

Chapter 1695 Meeting Golden Tooth Again

Trevor rushed to the black market.

At this time, Golden Tooth was taking care of his business in the black market, completely unaware of the impending danger.

With a proud and complacent look on his face, he bragged to his subordinates that he had caught a lot of people with the notorious big organization Black Gold Union today.

With a smug smile, Golden Tooth rubbed his chin and sneered as he thought of all the people he had caught today. Among them were many talented people.

The vicious man bragged loudly, and even mentioned a boy named Esteban, who seemed to have a talent for boxing. Even he got a few stiff punches when he caught the boy.

Hearing Golden Tooth's praise for the boy, one of his men asked, "Boss, why didn't you bring that kid here to train him? If you train him to be an underground boxer, he will definitely make a lot of money for you."

Golden Tooth snorted, "He is just a kid with some talent. He isn't worth much. No one can tell for sure that he will end up being a good boxer. Besides, I didn't go there to find a boxer."

He paused before continuing, "What really mattered to me was be well liked by the leaders of Black Gold Union. If they acknowledge me, I will get more than just this underground boxer. It's not money that I am after at this point, no matter how much."

The man who spoke earlier immediately replied, "That's right, boss. You will become the overlord of the black market sooner or later!"

Golden Tooth reveled in this kind of praise and kept laughing.

However, while these men were deeply dreaming about the wonderful life they would have in the future, a young man rushed in.

Golden Tooth was annoyed by the interruption and the smile on his face disappeared at once. He stared at the young man and roared, "Why are you in such a hurry? What the heck is wrong with you?"

Shouting didn't seem enough to vent his anger, so he kicked the young man hard in the stomach.

"Next time you barge in like this, I will kill you. You must knock on the door first. If you don't follow the rules, you're dead!" Golden Tooth said coldly.

The young man didn't dare to talk back even though he was beaten and scolded. He kept silent for a while and finally said, "Boss, the man who came here to make trouble last time is here again!"

Golden Tooth was confused as to who his subordinate was referring to. He asked in the same cold tone, "Who are you talking about? Who dares to make trouble in my territory? I'll soon join Black Gold Union. Whoever it is, I will kick his ass!"

As soon as Golden Tooth said so, he suddenly realized that the man his subordinate mentioned was that young man who cut off one of his fingers last time!

He immediately panicked.

His expression changed and a look of horror appeared on his face. He had hired a top-ranked killer to kill Raven last time, didn't he? How come that troublemaker was still alive? Golden Tooth began to wonder whether the killer he'd hired just took his money but didn't do the job.

Thinking of this, Golden Tooth cursed Alanson over and over again in his heart.

While Golden Tooth was in a panic, there were stiff kicking at the door.

Trevor ultimately broke the door with his kick. "Golden Tooth, I dare you to fucking show up!" Trevor roared behind the broken door.

Gritting his teeth, Golden Tooth made a few steps forward to open the door.

But before he could do so, Trevor passed his hand through the hole in the door and opened the door lock from the inside.

Golden Tooth swallowed nervously and took a step back subconsciously.

Trevor strode in like a gust of wind. He stepped on the main chair with one foot and grabbed Golden Tooth by the collar, pulling him forward. He asked angrily, "My subordinate, Esteban, is missing. Tell me, where is he?"

At this words, the expression on Golden Tooth's face froze. The next second, he put on a flattering smile and said respectfully, "Who is Esteban? I don't know him. How could I attack your people?"

Unfortunately for Golden Tooth, he couldn't fool Trevor.

Trevor snorted and said coldly, "Do you think it is easy to fool me? I don't have enough patience. I'll only give you three seconds! Three! Two..."

It was clear that Trevor didn't believe him, and Golden Tooth broke in a cold sweat. At this point, he could only hope that Black Gold Union would help him. He rolled his eyes slightly as he shouted, "Please spare my life! I admit it, I do know Esteban, but he is not here!"

Trevor looked carefully at the expression on Golden Tooth's face, and he felt the latter might not be lying this time around. Trevor narrowed his eyes and asked again in the same cold tone, "Where is he? Take me there!"

Golden Tooth nodded in agreement. However, he had an evil thought in his heart.

He was sure that once they got to where Esteban was being held, he wouldn't be the one begging for mercy anymore.

Trevor didn't know about Golden Tooth's plan, but it didn't matter at all. The only thing that mattered to Trevor at this moment was saving Esteban.
