

Chapter 1571 Fight Alone Against Two

"Who am I?"

Trevor repeated Gunther's question with a sneer, and then snorted coldly. He didn't bother to answer and the next second, he punched Gunter hard in the face.

"You don't need to know it!"

Realizing what was going on, Rock quickly stood up and rushed over to Trevor.

Trevor raised his arm just in time to block Rock's huge fist.

It was a very disadvantageous situation for Trevor to have to fight alone against Rock and Gunther.

The Desert Eagle was lying in a corner of the house, and no one had the chance to pick it.

The situation became tricky.

After spitting out saliva mixed with blood, Gunther wiped his mouth with the back of his hand, leaving a bloodstain on it.

He cursed in a low voice and stared at Trevor fiercely.

"It doesn't matter who you are. You're dead meat! No one can save you! I swear I'll kill you today."

He shook his head and quickly regained his composure.

"Well, I got to admit that you are very good at fighting. But I don't believe that you stand a chance alone against the two of us. You have the nerve to hit me! Huh! I'll beat you to death today!"

Trevor ignored Gunther's taunts and just stood in defense posture, ready to fight at any time.

"It's not impossible for me to beat both of you in a one-on-two fight. We have never fought like that, so how can you know the result?"

Rock was silent all this time. He stared at Trevor, like a rhinoceros ready to charge at any time.

Gunter, on the other hand, stood straight. He casually smoothed his hair and said arrogantly, "You are so arrogant. Forget my question earlier. I don't care who you are. You must die here today. I am done being tolerant and merciful."

Gunther suddenly showed a cold smile to Trevor and asked, "Do you know how Ape died?"

Trevor replied expressionlessly, "He died in an explosion!"

Gunter's mouth twitched and his smile became more ferocious.

"No, you are wrong. I personally tortured that idiot to death. Want to know how I did? Well, I dismembered him alive. When the explosion happened, he hid in the bathroom and fainted due to the shock wave of the explosion. We caught him easily. He was a tough bastard till the end, you know! He wouldn't give in and refused to cooperate with us. As a result, he died a horrible death."

Gunther clenched his fists hard after saying the last sentence, making crackling sounds.

He slowly walked closer to Trevor and sneered.

"Raven—Dragon, right? You brat! You kept thwarting my plans over and over again. You have provoked me so many times. Has anyone ever told you that you deserve a beating? I wanted to be a gentleman, but you ruined my plans. You deserve to die for everything you have done! I'll let you guess how I will torture you. Of course, even if your guess is right, there will be no prize!"

Trevor looked at the crazy man in front of him and grinned.

"You are really dumb, do you know that? You just said you were merciful, yet you hate me so much?"

Gunter's arrogant laughter suddenly stopped and his face froze. He then he roared ferociously, "You seem ready to die. I swear, you will have a more miserable death than Ape. You will suffer a hundred times more than he did!"

With a sinister smile, Rock slowly approached Trevor, trying to find a chance to attack him.

Gunter stared at Trevor with a cold, murderous gaze.

---

With a murderous intent, Gunter stood in front of Trevor, while Rock approached from the side.

Trevor was going to be attacked from both sides, which was bad.

Therefore, he had to make the first move to defend himself.

Trevor snarled and seized the initiative to attack them.

And the first person he attacked was Gunter.

Gunter's expression changed. Before he could realize what Trevor had done, he got smacked hard in the chest and nearly couldn't breathe.

Recalling the intensive training he had gone through in Mobius, he raised his arms and blocked the next blows.

Of course, Trevor had a reason for attacking Gunter first.

Since Rock was tall and muscular, Trevor knew he would hold out much longer than Gunter could.

It was wiser to risk attacking Gunter first rather than fighting Rock. Perhaps it would work wonders for him.

With his head buried in his hands, Gunter stepped back and yelled, "Fuck you!"

Rock also flew into a rage and roared, "Go to hell!"

He swung his huge fist and punched hard on the back of Trevor.

Trevor, on the other hand, ducked as if he had eyes on his back. He kicked Rock's leg to stop his next attack.

The three seemed to be in a war.

Gunter and Rock grew more shocked as time went by.

Trevor could still fight them effortlessly even in their joint attack.

Unscathed, Trevor could counterattack and corner Gunter.

Gunter's face turned pale.

In the hand-to-hand combat, the only person who could bring such a pressure to him was the high-ranking leaders of Mobius.

Could it be said that Trevor's strength had already reached that of Mobius' leaders?

Thinking of this, Gunter became distracted. His attacks became weaker and weaker.

On the contrary, Trevor seemed to be enjoying. The more he fought, the higher his adrenaline rose.

He remembered meeting Mobius' assassins in Dreles.

When they attacked him and his family and friends, he couldn't do anything.

Trevor had no choice but to flee with tears in his eyes since Bradly had brought up the rear.

But now, even if these two men attacked together, they couldn't hard Trevor.

Of course, he could only be as strong as he was today thanks to Pearce's coaching and the martial arts of the Murray family.

Evidently, Gunter was now terrified. Throughout the battle, his moves became more sluggish and hesitant.

Trevor struck him again while he was distracted.

Gunter was not in the mood to fight anymore.

He believed he and Rock might not be able to defeat Trevor.

Escaping might be the best option.

Although the operation to abduct Luisa failed, he could inform his superior that Dragon disguised himself as Raven.

He would not be held accountable for the mission's failure. He could even put the blame of Ape's death on Trevor.

He would get a big bonus by then. His status would also improve.

Thinking of this, Gunter decided to stop fighting.

He wasn't as strong as Rock, and was significantly weaker than Trevor. At this moment, he was almost breathless.

Gunter took a last glance at the Desert Eagle in the corner.

However, Trevor took this opportunity to punch on Gunter's shoulder, which made the latter wince in pain.

Gunter made up his mind. He disregarded the gun and went through with his plan.

If he waited for Rock, he wouldn't be able to run away.

Gunter knew that Trevor was wearing a bulletproof vest, but they didn't.

All Trevor had to do was fire the gun at them the moment they ran away, and they would die.

Gunter's eyes glinted with viciousness.

"Someone needs to make a sacrifice... I'm sorry, Rock!"

He quietly grabbed Rock's clothes and pulled him to shield himself.

"Rock! Stop him!"

Without hesitation, he rushed out of the house.

At first, Rock was stunned, and then he became furious. Gunter betrayed him!

"Gunter! Damn you... Ah!"

Rock's scream of annoyance turned to scream of pain because Trevor twisted his arm behind him.

Looking at Gunter's back, Trevor sneered.

"Escape? Did I agree on it?"
