

Chapter 1693 Something Bad Happened To Esteban

With the interrogation over, Trevor and Midnight quietly made their way to the door of Mobius' building. Both were in good spirits.

However, they each had a different reason for being in such a good mood.

A happy Midnight took out a check from his pocket and handed it to Trevor.

"Your silver needles are so useful. In the future, you should be the one to deal with tough guys in the interrogation. Here, this is the reward I promised you."

Of course, Trevor wasn't short of money, but he still pretended to be very happy with the reward. He took the check and said earnestly, "Thank you very much. If you need my services again in the future, just call me."

Midnight nodded and the two men continued to walk towards the exit.

At one point, Midnight seemed to have something on his mind.

Seeing that Midnight wanted to say something but seemed hesitant, Trevor asked curiously, "Midnight, is there anything else?"

Midnight looked at Trevor seriously and said, "Raven, you have extraordinary medical skills, and you are also a good assistant in interrogations. Why don't you join the Bat faction? You will be my right-hand man and one day, you will be the leader of the Bat faction."

Trevor was a little stunned. He didn't expect that his acting just now was so good that it made Midnight want to poach him from his current faction. Of course, Trevor had no desire to join Midnight's faction, but he knew better than to refuse rashly, lest he offend Midnight. So, Trevor was in a dilemma.

Seeing the hesitant expression on Trevor's face, Midnight smiled nervously and said quickly, "Raven, I was just kidding. Never mind what I just said."

With that, Midnight waved his hand and left.

Trevor was left alone.

Although Midnight said that he was kidding, Trevor knew it wasn't true. The reason Midnight said so was because Trevor didn't give him a positive answer.

Trevor let out a long breath.

He had had a very busy day.

He had made a lot of progress in his investigations. He now knew that the basement of Mobius' building was connected to the deepest part of the secret prison, and he also saw his grandfather. Now that he had managed to treat Elwood without arousing the slightest suspicion, he didn't have to worry about Elwood's health for a while.

Mobius didn't ill-treat his grandfather, and as for his father, Trevor knew he must be safe and healthy, too. With that in mind, Trevor felt less worried. Now he had to find a way to get them out of there.

Trevor felt that today's achievements were mainly thanks to Esteban's surveillance work. After thinking for a while, he sent a message to Esteban.

"Good job, man. Keep going. Sooner or later, we will be able to defeat Mobius."

Esteban's reply came shortly afterwards. He said he liked this task and would continue to monitor Midnight remotely. He also suggested that Trevor contact him at any time if there was anything.

Trevor smiled with relief.

However, he also felt a little sad.

He was glad to be working with someone as capable as Esteban, but he felt sad that Esteban had to live such a life every day. Esteban was just a child! This only fueled Trevor's already burning determination to destroy Mobius.

After such a busy day, Trevor was exhausted and went home to rest.

The next day, when Trevor woke up, he received a message from Esteban's companion. The first word on the text message was "Urgent".

The message read, "Something happened to Esteban while he was monitoring Midnight."

Trevor's drowsiness immediately disappeared. He sat up at once, with a heavy heart. He couldn't help but wonder if Midnight noticed something. It would be troublesome if Midnight had found out that he was being watched. If that was the case, then the chances of Esteban surviving were extremely slim.

After analyzing the situation, Trevor quickly replied to the message, "Who did it?"

The reply came almost immediately. "I don't know. Please come to Hammurabi Hotel as soon as possible. I'll wait for you here."

Trevor agreed. He headed to the hotel at once, while thinking about how to deal with this matter.
