

Chapter 1289 Besiege The Murray family

Trevor asked Bess and the others to stay in the rental house.

He went to the Murray family's manor.

When Trevor arrived, he found Margaret, the Klein intelligence officer, in a building outside the Murray family's manor.

"Jasmine, how's everything going?" Trevor asked.

A temporary command center had been built. The area was bustling with staff, and the atmosphere was serious.

Margaret set down her iPad and said, "Dragon, you have come at the right time. We have been keeping an eye on the surroundings of the Murray family and are prepared to strike at any moment. Luckily, the Murray family has been getting together more often for family meetings, and most members are present."

Trevor nodded his head and said, "I want the invisible microphone. I will go inside and get the Murray family's attention and let the team in."

Ferrell was the mastermind of the night attack in Dreles. Trevor would ask him what had happened if he could catch him.

Everything was set.

As soon as Trevor entered the manor on the surface, several brave security guards wanted to question him.

But Trevor brushed them off.

He was not alone.

There were many people right behind him.

Trevor continued on his way without stopping.

Bang!

Trevor opened the thick wooden door with a kick.

An old, fancy hall came into view, and it was filled with the Murray family's members.

They were startled when they heard the sound of someone kicking the door. All of them turned around and stared at Trevor.

"It's you, Dragon. You survived!"

Ken was shocked.

But then he remembered what Aldwin had just left to do. He misunderstood Trevor's purpose for coming here.

"Dragon, you are fortunate enough to escape. But how do you have the courage to come to our manor and look for Bess and Asho? There is no way to find someone in our territory. Well... Are you here to get punished?"

The other members finally came to their senses and burst out laughing upon hearing this.

"You are just good at fighting. Do you believe you are invincible?"

"How dare you cause trouble in the Murray family? You're courting death!"

Trevor ignored what they were saying. He looked around, but he could not find Ferrell, the head of the Murray family.

He cocked an eyebrow and asked, "Where is Ferrell?"

Ken was enraged when Trevor ignored him.

He slammed the table and stood up. "Guards! Catch this arrogant brat!"

Ken spoke in a strong, commanding voice.

He smirked as he glanced at Trevor and added, "You can beat me. I admit that, but you cannot beat ten. Even if you manage to win against ten opponents, you have no chance against a hundred people. I have last say in the Murray family."

Trevor put his arms across his chest and looked at him like he was a clown.

Ken's face changed a little. He looked at the door but did not see any of the guards there.

There was hardly even anyone there, much alone a hundred people.

Trevor sneered.

When Trevor stormed into the manor, the Murray family's guards were arrested secretly.

"Since you can't call your people to help you, how about I call my people instead?"

Trevor raised his eyebrows and whispered to the invisible microphone at his collar, "Take action!"

Splash!

Suddenly, the sound of guns could be heard all around the hall.

An army of armed men emerged out of nowhere, their black muzzles aimed at every member of the Murray family.

Almost simultaneously, a group of soldiers burst through the gate. Before any members of the Murray family could make a move, they were already forced to the floor and handcuffed.

All the members of the Murray family who were there were taken into custody.

Trevor stood in the middle of the hall and glanced around. He still had yet to find Ferrell or anyone from Mobius.

"I'll ask you again, Ken. Where are Ferrell and the members of Mobius?" Trevor asked while looking down at Ken.

He heard some voice from his earpiece at this time.

"We saw suspicious targets in the backyard. They are trying to get away!"

Trevor squinted his eyes and run toward the backyard.

He moved so quickly that he got ahead of the fighting team. He even got in front of the fleeing people and blocked their path.

"Ferrell. Stop!"

Trevor could clearly see the person running away in front of him.

And as for the people beside Ferrell, it was Patrice.

Chapter 1290 The Arrest Of Ferrell

"Dragon?"

Patrice was surprised but maintained his calm when he saw Trevor.

Ferrell had a gloomy countenance.

He was shocked that Trevor was alive.

Patrice and Ferrell had just sensed something wrong and were about to sneak away.

Now that Trevor had caught up with them, it meant that all the members of the Murray family had been arrested.

"What a bunch of losers! Why couldn't they buy us some more time?" Ferrell muttered angrily under his breath.

Trevor looked at Ferrell and then at Patrice. When he spoke, his tone was firm.

"Surrender. You are surrounded. There is nowhere to run."

Patrice gave an indifferent shrug and placed his hands in his pockets before saying slowly, "Dragon, why don't you let me go? I saved your life on that yacht, remember?"

Trevor had his eyes fixed on Patrice. He said nothing.

Patrice had a point.

On the yacht, Trevor had been stabbed by a knife in his shoulder, trying to protect Bess and Asho.

If Patrice had fought against him then, Trevor would not have escaped.

Trevor thought about Patrice's stance.

Patrice was an odd one. His style was not ruthless or bloody like that of Mobius.

After a long pause, Trevor said, "Where are your two companions?"

Patrice answered without hesitation, "Their code names are Scar and Iron Fist. They have already gathered all of the pieces of the treasure map and have set out in search of it."

Trevor was shocked at Patrice's readiness to share this information.

Just as Trevor was wondering what was on Patrice's mind, Patrice continued, "Dragon, since you are here, you can have Ferrell. How about that?"

Ferrell was flabbergasted. "What are you talking about? How can you do this? I have dedicated my life to Mobius. This is preposterous!"

Ferrell knelt on the ground and began wailing pitifully like a stray dog.

Patrice sneered at Ferrell. "If it weren't for you, I would have escaped just now."

With this, he gave Ferrell a hard kick in the chest.

"Ouch!"

Ferrell was kicked away and crashed into Trevor.

Trevor reacted quickly, grabbing Ferrell and twisting his arm.

Patrice used this chance to make his escape.

Trevor frowned when he saw Patrice make a run for it but he didn't chase after the latter. Instead, he pressed down on Ferrell.

He watched Patrice's receding figure.

Patrice gave him a sense of mystery. He was not a simple person.

"Interesting!" Trevor said to himself.

Ferrell's arrest would be the final nail in the coffin for the Murray family.

The Murray family, as powerful as the Sanderson family and the Wright family, experienced a massive blow today. No one knew how many people had been arrested.

Ferrell struggled against Trevor's strength, his eyes filled with hatred and rage.

Ferrell's efforts were futile, though. All he could do was shout.

Trevor looked down at Ferrell with cold, emotionless eyes.

"Ferrell, we need to talk about some debts that have not been settled."

Chapter 1291 The Invitation

Trevor took a deep breath before saying indifferently, "Ferrell, I know that ever since you became the leader of the Murray family, you have done a lot of terrible things you shouldn't have.

But getting to the main point, I heard that you were involved in the attack on the head of the Sanderson family."

Ferrell struggled hard against Trevor to no avail. He snorted. Seeing this, Trevor continued to say very slowly, "You contacted Rudolph, a collateral member of the Sanderson family but he was useless. If the Shadow Guards of the Sanderson family hadn't been infiltrated by Mobius' agents, your plan may have been exposed. Then you contacted Xzavier. When Elwood, Ronald and Trevor gathered in Dreles, you were in cahoots with the elites of Mobius and launched a surprise attack, taking control over Elwood and Ronald."

Ferrell's expression changed as he heard this.

The more Trevor revealed, the more frightened Ferrell became. He felt like there was nowhere left to hide.

"You... Who the hell are you? How do you know so much?" Ferrell cried out desperately.

He felt proud that he had caused the rebellion of the Sanderson family.

But now, Ferrell knew that his plan, which he thought was flawless, was through.

Trevor, staring at Ferrell, asked in a low voice, "Where are Elwood and Ronald locked up?"

Ferrell leaned as far away as possible from Trevor. He shouted in horror, "I don't know! I really don't know! Mobius instigated me to do this! I know nothing!"

Trevor frowned.

He could see that Ferrell spoke the truth from his manner. He hadn't a clue where Elwood and Ronald were imprisoned.

Damn it! The trail went cold again!

It was beginning to look like the only way he was going to find his grandfather and father was by following the clues that led to Mobius.

Trevor gritted his teeth.

Later on, all the members of the Murray family that colluded with Mobius were arrested and imprisoned. Asho was appointed as new head of the family.

This incident had marred the Murray family's reputation. Would they retain their status as a super clan?

Madison didn't want to get involved in these sort of affairs. They always meant trouble. As soon as Trevor was considered healed, she was quick to return to Esterham with Sally.

Alone in the rental house, Trevor felt a little distressed.

He was sure Mobius was the only way to his grandfather and father. Patrice's attitude and stand were ambiguous. Scar and Iron left for the treasure since they had the map. Now, Trevor didn't know where to start.

While he was worrying about this, his mobile phone suddenly lit up. It was a text message.

"Bro, thanks for letting me go last time. Now I hope for you to do me a favor and come with me. How about it?"

It was from Patrice!

Trevor jerked alert with the surprise.

He frowned, trying to think what Patrice's real intention was behind the message.

This might be the only chance for him to get in touch with Mobius.

Trevor had to take the risk! It was his grandfather and father at stake here. He had no choice.

He replied, "Okay, I will go with you. What do you want me to do?"

Patrice didn't answer but sent another message.

"Disguise yourself and come today. The specific time and place will be sent to you later. Keep in touch."

Today!

Trevor knew he couldn't miss this opportunity.

After a few moments pause, he bade goodbye to Bess.

Trevor noticed the displeasure in Bess' eyes. He forced a smile.

He couldn't go into detail so he just said, "I have something unfinished I must attend to."

Bess was upset that this was how it had to be. She gave him a tight squeeze and said through her tears, "I'll wait for you. I'll wait until you come back. Please take care of yourself!"

Trevor sighed at the intensity of Bess' emotion.

Bess had recently regained her identity as a Murray, but Trevor hadn't regained his identity as a Sanderson.

He had to reclaim his identity!

Back at the rental house, Trevor disguised himself.

He added some cotton to his original mask and it made his face look swollen.

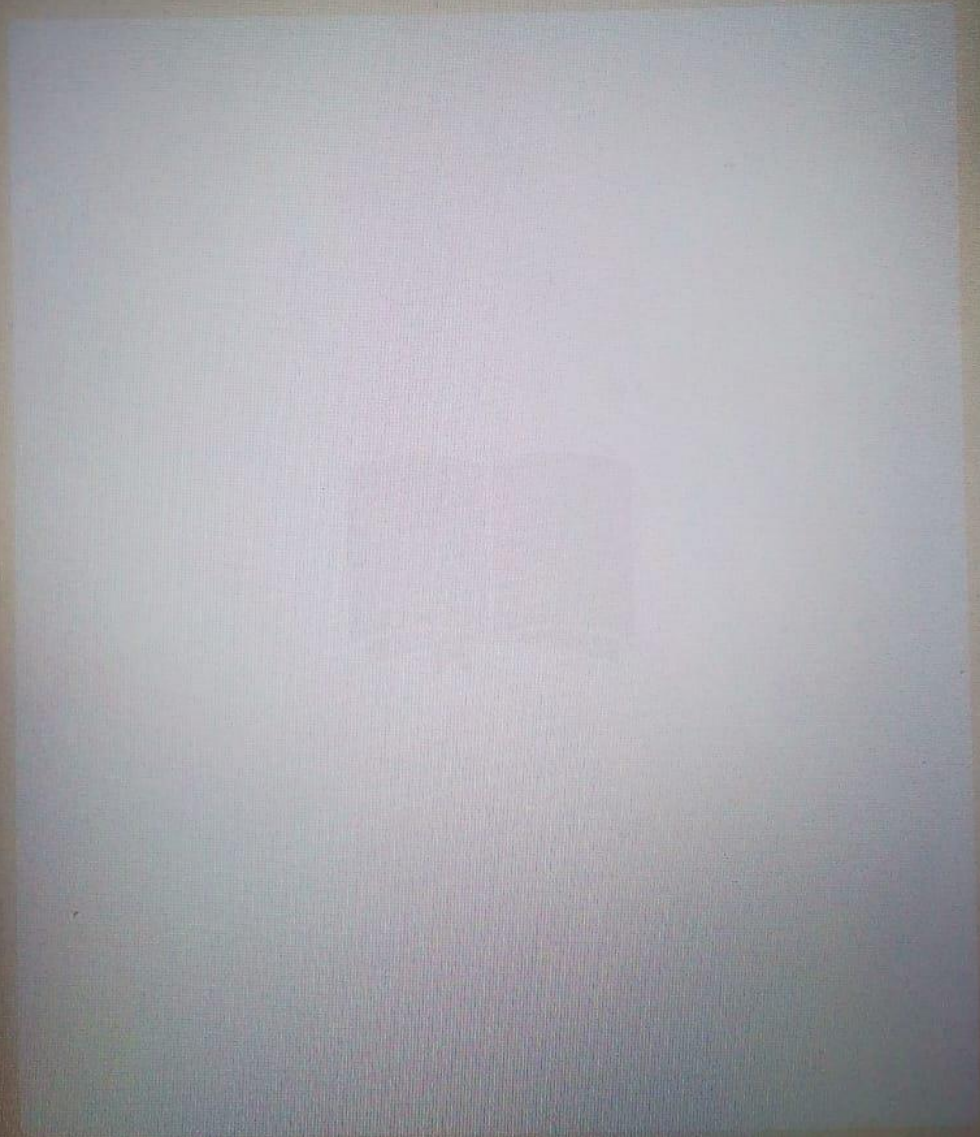

He could hardly recognize himself in the mirror.

All that was left was the adjustments to his voice and the disguise would be perfect.
