

Mrs. Longfellow's Mask Had Dropped Again Chapter 3

Chapter 3

Hearing this, Elliana Fulton clenched the champagne glass in her hand and narrowed her eyes.

“Layla Fulton, what do you mean by this?”

“Sister, what can I mean? I just feel that you now have nothing to do with the Longfellow family, but you are still attending the banquet in the name of the Longfellow family. Is that okay?”

The people present today were all famous figures in Medfield.

They still had a deep impression of the marriage between the Longfellow family and the Fulton family three years ago.

However, they did not expect that this divorce was exactly the same as the marriage back then.

They ended suddenly.

Originally, these spectators were all suspicious, but when Layla Fulton said this, it was like proof of the divorce.

“Layla Fulton is right. They have already divorced. Does this Elliana Fulton still want to gain something relying on the Longfellow family's reputation?”

“It's obvious that she had gained enough in the past three years. Look at how prosperous the Fulton family's business has been in the past three years...”

There was a faint sound of discussion coming from the side. Elliana Fulton's expression did not change at all.

In comparison, she felt even more ridiculous when she saw Layla Fulton's petty appearance..

A certain distance away, Maxwell Longfellow stood there, his thin lips tightly pursed and his eyes deep.

He heard the gossip, but he was curious.

What would this woman, who fooled him in three years, do in the current situation?

“What is it? Sister, did I say something wrong?”

Elliana Fulton was in silence. Layla Fulton thought that she had hurt Elliana’s heart and became more and more proud.

“Or is it that my sister is still immersed in the sadness of divorce with Young Master Longfellow and wants to use your life to...”

Layla Fulton crossed her arms and said more and more excitedly.

She looked at Elliana Fulton’s delicate face and remembered that she was once Maxwell Longfellow’s wife.

At this moment, her resentment erupted.

But in the end, before she could finish speaking, a cold glass of champagne was splashed on her face in the next second.

The originally noisy banquet hall suddenly quieted down.

Elliana Fulton could even hear the surrounding people suck in a breath of cold air.

It was really satisfying

And Maxwell Longfellow, who was standing at the side, had a deeper look in his eyes. No one could understand what he was thinking.

Layla Fulton screamed. She took the tissue from the waiter’s hand and wiped the champagne on her face.

Her hair, which was originally not messy, was now wet.

“Elliana Fulton! Are you crazy? You are insane!”

She never imagined that the always submissive Elliana Fulton would pour wine on her at a banquet.

“Sister, your brain and mouth are not very clean and polite. The alcohol can cool you down and disinfect you. It’s good for you.”

Seeing Elliana speak with a faint smile, Layla was even more angry and trembled all over. “Elliana Fulton, you bitch, how dare you “Security, where is the security guard!” Layla pointed at Elliana with her hand trembling.

The security guards who had been staying in the corner immediately ran out when they heard the voice.

At the same time, the people who were talking also noticed two of them..

Looking at the people around her pointing fingers and talking, Layla Fulton became more and more furious. Today, Brother Longfellow also attended the event. She had spent a lot of time and effort to dress up. She did not expect that the bitch Elliana Fulton would ruin everything.

At the thought that this sorry appearance was seen by Maxwell Longfellow, she could not bear it anymore.

“Security!”

Elliana Fulton looked up slightly. She did not expect that after not seeing her young sister for a few years, this person was still as stupid as a pig.

“Miss Fulton, what’s the matter?” The security guard responded in a hurry with flattery, and his eyes were looking at Elliana Fulton.

“Is this how you guys work? Let all the cats and dogs in! Hurry and get her out of here!”

“Miss, please.” The security guard turned to look at Elliana Fulton with disdain..

Elliana Fulton sneered.

“Elliana Fulton, I will give you a chance. As long as you kneel down and beg me, I will let you stay.”

Layla Fulton raised her head high. But in Elliana Fulton’s eyes, she was like a dried chicken and was useless.

“Are you sure?”

“Miss, please come out with us!” The security guard was also afraid of causing chaos. Now, Layla Fulton was urging him..

The people next to them began to gradually approach.

“Who are these two?”

“One is the young miss of the Fulton family, I have never seen the other! How can she come to this banquet? Did she sneak in?”

“The organizer of this banquet is not reliable. With our status, if we stay with these inferior people for a long time, the dress I bought will stink! Security, hurry up and drive her out!”

“Sister, look, they are telling you to get out!” Layla Fulton was elated, waiting for Elliana Fulton to come and beg her.

Tsk.

“Is that so?” Elvana Fulton sneered and looked at her with unprecedented sharpness in her eyes.

The next second, the lights on the stage above the banquet hall suddenly lit up.

When the light fell on Elliana Fulton, it was like an immortal had descended to the earth!

“Please invite the main representative of the acquisition, the president of AMC –Elliana Fulton, Miss Fulton to the stage!”

What?!

The president of AMC is Elliana Fulton....

Chapter 3

Layla Fulton widened her eyes in an instant, her pride shattered in the surprised eyes of the crowd, and her face was pale and bloodless.

“My good sister, there are far more surprises than this.” After she said this, Elliana Fulton’s expression changed in an instant. It became sharp and determined.

Under everyone’s gaze, Elliana Fulton went up to the stage and faced the microphone. Then, she looked around at the crowd. She saw the person who had just told her to get out had a pale face. She spoke in a clear tone.

‘Welcome to this acquisition. Everyone has been waiting for a long time.’

Just now, there were a few guests who said that standing together with the president of AMC would dirty the air that they are breathing I won’t make it difficult for them. The security guards will send you out.”

‘As for Layla Fulton, Miss Fulton...’

“Elliana Fulton, you dare!” Layla Fulton looked ferocious.

“Miss Layla Fulton, please go out.”

Layla Fulton was dragged out of the banquet by several security guards. No one present began to question her.

In the silence, Layla Fulton’s shout was particularly obvious.

“Elliana Fulton, I will give you a lesson....”
