

Chapter 1417 Kyson's Petty Revenge

With a repulsive smile, Kyson followed Luisa closely and said excitedly, "Luisa, don't worry. My family's building is magnificent and luxurious. It's the best place to entertain important guests!"

With a helpless look, Luisa sighed and nodded. "Thank you, then."

Kyson's smile broadened and he said excitedly, "Luisa, don't be so formal with me. I've always treated you as my friend."

Kyson's words gave Luisa goose bumps all over her body.

If not for the fact that she needed his help, she would have turned around and left long ago.

Trevor, who was watching the scene attentively, frowned and asked, "What happened?"

Glaring at Kyson, Zoie gnashed her teeth in anger and replied in a low voice, "Luisa has invited some important clients from other cities to a meeting and she needs a suitable venue to hold the meeting. I don't know how Kyson got the news but he contacted Luisa, saying that he knew of a suitable place. If you ask me, it's just an excuse on his part to pester Luisa."

Trevor touched his chin, looking thoughtful. He felt something was wrong.

If Luisa needed any help, why didn't she ask the Wright family for help?

After all, it would be a piece of cake for Cecelia to find a place to entertain important guests.

While Trevor was lost in thoughts, Kyson happened to see him.

The moment Kyson saw Trevor, he couldn't help but feel nervous. He stopped dead and looked at Trevor and Zoie in panic.

What had happened the night before still haunted him. He had tried to rape Zoie and Trevor had seen it all.

However, at the thought that he had the support of the Duffy family, Kyson suddenly felt courageous again.

No one would dare to touch him!

However, thinking of Trevor ruining his plans again and again, a deep anger appeared in Kyson's eyes.

He turned to Luisa and said, "By the way, Luisa, the place I found is quite large. I'm afraid the security guards there won't be enough. To avoid any incident during the event with all the distinguished guests you invited, I suggest that you should send your company's security guards to the event. I think Dragon is very suitable for the task. Just send him with some people."

After saying that, Kyson turned around and gave Trevor a sinister smile.

Luisa suspected nothing. After thinking for a moment, she nodded and agreed. "Zoie, arrange everything. Dragon will lead the team."

Trevor had no choice but to agree.

He was curious what Kyson had in mind.

With a smug smile, Kyson got into his car excitedly and asked Trevor to follow him.

Trevor took five of the security guards to the venue.

He followed Kyson all the way to a luxurious building.

It seemed that this building was specially used to host all kinds of events. There was enough space and the decoration was very luxurious.

With a sneer, Kyson took them to the second floor. Once they reached the second floor, Kyson rested his hands on his hips and said, "You guys are responsible for this floor. Make it clean! If the venue doesn't satisfy Luisa's guests, you will all be punished!"

Trevor raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at Kyson straight in the eye. "Unless my memory is playing tricks on me, we are here to take care of the security, right? Why should we clean the place?"

Kyson laughed wildly upon hearing Trevor's words. "Are you bargaining with me? Do you think this is your company? Here, you do whatever the hell I ask you to do. You have no choice! Dragon! Do you still think you can compete with me?"

Trevor kept his cool in the face of Kyson's taunt, but the five strongmen behind him were all visibly upset.

Kyson seemed very complacent. He waved his hand at his man who was not far away.

"Jack! Come here!"

A man with curly hair immediately ran up to Kyson and asked, "Mr. Duffy, what can I do for you?"

Pointing at Trevor, Kyson said, "Supervise them. Make sure they clean this floor well. Did I made myself clear?"

It was clear that Kyson's purpose was to just make things difficult for Trevor.

Upon hearing his boss's words, Jack nodded repeatedly. "Yes, Mr. Duffy! I understand! I promise I'll make sure they do the work well."

Kyson nodded with satisfaction. "They are your responsibility now. I just joined the supercar club recently so I don't have time to deal with these guys. Well, you guys enjoy the pleasure of work!"

After saying that, Kyson glanced at Trevor, and then left with a smile.

Chapter 1418 A Good Chance To Make Money

"He has gone too far!" a disgruntled security guard shouted in anger. "I get one salary yet I am assigned two jobs! Who the hell could stand such a thing? I'm here to ensure security, not cleaning!"

At this moment, the others echoed too.

"That's right! It is up to the cleaners to ensure the cleanliness of the building. Is he kidding us?"

"Dragon, what do you think? I can't accept this!"

They all gathered around Trevor, hoping that he would take a stand and tell them what to do.

Seeing that these men were not working but talking, Jack walked over with an arrogant air and shouted, "What are you doing? Didn't you hear Mr. Duffy just now? Get to work right away! You there, pick up the broom! You are at Mr. Duffy's place here. How dare you be disobedient? Humph! Be warned, if you piss off Mr. Duffy, not only will you lose your job but there will be even worse things awaiting you. Do you want to take the chance?"

He shook his head exaggeratedly as he spoke, which made his curly hair shake as well.

Trevor glanced coldly at the man.

This man had nothing more than his boss to brandish as a threat. There was nothing to fear from such a person.

Trevor looked at his men and comforted them in a low voice, "Don't worry. I brought you here and I won't let you be mistreated. I don't want you guys to go into any confrontation with this man. Don't worry, I'll make sure you guys make more money!"

The five men were helpless. However, since Trevor said so, they had no other choice but to get down to it. They put on gloves and began to clean, wondering whether Trevor meant what he just said.

Seeing that the men had finally got to work, Jack smiled smugly. He put his hands in his pockets and whistled, looking around the hall.

Jack had been working for Kyson for a long time, so he knew Kyson well. He had already guessed that Kyson's real purpose was to make things difficult for these men.

"Hey! What are you staring at? Do you think I don't know you are secretly staring at me?" Jack spat arrogantly at one of the men.

"And you, don't you see the dust on the floor? Clean it! Did I tell you to clean the table first? Sweep the floor first, then you'll wipe the table, and finally sweep the floor again. What are you looking at? Do you have any problem? You'd better behave yourself! Humph!"

Jack pointed at everyone as he barked orders.

Trevor sneered quietly. He secretly contacted an official of the labor department in Dreles through Klein's special channel.

Klein was very powerful and it was very easy for them to mobilize the officials of the labor department.

After that, Trevor put away his phone and glanced at Jack.

He knew Kyson wanted to make things difficult for him. He would not let that happen.

Jack had no idea what was brewing. He was still immersed in the pleasure of being in charge and shouted at the security guards, "Squat down! How do you expect to be able to clean the dust in the corner if you don't squat down? Are you an idiot?"

He really enjoyed this little power.

At one point, Jack didn't want to talk to the ordinary security guards anymore, as he felt it was beneath him. So, he looked at Trevor.

Judging from the way the security guards looked at Trevor, Jack guessed Trevor must be their leader. It would be more interesting to torture him instead.

By the time he reported the work to Kyson, he would be praised.

"Hey! What the hell are you doing?" Jack pointed at Trevor and shouted arrogantly. "Look up! Can't you see there are spider webs everywhere? Are you fucking blind? Lift up the broom and clean everything. Why did you lift it so high? Lower it a little. Lower it by 15 degrees. Damn it, do you know 15 degrees? Damn, you're really an idiot! Clean it properly! Look there! There is dust on the ceiling, and you should clean it! Hurry up! Don't think you are superior just because you are a captain. In my eyes, you are nothing!"

Jack really enjoyed this whole thing. He felt like a boss. He could control anyone present here and as long as he gave an order, they would comply.

As Jack enjoyed bossing them around, a shifty-eyed man stumbled into the hall.

"Jack! Jack! Damn it! Bad news!" the man shouted.

The joy in Jack's eyes disappeared suddenly. He frowned and scolded the man angrily. "What is wrong with you? What is the matter?"

Did something bad happen?

Holding the broom, Trevor couldn't help smiling.

If his guess was right, the person he had contacted arrived.

Trevor thought it was his turn to laugh.

Chapter 1419 Spot Check

"The chief of the labor department is here! He said he was here for an inspection!" Jack's subordinate reported nervously.

Jack was stunned upon hearing this and his whole body trembled with fear.

The labor department!

Why did the labor department suddenly show up for an inspection?

Worse, these people Kyson brought were cleaning the building while wearing security guards' uniforms. If people from the labor department saw this...

"Damn it! Stop them! Don't let them in!" Jack shouted to his subordinate. At the same time, he tried to grab the broom from Trevor. But it was too late.

"Everyone, don't move!" ordered a man in a suit, who just strode into the hall.

Jack was so overwhelmed with fear that he trembled all over.

He stopped at once. He didn't dare to grab the broom from Trevor now. He quickly turned to look at the man with an apologetic smile.

"Ah, what a surprise to have a visit from the director of the labor department! What can I do for you?" Jack said fawningly.

The director didn't say anything and just looked around the hall.

Trevor secretly winked at the man.

The director's eyes lit up almost instantly. He was sure that Trevor was a member of Klein.

"Well, we are doing a spot check. What? Do you need me to explain more?" The director gave Jack a cold look.

Jack trembled all over and quickly shook his head.

The director snorted coldly and strode to Trevor.

Jack's face turned pale.

If he let the director talk to those security guards he had just tortured, things would get worse.

With an apologetic smile, Jack hurriedly stood in front of the director and said, "Sir, there is nothing to check here. Let me take you to the headquarters of our company."

"What? Are you trying to obstruct my work?" the director asked coldly.

Jack put on a forced smile. The director's cold gaze scared Jack so much that the latter could only step aside.

The director walked up to Trevor and asked gently, "You are wearing a uniform. I guess you are doing security-related work, right? Why then are you cleaning the place with a broom?"

Trevor smiled and explained, "Our company sent us to help with security here, but the management here forced us to do extra work. We were asked to clean the floor under threat of losing our jobs if we refused."

The director gave Trevor a discrete nod, indicating that he had the confirmation Trevor was a member of Klein.

Trevor felt relieved and smiled.

As expected, the director's expression turned serious. He turned around and asked Jack, "How could such a thing happen in Dreles? Apparently, you don't care about the labor code! Do you think the labor department is useless?"

Jack's expression was pale, as if there was not a drop of blood left in his face. He quickly waved his hand and explained, "It's just a misunderstanding. It was... They agreed to work here! Look how big and strong they are. How could I force them to do anything against their will? They agreed on everything."

The director turned to Trevor and asked, "Is that so?"

Jack winked desperately at Trevor, but at this moment, it looked like he was in spasms.

He hoped Trevor wouldn't contradict him anymore.

His gaze was menacing, pleading, and anxious all at the same time.

Trevor grinned. He was the one who asked the people of the labor department to come. How could his compromise so easily?

Ignoring Jack's gaze, Trevor immediately replied, "We agreed to the security work, but we didn't agree to the cleaning work. He coerced us into cleaning the floor, threatening us not only with our jobs but also promising us big trouble if we refused."

The five strong men behind Trevor nodded in agreement.

"Yes! That's what happened. This is an abuse of our job contract!"

The director glared at Jack and snapped, "How dare you lie to me? Do you think you can fool me? The security guards agreed to work here, but you had no right to give them an extra task that wasn't part of your initial agreement."

Jack was very anxious at this moment.

His arrogance disappeared almost at once, and sweat trickled on his forehead.

Now that things had come to this, he didn't know what to do.

He was really unlucky! Why on earth did the labor department decide to do an inspection here today?
