

Chapter 1576 The Plan To Go To Glareder

On the second day, Trevor contacted Margaret and asked her to prepare a concealed place for Luisa to hide.

Mobius was not to be underestimated. Trevor couldn't place his hope on the Wright family, and Cecelia, who would have been trustworthy, was still grounded.

Margaret didn't refuse Trevor's request. She immediately arranged for a suitable place.

Luisa believed Zoie was capable enough, so she put her in charge of the branch company temporarily. She would temporarily quit management of Newmere Cosmetics.

Trevor knew that Lone Wolf, Raven's superior, would soon be made aware of the explosion in the amusement arcade of Dreles.

If his guess was right, the other party would contact Raven soon.

As expected, Raven's intercom soon rang.

Trevor had previously installed a voice changer. When he answered the phone, he purposely made his voice hoarse.

"Hello."

The person who could contact the Raven within Mobius must be the leader of the Wolf faction, Lone Wolf.

Lone Wolf's voice was a little strange. Apparently, he used some kind of voice changer too.

"Raven, what happened in Dreles?"

Trevor, after a thoughtful pause, said angrily, "Bat's people did it! Gunter and Rock! They disobeyed the rules of Mobius and attacked me and Ape. Ape and I had already completed our task, but they planned an explosion that killed the target, Luisa Burke. Ape, too, was killed. The only good news is that I managed to kill Gunter and Rock."

The person on the other end of the line was quite furious.

Trevor could hear the sound of fist slamming into a table and wood breaking.

Lone Wolf was really angry.

After a long silence, Lone Wolf said, "Since the two who broke the rules are dead, let's put it behind us for now. Now's not the right time to get even with Midnight. Eventually, I'll make him pay! Although you didn't complete the task given to you, Raven, I will consider rewarding you. I want you to return to Glareder as soon as possible."

Trevor's eyebrows rose in surprise.

Return to Glareder?

It sounded like there was another task for Raven.

This was exactly what Trevor wanted.

He had already prepared himself to enter Glareder, the headquarters of Mobius!

"Sure," Trevor replied.

The call then ended.

Trevor was packing up when his phone rang.

Trevor was surprised when he saw who it was on the caller ID.

It was Patrice!

It was the mysterious woman who was working undercover in Mobius.

Trevor wet his lips with his tongue and answered the phone. "Hello?"

Patrice's voice came through the phone. "Dragon, how are you coping with the trouble in Dreles? Do you need my help dealing with it?"

She was Vida. When they searched the martial arts of the Murray family together last time, she had a guess that the real identity of Dragon was Trevor.

However, Trevor wasn't aware of this.

His eyes narrowed, but he pretended to have no idea what she was talking about. "Trouble? There is no trouble over here."

Trevor was suspicious. The deaths of Rock, Gunter, and Ape were top secret and not known to regular people. Klein would never let such information get out.

Only the leader of the Wolf faction in Mobius, Lone Wolf, was aware of the happenings.

Patrice's question was suspicious.

Vida, on the other hand, didn't expect her casual question to arouse suspicion and make Trevor doubt her identity as Patrice.

She continued, "I called you to ask when you were going to

Chapter 1576 The Plan To Go To...  +120 Points at most set off for Glareder. If my memory serves me right, you told me of your plan to do that before we parted ways last time. We both want the same thing. Mobius! You want to make trouble for Mobius, while I want to infiltrate them for my own purposes. I see no reason why we can't cooperate."

There was a pause on Trevor's end of the line before he finally said, "I'm going to Glareder today, and Lone Wolf wants to meet Raven. I want to try and take his place."

Vida was shocked. "What? Have you lost your mind? Lone Wolf is the leader of the Wolf faction!"

Ignoring her objection, Trevor continued, "Then I'll use whatever information I get to save my... save the two hostages."

Patrice was silent for a while. She finally said, "The plan seems crazy enough. I want in. I'll fly to Dreles tomorrow. Don't forget to pick me up."

Chapter 1577 I Will Give You The Money

Trevor arrived at the airport according to the agreed time.

He put on the mask and walked into the airport as Raven.

Trevor stood near the exit passageway of the arrival area and put his hands in his trouser pockets, waiting for Patrice.

Not long after, a group of people rushed into the arrival area, holding flowers and LED placards in their hands.

A young man in a black suit walked to the front of the crowd in high spirits. He waved his hand and ordered loudly, "Clear the airport. Drive all irrelevant people out. Don't let them get in the way here. I will propose to my girlfriend today, so I can't allow any accidents to happen."

A large group of people following him quickly ran and drove everyone out of the arrival area.

For a moment, the arrival area was in a mess.

The voices of people driving others away, mixed with cries of objection and screams from the women, reverberated around the place.

At the same time, some people began to spread rose petals on the floor, carefully forming them in a heart shape.

Trevor remained standing still in front of the exit passageway. He couldn't help frowning while watching the scene.

At this moment, someone waved at him, driving him away too.

"Hey, you! Why are you still standing there? Go away! Get out of here! Can't you see that Mr. Dayton Delgado is going to use this place? If you want to watch it, stand aside. Don't get in the way."

It turned out that these people would set up the props for a marriage proposal in front of the exit passageway. Trevor analyzed in his mind that Dayton Delgado's girlfriend should be on the same flight as Patrice.

He had promised to pick Patrice up. Of course, he wouldn't stand her up.

Trevor ignored the person who drove him away. Instead, he went straight to the man in a black suit named Dayton.

"The airport is a public place. Everyone has the right to stay here. And the arrival area doesn't belong to you alone. Isn't it appropriate to let your men drive others away?"

After saying this, Trevor turned his head and looked around. The arrival area was still chaotic.

The security guards around the arrival area craned their necks to check the situation. And when they saw Dayton, they all stepped back, turning a blind eye to the chaos.

Obviously, Dayton had a great influence in Dreles.

Dayton frowned and looked at Trevor, sizing him up with dissatisfaction.

He squinted and asked, "Who are you? How dare you talk to me like that! Don't you know me? Anyway, never mind. I don't want to ruin my mood today, so I won't lower myself to your level. Well, you have a nice figure. Go change your clothes. Then stand next to me and hold the roses. Do you understand?"

Trevor squinted at Dayton. It was as if he was looking at a fool.

He wondered if something was wrong with Dayton's brain. Didn't Dayton understand his words?

He was there to give Dayton advice. But Dayton started to order him around.

Wasn't Dayton too self-righteous?

Dayton shook his suit jacket, glanced at Trevor contemptuously, and said casually, "Don't worry. I'll give you the money. After you finish the task I'm assigning to you, I'll give you five hundred dollars. Such an easy way to make money is a rare opportunity."

After saying this, he looked around and shouted at those who were driven away.

"Everyone, listen up! When my girlfriend arrives later, remember to cooperate with me. If she accepts my proposal, you must applaud loudly. I will give each of you one hundred dollars after this."

Dayton looked very arrogant. He thought everyone there was so poor that he could order them as long as the price was right.

But it was not surprising anymore. After all, this was his usual style.

While Dayton was very complacent, Trevor stood in front of him with an expressionless face and said coldly, "I refuse."

Trevor said these two words so clearly and decisively that Dayton thought he had misheard it.

Chapter 1577 I Will Give You Th...  +120 Points at most

He immediately raised his eyebrows and asked in disbelief, "What did you just say? Say it again. You bastard! Don't be too greedy. You can make five hundred dollars in less than ten minutes. That's already more than good enough. Don't you think you are being too ungrateful?"

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

 I want no ads?