

Chapter 1547 It's You Who Should Get Out

The security guards were stunned and stood still.

Although they didn't know Trevor, they knew the man next to him.

He was Nasir Blakely, the respected director of the hospital.

If they dared kick Nasir out, the doctors, nurses and even their colleagues from the security department would put them through absolute hell, and they could even be fired.

After thinking it over, the two security guards quickly shook their heads and made up an excuse. "We can't. It's against the hospital rules."

"What?" Korbyn suddenly roared. He was so stunned that he even choked by his own saliva and began to cough violently. "Ahem! Ahem! What the hell are you talking about? What are those fucking rules? I'm the director of the hospital. What I say is the rule! I asked you to throw these two out, and you just have to do as I say! Are you saying you won't obey my orders? Am I a joke to you?"

Rogelio was also angry and he snorted.

"It seems you two don't want to work here anymore! You just called him 'Director' and yet you won't carry his orders! Seriously? I thought the two of you were smart! I didn't expect you to be so stupid!"

Trevor just smiled without saying anything.

Meanwhile, Nasir stared at Korbyn with anger.

The two security guards were stunned. They looked at Korbyn and Rogelio strangely, as if the uncle and nephew were idiots.

"Damn it, are you two deaf?" Korbyn cursed angrily.

He believed that as the acting director of the Central Hospital, he had absolute power on the hospital grounds and everyone should obey his orders unconditionally.

But today, he had to go to great lengths to force a nurse to be his nephew's girlfriend. And after he called the security guards to chase troublemakers out of his office, they did not follow his orders.

Korbyn's anger knew no bounds and he shouted in rage, "You son of a bitch! Do you think I won't fire you? If you don't want to work here, there are a whole lot of people who would readily take over your jobs. I'll give you one last chance. Get these people out right now! Throw them out of the hospital! Otherwise, you're fired!"

The more Korbyn spoke, the colder the look in Nasir's eyes became.

"You are the one who is going to be fired."

There was a moment of silence, then Korbyn and Rogelio looked at each other. The two of them suddenly burst into laughter, as if they had heard a big joke.

Laughing heartily, Rogelio asked, "Do you really believe in what you said or you just take your dreams for reality? You think you can fire my uncle? Do you even know what it means to be an acting director?"

Korbyn was completely unaware of the seriousness of the matter. With a smirk, he tilted his chin forward and said,

"As long as the director of the hospital doesn't come back,
I am, the most powerful person in this hospital! Let's see who dares to fire me! Who can fire me?"

He was so complacent. He remembered all those years he had been a doctor and yet he had never accomplished anything worthy of praise. It was an unexpected opportunity for him that in his middle age, he was appointed acting director of a famous hospital in Dreles.

Korbyn felt like he was at the peak of his life.

Although he was only the acting director now, he was ambitious. He felt that with enough time, he would be able to secure the post of director for himself.

So, dealing with these two troublemakers should be a piece of cake, right?

While Korbyn was lost in thoughts, Trevor finally spoke with a faint smile.

"Well, let me introduce you to the person standing in front of you. This is Nasir Blakely, a famous surgeon at Central Hospital, and also the director of the hospital."

Korbyn's complacent smile froze on his face almost immediately. He was utterly shocked and subconsciously took a step back. The corner of his mouth was quivering, and he had a very complicated expression.

"You must be lying!"

Alisson, who had been silent for a long time, shattered his illusion.

"No, he isn't lying. The person standing in front of you is indeed the director."

The two security guards also nodded silently, confirming Trevor's words. Korbyn's fantasy was completely shattered.

Both Korbyn's and Rogelio's faces turned pale with fear.

Trevor smiled but said nothing. He just patted Nasir on the shoulder.

Nasir nodded slightly. Although he was kind-hearted, he couldn't bear to see people like Korbyn and Rogelio do such despicable things in the hospital.

"Korbyn, I hereby inform you that you are fired. Get the hell out of my hospital! Now! Get out of here with your nephew!"

The two security guards advanced almost immediately, towering above Korbyn and Rogelio.

The security guard's intentions were clear enough. If Korbyn and Rogelio didn't want to leave on their own, the security guards would "escort" them out.

With their faces red with shame, Korbyn and Rogelio fled from the director's office.

Before leaving, Korbyn looked back fiercely and warned, "If I were you, I wouldn't rejoice too early. You will cry soon! This is far from over! Just wait and see!"

Frowning, the tall security guard pushed Korbyn out of the hospital.

Trevor chuckled, ignoring Korbyn and Rogelio. In his eyes, they were just two losers.

Nasir then walked up to Alisson and comforted her gently. After a while, she felt much better. She wiped her tears and left the office.

Soon, there were only two people left in the office, Trevor and Nasir.

Trevor turned to Nasir and reminded him, "The person who threatened you won't have the time or energy to bother you for a while. But this will not last indefinitely. At that time, he will not let you go. Now that you've fired Korbyn, you need to find another acting director for Central Hospital."

Sitting in his office chair, Nasir looked through the documents in the drawer. After hearing what Trevor said, he replied without raising his head, "I know, but I don't regret my decision. It's too dangerous for the hospital to have such an immoral person as the acting director. I've decided to choose a person of high academic background and with several years of experience in the medical field, plus a good character, to take over my job. I already have a candidate in my heart, Kristopher Ferguson. He works here, Have you ever heard of him? He is a famous doctor with a great reputation in the medical field. He was the one who should have replaced me, but he was busy with his thesis at the time, so I asked them to find an external candidate."

Trevor nodded slowly.

Kristopher was a responsible doctor and Trevor had a good impression of him.

Trevor replied with a smile, "Given the current situation, we need someone trustworthy to take on the position of acting director and Kristopher seems perfectly suited for the position."

Nasir sighed and added, "There is no one else who can fill this position and I will feel reassured. Only Kristopher has enough experience to run a hospital well."

Trevor shrugged. Since he now went by the identity of Dragon, it was not convenient for him to go deeper into the subject.

Meanwhile, Nasir was still rummaging through drawers and cupboards in the office.

As time went by, a deep frown appeared on his face and his gaze darkened.

Trevor noticed that and asked, "What's wrong?"

Looking restless, Nasir wiped off the sweat on his forehead with the back of his hand. "The improved formula... I can't be find it!"

Trevor was shocked.

"You can't find it? Do you still remember the contents of the formula?"

While searching under the desk, Nasir answered in a low voice, "The experimental data are very tricky and the calculation process is complicated. Even I can't remember it clearly. Besides, I can't redo the whole experiment over again. We have to find the formula!"

Trevor rubbed his hands and asked, "Is it urgent?"

Nasir was so anxious that sweat trickled down his forehead.

He replied in a trembling voice, "I will be honest with you. Our hospital is working on this project with Newmere Cosmetics. We have recently reached an agreement to launch the improved formula. If there is a delay here, it will seriously affect the activities of our partner. Time is running out."

Trevor's eyes narrowed. He did not expect that this matter would be linked to Luisa's business and its development. It seemed like it was very urgent indeed. Trevor thought the matter over and came to a conclusion pretty quickly.

"The only person who is likely to have taken the document away is Korbyn!"

Upon hearing that, Nasir was so anxious that he stood up from under the desk abruptly and bumped his head accidentally.

Enduring the pain, he covered his head and asked, "Then what should we do? I don't know where he lives. Besides, half an hour has passed since he left the hospital. Even if we go after him now, we won't be able to catch up with him."

Trevor thought for a while and said calmly, "Don't worry.

Don't forget who I am. I'll contact my colleagues of the intelligence department right away. We'll soon find out where Korbyn is!"

After saying that, Trevor immediately called Margaret.

Korbyn was just a private doctor. It was easy for Mobius to find out his whereabouts.

Margaret soon sent a message to Trevor.

After reading the message, Trevor took out the car keys from his pocket and said, "Let's go!"

The revamped Toyota roared through the hospital parking lot as Trevor and Nasir left in a hurry.
