

Chapter 1506 Emmeline Was In Trouble

Tasha personally drove Trevor home.

In the passenger seat, Trevor was very quiet. His head was down and he seemed lost in thought.

He kept thinking about what Toby had said concerning the Juarez family. Was it a coincidence that the Juarez family appeared and went after the Byrd family when the Sanderson family was in trouble?

Trevor analyzed the situation in his head. The Juarez family launched a commercial attack on the Byrd family and grab their market share when the Sanderson family could hardly look after itself. It was highly unlikely that the Juarez family acted haphazardly, relying solely on rumors they heard.

Luisa was in Dreles, and so was the Juarez family. More importantly, there were also members of the Mobius.

Was it all a coincidence?

Trevor sensed something was wrong and he remained on his guard. He decided to ask Tasha about the Juarez family.

However, Tasha didn't know much about the Juarez family. So, she could only provide him with some superficial information. The Byrd family was still unaware of the city the Juarez family was from as well as the industries in which they had engaged.

Trevor shook his head helplessly. The Byrd family was really inefficient when it came to finding information.

Tasha's phone suddenly vibrated and a message appeared on the screen.

Holding the steering wheel with one hand, Tasha glanced at the message. The next moment, her expression became serious.

Trevor didn't fail to notice the change in Tasha's expression. He raised a brow and asked, "What happened?"

"Nothing serious. You know I'm a student of Bella University, right? There an incident involving the student union and I need to deal with it," Tasha explained with a forced smile.

The student union?

Trevor was lost in thought for a while and he soon remembered that the president of the student union of Bella University was Cecelia.

However, Cecelia was grounded by the Wright family recently, and the affairs of the student union were handled by Tasha instead.

Trevor shrugged and said casually, "You seem to be in trouble."

Tasha hesitated whether she should tell him about it.

After a while, she finally said, "The student union has organized an after-school activity, led by Miss Olson. But my schoolmate just texted me to inform me Miss Olson was molested."

Trevor touched his chin with a strange expression.

Was Tasha referring to Emmeline Olson? That was quiet

Trevor cleared his throat and said, "It seems that it's urgent. I have nothing to do, let me come with you."

Tasha hesitated. She thought it wasn't appropriate for her to take her guest to her school to deal with her own issues.

Seeing that she was hesitating, Trevor urged her, "Come on! Hurry up. Your teacher and schoolmates are waiting. I can't let you deal with this matter alone. We're friends, aren't we? As friends, we should help each other."

Tasha was touched by Trevor's words. She nodded and agreed. She then turned the car and drove towards Bella University.

On the way, Trevor asked casually, "Where are your teacher and schoolmates?"

With a serious look, Tasha replied, "They're in the arcade near Bella University. They're surrounded by hooligans."

The arcade near Bella University?

Trevor was stunned.

The arcade he had promised to introduce to Ape was also ear Bella University.

What a coincidence!

Tasha stepped on the gas pedal and soon they arrived at the arcade.

They saw two groups of people fighting in an alley outside the arcade.

Trevor recognized many students in the crowd. Emmeline looked very anxious and she seemed to be negotiating with the other group of people.

Although the students were visibly scared, they still stood in front of Emmeline to protect her.

However, they were too weak to fight off the hooligans.

The other group looked arrogant. Their arms were covered with all kinds of tattoos. It was obvious they were hooligans or perhaps members of a gang.

Chapter 1507 Do You Know Who Our Boss Is

A group of intimidating hooligans encircled a group of students, forcefully shoving and pushing them, exhibiting clear signs of bullying.

The passers-by didn't dare to intervene, fearing that they might find themselves in trouble.

Given the secluded nature of the alley, there was a high probability of hooligans resorting to using their weapons and causing fatalities if they were to become agitated.

In the midst of this tense situation, Tasha slammed on the brakes and sprang out of the car, without even bothering to remove the keys. She hurried toward the scene, her voice echoing loudly.

"Stop! Stop! What on earth do you think you're doing?"

Trevor trailed behind Tasha, remaining silent for the time being.

He scanned the hooligans quickly, but none of them appeared familiar to him.

Tasha rushed to Emmeline's side and asked anxiously, "Miss Olson, what happened? Are you hurt?"

Emmeline looked visibly shaken and didn't have time to respond before the hooligans exchanged mocking glances and burst into laughter.

"Look at that, fellas, we've hit the jackpot again—another gorgeous lady! And who knows, maybe we'll get to have some fun with them once our boss is through."

Emmeline's expression turned grim, and she was too furious to speak.

One of the students discreetly glanced at the hooligans and whispered to Tasha, "We were on our way to the arcade when they intercepted us. They noticed Miss Olson and then proceeded to sexually harass her. No matter what we say or do, they refused to let us go until Miss Olson agrees to sleep with their boss."

Trevor's brow furrowed, clearly disturbed.

This was no different from kidnapping and raping.

He scrutinized the hooligans, assessing them from head to toe.

Trevor didn't know any of them.

Trevor had a hunch that Ape must be present in the arcade at this time, and it was likely that he had recruited this group of hooligans.

Tasha gathered her courage and said. "Move out of my way! My name is Tasha Byrd. If you leave now, we can pretend that today's incident never occurred. Otherwise, I will not hesitate to contact the authorities."

The reputation of the Byrd family still held considerable weight in Dreles, though it was declining. For the average person, this reputation alone was enough to deter any hooligans.

The hooligans were momentarily taken aback. But rather than show fear, they responded with sneers and taunts.

"The Byrd family? Ooh, we're so scared! Hah, Miss Byrd, you overestimate yourself. Our new boss is unstoppable.

"What good is the Byrd family? None! Hey, beautiful teacher, why don't you come with us and have fun with our boss? Otherwise, you and your students won't be leaving here today!"

Despite their audacity to speak disrespectfully to Tasha, they did not have the courage to touch her inappropriately.

However, one of them, who wore an ear stud, brazenly approached Emmeline and reached out to grab her.

Emmeline was filled with panic and despair.

Suddenly, Trevor stepped forward, swatted the man's hand away, and rebuked him in a cold tone.

"Get out of here! You have no business with her!"

The man widened his eyes in disbelief.

"Fuck you! Where did you come from? How dare you point at us? Do you want to die? Do you even know who our boss is? Believe it or not, he'll kill you without a second thought!"

Trevor gave him a cold stare. "Your boss's name is Ape, correct?"

The man toyed with his ear stud and looked at Trevor with confusion for a few seconds before responding, "Damn it! Since you know our boss is Ape, how dare you interfere with our business? I think you really want to die!"

Chapter 1508 Meeting Ape

Was Ape really the leader of these hooligans?

Trevor lifted an eyebrow. To him, Ape was a video games addict who just happened to be a Mobius member.

Ape might be dangerous, but he didn't seem like someone who would stir up trouble, especially something as extreme as kidnapping.

Trevor said coldly, "Tell your boss to come and see me. I have something to say to him."

Emmeline and the students all looked at Trevor in shock and bewilderment.

They weren't sure if he was a random stranger or a member of another gang.

If Trevor was also a gangster, a gang fight would break out, and they would get involved.

"Dragon..." Tasha called out as she became nervous.

Hearing Trevor's provocation, the hooligans fumed.

"What the hell did you say? Do you think you have the right to ask for our boss?"

"Moron! You should be beaten black and blue for running that rotten mouth of yours!"

Some of the hooligans aggressively approached Trevor with threats in their eyes.

Trevor sneered.

He didn't take these hooligans seriously.

He suddenly moved forward and hurled punches at them like meteors striking across the sky at light speed.

The hooligans were easily knocked down.

They all slumped on the ground, wincing in pain.

Trevor looked down at them with a snort.

Though in pain, the man wearing an ear stud threatened Trevor.

"You bastard! You'll pay for this! I'll call our boss! He will give you what you're asking for! You're dead meat once he arrives!"

Tasha pulled Trevor's sleeves and said worriedly, "Dragon, we should probably leave now."

The man with an ear stud took out his phone and warned, "Don't even think about running away! None of you can leave! I know you're all from Bella University. Even if you escape today, we have many ways to deal with you!"

Emmeline and the students, who were planning to flee, froze in fear.

The man dialed Ape's number and cried out as soon as the call connected.

"Boss, we need your help! We are outside the arcade when we saw a beautiful lady. We wanted to give her to you, but this brat meddled and attacked us. He needs to be taught a lesson!"

Trevor's eyes narrowed.

So these morons wanted to kidnap Emmeline to give her to Ape.

They probably wanted Ape's approval by taking an innocent woman and offering her to him as a gift.

Hanging up the phone, the man smirked complacently and sat on the ground.

"You're doomed, you bastard. You may be strong, but you have no match to our boss!"

Although struggling to get on their feet, the other hooligans also threatened Trevor.

"You better get on your knees and apologize to us when you still have time. Bastard! Once our boss arrives, you won't have the chance to plead for your life!"

"Yes! The moment our boss gets here, you're dead!"

Trevor didn't even flinch. Their threats were nothing but annoying noises to his ears.

Soon after, the hooligans exclaimed in surprise.

"He's here! Ape is here!"

"You're doomed, brat! Say your prayers before you perish on this world today!"

Trevor turned toward where the hooligans were looking and saw Ape's bulky figure approaching.
