

Chapter 1688 The Secret Room

When Midnight was done dealing with the two people, he brought his attention back to Trevor.

After all, Midnight and Trevor were from different factions, yet Trevor specially came to cure him, so Midnight was a little suspicious.

"Raven, how am I now?" Midnight asked in a fake casual tone.

Trevor smiled and replied casually, "After the treatment I gave, your condition is rapidly improving. I am deeply convinced that you would be fully recovered in no time."

Midnight was satisfied with what Trevor said, so he invited Trevor to go with him.

Trevor was stunned and surprised too.

However, he readily agreed.

The reason Trevor got close to Midnight was to get some useful information. Now that Midnight offered Trevor to go with him, of course Trevor would not pass by such an opportunity.

As the two men walked down the road, Trevor couldn't help wondering if they were going to the heavily guarded underground area at the end of the corridor.

Thinking of that, Trevor was so excited. However, he tried hard to suppress his joy and silently followed Midnight.

Then all of a sudden, Midnight broke the silence. "Do you know where I'm taking you?" he asked.

Trevor was almost sure that Midnight was taking him to the underground. However, he preferred to act dumb and replied, "Mr. Midnight, I don't know. Please tell me."

Midnight smiled complacently and said slowly, "I'm taking you to discover Mobius' most hidden place."

Midnight's words reaffirmed Trevor's guess that they must be heading to the mysterious underground area. However, Trevor didn't know why exactly Midnight was taking him there.

Midnight walked straight ahead and soon, they reached the end of the corridor.

When they reached a corner, they found six guards there. The guards were alert when they saw Midnight approaching and they stared at him warily.

However, ignoring the guards, Midnight walked straight into the elevator. He was closely followed by Trevor.

Soon, they arrived at the second floor underground.

Trevor who had been silent for a while now sighed to himself when he thought of how heavily guarded this place was. He felt that it'd be reckless for him to come here alone anyhow or he would definitely be caught.

Only when they reached the second floor underground did Midnight finally tell Trevor his purpose.

"Mobius has caught some important figures of the outside world and we've been tried to get some secrets from them. But these people are stubborn and we need someone with interrogation skills to get them to talk."

Upon hearing that, Trevor's heart skipped a beat. He couldn't help but feel a little worried when he thought of his grandfather and his father.

However, since he was with Midnight, he couldn't show his emotions. So Trevor held back his emotions and asked curiously, "Who are those big shots?"

Trevor's question didn't arouse the least suspicion in Midnight. He presumed that a mere faction member like Trevor couldn't have any connection to the people imprisoned here. With that in mind, Midnight said casually, "You'll know in a minute."

Trevor's heart was racing at the moment but he did his best to keep his cool.

The two men kept chatting while walking around the place. They soon reached the end of the underground area, where there was a huge secret room.

The interior of the secret room was purely white.

A prolonged stay in this room would certainly cause irreversible psychological damage. This place was the most conducive to interrogation.

Midnight and Trevor sat on a sofa in the white room and waited patiently. The prisoners hadn't been escorted here yet.

Trevor casually looked around and stared at the door at the other end of the room.

He was worried deep inside and couldn't help but hope that he wouldn't meet his father or his grandfather here.

A few minutes later, the door was finally opened. The person escorting the prisoners was Vulture, the warden.

Vulture took several prisoners into the secret room and when he saw Midnight, he greeted Midnight respectfully.

Vulture's eyes then fell on Trevor and the man's face showed a look of shock.

But then, Vulture realized that it was Midnight who had brought Raven to the secret room.

After Trevor saved Vulture last time, Vulture had a good impression of Trevor. He greeted Trevor with his eyes before reporting to Midnight.

"Sir, all the prisoners are here!"

"You can leave now," Midnight said flatly.

Narrowing his eyes, Trevor gazed at the group of prisoners who walked into the room to see if he recognized any of them.

Each time his eyes fell on a prisoner, Trevor's heart trembled. He had seen these people in the deepest part of the prison before.

Only when Vulture left the room did Trevor see the other prisoners. He finally found a familiar figure among the last few people.

The man looked a little older and thinner. It was Elwood!