

Chapter 1458 Gunter's Threat

"Congratulations, Dragon! You have become a major shareholder of our company!" Zoie cheered enthusiastically.

The members of Severich were also shocked and they too applauded Trevor.

About five minutes ago, Trevor was still just a security guard. And suddenly, he had become a major shareholder in Newmere Cosmetics, which was a business partner of Severich.

The word "incredible" wasn't enough to describe such a drastic turn in fortune.

Everyone present was stunned and many couldn't help but stand up and congratulate Trevor with applause.

Sheena, who was also applauding Trevor, smiled.

This fund meant there was no longer any obstacle to the in-depth cooperation between the two companies!

The only one who didn't seem happy about the situation was Gunter. He looked terrible.

The fact that Trevor was once again the center of attention pissed him off. He was all the more uncomfortable and dejected to see that Luisa also applauded and congratulated Trevor with a big smile.

Today's meeting was an opportunity for Gunter to show off and get Luisa's attention. To do this, he memorized a lot of information and prepared for the whole day with great effort.

However, not only did he not have the opportunity to be show off, but he was also totally humiliated.

The cooperation meeting had become a show where Trevor was the star.

Gunter's plan to take advantage of this meeting to get closer to Luisa had completely messed up, which annoyed him to no end.

Annoyed, Gunter sat on the chair and took a deep breath, trying his best to calm himself down. When he had calmed down, he said to Sheena, "You'll negotiate the details of cooperation. I'm leaving now."

Gunter had lost his best chance to get closer to Luisa and he knew that trying to get closer to her during the negotiations was not a good idea. That was why he decided to leave.

He would look like a mere mascot if he chose to stay in the meeting room. It was therefore preferable to leave the negotiation in the hands of a professional.

Without another word, Gunter stood up and walked out of the meeting room.

However, as soon as he left the meeting room, he shouted, "Dragon, please come out. I have something to talk to you alone."

At first, he wanted to order Trevor to come out.

However, Trevor's status had changed. He was now a shareholder of Newmere Cosmetics.

If Gunter bossed him around, it would be all too obvious that he was targeting Trevor, which was totally out of line with the image of a gentleman he purposely displayed in front of Luisa.

Trevor raised a brow and stood up calmly. He was curious to hear what Gunter wanted to say to him.

"Dragon..." Looking a little worried, Luisa wanted to stop Trevor.

Trevor smiled slightly and reassured her. "It's alright. You can continue with the negotiations. We're just going to have a talk. This is our territory."

It was highly unlikely that Gunter would try to do anything to Trevor in a public place.

Trevor left the meeting room confidently. As soon as he got out of the meeting room, he met a pair of cold and fierce eyes.

Since there was no one else around, Gunter didn't want to pretend anymore. He fully showed his ferocity, aggressiveness and even his killing intent.

With a murderous look in his eyes, Gunter snapped, "Boy, you are so arrogant."

Trevor crossed his arms over his chest. It was clear he wasn't intimidated by Gunter's words at all. He shrugged and said casually, "Arrogant? Really? I don't think so."

When Gunter spoke again, his voice was even colder. "I advise you to have a little common sense and not to get involved in what you shouldn't. Otherwise, you might die without even knowing why!"

Gunter's threat was thinly veiled.

However, Trevor was never afraid of threats.

Smiling, looking carefree, he said calmly, "What I do is none of your business and you don't have to worry about me."

Trevor's casual attitude further irritated Gunter, who clenched his fists tightly.

The tattoo hidden under the suit was inadvertently exposed.

Sure enough, Trevor saw it and smiled slightly.

Mobius? Well, Trevor's fake identity was also a member of Mobius.

Under his security guard uniform, there was the same tattoo. He could use Raven's identity at any time.

His identity as Dragon was a member of Klein. So there was no reason for him to be afraid of Gunter.

Seeing that Trevor was totally unfazed by his menacing look, Gunter's face twitched.

It was usually Rock's task to threaten people. But today, Rock was taking a rest and didn't come to Newmere Cosmetics.

Taking a deep breath, Gunter put his hands in his pockets. Gnashing his teeth, he said coldly, "Good, very good. Then pray for yourself."

Without another word, Gunter turned around and left Newmere Cosmetics with a gloomy face.

Trevor calmly looked at the man's receding figure.

As long as Gunter took his attention off Luisa, Trevor didn't care if Gunter hated him or not.

Chapter 1459 I Want To Protect You

Trevor had lost interest in the negotiation after Gunter left Newmere Cosmetics.

He had only been involved in the negotiation to keep an eye on Gunter and prevent him from doing anything that would harm Luisa.

But since Luisa was now safe at the moment, Trevor returned to the security department.

Soon, the negotiation teams of Severich and Newmere Cosmetics ironed out the final details and reached an agreement.

After the closure of the meeting, Luisa showed out the team led by Sheena and turned to look at Zoie.

"Zoie, tell Dragon to come to my office immediately. There's something I need to discuss with him."

Zoie nodded and left to do as she had been instructed.

As the head of the company, Luisa figured that she had to talk to the new shareholder concerning the abrupt change in the share structure.

Trevor made his way to Luisa's office as soon as he received the notice from Zoie.

Luisa looked quite tired after having such a long meeting. She was seated in her swivel chair and drinking a cup of coffee. Trevor felt a little uncomfortable seeing her in that way.

The girl he was in love with had to face the many challenges that came with running a company alone.

Luisa rubbed her temples with her fingers. Even though she was a bit tired, she was still very excited.

"Thank you, Dragon. The negotiation went smoothly with your intervention. The agreement to expand the investment has been settled. This partnership with Severich will make our company develop better than before. The money you invested in the company also came in handy to help us achieve that goal!"

Trevor chuckled softly. "I was happy to do it. As long as it helps you, then it was worth it."

Luisa nodded slowly. "Besides, since you are a major shareholder in our company, you don't need to be the head of security anymore. As a shareholder, there are many benefits that you can enjoy..."

"I don't agree to that." Trevor's voice was firm and decisive.

How was he going to protect Luisa if he did not head the security team?

The major reason why he had decided to be the head of security in Newmere Cosmetics was to get closer to Luisa and make sure he could protect her.

Trevor cleared his throat and said, "I remember that all the members of the company need to be informed of every major personnel change. This particular branch of Newmere Cosmetics was only recently established. If there is a sudden change in personnel, the employees may feel distraught. I would like to keep my post for now."

Luisa placed the coffee cup on the table. She wanted to explain, but as she opened her mouth, she suddenly remembered something. Her face was soon flushed as she leaned back against the swivel chair and sighed.

"Well, if that is your decision, then so be it. You can keep your present position for the time being. But I have to make something very clear to you. I want to thank you for helping me

Trevor didn't know how to react when he heard Luisa's words and saw the serious expression on her face.

He knew that Luisa had misunderstood him, or perhaps she had misunderstood Dragon.

It was because of the relationship that existed between them that made Trevor come to protect her as soon as he got the news.

There was no doubt that he loved Luisa deeply.

However, it was Trevor who loved Luisa, and not Dragon.

Due to the dangerous circumstance, Trevor didn't dare to take off his mask to reveal his true identity to Luisa, fearing that he could endanger her by doing such a thing.

He rubbed his hands together and said, "I'm well aware that you have a boyfriend."

Luisa sighed heavily again. She thought he was being perfunctory and would not give up easily.

She sipped her coffee slowly to hide her embarrassment and remained silent, not knowing what else to say.

After all, without his investment, it would have been difficult to reach an agreement with Severich.

But if the new major shareholder was interested in her, Luisa was bound to feel uncomfortable.

She had established a branch company in Dreles to provide support to Trevor when he eventually returned.

At that very moment, the office was as silent as a graveyard as they both stared at each other awkwardly.

Chapter 1460 I'm Not That Kind Of Person

Trevor decided that no matter what Luisa thought of him, he wouldn't quit the security department.

He couldn't take the risk of leaving Luisa alone and thus giving free rein to the members of Mobius to attack her.

Luisa didn't understand Trevor's decision and it caused some further misunderstanding.

Since she couldn't persuade him, she could only sigh and said, "Well, you can leave now. I just completed the cooperation agreement. I still have a lot of work."

Trevor smiled. Apparently, being a shareholder had many advantages. He finally dispelled the idea that Luisa would change his position in the company.

With a smile, Trevor said, "It's true that work is important, but you should also take care of yourself and rest. Well, I'm leaving now."

Luisa watched Trevor walk away and shook her head helplessly. She felt frustrated that he wouldn't give up.

At the end of the day, Trevor left the company and was about to go back to his apartment when he ran into Zoie.

Zoie looked around as if to make sure nobody was there. Then, she trotted over to Trevor and asked in a low voice, "Dragon, how come you are so rich? Are you from a rich family in Dreles?"

Trevor smiled and waved his hand.

"No, no, you misunderstand it. I just have some savings."

What Trevor said wasn't a lie.

He wasn't from the rich family in Dreles.

His family wasn't here.

Dreles was the territory of Wright family. The Sanderson family's castle was located in Zayden.

So he didn't lie when he said he didn't come from a rich family in Dreles.

Eyes shining, Zoie continued, "You invested eight hundred million dollars in the company! Everyone in the meeting room was amazed at the cash. Eight hundred million! I have never seen so much cash in my life!"

Trevor grinned and didn't know what to say.

Zoie finally fell silent after rambling for a while.

She looked around again to make sure that no one was eavesdropping their conversation. Then she lowered her voice more and said, "Hey, let me be honest with you. Luisa is beautiful, rich and capable. Of course, she has countless pursuers. But in my opinion, you are the best among them. You have all my support you to woo Luisa. I don't want her to waste her youth, waiting for someone who has never showed up."

Someone who had never showed up?

The person she was referring to was Trevor.

Realizing this, Trevor was at a loss.

So, Zoie was encouraging him to woo his own girlfriend?

Seeing that he was silent, Zoie tugged at his sleeve anxiously and said in a disappointed tone, "Come on, say something! You know, this is my first time to support someone to pursue Luisa!"

With a complicated expression, Trevor tried to explain, "I..."

What could he say?

He knew he couldn't tell her Luisa was his girlfriend.

Of course, he loved Luisa and that was nothing to be ashamed of.

But now he was Dragon, not Trevor.

What if Zoie didn't let him know anything about Luisa in the future if he refused now?

Seeing that Trevor was still silent, Zoie sneered, "Don't think too high of yourself only because you are now a shareholder of the company. From what I know of Luisa, if you dare to use your new position as shareholder to harass her, she will kick you out of the company even that means risking to lose the cooperation with Severich!"

Trevor was stunned and didn't know whether to cry or to laugh. He touched his nose and said firmly, "I'm not that kind of person!"

Chapter 1461 Encountering Balfour

Trevor quickly put an end to his conversation with Zoie.

He walked to the parking lot, got into his car, but didn't start it. He couldn't help but ponder on the whole thing.

"Am I being too obvious?"

Trevor shook his head helplessly. It seemed that everyone in the company thought that he had a crush on Luisa.

Trevor rubbed his temple with his fingers.

Maybe this wasn't such a bad thing after all. If his identity as Dragon was labeled as Luisa's admirer, then it would be easier for him to hide his true identity.

As far as he was concerned, the better his identity was hidden, the safer Luisa would be.

If Gunter and Rock found out who he really was, they would no doubt try to kill him.

If that failed, they would go for Luisa.

Trevor took a deep breath and decided there was no point thinking about what had not happened.

He would protect Luisa, no matter the cost.

However, he had to keep Luisa under constant watch.

Trevor started the car and was about to drive back to his rented apartment in Dreles.

However, he came across an unexpected person.

"Balfour? What is he doing here?"

Trevor pulled over and lowered the window.

Balfour was Luisa's brother.

When Trevor sent Luisa home last time, he met Balfour. Meeting him again today was a surprise.

Balfour, however, seemed to be having a hard time.

Balfour was on the side of the road, under a flickering street light, surrounded by a group of gangsters.

Panic was written all over his face. He tried to escape several times, but he was shoved back. In the end, all he could do was stand there, fear and anger evident on his face.

"What's the meaning of this? Let me go! I'll call the police if you don't let me go!"

The street lamp flickered.

The flickering light on Balfour's face gave him a haunted look.

Where the light couldn't reach was a small black pond with an offensive smell.

Trevor had a guess as to what might be happening.

"Did Balfour take a loan and default on the payment, causing the gang to come after him?"

Trevor could remember the last time when Balfour took a loan and was threatened by the gang in the Burke family's residence.

It was he who stepped in to take care of it.

Otherwise, the gang might have broken Balfour's legs.

While Trevor was lost in thought, Balfour was surrounded. If Trevor delayed even for a few seconds, Balfour would be beaten.

Sitting in the car, Trevor couldn't see Balfour now.

Sighing, Trevor got out of the car and walked toward them.

Balfour was Luisa's brother, so Trevor had to help him.

If Balfour took a loan again, Trevor would have to teach him a lesson.

Back in Jork, Balfour had endangered Luisa because of usury.

Trevor's face darkened in anger at the thought of this.

They were two members of Mobius in Dreles who were just looking for the right opportunity to come after Luisa.

As Luisa's brother, Mobius would definitely take notice of him.

His reckless attitude would very likely bring trouble to Luisa.
