

Chapter 1368 A Sudden Financial Check

Time flew. It had been two days since Collen was beaten by Trevor in Severich.

During these two days, all the employees of Severich felt uneasy about their general manager.

Nothing unusual happened. But everyone was sure that this calm was just an illusion before the storm.

Collen and Jeanette would take revenge on their general manager.

While everyone was anxious, Collen finally came to Severich with Jeanette and a middle-aged man.

"Where is Dragon? Let that brat come out. The CFO of Singh Group wants to see him."

The middle-aged man beside him was the CFO of Singh Group.

Collen didn't wait for Trevor to come out anymore. He excitedly rushed to the office of the general manager.

And he didn't even bother to knock.

With a loud bang, he kicked the door of the office open and swaggered in.

"Hey, Dragon! We meet again."

Trevor sat at his desk with a calm expression. He put down the document he was reading and looked at the three people who had broken into his office.

He recognized Collen and Jeanette.

And with them was a middle-aged man with an expressionless face.

"Dragon, this is the CFO of Singh Group. You are doomed. We've discovered that the financial report is fake. You will be fired." After saying this, Collen burst into laughter.

With a smug look, Jeanette turned to the CFO and handed a document.

"Please look at this report. It is fake. Fortunately, I found it. This is all Dragon's doing, embezzling the company's assets."

As she spoke, she glanced at Trevor complacently, mocking him silently.

The middle-aged man took the document with a dignified look. He read it expressionlessly, frowned, and looked at Trevor.

"Dragon, the company you manage is having a major financial problem. Do you have anything to explain?"

Trevor remained calm. It was as if he was not worried at all. "I didn't do what Jeanette is accusing me of."

Jeanette and Collen looked at each other and smiled.

They had expected Trevor would not admit it, so they forged all the materials to frame him up.

"Sir, I still have other evidence here." Jeanette excitedly took out the fake evidence and some abnormal accounts. "You must fire Dragon and discharge him from his duties."

The look on the middle-aged man's face suddenly changed after he read the document. He smashed the forged evidence heavily on Trevor's desk and roared, "Dragon! How dare you! You even dare to embezzle the company's assets. Don't you even take me seriously? I'm officially informing you now that you are fired. And you must make up for the loss within a month. Otherwise, the company will sue you. And I will make sure you lose everything. You will never turn over again. You should know that I'm capable of doing that."

Collen tried his best to hold back his laughter.

If it weren't for the presence of the CFO, he would have burst into laughter.

He thought their plan was perfect. And he was satisfied with the result. Collen and Jeanette had embezzled a lot of money from Severich. Now they could frame Trevor for it.

Collen smiled complacently with smugness.

He walked forward step by step, looked at Trevor across the desk, and said in a low voice, "Dragon, how are you feeling right now? You're doomed. Since you dared to go against me, you deserve this ending. Now, kneel and lick my shoes. Otherwise, I won't give you even a month. Believe it or not, I can send you to jail effortlessly."

Trevor just raised his eyes and looked at Collen meaningfully.

Trevor leisurely leaned back in his seat.

Did Collen really think he was scared?

That was so ridiculous. There was no need for Trevor to be scared!

Trevor looked the chief financial officer in the eye and said calmly, "Sir, in such a case, the most important thing is the evidence. But since Jeanette was Severich's financial director, it was easy for her to create false evidence. I hope you won't be deceived."

Jeanette felt a little guilty after being called out. She glared at Trevor and wanted to defend herself.

However, Trevor was in no mood to waste his time with her. So, he pushed the document in his hand to the financial officer and said, "Sir, how about you read this document first? After reading it, you can make a conclusion."

Collen touched the diamond earring he wore and sneered, "Dragon, you are in a big trouble now. It's useless to stall for time with such petty tricks. If you don't kneel and lick my shoes today, I'll send you to jail."

After saying this, Collen turned around and was about to ask the CFO to kick Trevor out of the company. But he saw the CFO staring at the document handed over by Trevor.

A deep anger slowly appeared on CFO's face. His face went livid after a while and he frowned.

Seeing this, Collen was curious to know what on earth was in the document that caused such a change in the expression on the man's face.

"Let me have a look." Collen took the document.

His eyes landed on the first words of the document and it was enough to make him break into a cold sweat.

"No way!" Collen shouted nervously.

In the file, there were records of Collen and Jeanette's activities within the company. It was clear that they had stolen Severich's money together. There was even a statement of their expenditures, showing how they used the money to participate in bocce games and horse games.

They had spent a total of about twenty million dollars of the company's money.

Each of their expenditures was carefully recorded.

Such evidence was irrefutable.

"How could you do such a thing?" the CFO roared at Collen. He was clearly furious. "Collen, I've always treated you as my nephew, but you deceived me? Not only did you embezzle the company's money, but you also tried to blame someone else. I don't think you respect me at all!"

Collen was scared to the core and sweat trickled down his forehead. He waved his hands nervously.

The CFO was not an ordinary employee. He and Tucker were business partners.

If he told Tucker about this...

At the thought of that, Collen felt his scalp tingling and he trembled all over.

"No... No, listen to me, please... I..."

Collen tried to defend himself, but he was so nervous he couldn't utter a complete sentence.

Now that things had come to this, he didn't care about making trouble for Trevor anymore. He just wanted to get out of this mess.

Who could have thought that the trap he set for Trevor would result to his own demise?

While Collen was in a panic, his eyes suddenly fell on Jeanette.

A hint of cruelty flashed through his eyes, and he thought he could as well put all the blame on Jeanette.

"She did it! I have nothing to do with this things," Collen shouted, pointing at Jeanette.

"Collen! What are you talking about?" Jeanette screamed with her eyes wide open in shock.

Gritting his teeth, Collen said, "It's all Jeanette's fault. She seduced me and even gave me money. I was wondering how come she had so much money. I never expected she had stolen the company's money. She falsified the company's financial statements. I wasn't aware of her shenanigans."

Jeanette's face suddenly turned pale, and she looked terrible.

"Collen! You bastard! What are you talking about? It is you..."

Trevor smiled and crossed his legs as he watched the two accuse each other.

It was so much fun.

It was clear Jeanette couldn't do anything to Collen, though. After all, Severich belonged to the Singh family.

The CFO eventually fired Jeanette.

Seeing that he had come close to a real disaster, Collen didn't dare to make any more trouble and he returned home dejectedly.

That night, Collen was too angry to fall asleep.

Chapter 1370 Collen's Invitation

Twenty million dollars!

That was the weight on Collen's shoulders. After he returned home, his heart was still heavy with the burden of debt he owed.

He had to return the money and hope that the CFO would overlook this whole thing.

Even as a Singh, he had nothing left after repaying the money.

"Fuck! Damn it!"

Collen lost his temper, throwing expensive teacups everywhere and leaving glass shards in his tantrum.

"Dragon! I will make you pay!"

He gasped and threw himself into the soft sofa.

Consumed by his anger, the only thing Collen could do was plot vengeance against Dragon

But the problem was, what could he do to make Trevor pay?

Collen thought hard.

He couldn't afford somebody to do the dirty work for him.

"Oh, I see! I almost forgot who I am! I'm a Singh! I can use my identity to get back at him!"

Collen's eyes lit up with a devious grin. He figured he had a brilliant idea.

"Why should I deal with a brat myself?"

After thinking it through, he contacted his assistant and ordered, "Hey, tell the general manager of Severich to prepare a new product. Remember, he can only bring one. I'm bringing him with me to a party. Inform him that our goal is to market the product to the most high-end customers. A lot of influential women will attend the party and tell him that he must personally introduce the product."

Trevor received the order from soon.

It was a good thing for Severich to enter the market with high-end customers.

Severich's cosmetics were initially intended to be luxury goods. The growth of their brand would undoubtedly be beneficial if they could be promoted in front of the wealthiest women.

Trevor thought this could be a good opportunity for the company.

"I'm still learning from Tucker. Even if that idiot, Collen, would take the opportunity to play tricks on me, I can't miss this great opportunity!"

Three days passed.

The event mentioned by Collen was held as scheduled.

Trevor and Collen came to a big manor in the suburb of Zayden.

"Be careful. There are many people here I can't afford to offend!" Collen warned him as they stepped out of the car.

"Hmm?" Trevor raised his eyebrows.

With a serious expression Collen explained, "Have you heard of the three super clans? Forget it, you certainly don't know. Remember that the Sanderson, Wright, and Murray families are the ones that we must not offend. Once you make an enemy out of them, they will make sure that you suffer."

"The three super families are coming to this event?" Trevor was a little surprised.

Collen smirked and said, "I invited many wealthy women. You should introduce the new product to them. If the girls of the three super clans take a fancy to it, Severich will be prosperous. Even my grandfather will think highly of you. But if you don't do it well, you'll be fired!"

Trevor looked up and did not answer.

He didn't even care about what Collen said because he saw a familiar face.

A beautiful girl was wearing a gorgeous black dress.

Trevor found a name after careful recollection.

Nola Wright, Isaias's ex-girlfriend.

Trevor had seen her once in the Sanderson family's castle and later in a warehouse during his investigation of radioactive antiques.

He didn't expect to see her here again.

Chapter 1371 The Conflict Between Two Rich Ladies

A snort escaped Collen's nose as he led Trevor into the luxury manor.

Even though the Singh family was not as rich as the three super clans, many young people still greeted Collen.

This made Collen regain a lot of confidence.

"Hello everyone, can I have your attention?"

Collen stood in the hall and raised his hands to call the attention of people present in the manor.

When he noticed that people were listening to him, he cleared his throat and said, "Recently, many ladies have asked me about the new lipstick launched by Severich. But I don't know much about it, so I brought the general manager with me today. I hope he will be able to explain better to you on this occasion."

His words were followed by a loud round of applause.

It appeared that the marketing strategy of Severich was excellent. The exhibition was more successful than what was expected.

Collen then stepped aside and waited to see how Trevor was going to fail.

He had intentionally introduced the three big clans to Trevor so as to increase the pressure on Trevor.

As long as Trevor would make mistakes in the introduction of the product, Collen could seize the opportunity to make things difficult for him.

However, Collen was about to get the shocker of his life.

Trevor was a Sanderson. He had witnessed all sorts of ceremonies and occasions.

He was just going to be gazed at by rich ladies. There was no need for him to be nervous at all.

Trevor stood in the middle of the hall and introduced the lipstick. He spoke in a calm and graceful manner.

From the color, material, and manufacturing process, to the product design, concept, and aesthetic understanding, he was quite attentive to the every detail concerning the new product.

Trevor even mentioned the plagiarism accident in a humorous way.

Collen gritted his teeth in stunned silence.

Seeing Trevor hogging the limelight, not showing any nervousness or timidity, made him very angry.

But he managed to control himself.

He was not going to lose his temper yet because he had already arranged a backup plan, just in case things didn't work out as he had initially thought.

"Okay. I like this new lipstick! I'll buy it! What's the price?"

Nola was as proud as ever. She held a glass of sherry and stared at Trevor with her chin raised.

Trevor smiled and was going to give the lipstick to her as a gift.

If a free gift could make the product popular in the three big clans, it was undoubtedly a good deal.

The three big clans didn't have many members, but every one of them had considerable influence on the elites of the society.

As long as Nola used the product, the other rich girls would be

Chapter 1371 The Conflict Between +120 Points at most interested in it too.

But just as Trevor was about to respond, another girl raised her hand.

"What a coincidence! I also like this lipstick. So, what is going to happen now?"

Trevor turned his head in the direction of the voice.

It was a familiar face.

Trevor could recall that he had met her at a family gathering of the Sanderson family. She was his cousin but he couldn't remember her name.

"Saniya Sanderson! Are you trying to compete with me?" Nola asked in an angry voice.

Saniya smiled faintly. "That was not my intention. It was just a coincidence that I also like the lipstick."

The ladies present were quickly divided into two factions.

The first faction supported Nola, while the other faction stood behind Saniya.

Everyone was silent in the room and the atmosphere was filled with tension.

The wealthy men in the room were also silent.

They didn't dare to get themselves involved in an argument that was happening between the women.

Trevor immediately surmised that Nola and Saniya were not on good terms before.

Saniya might not even be interested in the lipstick and only wanted to provoke Nola by expressing her interest in the product.

Trevor glanced at Collen and saw a mischievous smile on his face.

He suddenly realized why Collen had insisted that he should bring only one lipstick.

Collen wanted to put him in a dilemma.

There was only one lipstick, and he could only give it to one woman. No matter what he did, he was only going to end up satisfying one party and provoking the other.

At that point, the lipstick no longer mattered. It was now a test of dignity.

Dignity was a very important trait in the wealthy circle.

Trevor realized that he was in a very awkward position.

Collen was secretly delighted that his backup plan was working. He believed that Trevor couldn't bear the pressure and would not want to offend the two women.

However, Trevor smiled as an idea popped into his head.

"It's a pity that the lipstick is not yet on the market. But since you two are interested in this lipstick, I have an idea. The one with the highest bidding price will get it!"

An auction was the only solution.

As expected, Nola and Saniya began to bid against each other.

In the end, Saniya was able to offer the highest price for the lipstick.

However, her expression was numb and she wasn't exactly happy with her decision. It was too expensive.

Nola, who lost both the lipstick and her face, was even more furious and stared at Trevor with hatred.

Collen was also quick to notice what was happening between the two ladies.

He was quite excited by the outcome. He was sure that Trevor was making a fool of himself by offending the ladies. Getting into the bad books of two different wealthy clans at the same time was simply signing one's death warrant.
