

Chapter 1454 Invitation To The Meeting

Gunter pointed at Trevor and confronted him, which immediately attracted everyone's attention.

A regular man would become nervous under the gazes of so many people.

However, Trevor remained calmly. He spread his hands and said, "I'm sorry. I couldn't help but laugh at something you said, which isn't quite right."

Gunter gritted his teeth in fury. He believed Trevor was making things difficult for him, and he wasn't going to let that slide.

"I was introducing Severich. What was wrong with what I said? Do you know more about Severich than I do?"

The smile on Trevor's mouth grew wider. He did know more about Severich. However, he shouldn't say so.

After all, he had disguised himself as a member of Mobius and returned to Dreles.

Trevor cleared his throat and said, "As far as I know, the first new product launched by Severich during the last quarter was not the one partnered with Newmere Cosmetics. It was lipstick design with the theme, 'secrets make women more charming.' However, there were some unforeseen events, so your company had to use the plan B and cooperated with Newmere Cosmetics."

Sheena's eyes lit up. Nodding, she said, "Yes! It is true! Only a few people knew about it! A while ago, we took back the patent of the lipstick through legal channels, but we haven't relisted for the time being. It is unexpected that you paid attention to our company's news."

Trevor nodded, smiling, but said nothing.

Embarrassed, Gunter rubbed his nose, the look in his eyes full of hatred for Trevor.

"Humph. You are just well-informed. There's nothing new in that. I am here on behalf of Severich to form a partnership between both companies. You have no right to speak. You don't have the qualifications to involve yourself in the cooperation between the two companies. If you think you have any good ideas, just spit them out already," Gunter said, rolling his eyes in disdain.

Trevor raised his eyebrows.

He had been worried that he wouldn't be given the opportunity to get into the negotiation site to watch over Luisa, but Gunter was giving him that chance now.

Trevor relaxed and said, "Since you says so, I'll be gladly to share my ideas. The theme of the lipstick—secrets make women more attractive—was a brilliant idea then. Now the situation of things have changed. As far as I can tell, Severich's lipstick successfully won the favor of the richest ladies through Miss Sanderson. We should focus on these clients. For quality and luxury to be displayed, more ideas should be included in the design. For example, we can carve words on the lipsticks, making each product unique."

Gunter frowned but said nothing.

He had only learned about the knowledge of cosmetics yesterday, and was not knowledgeable enough to understand the profound connotations of product language, appearance design, brand effect, and so on.

Gunter had no idea what Trevor was talking about.

But Sheena's eyes widened in understanding, "Yes! Yes! That's it! That's exactly what I was thinking! That lipstick was maliciously plagiarized by our competitor. Even if it were retrieved, it couldn't be used as it was originally designed.

Therefore, the best course of action is to redesign the lipstick."

Trevor smiled. "It would be convenient to use the theme 'secret' to hide one's name in the lipstick."

Sheena walked through the crowd to Trevor, took his hand, and said loudly, "I hope to invite this gentleman to attend the meeting. His ideas are phenomenal!"

Gunter's jaw dropped in surprise.

He hadn't expected things to turn out this way.

He had allowed Trevor to speak, hoping he would embarrass himself in public.

It came as a surprise to him that Trevor actually knew the concept of design.

Was he going to let this guy participate in the negotiations?

Chapter 1455 Lack Of Funds

Gunter was disgruntled.

His provocation of Trevor led to the latter sharing his insights regarding the business plan.

Because of that, Sheena invited Trevor to take part in the conference.

Gunter's grimaced deepened.

Looking at Gunter, Trevor smirked.

He already knew Sheena would lead the partnership between Severich and Newmere Cosmetics.

Gunter and Rock only came to Dreles to kidnap Luisa.

They knew nothing about business, let alone contribute valuable insights to the conference.

They had no choice but to follow Sheena.

With a long face, Gunter nodded and said reluctantly, "Alright. He can join the conference."

Trevor snickered inwardly.

Gunter had no idea Trevor was Severich's general manager and had previously discussed with Sheena about how to take back the lipstick from Shining Company and make modifications.

It was the reason why Trevor had ample knowledge about it, resulting in Sheena inviting him to the conference.

Crossing his arms, Trevor smiled.

Since he was permitted to join the conference, he could easily monitor Gunter's actions without relying on Zoie's messages.

Now that Gunter agreed, Luisa wouldn't refuse.

"Dragon, you can join the conference. I'll prepare a seat for you."

Trevor nodded at her with a smile.

Luisa kept her cool, but deep inside, she was amazed by Trevor.

It was impressive for a security guard like him to have deep knowledge of antiques and cosmetics. Was there anything he didn't know?

However, thinking about Trevor's behavior toward her, Luisa had some reservations about him.

She patted her face and warned herself, "I can't be swayed by him."

Soon enough, the conference began.

Gunter sat at the conference table, scowling with his arms crossed and occasionally darting a cold glance at Trevor's seat at the far end.

He was hot under the collar but couldn't do anything about the situation.

The conference was in full swing. The representatives of Severich and senior executives of Newmere Cosmetics got into a heated discussion.

Gunter wanted to make his presence known several times but couldn't get a word in.

He didn't know much about what was being discussed, which would be evident if he interrupted and blurted complete nonsense.

In the end, he kept his mouth shut and sat sullenly.

On the other hand, Trevor was all smiles as he shared his insights during the discussion and gave several constructive suggestions.

Listening to him, both Luisa and Sheena saw him in a new light.

Because of him, the conference went smoothly, solidifying the partnership between Severich and Newmere Cosmetics.

The two companies even came up with expansion plans.

However, at the mention of it, Luisa's expression stiffened as if she remembered something.

One of the shareholders beside her looked embarrassed. He pulled Luisa's sleeve to get her attention and reminded her in a low voice, "I don't think we can afford expansion right now. The company may be doing well, but our funds are insufficient. We should probably limit the scale of our partnership with them."

The man didn't know everyone heard what he said, despite his attempt to keep his tone down.

The heated discussion in the conference room suddenly stopped, and everyone had their thoughts.

Chapter 1456 I Can Help Her

The problem of the capital chain was like a basin of cold water poured on the cooperation meeting.

Luisa pinched the space between her eyebrows helplessly.

It was shameful, but she must admit that her company was short of funds.

With the support of Singh Group, Severich never needed to worry about the shortage of funds. As long as there were good investment projects, Severich could get funds.

Newmere Cosmetics paled in comparison to them. Newmere Cosmetics was established in a short time, and it was far behind Severich.

What was more, Newmere Cosmetics in Dreles was only a branch. Even if she withdrew money from the headquarters in Jork, there would be certain risks.

At this moment, Gunter didn't wear a long face anymore. Instead, he suddenly laughed.

He had been waiting for this opportunity for a long time.

He adjusted his white suit and said gracefully, "Luisa, it seems that you are worrying about capital. Don't worry. I'm here to help you. And I will keep it private. I only have one request from you. I hope you can have dinner with me tonight. What do you think?"

Gunter wanted to have a private dinner with Luisa.

Obviously, he had bad intentions.

After he said this, the look on everyone's face changed slightly.

Gunter was very proud. He felt that since he could not successfully show his charm in the company's negotiations, so he thought of using the simplest method, which was money.

He believed that no woman could resist the charm of money.

Luisa frowned upon hearing this. She was about to refuse.

"Nonsense!"

Before Luisa could say anything, Trevor snorted coldly, interrupting Gunter's harassment.

He stood up from the seat at the end of the conference table and looked at Gunter with sharp eyes.

"If Luisa needs working capital to support the cooperation, I can also help her."

He stared at Gunter with a cold expression.

If he wanted to get close to Luisa this way, how could he sit idly by and do nothing?

Trevor's words caused an uproar in the conference room.

A trace of disbelief was written all over everyone's face.

Trevor would offer Luisa help?

They all knew that Trevor was just a security guard. What kind of financial support could someone like him provide?

Gunter thumped the table with his hands and laughed. He pointed at Trevor's nose and mocked, "Ha-ha! I thought you were a talent, so I agreed to let you join this negotiation meeting. I didn't expect you to be so arrogant. Do you know how much our cooperation costs? One hundred million dollars. I repeat, one hundred million dollars. Your salary as a security guard is far from enough. Ha-ha! Thank you for letting me hear a big joke today."

Not only Gunter but also the senior executives of Newmere Cosmetics didn't believe Trevor. They all thought Trevor was talking nonsense.

The shareholder sitting on Luisa's left frowned. He scolded, "You are just a security guard. Don't make trouble here. We've already made an exception to let you attend the meeting. Don't be ungrateful. How much is your monthly salary? How dare you be so arrogant?"

Another shareholder scolded, "Stop your bullshit! How dare a mere security guard like you offer help! The people in our company will only take it as a joke. But what if you offend our partner? You are so impolite. Apologize to all the guests of Severich now."

Trevor did not waver at all. He only looked at the two shareholders calmly.

Gunter sat on the chair beside the conference table. He leaned against the back of the chair, looking very relaxed.

The expression on Luisa's face changed. She seemed confused.

Even Zoie was anxious, winking at Trevor secretly.

Trevor crossed his arms over his chest and smiled.

"No one believes that I can take out so much money, right?"

Chapter 1457 Eight Hundred Million Dollars In Cash

Luisa wanted to mediate to smooth things over, so she said, "Dragon, if we want to expand the scale of our investment, our company still needs at least four hundred million dollars..."

She was about to persuade Trevor, but the shareholder beside her cut her off.

"Why do you have to waste your time talking to him? He is just a security guard. Do you believe he is capable of helping you? We are talking about four hundred million dollars here. I don't think he can afford even forty thousand dollars."

Trevor crossed his arms over his chest, looked at the shareholder condescendingly, and asked with a smile, "What if I can take out four hundred million dollars now?"

Four hundred million dollars was a huge sum of money for ordinary people.

Even small and medium-sized companies might not be able to get so much liquidity.

But for Trevor, it was nothing.

Even as Dragon, he had run many personal businesses and accumulated a lot of money. So spending four hundred million dollars was not a problem for him.

But Gunter didn't believe it at all. He raised his head arrogantly and said, "How dare you put on airs? What if you can get four hundred million dollars? Ha-ha! Stop daydreaming, okay? If you want to dream, go home. Don't make a fool of yourself here."

The two shareholders of Newmere Cosmetics also wanted to flatter Gunter.

"Exactly! You are just a security guard. How dare you speak so arrogantly?"

"If you can afford four hundred million dollars, won't it be better for us to sell our shares to you at the lowest price and let you be the shareholder?"

"Humph! I think we made the wrong decision to let this guy stay in the conference room. He has wasted so much of our time."

Trevor had a big smile on his face. "So, you are willing to sell your shares as long as I can afford it? That's good, then. Let's make a bet to see if I can get so much money. If I can take out so much money, you will get out of here, and I will be the shareholder."

The two shareholders looked at each other and laughed loudly. "Alright. If you can't get the money, you get out of the company."

Trevor smiled thoughtfully. "Okay, deal!"

Then he took out his phone, called the local bank, and asked for the money to be delivered to him.

And what was more surprising was that Trevor did not only withdraw four hundred million but eight hundred million dollars.

It was almost one billion dollars, and the local bank manager was very nervous. He mobilized an armored van and personally led the team to Newmere Cosmetics.

At this moment, Trevor received a notification from the bank. "Sir, your withdrawal has been sent to the designated place. Please check and accept it."

Trevor turned to Zoie, smiled, and said, "Please help me draft two share transfer agreements."

Zoie froze in place, not knowing what Trevor meant.

Before anyone could react, Trevor opened the door of the conference room.

At the door of the conference room, many boxes of banknotes was neatly placed. Four heavily armed soldiers stood around, which was very visually impactful.

The bank manager smiled flatteringly. "Hello, are you Dragon? All the funds you requested have been paid in full, a total of eight hundred million dollars in cash. Please check."

Eight hundred million dollars?

The two shareholders in the conference room looked at each other in shock. They suddenly stood up. But unexpectedly, they did not stand firm and fell back to their seats.

Was it really eight hundred million dollars?

Did Trevor take out eight hundred million dollars in one go?

Gunter was so shocked that he stood up and shouted, "No way! Why do you have so much money?"

Luisa was also shocked. She could only cover her mouth, unable to speak for a long time.

Trevor leaned back against the door frame of the conference room. He shrugged, turned around, and said, "This amount of money must be enough to support the scale of our cooperation, right? Besides, I don't think the two shareholders will go back on their bet with me. The extra money should be more than enough to buy their shares."

The two shareholders looked at each other. Their faces turned pale.

They bet in front of the people of Severich. There was no room for them to go back on their bet.

Zoie was still shocked but she quickly drafted the share transfer agreements Trevor asked her.

The two shareholders' faces turned ashen. Even their hands, when they signed, were trembling.

If Newmere Cosmetics cooperated with Severich, it would have a bright future. It would be a great loss to sell shares at this time.

However, Trevor didn't give them any chance to go back on their words at all. He calmly signed his name on the agreements. Suddenly, he became the major shareholder of the company.
