hand, had a calm always expression. "Right, Jhen your prevails, Mr. Jennings, When granddaughter is released, make sure to educate her well." After speaking, Simon left the police station with a smile.

As he walked out the door, he locked eyes with a man and woman.

Simon's face instantly darkened when he saw them.

With a cold snort, he got into the black Mercedes and drove off.

Emma and Liam knew that Simon was not innocent.

However, Faith deserved her sentence.

After returning home, Liam immediately sent people to protect Sharon, As expected, Simon immediately realized that the reason why Liam could proceed so smoothly was because Levi had snitched on him.

He wanted to harm Sharon, but it was too late.

At the Icovine Estate, in the study, Emma looked gratefully at Levi after learning everything. "Levi, we owe you so much this time." If not for Levi's selflessness, she would not be able to get through it.

Philip also wouldn't need to make a fake chip.

Simply put, Levi had saved her family.

It was tfor her to repay his kindness.

Emma said, "This is my identification. With this, you have priority access to blood supplies." When I evi saur this hargo hic or widened in a

Chapter 184

Chapter 184 Liam already knew Emma's identity, but Levi did not.

Blaze was the nin the middle of the Hero Rank wall at Charoh Military School.

She had saved countless people and made numerous contributions. Only a hero who had saved countless lives in times of crisis would have priority access to the blood bank! This was something that not even Simon could prevent! Levi hesitated, "Madam,... this proof is too precious. This is what you need to save your life. I cannot accept it." Since Emma had already taken it out, she had made up her mind.

"Take it. It's nothing." Her life was given to her by the Levi siblings.

"In the future, if your sister feels unwell, I'll help her immediately." Emma's words carried the weight of a priceless vow.

Levi was deeply moved. He looked at Emma with gratitude.

"Then... Mr. Hall?" Liam did not refuse either, nodding in agreement. Only then did Levi dare accept the certificate Emma gave.

"Thank you, Madam. I'm truly grateful." He knew that he had not trusted the wrong person from the very beginning.

Mr. Hall exemplified loyalty, and her wife was a heroine worth following to the ends of the earth! If he had the chance to do it again in the future, he would choose to follow Mr. Hall without hesitation...

Liam agreed to Emma's decision because Richard also had a copy of this kind of priority qualification certificate. Not only Richard, but he also had one! At the critical moment, he could save Emma! Only with such double guarantees did he tacitly allow Emma to give priority to Sharon.

Chapter 184 Emma could do whatever she wanted as long as he could manage everything behind the scenes for her.

Emma was washing up in the bathroom in front of the mirror at night. At that moment, she smelled the familiar scent of cold cypress from a man behind her.

Liam's slender arms encircled her from behind.

During the day, influenced by Simon, at this moment, he just wanted to hold her tightly in his arms, profoundly longing for her.

Emma felt his body warmth and sensed the unease in his heart.

She turned around, hooking her arms around his neck. "What's wrong? Did your father say something to you today?" Liam did not deny it; he rested her chin on her forehead.

"Emma, I miss you," he confessed.

She smiled, her eyelashes fluttering. "I've missed you too." He took a deep breath of the scent on her neck.

A numbing sensation from her neck.

Emma blushed slightly and whispered, "It's all thanks to you helping out this time. Without you, I don't even know what I would be like now." This was the truth.

The existence of Liam was enough to make her feel at ease.

"I love you, Emma..." The man's kiss and his gentle actions landed together.

Emma was quickly swept into that intense emotional world.

In the bathtub, water splashed and rolled around them.

The warm water enveloped the two of them.

The atmosphere was thick with emotion, a graceful night unfolding.

After Emma returned to school, her classmates were deeply concerned about her.

Chapter 184 As soon as she entered the classroom, everyone crowded around her..

"Miss Wilson, it's such a relief that you're safe." "Yeah, that Faith is shameless. She stole the chip herself and had the nerve to blame you!! "What was Faith thinking? Why did she steal the chip?" O Everyone was both curious and appalled. "Thank goodness it did not implicate you. I heard stealing a chip is a treasonous offense!" Only Emma knew Faith had acted on someone else's orders.

And the person who instructed her was Simon! Suddenly, someone noticed Emma's neck.

"Hey, Miss Wilson, did you get bitten by a mosquito last night?" "What?" Emma muttered, coming back to her senses.

At that moment, she suddenly remembered something and instinctively tugged at her uniform collar.

"I think so!" It wasn't a mosquito bite at all! It was a mark left behind from her passionate night with Liam! She had rushed out this morning and completely forgotten about it! Luckily, her classmates were trusting and innocent. "That's strange. It's so chilly these days, and there are still mosquitoes. Miss Wilson, if you're itching, come to my room and get smosquito bite cream. It works really well!" "Yeah, thanks." Seeing that everyone did not press further, Emma breathed a sigh of relief.

After the crowd dispersed, Emma met Lane alone during break time.

"What do you think? Any leads?" Lane gave Emma a copy of the information. "The names of the people I've found so far are all here." If Simon could replicate the camera to capture every move Emma made at school, he has informants here. Lane's list included those suspicious individuals. "They could all be spies for Simon. Emma, you need to be careful 3/7 Chapter 184 from now on." "60% Emma nodded calmly. "Thank you, Lane." "This is what I should do..." Back then, she could not afford the medical fees and almost caused Emma to lose the summer camp.

Emma was the one who had let bygones be bygones and given her money to see a doctor. She had even saved her grandfather.

Thinking of this, Lane took out an envelope.

"Miss Wilson, this..." "And this is?" Seeing the surprise in Emma's eyes, Lane lowered her head slightly, a bit embarrassed. "It's the money I earned from my part-tjob at school recently." "Consider this payment for my grandfather's medical bills," Lane insisted.

Emma had already helped her too much, and she did not want to owe her any more money! Emma looked at the envelope for a moment before smiling gently. "There's no need. You've helped so much already. There's no need to return the money." Moreover, she knew Lane had earned the money through hard work. Even with a month's hard work, she only earned a little more than a couple of hundred.

She knew Lane was typically very thrifty, so at the canteen, she ordered modest dishes.

Emma had thought Lane was tight on money. The school usually had intense training sessions, and she was worried Lane wasn't getting enough nutrition, so she deliberately ordered more food and shared it with him. Unexpectedly, Lane deliberately saved money because she wanted to pay her back.

"You're a good girl. Besides, did not you stand up for when I was mistreated at Charon Military School?" Search the Findwebsite on Gøøgle to access chapters of early and in the highest quality. "Since we're friends, it's only right for us to help each other. Take back the money, and don't mention this again." When Lane heard Emma's words, her eyes welled up, and she clenched her fists slightly. "Emma, thank you..." She thought, "Thank you for thinking so highly of the ordinary, humble, and insignificant me. Thank you for being willing to extend a helping hand to in my hour of need. Thank you for choosing as a friend." Chapter 1541 She often had strange dreams recently.

In her dream, there was no Emma. To pay for her grandfather's medical bills, she went to an organization to exchange money. In the end, she still failed.

Her grandfather had died, and not long after, she had also accumulated so much work that she fell ill and died of depression...

She would break out in a cold sweat whenever she had this dream.

The dream felt so real, but fortunately, none of this happened in reality.

However, Lane did not know this was originally her true ending. It was just that Emma's rebirth had changed everything.

Late at night, at the old residence, Liam personally confronted Simon.

However, Simon refused to see anyone until Liam forcibly barged into the bedroom, angrily confronting his father lying on the bed: "Dad, why did you?" Butler Derek frowned and said, "Mr. Hall, Mr. Simon Hall hasn't felt well these past few days. Please..." "Not feeling well?" Liam said mockingly. "You're not feeling well and still in the mood to steal the chip?" Although the target this time was Faith, however, the Jennings family would not let this matter rest.

Simon's actions in this matter harmed others without benefiting himself, gaining not even a shred of advantage. Instead, they left behind potential future risks. How could Simon not know that he had made a wrong move? However, when he saw Liam, he became angrier.

"Whose fault is it then? Am I supposed to just stand by and watch my son being delayed by a woman for a lifetime?" He had almost made such a mistake before.

Therefore, he would not allow Liam to fall for Emma! But Liam coldly smiled, his voice as if each syllable emanated from an ice cellar, "So, in your eyes, a wife is just a tool to be used?" Chapter 184 "That's how you abandoned my mother, isn't it?" Liam looked down at the old man on the bed in the bedroom. The aura around him was extremely gloomy.

"Liam!..." Simon was furious.

"Mr. Hall Junior!" When Derek saw Simon, his face turned red with anger, he quickly went forward and grabbed Liam. "Mr. Hall Junior, stop talking..." In the Hall Residence, this person was taboo.

Simon had never allowed anyone to mention Harper. Other than sold people, no one knew that such a person had once existed.

The only "mistress" they knew was Elsie. Even though Elsie was no longer around, fewer people knew about Harper.

Harper Caddel, Liam's mother.

She had passed away when he was very young, but his mother's death had always been a pain in Liam's heart! Liam, like a proud lone wolf, spoke coldly, "In your eyes, so-called emotions are nothing but the cheapest commodity." "But with me, it's different." Emma was someone he treasured.

Even at the cost of his life, he would not let anything happen to her.

He would never show mercy to anyone who hurt her.

Simon's face was flushed red. His chest was tight, and he was short of breath. "Unfilial, son you unfilial son! If you have the guts, stop using the surnHall!!" Liam looked at him and smirked arrogantly. "I've never cared." He did not care about what Hall family already had..

Without him, how many years would Hall family be able to withstand defeat? After saying this, Liam left without looking back! Simon never dreamed that the son he was most satisfied with would love Emma so deeply...

For her, he was even willing to publicly give up his inheritance rights! X

Chapter 185

Chapter 185 At the stime, on the other side, Emma Wilson was sparring and chatting with her uncles.

"Emma, why don't you stick with Uncle Sean in the future," Sean Rivera quipped with his devilish charm. "Finance is boring. Combat is too risky. Research strains your brain. The entertainment industry is safer, makes money fast, and earns you a lot of applause." "Previously, the director of 'Bell' was still asking if you had any intention of joining the entertainment industry. Everyone said that you're much prettier than Celia Ortega!" Emma smiled. "Thank you, but I'm not interested in the entertainment industry right now." At this moment, Richard stood up and asked, "How was the training with those three special forces soldiers last time?" Emma was more enthusiastic about wrestling. "Not bad! I feel like I've improved a lot." Richard spread his palms slightly. "Come, let Uncle Richard try your martial arts." Richard wanted to spar with her.

Daniel, who was sitting at the side drinking coffee, spoke.

"Richard, you have to know your limits. Don't injure Emma!" The straight man, Richard, said angrily, "Isn't that obvious? No one can hurt Emma if I hurt them!" Sean Rivera: "That might not be the case. If you fight, will you still be human? Will you still be human?" Richard: "Who are you calling inhuman?!" "Pfft hahaha..." Icovine Estate was filled with laughter. It was rare for it to be so lively and warm.

It was hard to imagine that the uncles, who were usually top figures in various fields, were actually so adorable in private! Richard looked at Emma Wilson gently. "Emma, don't worry. Uncle won't do anything to you! Just hit me." Emma Wilson raised his eyebrows. "Then Uncle, don't blame for being rude." Soon, Emma Wilson and Richard began to spar.

15: 10:59 Sun, 21 Jul GM Chapter 185 Even though he was mentally prepared, when Richard personally felt the power of Emma Wilson, he still felt deeply shocked! That strength and speed were not something that ordinary thugs could compare to! He could not help but wonder if the three people sent back then were really enough to train Emma Wilson?? Only Richard could withstand Emma Wilson's skills.

60% After a few cycles, Richard did not reveal any flaws. In the end, Emma Wilson stopped the competition due to the disparity in strength between men and women.

"I lost. Uncle is still better." Sean Rivera did not believe it. "How is it that you lost?? I see that your movements are much faster than your second uncle's. Emma yuan. Tell your third uncle, are you deliberately admitting defeat to save him space?" "No!" During the competition just now, Richard really didn't resist.

In the eyes of outsiders, they might think that he was just "being beaten up" and did not have any strength to speak of. However, in the eyes of an expert, Richard was as stable as the earth. This was true strength! Emma Wilson explained, "Second Uncle's martial arts skills are profound. Even if I exhausted my stamina, I couldn't shake him." "Really?" Sean Rivera was skeptical. He walked over to Richard and said, "Looks like you're still worthy of so many medals! You can't even defeat a little girl." The second and third brothers often teased each other like this.

Normally, Richard might be angry, but today, she answered seriously, "Emma is not an ordinary little girl. Her strength is not inferior to any female soldier I've seen!" "In fact, it's rare even in the world!" After Richard finished speaking, the other uncles were slightly stunned.

It was not easy for Richard to make such an evaluation! It turned out that Emma Wilson had grown so well during the tthey had missed...

2/5 10:59 Sun, 21 Jul Chapter 185 The four of them looked at the girl in front of them.

Her eyes were similar to her mother's.

However, Stella Rivera liked zither and chess painting and knew nothing about martial arts.

Emma Wilson becthe world's top wrestling master.

Other than a trace of stubbornness, there was a world of difference between mother and daughter.

In a short while, the uncles felt a little emotional.

How much had this child suffered to becwhat he was today? If they had taken her under their wing from the beginning.

60% Perhaps she could not be so outstanding now, but she was a little princess who could grow up without worries....

The four uncles were lost in thought. There was a moment of silence in the evening garden..

At this moment, Emma Wilson suddenly cried out in pain.

"What happened?" "What's wrong?!" The four uncles immediately went forward and looked at her with concern.

Sean Rivera punched Richard out of reflex.

"It must be your fault! Big guy, you injured our Emma cents!" Richard felt wronged. "How is that possible? I didn't do anything just now!" Emma Wilson: "It's fine, it's fine. I must have used too much strength and twisted my wrist." The last tthe leader of National Boxing Association, Jenson, cto her house to deliver a gift, she felt that her wrist was not very comfortable.

Looks like it hasn't been well lately. A little push today and it's back.

Sean Rivera snorted coldly. "It's still your fault for being so hard and hurting our Emma's hand!" Richard: "Is it my fault that I'm hard??" After saying that, the atmosphere instantly beca little strange..

3/5 Chapter 185 Fourth Uncle Ji Linyue glanced at him.

Sean Rivera could not help but laugh teasingly.

Eldest Uncle Daniel Rivera cleared his throat and said, "Richard, watch your words in front of me." Richard: "... I'm a martial artist. Don't mess with me.

At this moment, Liam Hall, who had a gloomy expression on his face, happened to return from the old residence.

The moment he entered the garden, he saw a group of people surrounding Emma Wilson, who was protecting his wrist.

He immediately sensed something and strode towards Emma Wilson.

"Emma, is your wrist hurting again?" When Emma Wilson saw Liam Hall return home, a hint of surprise flashed across his eyes. Then, he nodded obediently.

Seeing this, Liam Hall skillfully grabbed her wrist.

He held her fingers with his other hand and twirled them gently.

"Don't use your hands for the tbeing. I'll find the best medicine for you. Rest in peace for three days." When the uncles saw Liam Hall like this, they looked at each other and smiled without saying anything.

If they were a little worried when they first found out that Emma Wilson and Liam Hall were together,

Now that they had seen their interactions with their own eyes, they finally believed that legendary cold blooded and heartless man really loved their niece. However, Sean Rivera still said forcefully, "Liam Hall, if I see Emma Mao next tand her wrist hasn't recovered, I'll settle the score with you." Liam Hall was not angry. "I'll take good care of Emma."

Uncle Daniel Rivera was polite.

"We've been staying at your house for the past few days It's been inconvenient for you. We plan to go N back today. From now on, please take care of Emma." "If there's anything, you can contact us anytime!" Richard: "That's right! If Emma suffers any grievances, feel free to tell Second Uncle! Second Uncle will help you beat them up!"

Fourth Uncle Ji Linyue, who had just met him, also nodded. "Your wrist isn't feeling well tdday. If there's a chance. next time, Fourth Uncle will bring you to the reactor experiment." "Really?" Emma Wilson becexcited.

She mentioned to Ji Linyue that she wanted to see a nuclear reactor in her lifetime.

Unexpectedly, Fourth Uncle had always remembered it deeply! She thought that her fourth uncle was a man of few words.

Unexpectedly, all his deep feelings for her had been hidden in the bottom of his heart...

After watching his four uncles leave, Emma Wilson felt a little reluctant.

She nestled in Liam Hall's arms and refused to let go.

"Hubby, thank goodness I still have you!" She did not know that Liam Hall had just gone to look for Simon Hall, The man's mood was originally a little gloomy, but the moment she threw herself into his arms, all his anger and fatigue instantly dissipated.

He wrapped his large hand around her back and caressed her gently. "If Emma misses Uncle, you can see them.

Chapter 186

Chapter 186 "Huh? Where?" Emma asked.

Liam tapped Emma's nose. "You'll find out when you get there." Dream World was already fully open. During the last closed beta, Liam brought Emma to play once. However, one of the attractions, the parade, which Emma was most interested in, was not open last time.

Liam had planned meticulously this time. There would be a parade and a fireworks show. He was prepared to bring Emma to play there again.

The parade started at 7:30 p.m.

However, when Emma and Liam arrived, it was already 7:40 p.m.

Emma got out of the car and ran with Liam. "Hurry up, or we'll miss the parade." Emma had heard that the scenery at the amusement park at night was very gorgeous. The first person to see the top-notch fireworks above the castle could spend the rest of their life with the person they loved the most. Emma had never seen the fireworks of the Dream Castle in her previous life. She had always looked forward to seeing it with Liam.

Seeing how anxious Emma was, Liam wanted to tell her the truth. He had arranged all of this. There was no need to rush. However, to surprise her, he did not say anything.

When they reached the front of the castle, Emma was panting heavily. "Fortunately, it hasn't started yet." Liam looked at Emma mysteriously and smiled. "Wait for here for a bit. I'll go buy you the ice cream you like." "Alright, hubby. Cback quickly," Emma said.

Liam bent down and kissed Emma's forehead in public. Then, he hugged her again and turned to leave. Emma did not know what Liam had arranged. She just remained where she was and stared at the night sky with the others, waiting for the dazzling fireworks.

At this moment, Emma heard someone say, "Why hasn't it started yet?" "That's right. It usually happens at seven-thirty. Is there a special event today?" another asked.

"Are they preparing a special fireworks show?" a third voice suggested.

"Don't tell it's canceled," somebody gasped.

1/4 59% Chapter 186 Emma could not help but worry when she heard that. It could not be that coincidental. She thought, 'The parade and fireworks couldn't have been canceled, right?' Just as Emma was puzzled, a person wearing a mask and a silver suit walked over. "Emma, what a coincidence. We meet again. Why are you here alone? Where's my brother?" When Emma heard the person's voice, her good mood instantly diminished by half. "Why aren't you thinking about how to steal the Halls Group shares? Why did you cto the amusement park? It's not for singles like you." H SEARCH The Findwebsite on Gøøgle to access chapters of early and in the highest quality.

Brad's face darkened when Emma mocked him. He smirked. "You are indeed more confident now. But it's no wonder. If you don't act impudently now, you won't have the chance in the future." Emma looked at Brad coldly. "What are you trying to say?" Brad said sarcastically, "My father will not agree to you two being together. If he wants to stop it, no one can disobey him. Not unless Liam is willing to give up his inheritance rights. If that happens, if he quits, won't everything in the Hall family still be mine? So I only have to sit back and enjoy the fruits of labor." Brad's expression under the mask was very smug. Suddenly, he asked, "But Emma, do you think my brother will give up the entire Halls Group for you? I don't think so. Emma, do you see the woman beside my brother? That's the socialite my father introduced to him. She's also the person in charge of the amusement park. She has known Liam for a while. Do you know about it?" Emma knew that Brad liked to sow discord. She looked in the direction Brad had pointed out.

Liam indeed had a woman by his side. She was curvy and very voluptuous. Unlike Emma's slender figure and cold demeanor, she was a sexy mature woman.

But Emma was still expressionless.

"What's wrong, Emma? Did my brother hide it from you?" Brad was gloating. He wanted to see Emma sad. Unexpectedly, Emma's next sentence stunned Brad. "Brad, you keep eyeing your brother every day. Do you have a crush on him?" "W-What are you talking about?" Brad's expression changed drastically. He was still traumatized by those online homosexual photos of himself that Emma photoshopped.

Emma snickered. She mocked, "If you have sstrange fetish, you should give up on your brother as soon as possible. Liam couldn't be more heterosexual. He doesn't like trash like you." Brad was so angry that he was about to explode.

Emma rolled her eyes and got rid of Brad. She walked up behind Liam with her back straight. She wanted to see why Liam said he was going to buy ice cream but ended up chatting with another woman.

10:59 Sun, 21 Jul Chapter 186 However, when Emma heard Liam's words, she was slightly stunned. Liam said, "The show is in ten minutes. I don't want anything to go wrong. Remember, act natural. It's a surprise for her." Emma could clearly see that the woman opposite Liam who was being instructed had an extremely ugly expression. She had a crush on Liam.

But Liam was only thinking about Emma.

Emma stopped moving forward. She knew Liam would never disappoint her.

Emma returned to her original position.

Not long after, Liam returned with ice cream. "It might not be comparable to Savekine Restaurant, but it should be alright. Try it?" Emma took it with one hand and looked at Liam with sparkling eyes.

"How's it?" Liam asked.

Emma replied, "It's sweet." Especially after knowing Liam left halfway to prepare a surprise for her, her tone toward him subconsciously becgentler.

Suddenly, the sky lit up.

Someone said, "It's the fireworks show. It's about to begin." Couples held hands and stared at the top of the castle, hoping they would be the first to see the fireworks and receive the blessing of being together forever.

Emma also looked on expectantly.

At this moment, a luxurious three-story parade float decorated with countless red and white roses cover. The rich scent of roses caught Emma's attention.

Emma looked up and saw all kinds of cartoon characters on the float which was decorated with thousands of fresh roses. They danced cutely and greeted everyone.

The others took photos with their phones and cheered.

"Oh my God, it's the parade," someone shouted.

"They're coming over," another exclaimed.

Amidst the cheers, someone in a costwalked down from the float and approached Emma.

3/4 59% Chapter 186 Emma knew that Liam would prepare a surprise. However, when the character and rose float cto her, her mouth still widened in surprise.

The next moment, Emma and Liam were brought to the highest floor of m the three-story flower float. There was a small turntable that was only big enough for the two of them to stand on. On it, in a gold flowery script, was "Liam and Emma, together forever".

Emma instantly understood. This was the surprise Liam was talking about.

The surprise confession in the float gave them a higher position. They were lucky enough to be the only couple who could see the fireworks on the castle clearly.

At this moment, Liam's warm lips pressed against Emma's ear from behind. His voice was low. "Emma, get ready. The fireworks are about to begin. Three, two, one- The countdown ended with a whoosh.

Chapter 187

Chapter 187 59% A white light flashed up into the sky. It shot through the sky, looking like a rose. Then, when it leaped to the sky above the castle, it exploded.

When the fireworks exploded, the people below the float could see clearly. "I saw it," they exclaimed.

"I saw it too," others wailed. "But I'm definitely not the first person to see the fireworks." With Liam's reminder, Emma had already seen the first trace of the firework before it exploded. They were undoubtedly the first people to see the castle fireworks tonight. All the unexpected encounters that one had thought were, in reality, planned by someone secretly.

When they returned to Icovine Estate, it was already late at night.

Liam parked the car in the garage. Emma entered the house first and heard two servants talking.

The first servant said, "Mr. Hall is so good to Mrs. Hall. I heard Mr. Hall went to the family residence today. When he cback, he did not look good. However, when he went to the garden and saw that Mrs. Hall's hand was injured, his expression changed. I couldn't tell he was in a bad mood at all." The second servant remarked, "No wonder I saw Mr. Hall's gloomy expression when I cut grass in the afternoon. Mr. Simon must be ostracizing Mrs. Hall again." "What is Mr. Simon thinking? Mrs. Hall is so good, but he's still not satisfied. She's capable and is very concerned about us. How can those delicate socialites be better than her?" the first servant added.

The people at Icovine Estate liked Emma.

When Emma heard that they liked her, she did not say anything and did not disturb them. Instead, she smiled and turned to return to her room.

After returning to the room, Emma called Levi. "Did Liam go to the family residence today?" Levi now had priority use of Emma's blood and was also loyal to her. He honestly replied at once, "Yes."" "Did Simon make things difficult for him?" Emma asked.

Levi told Emma everything that happened in the Hall family's residence.

"Is that all? Nothing else?" Emma understood Liam. If it were just because of Simon, Liam would not be depressed because he would feel that it was not worth it.

1/4 59% Chapter 187 Levi thought carefully again. "I remember now. On the way back, I saw Mr. Hall looking at Mr. Simon's previous wife's photo on his phone..." Simon's previous wife was Liam's biological mother.

Emma knew from her previous life that Liam had a biological mother who died young. This was similar to what she had experienced. However, she had never heard Liam mention her.

But Liam would probably miss his mother.

Thinking of this, Emma said, "Got it, Levi. Thanks." "Madam, it's nothing." Levi replied.

After hanging up, Emma instructed Josiah on a new task related to Liam's mother.

At that moment, Liam, who had returned from the garage, opened the door and walked in. He held a gift box and placed it on the table before Emma. "It's a delivery for you." "Me?" Emma opened it curiously. It was sent to her by her Uncle Philip. Inside the box was a pair of pink wrist guards.

Emma picked them up. The wrist guards looked ordinary, but it was incorporated with Philip's latest high-tech invention. Not only could it adjust its temperature and be used as a hot or cold compress, it also had a massage function.

"Last time, I accidentally mentioned that your wrist is a little uncomfortable," Liam said. "Your Uncle Philip has been doing small experiments in Icovine Estate. It seems like he wants to give you this." Emma looked at the pink wrist guards and felt warmth in her heart. Although she did not have a mother, she still had uncles who doted on her.

But Liam...

Emma would let Liam feel the warmth of kinship.

Emma received an official email from Charon Military School the next day. The email indicated that the information she submitted had been approved. She would officially represent Charon Military School in the Krot Competition.

In recent years, very few girls in Charon Military School could represent the school in the competition, but this year was different. There was Emma. Search the Findwebsite on Gøøgle to access chapters of early and in the highest quality.

2/4 11:00 Sun, 21 Jul Chapter 187 The remaining spot was given to Erza. This result was not too surprising.

Among the boys, Erza was similar to Emma.

To train them for the competition, the school gave them a separate training course.

When Emma saw Erza again, he had one hand in his pocket and was whistling nonchalantly. He looked arrogant and evil, and was still his usual sloppy self.

"Emma, honey, we have a chance to go to Yenovia together this time. How about it? You can't refuse to cwiththis time, right?" Erza said.

Emma raised her eyebrows. "If you have the time, why don't you care about your childhood friend?" "Childhood friend?" Erza, the player, had obviously forgotten about Faith.

Emma did not mention it again. They stood at the starting line at the stime, preparing for the coach to blow the whistle and start running.

Suddenly, Emma asked, "Erza, are you confident about winning the men's world champion in this competition?" Erza did not expect Emma to suddenly ask such a question. "Emma, honey, are you concerned about me?" Emma smiled. "I just want to say that I will definitely be the champion for women. If you can't get first place, your family probably won't allow you to leave the army, right?" Emma had more or less heard about the Burnson family and Erza.

The Burnson family had always wanted Erza to join the military, but Erza's heart was not there. His dream was to open an amusement park for beauties.

The Burnson family was in the military for several generations. Lennon was almost angered to death by Erza. In the end, Lennon still could not dissuade Erza. He only said that if Erza could represent Charon Military School in the Krot Competition and obtain the best ranking in the school's history, he would allow Erza to do what he wanted.

Emma didn't know what relationship Lennon had with Charon Militaryn School, but she knew that Erza had worked hard for more than ten years for this agreement. Now that Erza had finally made it to Charon and gotten first place, he was qualified to participate in the Krot Competition.

Emma was sure she would get first place. If Erza wanted to get the best record in the school's history, he could only get a first place like her. 3/4 99% Chapter 187 However, the competition was filled with experts. It was still unknown if Erza would be able to get first place. Emma actually did not care much about her ranking in the competition because she and Liam had more important things to do.

But after interacting with Erza for so long, even though Emma did not impression of him, she have goog did not hate him. If this ranking was very important to Erza.... Emma didn't mind helping Erza. She didn't say she was intentionally going easy on him, but Erza understood what she meant.

Erza said, "Grandpa made that request to see how capable I am. If I can get a ranking, it's for the best. If I can't, it's my luck. You just perform as usual. This has nothing to do with you." Of course, Erza wanted to win. He wanted to do what he desired. However, he could not rely on Emma to sacrifice herself in order to do that.

After Emma understood what Erza meant, she raised her eyebrows and nodded.

At this moment, the whistle blew.

In an instant, Emma and Erza shot forth like arrows that had left the bow. They exerted all their strength and dashed forward.

Chapter 188

Chapter 188 59% After the journey, Emma was slightly slower than Erza, but it was only a few seconds away.

group," For the women's was almost no pressure to win first and second place, but it was hard to say for Erza in the men's group.

Athletes from Ithay did not have an advantage in track and field. Those who could run well were the pride of the country and heroes of Hilopia.

The school had high expectations for Erza this time. They were unsatisfied with his training several times, and the coach's attitude toward Erza was even stricter.

"Erza, don't forget your goal!" "Your arm strength is too weak. Tis running out. Train well!" Erza grabbed the horizontal bar with both hands and pulled it up. His teeth were clenched, and sweat dripped from his hair, soaking it and his clothes.

Erza was usually sloppy, but for the sake of his dreams, he trained hard every time.

His entire body turned slightly red, and his veins popped out. He did pull-ups one after another.

However, Emma could take a break early, sitting on the lawn, gulping down mineral water, and looking up at the sky.

"Boss, the people from the King's Association already know that you're participating in the Krot Competition." In the Bluetooth earpiece, Josiah said, "They will definitely play tricks again this time. Bunny was killed in the Krot Competition back then... Have you found out the cause of her death?" Emma guessed that Justine had been electrocuted. Other than Liam, no one else knew.

She didn't tell Josiah for the tbeing. She only said calmly, "Don't panic. I have a plan." When Emma said that, the few people who followed Josiah felt more at ease.

At this moment, Erza suddenly let out a muffled groan. Then, with a muffled bang, his arm actually lost its strength and he fell from the horizontal bar.

The coach was shocked. He ran over to confirm that there was nothing wrong and said angrily, "Why aren't you paying attention? The competition is about to start! What if you get injured?" Emma saw Erza's pale face as he hugged his knees and rolled around on the ground with a ferocious expression. He stood up and said, "Forget it, he's really overloaded." Chapter 189 With that, she said to the coach, "You've worked hard today. Let us practice on our own next." When the coach heard her words, he stood rooted to the ground, stunned.

He had seen coaches stop training, but he had never seen athletes dismiss coaches in advance.

Emma, on the other hand, was very calm. She did not even wait for the coach to say anything and immediately got up to pack her things.

The coach watched as she left class early, yet he actually didn't have the slightest desire to refute. "Then... you two should practice properly first. Erza, go back and get more hot water bags to apply to it. You can't do this tomorrow!" After the coach left, Emma also took her bag and prepared to leave.

At this moment, Erza, who was lying on the ground, finally couldn't help but wail, "Miss Emma, can't you tell that my diarrhea is very serious..." Before he could even scream, he felt two pats on his stomach as two packages had been gently tossed onto him. His handseyebrows immediately furrowed. "What's this?" The two packages were in gray light-proof sealed packages, without product batch or trademark, but there was a series of national experimental numbers, proving that they were not "three no products", but drugs that ordinary people could not get.

Erza instantly understood that this was a special medicine that she had developed herself.

Emma carried a bag on one shoulder and looked down at him. "Apply the sprain for three consecutive days. Don't exceed twelve hours at a time." With that, she left the field in large strides without another word.

Erza grabbed the two bags of medicine and secretly squeezed them in his palm.

On the other side, in a dark Gothic castle in the suburbs, beside a blood-red velvet sofa, the coffee table was filled with various forms of red wine glasses.

The wine glistened under the light. The glass was filled with red wine, foreign wine, and an unknown liquid. The vinyl record in the room turned and played classical music.

The music was melodious and elegant, but it made the atmosphere of the castle seem strange and sinister. 11:00 Sun, 21 Jul Chapter 189 Someone reported, "Lord, this year's Krot Competition is still in Yenovia." The masked man leaned against the scarlet sofa and swirled his wine glass. Suddenly, his voice was high and sharp. It was a woman's voice. "Is Yenovia still managed by those people?" "A new group of people has been replaced, but there are also our people." "Okay." The masked man smiled sinisterly.

59% At this moment, the neither male nor female voice turned into a rough man's voice again. "Blaze isn't dead yet?" The subordinate shuddered. "N-no!" "Why? Simon can't take her down?" Thinking of this, the masked man poured a mouthful of red wine. "Lord... something went wrong with Faith. She has been arrested." "Damn it..." The masked man said sharply, "I want to deal with her myself... Just like five years ago, I want to use.

the smethod." His subordinate was a little hesitant. "The smethod? Was it the twith something?" The masked man tightened his grip on his wine glass. "What did you say?" 7 Will Blaze discover The subordinate's lips tightened. "What I mean is... to be safe, Lord, do you want to consider another method?"

Under the two black holes, the colch masked man's eyes beccold and sharp. "Change another method? Tell me, what's the method? If you have a good method, I may let you be the Lord. Tell me." The subordinate trembled in fear. "I'm sorry, Lord... I was just saying it casually. I misspoke!" The people of the King's Association were divided into different levels according to their strength.

The best were capable generals like Dana and Emma. They had high authority in the King's Association, holding significant influence and able to command respect.

However, this subordinate was merely a nameless errand runner, the lowest-level fighter the Ford wanted his life, he did not even have to do anything. He could feed him to the tiger without hesitation. The subordinate trembled in fear.

The masked man said, "I like the feeling of seeing the sperson fall in the splace. She won't be able to guess my new plan." Chapter 188 After that, a cold light flashed in the masked man's deep eyes. "This is the outcof those who betray me. She and the Bunny will die in the splace." At the corner of Içovine Estate, Liam took off his headphones. He could already hear the contents clearly.

He instructed Levi, "Keep a close eye on the people from Team Thunder and Yenovia, especially the movements of King's Association. Inform of every single action." "Yes, Mr. Hall," said Levi.

He suddenly asked, "Mr. Bob has been in Yenovia for the past few months. Do we need him to participate in this matter?" Liam pursed his lips and rubbed the black pen. His thin lips finally said, "Not for the being." Bob's feelings for Emma could be seen by Liam. Liam's eyes darkened slightly. He did not want other men to participate in Emma's matter.

Liam had been monitoring the King's Association for some time. He could predict whatever plans and schemes there were.

However, at this moment, someone from the King's Association suddenly had caught an abnormal sign in the sky above the castle. He reported, "Lord, someone might have infiltrated our security system! They're monitoring our every move!" The masked man asked, "What did you say?" SEND GIFT Search The Find Novel website on Google to access chapters of early and in the highest quality.

Chapter 189

Chapter 189 The atmosphere around the masked man was tense. He stared at the screen and said, "Investigate. Investigate who it is!" "Who dared to infiltrate our ranks?" He thought.

He soon suspected Emma. After all, Liam was not an easy man to deal with...

Just as the masked man was wondering if Emma already knew about his plan, his subordinate said, "Sir, I've found our person of interest! It's someone from Yenovia!" "Yenovia?" Liam continued to listen to everything on the radio. The corners of his mouth curled up slightly.

He had just deliberately left a flaw to arouse the members of the King's Association's suspicion.

However, members of the King's Association could not find out that he was the one who was eavesdropping. Instead, they would suspect their own people in Yenovia.

Just like that, Liam and Emma had achieved their goal.

The next day.

Emma ran around the field in advance as usual. Once her body was slightly warmed up, she went to the canteen while everyone prepared for the competition.

Emma had two eggs, milk, kiwi, vegetables, and a packet of nuts for breakfast. When she returned to her seat, she realized that her classmates were arguing "Rielle, who were you pretending to be so coquettish for just now? Do you think you're the only one capable of being coquettish? Are you deliberately going against me?" Emma immediately noticed Rielle because she was her roommate.

Celia was the person scolding Emma. She was the most popular girl in Class 3, the class next to hers. Celia was a real brat and quite undisciplined. Rumor has it that she had even been imprisoned for a few years before enrolling at their school. Everyone avoided Celia like the plague.

However, Celia was in good physical shape. Emma did not participate in the last midterm exam. Riley took first place, Lane got second place, and Cella was in third place. Since then, Celia became even more arrogant, and coach ignored her behavior.

Celia was usually very domineering in school. Many students did not dare to fight back when she bullied them. 11:00 Sun, 21 Jul Chapter 189 Rielle sat frozen on the spot, her face pale. She pursed her lips stubbornly, but she was terrified.

Another one of her roommates mustered her courage and said, "Celia, you clearly hit Rielle's hand when you were standing in line!" "Rielle's wrist is now swollen. She just wanted to switch places. Why are you making it sound like she did something so bad?" "Is her wrist swollen?" Celia asked "Where is your swollen wrist? Show me! Let's have a look at your wrist, Rielle!" Celia said.

Celia spoke very loudly, and many people looked over.

Rielle hid her hand under the table and did not speak. She did not want to cause trouble and knew that she could not afford to offend Celia. Rielle just wanted to finish her breakfast quickly.

However, Celia approached and flipped Rielle's plate over.

The eggs and dinner rolls on Rielle's plate fell to the ground.

Celia looked down at Rielle with disgust and everyone felt that Celia had gone overboard, but no one dared to go against her.

Rielle sat in her seat, feeling humiliated. Her shoulders trembled slightly, and her eyes were red. She did not get up to get more food, nor did she bend down to pick up the food on the ground.

Celia looked at Rielle and laughed nastily. "Don't you know how to act miserable to gain sympathy?" "Get down on your knees and pick up your food," Celia demanded.

"All the students must see that I'm bullying you, conniving little bitch!" Emma was eating across from their table and roughly understood what was going on from just a few words of their conversation.

Emma had just finished eating. Her expression could not be seen under the brim of her military hat.

She got up and left her seat.

After placing her plate in the reception area, she went back to the canteen counter.

"Please give two eggs and dinner rolls." She ordered.

After saying that, she lazily carried a tray of the food she just had and walked through the crowd. She ignored 17:00 Sun, 21 Chapter 189 Celia and casually placed the breakfast on the table in front of Rielle.

Rielle was about to cry. When she saw Emma, she looked up and bit her lip. "Miss Wilson..." Emma saw the fear in Rielle's eyes and patted her shoulder. "Here. Eat up." She didn't say much, but it made Rielle feel safe.

Rielle was usually kind to Emma when they interacted in the dormitory. One time, Emma was in need of help, and Blanche, Rielle's cousin, helped her. Rielle helped Emma get in touch with Blanche. Search the FindNovel website on Google to access chapters of early and in the highest quality.

Emma naturally wouldn't stand by and do nothing while Rielle was bullied.

Celia looked at Emma standing in front of her. Celia noticed that Emma was wearing a military cap, and her uniform was neatly folded in her hands. She was wearing a black T-shirt, looking serious and capable. The brim of her hat cast a shadow over her face, covering her eyebrows but highlighting her nose bridge and rosy lips. Emma's entire jawline was exquisite, but she exuded an unfriendly and unapproachable aura.

"I just flipped over Rielle's meal, and this woman has brought over another portion of food. Isn't she just going against me?" Celia thought to herself.

Celia looked at Emma and sneered. "Who are you? Are you blind? Can't you see that I'm teaching her a lesson?" The surrounding students took a deep breath. The atmosphere became tense.

Celia was up against Emma. Neither of them was easy to deal with.

One of them was the troublemaker, while the other was Charon Military School's legend. Not long ago, Emma had won first place in the International Boxing League.

Celia said mockingly, "Young lady, I advise you to mind your own business! I got third place in the entire grade in the last exam. If I challenge you to the highest duel, you'll be kicked out of this school!" Celia had gotten third place and knew that only Riley and Lane were ahead of her.

She had a good relationship with Riley. However, she was not friends with Lane but knew what she looked like. The beautiful and noble woman in front of her was not Lane.

Therefore, Celia naturally assumed that Emma was far weaker than her.

Emma raised her head and tilted the brim of her hat, revealing a pair of sharp and cold eyes that stared straight at Celia.

"You think so?" Emma asked confidently.

"Can a mere top-five student kick the champion out of the school?" In Emma's tone was calm, but it stunned Celia. "What nonsense are you talking about?" Celia asked in surprise.

Emma put on her uniform with a serious expression like a veteran in a cadre. "A successful day begins with a purposeful morning, and I don't want to cause myself any unhappiness so early in the morning." Emma added, "People like you who topple other people's plates and waste food are really such bitches." Celia had never been scolded like this before.

Even Rielle was stunned.

'Usually, no one dares to provoke Celia, but Emma has just called her a bitch! 'To think of it, it only makes sense. This is Emma! 'Was there anyone in this school that Emma did not dare to offend?' Riley thought.

Only then did Celia realize that Riley and Lane were ahead of her in the recent exam, but there was still another person she hadn't met who had also obtained the highest score before.

'It must be Emma who had represented the school and participated in the boxing competition!' Celia realized.

She was instantly embarrassed and blushed. "What did you just say? Did you calla bitch?" Emma smiled. "Isn't that what you are?"

"You hurt Rielle. Rielle didn't cause you any trouble. You're the one who's asking for trouble. If you're not a bitch, what are you?" Emma asked once more.

"Emma, say that again if you dare!" Celia taunted her.

Emma said, "I won't repeat myself." Emma fixed her sleeves and stood beside Rielle. She said calmly, "I hate it when people waste food." She demanded. "Pick up the dinner rolls and eggs off the ground and eat them. Then, apologize to Rielle, and this matter will be over."

Chapter 190

Chapter 190 Celia gritted her teeth. "What if I av no?" 59% Emma smiled. "Didn't you say you would challenge to the highest duel? You don't have the authority to challenge me, but I can challenge you." She continued, "If I challenge you-you basically won't have to stay in Charon Military School Military School, right?" After Emma finished speaking, she smiled evilly.

That smile was nonchalant and unpleasant, completely stunning Celia.

At Charon Military School Military School, individuals across ranks couldn't challenge each other to the highest duels.

Last time, Emma had shocked the school by challenging someone to a duel to avenge Lane.

Celia and Emma were in the srank, but Emma was the school's overall champion.- Charon Military School had always stipulated that in order to prevent the school champion from being harassed, no one could challenge them.

Celia gritted her teeth. She could not afford to leave Charon Military School.

'My cultural studies grades are poor, and I cannot do anything else if I have to leave this school.

'If Emma challenges me, I will definitely have to leave the school!' Celia was in deep thought.

Sonlookers felt indignant for Rielle. With Emma taking the lead and reprimanding Celia, the rest also followed suit and criticized Celia.

"Did you see that? If you bully too many people, you will suffer retribution one day!" said an onlooker. Another added, "That's right. Fortunately, Miss Wilson cto help you, Rielle! Hurry up and eat the wasted food, Celia!" "That's right! Who told you to bully your classmates!" shouted another classmate.

"She's Faith's best friend! Faith is in jail Celia should be locked up as well!" One classmate quickly added.

For the first time, Celia felt like everyone had turned on her...

However, it was Emma reprimanding her. She had to admit defeat.

59% Chapter 190 Celia stood on the spot for a long time. Then, she bent down in humiliation and picked up the dinner rolls that she had thrown earlier...

Emma said, "Remember, during a war, food is not easy to cby. Every piece of food counts, so don't waste it." 'Wasting food and bullying your classmates is not right.

'Not everyone is so fortunate as to have food to eat during the war.

'Besides, our classmates are very important and will be with us at all critical moments.

'People that would rather bully one another than try to be united are not worthy of staying in the battalion!' Emmal thought angrily.

With that, Emma left with an indifferent expression.

After afternoon training ended, the coach told Emma what ther flight to Yenovia was.

Emma immediately told Liam her flight details. On the other end of the line, Liam sounded so pleasant. "Okay, ויך pick you up at the airport. I'll get there before you arrive." Emma thought about it and said, "There's no need to go through the trouble. I will probably have to join the other teams when I get there." The Krot Competition was a world-class competition. Every tit was held, there was a special living area for international athletes.

Emma wasn't sure if she would have the chance to meet Liam.

However, she believed that he would secretly be looking out for her.

Nonetheless, Liam had already planned everything in advance. "When you start training, you'll have peace of mind. Train well and be fearless, okay?" "Yes, yes. my love. I love you," Emma said.

Liam remembered that it was already autumn. A short while ago, the secretaries in his office seemed to be in a craze over having their first autumn latte.

Hence, he asked, "Do you want to have a caramel latte? I'll order one for you." Emma was a little surprised. Just as she was about to say "yes," she suddenly changed her mind. "Hmm... I don't want a caramel latte. I don't want a latte. I just want a kiss." Liam quickly realized that Emma was being romantic.

2/5 59% Chapter 190 If she wanted a kiss, she would get one.

Liam's lips curled into a low smile. He lowered his voice and whispered into the phone, "Just wait." He promised. "I'll give you a big kiss when you get to Yenovia." "Okay," Emma said and kissed Liam through the phone.

On the other end of the phone, Liam looked rejuvenated as he sat in the office and suddenly revealed a smile. Outside Liam's office door, Levi was about to walk in and deliver documents. He saw Liam's expression through the crack in the door, tactfully turned around, and went back to his office.

When the new secretary saw Levi turn around and leave, he looked terrified. "Mr. Carter, what's wrong? Is the CEO in a bad mood?" Levi shook his head. "No, Mr. Hall is in a good mood. We shouldn't disturb him." The secretary was perplexed.

"He can't be disturbed when he's in a bad mood and shouldn't be disturbed when he is in a good mood?" He asked. Search the Findwebsite on Gøøgle to access chapters of early and in the highest quality. Liam was quite the mystery. The secretary had heard that Liam was immobile and couldn't get around easily. That was why he was gloomy and unpredictable. The secretary became worried about his future at the company and trembled.

Levi looked at the secretary's sad face and patted his head. "What are you thinking about? Usually, at this time, Mr. Hall is calling his wi... No, his girlfriend!" "Oh..." The secretary had an understanding look on his face.

Other than Levi, no one in the company knew that Liam was married, but they all knew that he had a girlfriend called Emma.

People knew Emma was quite a strong woman.

The secretary nodded. "I see. So I can't disturb Mr. Hall's lovey-dovey time. Then I can't disturb Mr. Hall when he's happy, right?" Levi looked at him and said in a very sadistic manner, "Other than being with Miss Wilson, Mr. Hall has no tto be happy." The secretary was speechless.

3/5 Chapter 190 59% 'Mr. Hall could be like this.' He thought.

'Damn, Mr. Hall has just shown rare behavior.' The secretary realized.

Erza's hand had almost recovered after applying Emma's special medicine for a few days.

Perhaps it was because the competition was approaching, but Erza seemed to have been inspired recently and had broken his previous personal records several times. Before Emma and Erza went to represent their school in the competition, Charon Military School held a farewell ceremony for them.

Tens of thousands of students were in formation and performed a routine for them. It was a neat and spectacular presentation.

In the end, the student representatives gave them flowers.

Emma saw Rielle in her military uniform running over with a bouquet of red flowers.

Rielle could not suppress the om excitement she felt and panted slightly. "Emma thank you for helpinglast tin the canteen! Best of luck in the competition! I'll always support you!" Rielle had always admired Emma. After that incident in the canteen, she was about to becEmma's biggest fan.

Emma also smiled and said, "Thank you. I'll do my best!" "Great!" Rielle exclaimed.

After handing Emma the flowers, Rielle was about to return to herm team, but she could not help but step forward and hug Emma with tears in her eyes. Emma was a little stunned. She was not used to Rielle's affection. After she reacted, she hugged Rielle back gently.

On the other side, Lane, who was assigned to give Erza flowers, also walked over to hug Emma.

Lane said, "Miss Wilson, I'll be waiting for your triumphant return to Charon Military School!" Lane really hoped to accompany Emma.

After all, Emma was her first true friend.

However, she believed that Emma would definitely surpass everyone else in the competition. Emma also hugged Lane back. For a moment, the three girls hugged each other.

Rielle, Lane, and Emma were all quite beautiful. Erza, who had been left out, felt his heart ache.

11:01 Sun, 21 Jun Chapter 190 'No one has hugged me!' He inwardly complained.

Erza said sadly, "Hey, why isn't anyone hugging to encourage me?" Lane kicked him. "You're so lame, yet you still want a hug and encouragement?" Erza felt heartbroken. "Hey! Don't forget that I'm now the top male in the school's history records!" "So what? Don't flatter yourself!" Lane countered.

"Lane, you're not loyal..." Erza groaned.
