

Mrs. Hawry, your disguise was penetrated

Chapter 6 Disturbed

Nora looked at Asher doubtfully.

"But let me tell you, you and I are still engaged and Levi is a star. You'd better not spread any gossip, otherwise, it will be bad for The Howe family's reputation."

After saying that, Nora came to realize that Asher thought she liked Levi?

How could he think of it?

"I still have to remind you that The Lim's family is strict. After all, you are two years older than Levi."

"Stop it."

He just couldn't stop talking, could he?

"It's none of your business."

Asher suddenly became pretty serious. Until he got off the car, they didn't speak a word again.

In Asher's mind, Nora didn't deny his words. That meant she did like Levi. And she became angry because of his words.

That night, Asher suffered from insomnia as usual.

Since he was kidnapped in an accident at the age of thirteen and locked in a room, Asher had been habitually insomnia since then.

But the difference was that he was thinking about Nora the whole night.

Somehow, Asher remembered the scenes of last night in his mind. Now he just missed the feeling of sleeping with Nora.

Thinking about that, Asher was even more upset.

Did she like that little boy? What's wrong with her head?

The man lit a cigarette irritably.

In the next few days, Nora lived safely in The Howe Group, but her daily working life made her miss the past, traveling around the world or laying comfortably in the manor.

Soon, the anniversary of The Howe Group was coming. In the evening, Nora was forced by The Howe family and changed into a dress to attend the banquet with Asher.

The banquet in The Howe Group was very grand, and many famous people from the business came.

Asher, as the president, was busy greeting guests, and Nora went to the bathroom.

Just after putting on makeup, a woman stopped her when she was trying to come out.

"Are you Nora?"

Nora looked back. The woman was about the same age as herself. She was dressed in a Dior dress. It seemed that she should be a rich young lady.

"what's wrong?"

"I'm Brittany." The woman stepped forward and spoke.

After coming to The Howe Group for so long, Nora had heard of the name Brittany in gossip.

Brittany, who grew up with Asher, was the only woman around Asher for so many years.

Brittany and Asher were a perfect couple in the eyes of outsiders. It had always been rumored that they would marry. However, Nora became the fiancée one day.

"What do you want?"

Brittany took out a card from her bag and said superciliously, "Here is 10 million. I want you to announce the dissolution of your engagement with Asher at the banquet tonight."

Hearing this, Nora immediately smiled.

Why people in Arial city liked to give money to themselves? But compared with Madge's 5,000 yuan, Brittany was generous.

Brittany looked at the smile on her face and frowned slightly: "This money is enough for you to live better for the rest of your life. You know, Asher can't marry you. It's just because Grandpa's illness brought you to The Howe family. After Grandpa's illness, he will drive you away, and then you won't get any benefits."

"I see." Nora sneered: "Live a better life? Brittany, that money isn't enough my cost for a month."

After that, Nora left on high heels.

Brittany behind her was unbelievable. Was Nora sick? She was from the countryside, and 10 million was not enough to spend.

After thinking that, Brittany's face flashed a gloom. Nora, since you don't want to take this, don't blame me for being impolite.

At this time, Asher had already finished his speech on stage and was talking with people.

After Nora came out, Madge came to her and warned, "Nora, don't run around, just sit there. Don't embarrass The Howe family!"

Chapter 7 Her camouflage was going to be penetrated

Some sarcastic remarks made Nora regret that she came to the party because she was bored.

She would rather go than stay.

But before Nora could speak, Brittany came up with her sisters. She looked at Nora as if she had found nothing in the bathroom just now. She smiled and said, "Auntie, this is Asher's fiancée Nora! Hello, Nora, I'm Brittany."

At the moment, Brittany was like a famous woman's daughter, gentle and generous. But she was particularly impolite for Nora to ignore her at all.

Madge stared at Nora and smiled at Brittany, "Brittany, just ignore her. She is from the country and doesn't know any manners."

"Auntie, it's okay. By the way, I heard that Nora is talented and there is a piano on the stage. Why don't we have a try?"

After hearing that, Nora looked at Brittany. It was rumored that she was poor from the countryside. But Brittany never heard that she was talented.

This was clearly to humiliate her.

Brittany went straight to the piano stand on the edge of the stage without waiting for Nora to speak.

Because Brittany was Asher's childhood sweetheart, all the people

Brittany went straight to the piano stand on the edge of the stage without waiting for Nora to speak.

Because Brittany was Asher's childhood sweetheart, all the people couldn't help looking at her.

Brittany played a famous piano piece, and when it came down, everyone applauded.

After coming down, Brittany smiled and said, "Not very good, Nora, it's your turn."

The faked girlfriends on the edge of Brittany began to heckle.

"Brittany, you played so well."

"Nora, why don't you dare to go up? Maybe you can't play the piano! Asher's fiancée can't even play the piano. I'm afraid that people would laugh at you!"

There were many people around, and everyone looked at Nora with some jokes.

Madge was only ashamed, and she was even more disgusted when she looked at Nora.

Nora smiled: "I just think playing the piano at this banquet is like a busker. Since you have to listen, I will play it."

After that, Nora put down her glass and walked gracefully to the piano.

She chose the same music as Brittany. Brittany wanted to humiliate her, but she didn't know that Nora had passed Grade 10 when she was ten years old.

Anyone who wanted to humiliate her had never appeared in her life!

The melodious sound of the piano slowly flowed out, and the people on the dance floor danced with Nora. The picture was beautiful and harmonious.

All the people present knew quite well about the piano. Everyone could recognize that Nora played better than Brittany, and there was more than a little better.

Asher, who was talking with the guest, was also stunned. He looked at the woman in front of the piano.

Nora was wearing a light blue evening dress, wavy hair hanging around the back of her neck at will. She closed her eyes and stroked the keys with both hands, which was suffocating.

Not only Asher, but many guests were stunned.

Brittany was shocked. Her face was like burning right now and turned red.

Nora actually could play the piano and could play it better than her. No way.

At the end of the song, Nora walked down.

"Nora is talented, and I feel inferior." Brittany praised her, but she was pretty angry.

She couldn't even compare with a country girl?

"you also play very well," Nora said casually.

Just then, a middle-aged man in a black suit came up to them.

Nora was shocked. Was he the housekeeper Andy? Why did he come here?

Andy walked straight towards them. He took a glance at Nora and did not speak anything. Instead, he spoke to Asher and Madge. "Asher, Mrs. Howe, hello, I'm The Shawn family's housekeeper, Andy. I'm sorry. Mr. Shawn is not feeling well. I can only attend the banquet on his behalf."

Madge hurriedly stepped forward and said, "Andy, don't mention it. Is Master Shawn all right?"

Chapter 8 Think about it slowly

People were talking. Everyone knew that Charlie and Howard were family friends. In those days, the two companies dominated the commercial market.

However, Charlie sold the company many years ago and withdrew from the business. After so many years, there was no news about him. People heard that he had taken his granddaughter around the world.

But The Shawn family's status was still spread all over the country.

Andy took out gifts prepared by Nora's grandpa. A world-famous painting, a piece of land worth hundreds of millions in the south of the city, and so on.

The Shawn family was always generous.

Nora couldn't help feeling a little distressed. Gee, how could they have those gifts?

Fortunately, Andy didn't expose her. If she was exposed, it wouldn't be fun. Madge was so snobbish that she might not let herself go after three months.

If Asher knew she had so much money that he might even fall in love with her.

Nora was keeping imagining that. Just then, she only heard Brittany's friends were saying, "The Shawn family is famous. By the way, Brittany, I heard that you met The Shawn family's granddaughter at the Paris fashion show before!"

The Shawn family's little granddaughter had always been a legend in the outside world, and few people know her name, not to mention seeing her.

Brittany nodded. "Yes, she is beautiful!"

"That was amazing. Brittany also has added WeChat of that girl. Miss Shawn also invited Brittany to come to Ariel city!"

"Wow! Brittany, you are so awesome!"

Hearing this, Nora raised her eyebrows slightly and looked at Brittany on the side.

Brittany noticed that and looked over.

"What's the matter, Nora?"

"Have you met The Shawn family's little granddaughter?"

Brittany nodded her head.

"What? Do you envy Brittany very much? You have the same surname as Miss. Shawn. However, there is a big gap between you and that girl."

Hearing those words, Nora immediately smiled and did not speak anything. They were so foolish.

Brittany looked at Nora's smile and suddenly felt puzzled. Did Nora know that she had never seen The Shawn family's little granddaughter? It was impossible. How could she know this? She must have thought too much.

When Brittany was thinking about that, she saw Nora was shaking the head and sighing lightly. She also saw Nora smiled with a hint of sarcasm.

Reason told herself that Nora shouldn't know, but Brittany couldn't help flustering more in her heart, which made her angry.

A country girl dared to act like that. Nora was too arrogant.

After that, Brittany suddenly got an idea. She looked at Nora's back with a malicious smile.

Nora brought the wine and went to a quiet corner with few people to sit down.

Feeling that someone was looking at herself, Nora intuitively saw it. She looked through the stream of people and just looked at Asher.

Asher never looked away from Nora after she played the piano.

Thinking about how she could play the piano, and that her innate nobility didn't seem to be in a girl from the countryside. When Asher found Nora looking at him, he immediately recovered and changed his sight.

But then, he saw that Nora seemed to regard him as nonexistent, just glancing at him lightly and looked at somewhere else.

For no reason, Asher was annoyed in his heart. He was very uncomfortable as he couldn't get some breath.

Nora took a sip of the wine in the cup and laughed sarcastically that others could not see.

Nora knew what Asher was thinking when he looked at her just now. She played the piano so well. A narrow-minded, prejudiced, and arrogant man like him was waiting to laugh at her, but now he must be very surprised.

Just thought about that slowly.

She didn't like dealing with such self-centered men.

These three months, she just pretended to cultivate her mind.

After sitting alone for a long time,
Nora decided to leave first.

Just as she was about to take a taxi,
Asher's voice suddenly came behind her. "Who allowed you to leave alone without saying a word?"

Chapter 9 Upper Subordinate Relations

Nora turned to look over and saw Asher coming towards her. He just followed her out.

"Who stipulates that I must report to you when I leave? Asher, it's off-duty time now. We are not subordinates. I can do whatever I want."

Nora thought Asher was confusing.

At that time, a car stopped in front of them. The driver got down from the co-pilot and opened the door for them.

Nora recognized Asher's car, and Asher casually said, "It's so late, it's not safe for you to take a taxi alone. Let's go back together so as not to blame The Howe family when something happens to you."

Nora frowned. "Since You're afraid that I'll cheat money, you don't have to do that. I don't like your money of The Howe family."

At this point, Nora was leaving, and Asher reached out and grabbed her wrist in a tough tone. "Get in the car!"

Asher saw Nora was angry, he added: "Since I promised my grandpa to stay with you for three months, I will ensure your safety during this time."

The implication was that he just didn't want to take responsibility for the accident and reluctantly went back with Nora.

Nora pulled back her arm and got in the car. She was pretty impatient right now.

Before she came, she felt that she could not make any progress with Asher in three months. Now it seemed that this man was not only bad in character, bad in temper, but also unable to talk.

How could her grandpa be confused when choosing his grandson-in-law?

Brittany watched Asher leave and then followed him out. She stood behind the post at the door and watched Asher and Nora leave in the same car, stamping her feet jealously.

If she was engaged to Asher, it was her Brittany who was sitting in the car with Asher at this time.

Brittany took out her mobile phone from her bag and made a phone call. "I remember last time you said you wanted to make friends with me, right? Since you are friends, to show your sincerity, you should always give me a meeting gift."

Although Sarah, the secretary-general of the Asher, had the honor to meet Brittany at a banquet. She wanted to enter their circle of celebrities and was excluded.

At this time, Brittany took the initiative to call Sarah, and she quickly promised: "Of course, what do you need me to do?"

"It's very simple. Nora is working for you now. It shouldn't be difficult for you to secretly make her suffer?"

After a pause, Brittany added:

"After the job is done, as long as you do it well, you can choose the latest new bag at any price."

Sarah was a little hesitant, but now she was excited about an instant. "You are very generous. Don't worry, let me do this."

"Are you sure?"

"Of course, Nora is just a small secretary. Asher never cares about her and the employees of the company isolate her. It is very easy if I want to suffer her."

When Brittany heard Sarah said that Asher ignored Nora in the company and she just felt better in an instant.

"That's a deal. As long as you do it well, I'll keep my words!"

In the car, Asher and Nora sat in the back seat, leaving a large interval between them.

Asher took a glance at Nora and saw that Nora still kept the posture when she got in the car and still looked out of the window.

"You play the piano well. When did you learn it?"

Nora looked at him and raised her eyebrows slightly, thinking that he would be surprised. She didn't expect him to ask her voluntarily, "Is it good? I just learned it."

Asher: "..."

Seeing Asher speechless, Nora smiled in a good mood. "I just learned it after watching Brittany play it. How about it? Is it very smart?"

Asher was angry in his heart.

"There's no way to communicate with you."

"Then stop talking. That was you who talked to me first, ok?"

Nora stop looking at him either.

Mrs. Hawn, your disguise was penetrated

Chapter 10 No one would help you

" ... "

Asher raised his hand and pulled his tie. His anger was more intense and he was angrier with himself. He should not talk to her.

At this moment, he couldn't figure out why he was looking for a topic to talk to her just now because he felt too silent in the carriage. The more he thought about it, the more annoyed he became.

Until they got home, they never said a word again.

As soon as the car stopped at the door, Asher got out of the car quickly. While Nora got off lazily and entered the door as if she was unaffected.

Asher sat on the sofa in the living room with a glass of water in his hand. Nora passed by without looking at him and went upstairs slowly.

Asher slammed the cup on the table.

Nora heard the sound. She just ignored that and went upstairs.

He was just angry because of some single words. It seemed that this man was not very generous!

Such a person could also be the president of The Howe Group? It seemed that he was gonna ruin the whole family business in the future.

Early the next morning, at breakfast, Nora inevitably suffered on Madge and Ashley's judgment.

Nora was like treating them as air, letting them say anything and ignoring them.

Madge and Ashley saw that they didn't achieve the desired effect, but they were angry.

Nora, on the other hand, just like she was watching a clown do something wrong and did not take it to heart at all. After breakfast, she went directly to work in the company.

Nora had a strong ability to work, and the work of a little secretary was a cinch for her. So she finished her work quickly in the morning and took a break after lunch.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, she just went to the bathroom. When she came back, there was a pile of papers on her desk.

Seeing Sarah standing aside, Nora guessed that Sarah did this.

"What is this for?"

Sarah said in a tone of command: "All these documents must be recorded in the computer within today.

Originally, another colleague should share them with you, but he had an urgent leave today, so you have to do it yourself. Remember! It must be finished today and the data must be sorted out because it will be used tomorrow."

Nora simply looked through the documents and needed to enter them into the computer bit by bit. It just took a lot of time. If she wanted to finish these by herself today, she would have to work overtime.

"Since you are in a hurry, why didn't you give it to me earlier?"

Sarah was confident, "The original plan has changed, and I just got the order from the above. It is normal to have unexpected situations at work. What is your attitude? Are you complaining about your work? Nora, although you are Asher's fiancée since you have come to work in the company, I think you should also do your duty and do what you need to do. "

Nora knew exactly what Sarah was thinking. But since she was here, of course, she had to do what she had to do.

"Of course."

After saying that, Nora sat down and looked through the documents.

Sarah smiled successfully. She received the above notice in the morning. She deliberately told Nora now. Besides, she deliberately took the initiative to give the employee a holiday.

Nora must have to do all those work until 10 o'clock. And then she would have a backache.

"Remember, you must check it carefully over and over again. You can't make any mistakes. Every number must be accurate. Otherwise, if you record any wrong number, it will lead to errors in the final data statistics."

Nora glanced impatiently at Sarah. "Is there something else? Just finish it at once."

"Nope."

"If not, please leave. Don't you have any other work to do yourself?"

In front of other employees, Sarah felt ashamed.

Nora was Asher's fiancée, but now she was just a small secretary. But Sarah was the secretary-general, How dare Nora talk to her like that?

Nora was just a country girl. She didn't like Nora's arrogant behavior.

Sarah rolled her eyes and turned to leave.

But Sarah still scolded Nora in her heart, "Just do it slowly, don't think this is enough! Others are waiting for you! No one will help you here!"
