

Chapter 1442 Mobius

Trevor frowned.

Kyson was lying on the ground, passed out. Both his legs were visibly crushed. The knee joints were bent in the opposite direction. They were clearly completely broken.

His right leg in particular was heavily crushed by Rock, and the bones near the joint appeared to have been broken.

Even the best of surgeons wouldn't be able to restore his ability to walk for a long time.

Gunter and Rock were ruthless and visibly difficult to deal with.

Kyson's father's expression changed again and again. His face turned from red to dark purple, and his eyes were bloodshot.

With a cruel grin, Gunter said to Kyson's father, "It's just a small lesson. Please don't take it to heart. Sir, you don't look well. Do you have any objection to what I just did to your son?"

Of course, Kyson's father was angry. However, he didn't dare to say it. He lowered his head and said, "No, I have no objection."

Severich was backed by the huge business empire built by Tucker. It wasn't something the Duffy family could compete with.

Standing in the crowd, Sheena was also a little scared by what she had just witnessed. She frowned in shock, feeling that what Gunter called a small lesson was just too cruel.

Chuckling, Gunter pretended to be angry and said to Rock, "Oh, how could you do such a horrible thing? You even frighten a beautiful lady like Luisa."

Rock nodded silently and stood behind Gunter again.

Luisa was indeed scared by what she saw and her face turned pale.

Although she hated Kyson, she didn't think he deserved to be treated like that. When she saw his legs being broken so cruelly, she felt her heart jolt.

How could such a brutal man be the person in charge of Severich?

Luisa was shocked and pursed her lips. However, she had to pretend to be calm. Enduring the discomfort she welcomed the guests.

"On behalf of Newmere Cosmetics, I welcome you all to Dreles."

Gunter nodded with a smile. He looked like a gentleman.

With a big smile, he led all the guests into the luxurious hall. It was hard to believe that this smiling gentleman was the one who ordered Rock to torture Kyson so cruelly just now.

The unconscious Kyson was thrown out of the building like a dead dog.

Even his father didn't dare to send him to the hospital for fear of annoying Gunter and Rock.

After some hassle, the reception ceremony finally began.

Gathering her strength to stay calm, Luisa presented the company's products displayed in the hall to all the guests, which got a good reaction.

The guests visited the hall and soon, they reached the second floor.

When Gunter and the others arrived at the second floor, they saw an antique clock on the floor.

A security guard was trying with great difficulty to lift up the clock.

This clock looked delicate and light, but in fact it was quite heavy. Due to the limited technology of the last century, most tools like this clock were made largely out of metal, hence the fact that it weighed so much.

It was not easy to lift it up alone.

The security guard was very muscular, but he was still unable to lift up the clock.

Gunter smiled glanced at Rock.

Their mission was to get close to Luisa and find the right opportunity to abduct her to force Trevor to show up.

The first step in getting close to Luisa was to make her relax her vigilance.

Gunter felt that this was a good opportunity.

He thus seized the opportunity and said, "Luisa, I'm afraid your company's security guards are not that good. I mean that man can't even lift a clock. How about this? I'll let Rock here stay by your side to protect you while we are here."

Trevor's heart skipped a beat.

This man wanted Rock to stay with Luisa?

There was no way Trevor would let such a thing happen.

Trevor immediately stepped forward and said in a loud voice, "How can we ask a guest to do our job? I'll take care of it!"

Chapter 1443 Lifting Up The Clock

Trevor walked over to the clock but didn't immediately reach out to lift it.

He said to the security guard who was struggling with the clock, "Buddy, let's work together, okay? Press the top of the bell to keep it from falling. When you get up, pay attention to the clock tilt angle and your strength. The clock should not swing one way or the other."

Trevor's orders confused the security guard a bit, but he still obeyed Trevor. After all, Trevor was their captain and had already earned their respect.

With the help of his subordinate, Trevor slowly raised the clock and put it back to its original position.

Now that the clock was put back in place, Gunter had no excuse to assign Rock to Luisa's safety.

Gunter was deeply upset and he cast a cold glance at Trevor.

Rock was also quite annoyed at the outcome of this matter. He sneered, "To think it took two people to lift a simple clock! What a shame! You guys are just too weak to be security guards."

Trevor smiled casually and explained, "It's actually an antique clock worth a million dollars. Although it is broken, someone who knows its structure well will have no trouble fixing it."

Trevor's orders just now when lifting the clock were to prevent further damage to the core structure of the clock.

Trevor paused for a short while and added, "If you use brute force to lift this clock, I'm afraid there's no chance of fixing it."

Trevor's words left Rock speechless and his face froze. Beneath the baggy suit, his muscles bulged, and a hint of embarrassed anger flashed in his eyes.

Rock's ruthlessness and menacing demeanor scared Luisa.

She was glad that Trevor had helped her out once again, so she plucked up her courage and said, "Everyone here is able to get an idea of how powerful Rock is. But I believe that my employees are good enough to perform their duties properly. So there is no need for our partners to worry about my safety."

Since Luisa had expressed her thoughts, there was nothing left for Gunter to say. He just shrugged his shoulders and said, "Of course, we respect your decision. Please don't feel offended by my suggestion."

The event went on smoothly from there without any hitch.

Gunter didn't find another chance to let Rock stay with Luisa.

Gunter was not business savvy, and it was still Sheena, the head of Severich's design department, who had to handle most things here.

After the reception, Gunter exchanged contact details with Luisa in the name of business cooperation.

Trevor stood there powerlessly. There was nothing he could do about this. It was just normal for business partners to exchange contact details.

After getting Luisa's contact details, Gunter said with a big smile, "By the way, Luisa, I will be staying in Dreles for a while. I hope we'll meet again during me stay here."

Luisa just smiled politely.

Gunter and Rock didn't bother to stay any longer and left.

When the two of them reached the parking lot, Rock looked around to make sure there was no one else around. Then, he complained in a low voice, "Why can't we just take that woman away? Wanting to get close to her under a false identity is far too complicated a plan."

Gunter adjusted his white suit and said indifferently, "Our target happens to be the most beautiful woman I have ever seen. If we can't taste her first, it will be a waste of this gift that fate has given us. I warn you, don't ruin my plan. I'll take care of this task. You just do what I say."

Rock rolled his eyes and asked, "What about the captain of security guards? He's annoying."

Gunter nodded with a cruel smile. He put his hands in his pockets and said, "Exactly! He ruined my initial plan. I'll keep an eye on him."
