

Second Chances Protecting Mrs. Hall by Colby Stanford

Chapter 211

Chapter 211 The two drunk rich second-generation heirs left resentfully.

Emma sneered at them and turned to ask Lane, "Are you alright? Lane shook her head and bit her lip. She was a little dispirited.

Emma did not ask why Lane was there. "There are a lot of drunkards here at night. Go has soon as you're done with your business. Don't worry about those hooligans just now? Emma raised her chin. "If they bully you, just beat them back. If anything happens, I'll take responsibility for it." Lane did not expect Emma to say that. She clasped her fingers even tighter. The cold night became warm and she felt touched because of Emma's appearance.

"Thanks... Got it, Miss Wilson, Lane said.

Emma nodded. At this moment, she happened to see Liam's car drive up from the basement. It joined the traffic and stopped at the entrance of the mall. She waved to Lane. "I'm going first." Lane said, "Okay. Miss Wilson, don't worry." In the car, Liam glanced at the spot where Emma had just walked from. His hands skillfully turned the steering wheel.

The soundproofing in the car was very good, making Liam's voice sound even more mature and pleasant. "Did you bump into Lane? "Yeah, Emma said. "I saw her being harassed by a few hooligans "Are you all right?" Liam asked.

Emma shook her head. "Who can touch your wife?" Liam smiled as he looked ahead and slowly started the car. His eyes were filled with love and warmth.

When they reached Icovine Estate, because Liam's style of doing things was meticulous and rigorous, he still asked Levi to check the surveillance cameras to find out who the two people were, The rich boy with an injured hand went immediately. Owen Allen did not even dare to go to the hospital. He was afraid that he would encounter that lunatic Emuna again. He only wanted to rush back to his parents and let them uphold justice for him.

The boy in his twenties cried in his mother's arms. As he cried, he asked the family doctor to treat his injury.

Owen's mother, Gina Allen, was furious and shocked. "What's going on? Which shameless bitch dared to beat my son up like this?" The Allen family worked in real estate in Troln City and had earned a lot of money over the years. They were also prominent people.

It was not easy for Silas Allen to make a nfor himself in his early years. He had built his company from scratch. Because he had suffered, he did not want his children to suffer the shardships. He usually doted on Owen.

Before Owen graduated from high school, Silas had given him alot of credit cards to use. His son had just entered university and was already equipped with a sports car worth over hundreds of thousands of dollars. Owen grew increasingly arrogant and flamboyant.

1/3 + 81% Chapter 211 Over the years, Owen did many ridiculous things, but Silas had always turned a blind eye to them.

This was the first tOwen had suffered like this. Silas was also furious. He quickly asked the other person who sent him back. "Samson, you went out with Owen today. What happened? Samson Diaz, the boy who bullied Emma and Lane with Owen, explained what happened. However, he did not tell the entire truth.

Instead, Samson twisted the truth and said they had gone out to play together today and met two girls. They had a good chat and wanted to hit on them. However, the girls scolded them and even beat Owen up.

There was No mention of how they threatened Lane and Emma, When Silas and Gina heard Samson's description, they immediately flew into a rage.

"Ridiculous. How could this happen?" Silas shouted "Owen, why are you so stupid? How good can the women in the bar be? It's fi provoke them?" Gina asked.

fine if they ignore you, but why do you have to Owen was still wiping his tears. T-I just thought they looked okay and wanted to talk to them. Who knew. As he spoke, be tried to act pitiful again.

This move was indeed effective. Silas slammed a hand on the table angrily. "Enough. I won't let this matter rest. I want to know who they are. How can they not even fancy my son? Furthermore, how can they attack you?" Silas shouted for the butler.

"Yes, sir?" The butler stepped forward timidly.

Silas said with a serious expression, "Find the surveillance footage immediately and see who attacked Owen today." It wasn't easy for them to check the surveillance footage like Liam. It would probably take a few days to find out about Emma and Lane

Unexpectedly, the next day, while Owen was still pretending to be pitiful as his parents raged on, a lawyer's letter had already been sent to their family.

Silas was enraged. "These two shameless bitches assaulted Owen and even dared to say it's his fault?" The butler was also indignant. "Sir, it says that they didn't hit him at first. They slandered Mr. Owen and said he sexually harassed them." "Ridiculous." Silas stood up with a big belly. "Who are they? I'll go find them now." As the butler was about to announce the name, his eyes almost popped out when he saw the signature. "But.. No way."

"Who is it?" Silas was furious. He grabbed it and was stunned when he when saw the signature of the lawyer's letter. He thought, The Halls Group? Is this the Halls Group I know?

Seeing that Silas was stunned, Gina also looked curious. She frowned on slightly and asked with a hint of confusion, "What happened? Didn't you say that you wanted to help Owen get justice?" Silas threw the lawyer's letter to Gina. "See for yourself." When Gina saw the words "Halls Group" written on it, she was also shocked. That's... impossible, right? The Hall family?" X

Chapter 212 When Gina, heard this, she glanced at her son. In the next second, her expression changed Gina was Silas's mistress before she married into the Allen family. Before Owen, Silas had a daughter by his first wife-Alyssa Allen.

Unlike Owen, Alyssa was an outstanding student from a young age. She was capable and studied overseas. However, after Silas and his ex-wife divorced, Alyssa had been living alone outside and was unwilling to interact with them.

As passed, Silas's relationship with his eldest daughter becdistant. However, Owen was too useless, so Silas still left many matters of the company to his eldest daughter.

Silas didn't know what Owen usually did, but Gina knew very At the mention of Alyssa taking advantage, Gina's expression turned cold. "Got it. Don't worry. Mom will handle those two people for you." Owen heaved a sigh of relief after hearing Gina's words. It took him and Gina more than ten years to consolidate their status in the Allerfamily. At this critical juncture, he definitely could not let Alyssa enjoy the fruits of their labor.

At Icovine Estate, when Emma washed up for the night. Liam was working in the study.

Levi was giving a recent debriefing report over the phone. The content was serious. In addition to the financial statement, there was also a competing relationship report. At this moment, Liam suddenly asked, "What kind of wedding gowns do women usually like?" Levi was surprised. He didn't know how to answer. Then, he thought, Wait. I fucking said so much just now. Boss, did you listen at all? Levi was stunned for a moment before he slowly reacted and said politely. "Mr. Hall, are you worried that Madam doesn't like the wedding gowns you gave her?" Liam couldn't describe the feeling. Today, when he accompanied Emma to the bridal shop to try on the wedding gowns, Emma's expression told him she was happy. But there was none of the excitement he had expected to see on her face.

Hence, Liam only hummed in agreement. It was obvious that he was not in a good mood.

Levi comforted, "Maybe Madam just isn't mentally prepared. Hall, don't worry too much. The wedding dresses you chose are so beautiful. If I were a woman, I would be tempted too." Liam listened to the voice on the receiver. After a few seconds, he slowly said, "Do you think your taste is comparable to hers?" Levi was speechless. He wondered why Liam was picking on him. He felt he was being looked down upon, but had no evidence.

Liam felt there was nothing to be gained from asking Levi, so he simply hung up the phone. There was no point in saying more. No matter how many people liked them, if Emma did not like them, those things were meaningless.

After hanging up, Liam sat alone in the study. He wasn't afraid that Emma wouldn't like the wedding gowns. If Emma didn't like them, she could design and customize one. Even if there were a hundred or a thousand of them, if Liam could satisfy her. It didn't matter how much effort and money he spent.

Chapter 212 Liam did not voice out his real worry. He was only afraid that Emma did not want to marry him. At the thought of this, Lum walked to the window and lit a cigarette. He took a deep breath and felt a little dejected. A cigarette could relax him. Liam composed himself before returning to the room. He did not want his emotions to affect Emma.

sever, when Lum trached none on the phone. "Hum bedroom doo coming out of the shower as if she was talking. The one you went before was too little. It's not enough. If I didn't prepare properly. Liam would be disappointed. What! It's troublesome! That's because you're single. You don't understand our relationship" ● from Liam didn't understand what meant he was just a little surprised. He wondered what Emma was up to. Liam was not in a hurry to eat before from outtake. In's At this moment, Liam saw Emma hurriedly ran to the computer in her haste, her knee even hit the corner of the table with a thud. Emma hissed in pain, her defeated fingers slipped into a folder. There are different dresses for formal weddings, casual weddings and weddings. "Emma's dad eyes were serious as she wetted out the information. She remembered everything and he was afraid that if she met any detail, she would let down Liam's feelings for her. At that moment, Liam disappeared, it turned out that Emma had been silently reciprocating his deep feelings in ways he didn't think of. Liam looks at Emma's back, his hands bind with overwhelming motions. He took a deep breath and walked over to Emma and that she had not at the foot of the bed until a pair of big hands wrapped around her waist and Liam could feel the back of her neck affectionately.

Emma's body went numb and she tried to turn her head slightly and asked in surprise, "Hubby, when did you bury your head in the curve of my neck and humbly, hating the surging emotions in his eyes."

Emma was only wrapped in a towel that sagged it upward to prevent it from slipping. Liam's hair was a delicate mid-air fragrance.

Emma did not seem or act at all. She was a little adorable doing my homework. This way, I can choose Emma.

Emma giggled. "I'm just trying to secretly work hard to amaze you." Liam did not speak. He lowered his gaze and sized up Emma's knee. Liam's rough hand touched the knee, and Emma flinched. He let out "Ah, well..." Emma didn't expect Liam to see it all and felt a little. Liam narrowed his eyes slightly.

"Achoo!" At this moment, Emma touched her pink nose and she saw Liam looked up meaningfully. "You've caught a cold." Emma's doe-like eyes were a little evasive. "No way. Not in such a way." "You need to be warmed up," Liam said.

Emma thought Liam would cover her with a blanket or put her undid his tie with one hand and carried her to lie down. The warmest thing in the world was not clothes, but the warmth X

Chapter 213

Chapter 213 Emma and Liam decided to get married after 100 days because it would be her birthday. On her special 21st birthday, Enna wanted to dress up and marry the man she loved the most.

In the end, they chose the wedding gown together. It was a beautiful romantic gown from the fishtail series. The style had been decided, but there were still sdetails to be perfected.

There was still plenty of tbefore the wedding. The chosen gown was specially transported to Mayland to be altered. The gown was the most beautiful wedding dress Emma had ever seen. It was designed by her and Liam. Once the finished product was produced, it would stun the entire world..

After the wedding dress was chosen, the next step was to get the matching rings.

There were diamond rings for marriage proposals and engagements, as well as rings that couples would wear daily in the future.

Liam had given Emma large diamond rings before. This time, he still wanted to buy Emma a diamond ring, but she said it was useless to have so many diamond rings. Instead, she wanted to choose a meaningful pair of rings.

At a top-notch royal jewelry shop, the shop assistant in a high-end suit introduced respectfully, "Miss Wilson, this is the latest platinum ring that just cin. It is inspired by the pillars in Denmen Square in Anaur. There are a total of eight dazzling and precious diamonds embedded in it. It's very elegant and exquisite. It's very suitable for your hand," This ring brand was carefully selected by Liam. He knew that Emma didn't like brands that were too popular and high-profile. This brand had a history of 300 years and used to design for the royal family. It matched Emma's temperament very well.

Emma first tried on the style recommended by the shop assistant.

As expected of a top-notch royal brand. Just the simple design showed that the craftsmanship was exquisite. When Emma put on the ring, it made her fingers look slender, exquisite, and long. However, Emma frowned slightly. No matter how she looked at it, she still felt that something was missing.

Suddenly, Emma saw another hexagonal design in the window. The wedding ring was also embedded with diamonds. At first glance, among the many jewelry, the ring did not seem eye-catching. However, compared to the one she was wearing, it looked even tougher and cooler.

Once Emma noticed this design, it was difficult for her to shift her attention away.

"Can I take a look at this?" Emma asked.

"Of course," the shop assistant said as he carefully took out the two rings. "It's inspired by the flora and fauna of nature and it symbolizes the love nest of the royal family." Emma raised her hand and looked at the ring under the light. The ring was made of many hexagonal geometric patterns. It was small and flickering. The top-notch cutting emitted a dazzling light. It was noble but not high-profile. It was filled with natural aesthetic beauty.

Emma made up her mind the moment she put on the ring. Liam saw the smile on Emma's lips and immediately understood her. He took out a black card. "This is the right one." After buying the rings, they had to wait a few days before they could pick them up because their sizes had to be customized. Chapter 213 However, it was precisely because of this that buying rings became ritualistic.

After leaving the shop, Emma could not help but sigh. This ring is so beautiful. Just looking at it makes me feel very sweet. It's like I've already spent the rest of my life with you. We'll always be this sweet, right?" Emma walked beside Liam like a young girl. She raised her head and looked into his deep eyes. Liam's breath hitched as he kissed Emma's forehead. "Of course. Although the previous rumors made people suspect that Emma was not Liam's partner. If it weren't for Riley, they wouldn't have decided to hold the wedding so quickly. Soon, the entire world would know that she was Liam's wife.

On the other hand, Riley was not so lucky. Liam had already gotten someone to find the troublemaker who secretly posted in the forum. When Emma returned to Charon Military School a few days later, the rumors in the school had long been cleaned up by Liam.

Emma did not hear any rumors about herself. She also didn't notice that Riley was no longer in Charon Military School. Recently, Emma's thoughts had been on the wedding, so she naturally did not pay attention to Riley's whereabouts. Only Liam knew that Riley would never come back in the future.

Levi, who was in charge of handling everything, looked at Liam in the study. "Mr. Hall, there are no more rumors about Madam in the school now. When the wedding is over, everyone will know better. However, don't we have to inform Mr. Simon in advance about the wedding?" Even though Liam was now in charge of the Halls Group, he still had to tell Simon about something as important as marriage.

Unexpectedly, Liam said, "No need Liam was very calm. His slender fingers casually dug into the table. It had been a long time since he had communicated normally with Simon. Since Simon lied about Emma being in Holy Mountain, he had been contacting Liam unilaterally.

As for Liam, he either responded coldly or rejected the calls Liam's eyes darkened. 'I'll inform him when it's about time. There are more important things to do now.' Levi was a little stunned. "Mr. Hall, is there anything else?" Liam looked up at Levi. "Go and prepare..." At Charon Military School, with Liam's prior preparations, of course, no one dared to gossip about Emma. Emma had a quiet time. Only Lane couldn't help but ask, "Miss Wilson, what's with the information about the wedding gowns you asked for last time?"

That night, Emma had just finished seeing Liam's 10 wedding dresses when she realized she knew nothing about them. She then asked Lane for information to supplement her knowledge first. Originally, Emma would always look for Josiah for such matters. However, at that time, Emma needed the information urgently and could not contact Josiah for a while, so she looked for Lane.

13 05 Wed, Jul 24 G.

Chapter 213 After knowing each other for so long. Emma trusted Lane increasingly. Since Lane asked, Emma told her everything about her and Liam getting married.

+819 When Lane heard this, she was both shocked and excited. Her eyes were filled with a girl's longing and envy for a wedding dress. "Fuck. Is this for real? You and Mr Hall are finally going to have a wedding," Lane exclaimed. "That's not right. When did the two of you get married? Why didn't I know? Emma raised an eyebrow. Don't you know

"I don't know" Lane put her palms together. "Then, Miss Wilson, have you chosen your wedding gown yet? What about the diamond ring? Have you thought about your wedding date?" Lane was looking forward to Emma's answer.

Emma was also looking forward so she could not hide her smile as she pulled Lane toward the canteen. More or less. Everything that was to be or was to be done has been decided. However, the wedding dress is still being perfected. The rings don't have ours, so we have to wait a few days before picking them up." X "Is it for you to get at Lane's eyes were sparkling. She was so excited that she wanted to scream.

Chapter 214

Chapter 214 "Coincidentally, we'll have school holidays in a few days. I haven't seen your rings yet!" Lane added.

Emma had not thought of that. She blinked her eyes and asked, "Do you want to go with me?" "Of course I do!" Lane jumped up in excitement. "Every girl has a dream wedding! I'm already looking forward to it." Seeing her reaction, Emma smiled brightly and said, "Alright, right? You know then. After we get the ring, I'll treat you to a meal." This was the first time Lane had gone out alone with Emma.

She was so excited that she started preparing for it days in advance.

On the day to collect the ring, Liam had repeatedly insisted that he take Emma to accompany Emma. However, Emma said, "You've been busy recently, so you don't need to make a special trip just for this. Besides, I've already arranged to go with Lane. We'll grab something to eat after collecting the ring and then watch a movie. When I get back, you'll be almost done with your work, which is perfect, isn't it?" "How can I let you take our rings with someone else? Liam's voice was calm, but his brows were slightly furrowed.

"Lane isn't anyone else!" Emma pouted and poked the tip of Liam's nose with the tip of his finger. "And the person who accompanied me was my best friend, not a man." Seeing Liam remain silent, she hugged his neck and coaxed, "But the stock market has been in turmoil recently. You're busy. It'll take up quite a bit of time." Although they had chosen the ring together, going alone to pick it up did feel a bit lonely.

It would be best if they could go together, but going alone was better for Emma.

Fortunately, Lane had offered to join her.

Emma added, "Just focus on your work. There are plenty of other wonderful things we'll do together in the future." She could sense that Liam's work was particularly challenging lately. Sometimes, she overheard his calls, and it sounded like it was related to Simon.

Simon would surely catch wind of their wedding plans, which would make things less smooth.

If she didn't interfere, Liam could finish dealing with things sooner and it wouldn't delay the wedding. Liam still wasn't convinced. "A wedding happens only once in a lifetime. That's exactly why we should take our time." Emma said.

Her gaze was gentle and firm, and her words were filled with determination.

When he saw the look in her eyes and how resolutely she chose to support him, he couldn't help but relax his brow and He tapped her lightly with his index finger and said, "Just back early after collecting it, okay?" "Okay. Thank you, honey! I love you! Enuma said happily Liam pinched her delicate nose.

Chapter 214 There was nothing he could do to her except for pampering her Emma and Lane had agreed to set off at 3 pm. that day.

According to the original plan, Emma would go to pick up Lane.

Unexpectedly, Lane had learned how to drive a vehicle at Charon Military School when Emma was on leave at hstago.

Lane got out of the army-green SUV and shook the driver's license in her hand.

Not only did she now have a license, but she was also one of the top drivers in the entire school.

They had agreed to meet at 3 pm, but to Emma's surprise, Lane arrived at Icovine Estate with a rented car by midday Emma stared in astonishment, while Lane scratched her head and said confidently. "Emma, this car may seem normal, but it's quite spacious. And you can trust my driving skills 1001 So, should we leave now or wait a bet?" Seeing Lane's serious expression, Emma could not help but want to try her driving skills. "Let's go now? Lane said, "Okay, let's go The two girls happily drove out of the gate of kovine Estate In the meantime, Liam was watching from behind when the women walked away cheerfully For season, he felt a little jealous Lane drove very stradd Emma sat in the front passenger seat able to tell that Lanes strong skills were truly impressive Having missed sclasses, Emma couldn't help but tease, "If frayed away for a few more days, would you have learned to fly a plane?" Lane smiled embarrassedly "Toriginally wanted to enroll in the pilot program. I passed the physical exams, but my psychological evaluation wasn't up to par. What a shSeeing her regretful expression, Emma smiled highly and comforted her. "If you like flying. I can teach you next time" Lane was so shocked that she nearly slammed on the brakes and sent the two of them flying, "What the heck, Emma? You can fly a plane?" Emma quickly grabbed the safety handle, "Lady, focus on driving, don't get too excited" Tm sorry, I'm sorry. Shit, I forgot," apologized Lane Emma thought, "Her psychological resilience was indeed a bit lacking. I almost let it slip that I know how to fly a plane The autumn air was refreshing, and the sky was clear The road conditions were not bad. The journey from lovine Estate to the mall was not far, so it was not difficult for Lane to dive.

Seeing her serious and focused expression, Emma decided not to disturb her from concentrating on driving, She narrowed her eyes and gazed out of the window. The greenmedian strips flew by, and the fresh air dritted in through 111 13:05 Wed, Jul 24 Chapter 214 the window.

The rearview mirror reflected her face. She had put on light makeup, and there was an irrepressible smile at the corners of her lips.

"Lane, Emma said.

At this moment, Emma noticed a car in the rearview mirror. Her dark eyes narrowed slightly.

Lane asked, "What's wrong, Emma?" Emma stared at the rearview mirror. Her expression grew serious. "Has anyone been following you recently?" Lane was stunned for a moment, completely unprepared for this. "Wh-what... What's going on? Is someone following us??" Emma said in a calm voice, "Third car on the right behind us, license plate 275." Lane saw it. His fingers that were holding the steering wheel felt a little cold. She hadn't noticed it before. It was an inconspicuous white sedan, blending into the traffic unnoticed.

Emma had just spotted it while admiring the scenery outside the window.

She was more sensitive than average people in this aspect and had immediately sensed that the person in that car was glancing in their direction from the time. "Emma, what do we do now?" Lane was a little anxious.

Emma did not expect that she would be targeted when she did not go out with Liam.

With a calm expression, she knocked her fingertips on the door handle with her fingertips and said emotionlessly, "Pull over at the crowded intersection ahead. I'll drive."

Even though she didn't know the other party's purpose, there were very few people in the world bold enough to follow her so openly. The safest way was to hurry to a crowded place in the mall and inform Liam.

Emma called Josiah and asked him to find out who the owner of the license plate was. Just then, the army-green SUV was suddenly rammed from behind.

Chapter 215

Chapter 215 The violent collision sent the entire SUV hurtling forward.

Lane's face instantly turned extremely pale. "Emma, what should we do now? Emma realized the situation was getting out of control, but her expression remained calm. She gripped the safety handle and said, "Accelerate and shake them off.

Lane's heart was pounding wildly. She was just a newbie who had just recently gotten her driver's license, and now she was being chased by multiple cars. It was impossible not to feel nervous. If she were to encounter such a situation alone, she might have already lost control and crashed.

But Emma was in the passenger seat. She couldn't let anything happen to Emma, Lane forced herself to calm down. Then, she stepped on the accelerator and increased speed, starting to overtake other cars. The people in the other vehicles on the road were shocked to see the SUV, now dented from the collision, speeding up instead of stopping to negotiate.

After accelerating, Lane managed to put some distance between them and the pursuing cars.

However, there was a red light in front of her. She wanted to close her eyes and rush over, but at that moment, a pregnant woman and a toddler girl walked hand in hand across the street. Lane was utterly flustered.

She did not see the pedestrians. The little girl screamed in fear, and the pregnant woman instinctively tried to shield her daughter.

The inertia of the car made it hard to control, and it was about to crash into them. Emma immediately reached over, grabbing the steering wheel and turning it with all her strength.

The off-road vehicle swerved sharply, barely avoiding the little girl and the pregnant woman.

Emma looked back to see the girl sitting on the ground crying, while the pregnant woman quickly pulled her across the street. Fortunately, they were unharmed.

She was so close Lane was drenched in cold sweat, breathing heavily as she drove. That was so "Screech!" At the same time, a glaring ray of light flashed. Everything happened too quickly. Lane screamed, "Emma, be careful!" At the intersection, a huge truck ignored the red light and barreled toward the direction of Emma.

In that split second, Lane used all her strength to maneuver the car almost by reflex, moving Emma away from the most dangerous position and taking the hit herself.

"Lane!" Emma shouted her name.

A chill gripped Emma's nerves. The scene before her was eerily familiar, dredging up memories of her darkest moments that clung to her mind like black tendrils.

The truck was approaching them rapidly.

18 Chapter 215 Its massive shadow loomed overhead like an impending doom.

Emma raised her head, her pupils reflecting panic and fear, She was still trying to turn the wheel, but it was too late.

When the cars collided, Emma's last thought was that she might On the other side, at Icovine Estate.

The temperature gradually turned cold, and winter was coming the sky was getting dark.

Liam lifted his head from his busy work, noticing the dimming already four o'clock in the blink of an eye.

He had called Emma twice before, but the other party did not He thought she might be having fun with her friend, so he didn't What he didn't know was that a few hours earlier, when he first.

After being rammed by a truck at the intersection, the SUV was The phone on the passenger seat was shattered, its blood-stained However, no one picked up.

Liam sat in his study, a strange. An oppressive feeling of unease A few minutes later, a call came.

It was from the jewelry store.

A staff said, "Mr. Hall, you had an appointment to pick up the ring. The man glanced at the computer screen. It was already past for the store to collect the ring. He couldn't help but wonder if some Liam frowned. "Isn't my wife there yet?" The staff replied, "Uh... no, Miss Wilson hasn't arrived. Maybe someone answered, so I reached out to you." Almost by instinct, Liam felt that something had happened to her. A bad feeling rose in his heart as it started to rain outside.

After hanging up, Liam didn't even have time to give instructions. He immediately accessed traffic cameras of the entire city and one by one based on the time Emma set out.

When he opened the 32nd surveillance video, he saw a horrify The man stared at the screen.

It showed a huge truck barreling through, almost as if it was pr Lane 2/3 ERU 13:05 Wed, Jul 24 j Chapter 213 The green SUV flipped over and was sent flying. The front of the car was crushed beyond recognition. Liam's eyes were bloodshot. "Emma!" He was enveloped in an indescribable dark rage, veins bulging of his forehead and hand.

He did not want to watch this video again, but he rewound it once and memorized the truck's model.

By the the arrived at the hospital, three hours had passed since the accident.

Since Liam wasn't Emma's primary guardian, the hospital hadn't called him but had contacted Mateo, Emma's father.

Emma had not seen Mateo since their parting at Aria's gravesite. No matter how famous she becor how many times Mateo tried to reach. out, Emma had resolutely refused to see him. It was not until the hospital called Mateo about Emma's accident and her comatose state that Mateo finally cand got to see his daughter.

The Wilson family had gone bankrupt, Nora becdisabled, Aria died of abuse, and Zoe had also passed away recently. The unfortunate fate of his family had aged Mateo significantly, who was once among the wealthiest. Seeing Lian, he was both uptight and uneasy.

Liam ignored him and asked the doctor, "How's Emma?"

The doctor said, "Mr. Hall, don't worry. Miss Wilson is not in critical condition. Besides broken bone, there are no severe injuries. But the other young lady is gravely injured and... may not survive." Liam's expression turned unprecedentedly grim.

Anger, worry, and all kinds of emotions surged within him simultaneously.

"When can I see her?" asked Liam.

"You'll need to wait a while longer. The doctors are still examining her. Please take a seat outside, the nurse said before hurrying off.

However, Liam was unable to sit in peace.

When Mateo saw Liam's worried expression, he walked up and coughed.

"Liam," he said

Mateo didn't address Liam as Mr. Hall. Instead, he called him by his name.

Liam looked down at him with a blank expression, not saying a word.

He should have respected and cared for Emma's family. But knowing how much she hated them and how the had mistreated her over the years, he had no good feelings toward Mateo.

"I didn't expect to see you here," said Liam.

Mateo laughed awkwardly. "Liam, what are you saying? The hospital called me. As a father, how can I not come Liam ignored him. Despite Mateo's show of concern for Emma now, a leopard never changes its spots.

Mateo continued. "I've been reflecting a lot lately. Looking back, I realize I was so blind to many things. Now, after experiencing so many tragedies, I've come to understand what it means to be a decent human being. I was a

Just moments ago, he had been tearful. Now, he was avoiding eye contact and stammering, "How... how much is

Liam's sullen face instantly became gloomier,

He seemed to have reached his limit and didn't want to waste more time with Mateo. He strode forward, took the bill from Mateo, and walked toward the cashier counter.

Mateo heaved a sigh of relief, thinking he had narrowly avoided paying costly fees.

But within seconds, Liam's voice rang out, instructing Levi, "Get this man out of here!"

Levi had been displeased with Mateo from the start. So, he replied loudly, "Yes." Then, he dragged Mateo out.

Levi also had a look of disdain on his face and thought, 'Son of a bitch! One second, he was playing the sympathy card, claiming to feel remorse for his daughter. The next second, he was even unwilling to pay the medical fees. What a hypocritical jerk!

Mateo cursed Levi as he was dragged out, "Who do you think you are? I'm Liam's father-in-law! You're just a lowly worker... How dare you treat your boss's father-in-law this way?"

Levi turned a deaf ear and treated it as a dog barking.

When they reached the entrance of the hospital, a crowd had gathered, watching and pointing at Mateo.

Levi shoved him out and spat, "Get lost! Your daughter had a car accident and you only care about money! Do you have a conscience? Get as far away as you can and stop bothering Mrs. Hall!”

Chapter 216

After Levi finished scolding, the onlookers nodded in agreement. They pointed at Mateo and discussed animatedly, expressing their disdain for him.

“He looks respectable. I didn’t expect him to be so shameless.”

“Yeah, another one of those who favor sons over daughters!”

“How unlucky to have such a father!”

Mateo’s face turned red and pale alternately.

Feeling too ashamed to face everyone, he scurried away like a rat

Inside the hospital room, Emma had already woken up.

She heard a commotion outside but didn’t catch the details. Therefore, she was unaware of what Mateo and Liam had said.

However, after a while, footsteps sounded at the door.

After the doctor left, a man in a black trench coat walked in.

His face showed evident worry and anxiety. His gaze was fixed on Emma's face, and his eyes were bloodshot.

Emma’s wounds hurt, especially the fracture in her shoulder. But seeing Liam's condition, her concern for him outweighed her own pain.

“Honey...” Emma said.

“Enima.” Liam's voice was hoarse. He couldn't imagine what he would do if anything happened to her that day.

Emma had just woken up and was clueless about the situation. She asked anxiously, "Where's Lane? How's she?"

She remembered that at the critical moment in the end, Lane had risked her life to keep Emma safe, Emma's heart was beating wildly. She hoped to get a reassuring answer from Liam.

However, the man only looked at her silently.

His silence said everything.

Tears brimmed in Emma's eyes, threatening to spill. Even her voice began to tremble. "She"

"She's not dead," Liam comforted her when he saw that she was about to cry. "She's still being resuscitated.

Emma finally couldn't hold back, and tears dripped onto the white bedspread.

Lane was still being resuscitated, which meant she was still in a critical condition.

The atmosphere was a little heavy.

Liam said gently, "Don't worry. She'll be fine. I'll arrange the best doctors for her. You get srest, okay?"

When he said the last word, his voice was so gentle, entirely different from the commanding man he usually was.

Erina bit her lip and nodded while enduring her grief.

After Liam comforted her, he walked into the corridor alone.

Liam looked at him and asked, "How long before Lawson arrives

Levi replied seriously, "I just confirmed over the phone. He's only a block away now. Should be here in about 10

Liam nodded.

Lawson was a world-renowned neurosurgeon.

The car accident had damaged Lane's brain nerves.

Even though an operation was a race against time, Liam reckoned they could afford to wait for 10 minutes.

With Lawson performing the surgery, Lane would likely pull through.

At ten o'clock in the evening, at the Allen family's residence.

Owen had just changed his outfit.

Silas was on a business trip that night. Owen finally could enjoy a rare moment of freedom. He was ready to party all night.

He went upstairs to look for Gina to get her card, but Gina was already in bed, applying a facial mask.

Chapter 217

Chapter 217 Gina glanced at him playfully under her mask and said, "What do you think?" "Since you said so, it must have been settled." Owen replied.

Gina smirked and said. "Don't you know what your mother is capable of? How dare she break my son's hand? She's either lying in the emergency room or the morgue now." "That's great" Owen broke into a big smile when he heard that As long as they don't cause any trouble, Alyssa can't do anything to us this time. Mom, make sure she doesn't find out about this Gina replied. "I know, I know. Now hurry up and go. By the way, your hand hasn't recovered yet. Don't drink or move around too much. Do you hear me?" Owen responded perfunctorily and left the room immediately.

In the courtyard. Owen got into the passenger seat of a fluorescent-colored Lamborghini, Without looking at the driver, he said. "Let's go to Eldor Bar." The driver remained silent.

Owen ignored him and took out his phone to scroll through his Instagram. Then, he made loud phone calls filled with profanities, discussing something with people at the bar.

He didn't forget to urge the driver, "Hey, speed up! Did you hear me? Drive faster!" The driver was unmoved and continued to drive at a steady speed.

However, he changed to a route with fewer cameras, one that was almost deserted at night.

Owen couldn't react in time. He put the phone aside and scratched his chin, saying, "Is this a shortcut? Wait, this road doesn't seem familiar" Owen opened the navigation on his phone to check the route to the bar. To his surprise, he was further away He was instantly enraged, raising his hand to slap and scold the driver, questioning him about what was going on, "What the hell are you...

Before he could finish the sentence, a strong arm grabbed his wrist. His phone was thrown out of the window, and his neck was locked in the passenger seat Owen was scared out of his wits. "Who.... Who are you? What do you want?" The driver then removed his disguise as the Allen family chauffeur. He was wearing a black mask and had a long scar-next to his left eye. It was obvious that he wasn't the Allen family's servant.

Owen had been cowardly since childhood, always hiding behind Gina and putting on a false front Now that he was trapped in the car with his phone thrown out, he was so scared that he almost wet his pants.

"What do you want? How much money do you want? I'll give it all to you. I have money, and my dad has money too! Don't do anything rash, please," The man in the black mask said, "We don't want money" "You don't want money? Then what do you want? Owen swallowed hard.

1/3 Chapter 217 However, that man did not say anything. He only stared at Owen and suddenly laughed sinisterly.

His eyes were filled with describable chill and cruelty.

In the next second, Owen's vision turned black. He didn't even have time to scream before he lost consciousness.

+ 80% "Mr. Hall, we've figured it out," said Levi.

Liam had mobilized Team Thunder. He did not need a night at 11. In just ten minutes, he had found the culprit.

"It's the Allen family. The youngest son of the Allen family had conflict with Mrs. Hall and Ms. Kemp at the entrance of a bar. Gina worried that her son might get into trouble. So, she hid a fugitive to silence the two ladies. Owen is now in our hands, and the entire Allen family is under our surveillance, Lai reported.

After listening to the assistant's words, Liam thought of Emma's injuries and tears. His gloomy aura intensified, and he coldly commanded. "I want the Allen family to disappear from our city before dawn!" Meanwhile, Lawson's three-hour surgery was finally over.

After stepping down from the operating table, Lawson reorganized himself, left the emergency room, and went to talk to Liam in the corridor. His mouth was dry, and he did not even have time to drink water. "The patient is alright now, but there might be complications. It depends on the subsequent rehabilitation. Damn you, I am worn out. You owe big for this.

Liam only glanced at him without saying anything.

He didn't bother with formalities since he and Lawson were childhood friends, having known each other since they were a few years old. After growing up, Liam studied finance and went into business, while Lawson stayed in the medical field.

There were only three Grail Hero Emblems in the world, one of which originally belonged to Lawson.

However, Lawson didn't like to be restrained and never participated in the selection, so he didn't receive the emblem. Making him a hidden big shot.

Despite being extremely tired, Lawson didn't forget to gossip and glanced into the ward. "Who is this woman? Why are you so upset? Is she your girlfriend?" Liam gave him a cold look, "She's my wife's best friend." Lawson's eyes widened instantly, looking at Liam in disbelief as if he had seen something indescribable.

Then, he exploded with profanity, saying a curse word.

"When the hell did you get married? Why do I know nothing? Wait, you went through so much trouble to get here for just a bestie of your wife?... Wait, does her bestie have a boyfriend?" asked Lawson.

Liam looked at him in disdain. "Stop drooling. I'm going to keep my wife company. You rest early. The man's expression was still as cold as usual.

Seeing Liam leaving, Lawson immediately raised his voice and adjusted his gold-rimmed glasses, "You haven't paid for the surgery!" Liam stated flatly. "Go to the hospital director and put it on the insurance." "Fuck!" Lawson cursed.

Someone had advised him that a doctor should speak less profanities. He hadn't cursed for three to five years. But after 111 13:06 Wed, Jul 24 GG.

He was proud of his medical skills, so he scoffed, "Her best friend is only in her twenties at most. Your wife is probably a young girl too. How can she compare to me?"

Liam turned around and saw Lawson's smug expression. He could not help but want to strike him down a peg. "Indeed, she's only 20 years old. She never charges for treatment. Unlike your exorbitant fees of millions, she really can't be compared to you. Oh, by the way, she's also known as Grail. "Thump." It was the sound of Lawson's jaw dropping to the ground.

The previously smug man suddenly fell silent, thinking he had misheard. He thought, 'Grail? The Grail I know? Liam's wife is Grail? The world-famous Grail is a 20-year-old girl?' Lawson felt like he was about to explode. He chased after Liam, but Liam had already entered Emma's ward, preparing to shut him out! "Don't close the door!" Lawson said.

One of his arms was wedged in the crack of the door, firmly blocking it and preventing Liam from shutting him out.

Lawson barged in forcefully. In the next second, he locked eyes with the girl on the bed.

Chapter 218

Chapter 218 Emma was dressed rather plainly at the moment, but she was no wearing the hospital gown.

Liam worried she would be uncomfortable in a hospital gown, so he specifically had the nurse give her a set of comfortable silk pajamas.

Sitting on the bed, she appeared to be a refined young girl without exuding the aura that kept people at a distance.

However, she had just been injured, so her face was pale, and her head was wrapped in bandages. She looked like a sickly beauty.

Lawson looked at Emma and muttered to himself, "This is your girlfriend? Are you sure it's not your niece or cousin or something" He did not dare to say the second half of the sentence out loud for fear that Liam might kill him. Fortunately, he held it back.

Liam directed his cold gaze at him and asked, "Do you see any other woman in this room?" Lawson rubbed his nose and said naively, "I'm not a woman." Liam ridiculed, "Even if you were a woman, I wouldn't be interested in you." "What the hell?" said Lawson.

He thought, 'Is it necessary to roastlike this when we meet? "PL" At this moment, the girl on the bed couldn't help but giggle. "Honey, who is he?" Emma asked as she looked at Lawson.

She could guess that Liam was familiar with the man in front of her.

Otherwise, he wouldn't make such a joke.

Liam's tone completely changed when he spoke to Emma. "Don't mind him. Are your wounds still hurting?" Emma replied, "My injuries are not serious. I'm just worried about Lane." Emma had calmed down emotionally and no longer showed her anxiety and sadness on her face.

But she was very worried about Lane.

Liam knew that Emma wouldn't be able to set her mind at rest if he didn't tell her about Lane's condition.

Hence, the first thing he did was tell her about it..

Liam said. "Lane is out of the wood now. With proper care, she'll be fine. Don't worry! Liam did not say anything else, nor did he introduce Lawson.

Feeling a bit neglected, Lawson stepped forward and introduced himself, "Nice to meet you, Miss. I'm Lawson, the doctor who performed your friend's surgery. She's fine now, but the rehabilitation process might be tough." Emma found his unfamiliar.

"Are you Lawson Kaur, the internationally renowned neurosurgeon?" Emma asked.

Lawson scratched his head and said, "Haha, the person you're talking about has the same me. That should be me!" 1/3 +80% Chapter 218 Emma knew this person.

There was a big shot, but he still kept a low profile and never participated in any awards or evaluations to avoid being disturbed and called to perform surgeries everywhere, which would affect his research.

However, everyone in the field knew him because he was the only person in the world who had refused the Grail Hero Endin Emusa was quite surprised, as she didn't expect Liam. So many extraordinary people were readily available at his call. This made her wonder how powerful the man's connections were. However, I heard that your friend is also attending the military school? Lawson asked tentatively.

Emma nodded. Lawson continued. "There are things I need to tell you honestly. Lane is severely injured. It's a miracle that she has survived. If she recovers well, she can return to normal life. However, if she engages in strenuous physical activities, like sports competitions or military combat, her stamina and strength will be significantly reduced by at least half, and it is bad for her health. So your friend may not be able to pursue a physically demanding career in the future." Emma was mentally prepared for it.

It Lane had risked her life to save Emma in the urgent situation, she wouldn't have been hurt and even suffered such severe injuries. She pursed her pale lips slightly and nodded her head without saying anything. However, under the quilt, her fingers gripped the bed sheet tightly, leaving five shallow, unnoticed creases. Liam saw the change in Emma's expression and said to Lawson, "Alright, she's tired. Go out now." Liam's tone was very calm. As a childhood friend who had known Liam for more than 20 years, Lawson wisely chose not to push further and prepared to leave.

"Alright, young lady, rest well. Oh, by the way, are you really Grail?" Before leaving, Lawson finally voiced his curiosity.

He had risked getting his hand caught in the door to see, just to see what the legendary Grail looked like. All big names in the academic world had guessed privately. Said Grail must be a reclusive, kind, and gentle old lady in her seventies or eighties.

Others speculated she was like a shrunken dwarf who had been unjected with smysterious substance.

There were all sorts of guesses, but no one had guessed that the real Grail was a girl with a celebrity face, looking somewha proud lancholic. She was so beautiful that people couldn't take their eyes off her.

After Lawson left, only Emma and Liam were left in the room Liam pulled a chair over and sat by her bed.

Chapter 218 Emma's breathing deepened, and her beautiful and sharp eyes turned cold.

"They harmed Lane. I want them to pay for it with their blood," said Emma.

To Lane, her physical condition was like the wings of a bird.

Without a strong body, her dreams were shattered.

Emma didn't expect that even though she had helped Lane escape the tragic fate of dying from inther pastor depression life, Lane still faced this misfortune. Maybe everything was fated. She changed Lane's life, and Lane repaid her by saving her life. As for those who harmed Lane, Emma would make sure they pay the price.

Even if they didn't die, she would cripple them for life! Owen had gone missing.

Gina went to bed early that night and didn't pay much attention to Owen's situation.

When she woke up the next morning, she found that her son still hadn't returned home.

It wasn't unusual for Owen to be out partying and not chfor the night.

But this time, his phone remained unreachable even by noon.

Gina started to worry. After all, it was a sensitive period. If Owen caused trouble again and gave Silas and Igave Alyssa leverage, it would be problematic. X Just as Gina was about to call a few of Owen's close friends, she received a call from Owen himself!

Don't hurt him? My husband won't let you off The Allen family had been noted in Troln City over the years and more or less had power.

Although it was not as powerful as the Burnson family or the Hall family, it was definitely not to be trifled with.

In particular, Silas's business had been thriving over the years was not impossible for him to know people from top Gina was trying to scare the man over the phone, yet he laughed disdainfully as if she were a joke. "You can ask your husband to take a look at your son's current situation Oh, but don't be late. If you're late, he won't be able to hold on." Gina screamed in fear! For reason, the smart TV in the living room turned on automatically! Owen's current situation was broadcast in real time on the screen.

Gina could not see his face clearly, but she could see that a young boy had been thrown into a pitch-black septic tank He was choked and was almost unconscious! "Ah!" Gina looked at the television screen and was about to lose her mind. This person could actually control her television! She felt that she was completely under someone else's control now, and her blood was cold from fear.

"However, the voice on the other end of the line continued, "you must think carefully. If you tell your husband, he'll know about all the bastard things your son did. You know very well what Owen has done all these years. When the time comes, he won't be the CEO of the new branch company. I'm afraid you and him will be chased out of the Allen family.

At this moment, another line of white words appeared on the television screen. It was an address.

The guy immediately shut up.

Erza warned him. "Get lost. Asshole." "Era" The guy couldn't believe it "Do I need to repeat myself?" Erza said.

Alyssa's manicured fingers picked up a green, flat, pentagonal glass, filled it with whiskey, and pushed it toward Erza. "Mr. Burnson, since I'm already here, why don't we have a drink?" Alyssa's purpose for coming here today was not only to make that despicable man lose all face, but also because she really wanted to get to know Erza.

Erza was not someone she could cinto contact with in her daily life.

Yet Erza, who was accompanied by two hot girls, didn't even look at her. "I don't have any project for you. You can leave." Alyssa lowered her eyes and smiled.

Chapter 220

Chapter 220 It was not difficult for Erza to find out about Lane's hospital.

When Erza arrived at the door of ward Lane, Lane was still unconscious.

The doctor passing by in the corridor noticed that Erza looked unfamiliar and asked him if he was a family member of the patient. Erza remained silent.

If he was not the patient's family, then what was he doing here? He didn't know why he had there.

Perhaps he was a little bored at night and was really tired of nicotine. When he heard that something had happened to Lan he unknowingly walked there. However, since she was not awake, there was no need for him to stay.

With that thought in mind, Erza stood up and prepared to leave. Then he saw a tall man standing in front of him. Liam immediately recognized Erza.

In the past, because of Emma, Liam did not really like Erza. However, after Lennon attacked Emma, and Liam's interaction with Erza, he knew that Erza did not have romantic feelings for Emma He decided to put away his hostility. "Are you here to visit Lane? Liam could tell what he was thinking at a glance.

Erza did not deny it. However, what was Liam doing there? Liam could not possibly visit Lane, so Erza asked, "Was Emma injured too?" "Yes, she got a fracture, Liam answered.

Erza was a little surprised.

He heard that Lane had a car accident, so Emma must be on the car too.

Who has the guts to hurt Emma in TroIn City?' he wondered.

"Did the perpetrator do it on purpose?" Erza asked.

Liam said, "It's the Allen family." He then stared at Erza coldly. "Do you know Owen?" Owen met Lane at Erza's party.

That day, Lane brought Erza a laptop. Owen found her interesting and went out to harass her.

Since Liam asked, it meant that this matter was definitely related to him.

Erza would buy a drink every day. The private room was large, and many people were coming and going. They were all with friends. Erza had no impression of most of them.

Yet then, he thought of the girl in a suit he had seen today.

Erza asked. "Does he have an older sister?" "You mean Alyssa?" Liam pursed his lips. "She is Owen's half-sister." Erza remembered something but couldn't remember the face.

He was well aware of Liam's influence in Trolo City. Although this to be held accountable matter -could not his fault, it was caused by him. So he had Chapter 220 I understand. I take care of this matter, Erza said in a low voice.

"There's no need" Liam placed one hand in his pocket, his long legs standing on the spot. He was about the height as Erza, but because of his age, his aura was stronger, and he looked taller.

The two men stood in the corridor, evenly matched. "I'll settle the score with the Allen family myself." Liam took a step forward. "As for the rest... If you know who else provoked Emma and Lane that day, tell me." Erza nodded and agreed. "Alright." When Liam entered the ward, Emma was already asleep.

He had just returned from his work. Looking at her sleeping face, he couldn't bear to wake her up. After sitting by her bed for a while, he received a message.

He lowered his head indifferently and opened it. It was a short message.

[I got both of them.] The person who sent the message was Team Thunder's subordinate. The two people he mentioned were Owen and Gina. When Liam saw this message, his face darkened. His thin lips pursed into a straight line as he replied: [Cripple them.] Gina would never dare to tell Silas about this.

When she hurried to the meeting place alone, she found that it was an abandoned factory. Owen was there was no one else in the factory.

No one here at all, and She realized that she might have been sitting beside her, and at night, there was no one, set up, but at this moment, she had no other choice. There was a desolate grave At this moment, Gina was not afraid. She tried her best to call the number that had contacted her previously, but no one answered "Is anyone there?! I've brought the money. Let my son go!" She screamed in the factory. "Hello?" At this moment, a hoarse voice finally laughed strangely. "Your son and you, only one can live today" Gina was frightened. She fell to the ground and cried. "Who are you? What do you you want?" She had offended many people in her life, but they were all insignificant. Nothing had happened all along, and she was used to being arrogant. But this time, she offended someone she shouldn't offend. The person wanted their life, not money or power.

"Drink this, and your son will be rescued," the guy said.

Gina looked at the bottle of brown liquid on the table and broke out in a col Beside the bottle was Owen's live broadcast. His face was twisted and he looked like he was in pain.

Gina instantly panicked. She knelt on the ground and begged "Please, letgo, let my son go... We'll do anything you Gina's elegance and arrogance were gone. She was like a dog.

23 13:07 Wed, Chapter 220 "I'll give you three more seconds... the man said, 'Drink, or watch your son die."

Gina did not have to think too hope Without much. Owen was her hope. Without Owen, she would not have become Mrs. All today. She would rather die than become poor again. At the thought of this, Gina's vision darkened and she fainted.

On the other side, after Alyssa received the news that Owen and Gina had caused trouble, she immediately gathered all evidence she had and submitted it to the board of directors of the Allen Group the next morning. However, just as she drove to the building of the Allen Group, a black Rolls-Royce blocked her way.

Alyssa could tell at a glance that the person was of high status.

Alyssa stopped the car. She watched as a person in a black uniform got out of the car and walked towards her. Then someone knocked on her car window.

Alyssa took a deep breath and looked at the middle-aged man in front of her cautiously. "May I ask who you are?" Derek had a flawless smile on his face. "Alyssa, I'm the Hall family's butler. Our chairman wants to see you." Alyssa's mind went blank for a few seconds.

To gain a foothold in the Allen family, no one in TroIn City knew better than her about the upper class.

In such a huge city, there were many families with the surname, but there was only one Hall family, m Alyssa was a little stunned. She never imagined that she would be able to see the president of the Halls Group one day! "T... Can I ask why? Derek smiled politely and pointed to the information she was about to submit to the board of directors.
