

Chapter 1754 Meet The Killer Of Mobius

Cordell was stunned by what just happened. Jonah and his gang left the orphanage without causing more trouble, and Roosevelt was punished.

Staring intently at Trevor Cordell was now certain that the man in front of him was indeed Esteban's brother. That was how Esteban used to protect him in the past.

Clenching his fists, Cordell vowed to himself to henceforth protect the orphanage like Esteban did.

Trevor happened to look at Cordell at this time and he was moved by the resolve he saw on Cordell's young face. He gently touched the boy's head.

Now that the crisis had been solved, the director smiled with relief. He said gratefully to Trevor, "We're really lucky that you are here. Otherwise, I'm afraid we won't have been able to protect the orphanage today!"

Trevor smiled and didn't say anything. He stared at the direction Jonah had just left, with an imperceptible cold glimmer flashing in his eyes. He knew thugs like Jonah very well.

Such people wouldn't give up so easily.

Besides, Trevor suspected that Jonah's goal was probably not just be to extort a small amount of money. It was just an excuse. Jonah wanted to force the director to leave this orphanage so that Singh Group could build an amusement park there.

Thinking of that, Trevor sneered and murmured under his breath, "Tucker! I am back and I'll definitely get even with you. I hope you still remember me!"

Trevor had no intention of being passive this time. He decided to attack first!

Trevor narrowed his eyes and fell into deep thought.

Gunter was a member of Mobius, yet, he represented Severich to negotiate a cooperation with Newmere Cosmetics before. That meant that Mobius had infiltrated the Singh Group. This was an opportunity Trevor felt he had to seize.

With that in mind, Trevor said goodbye to the director and Cordell and left the orphanage. Along the way, he once again checked the list of members of the Wolf faction in Zayden that Lone Wolf gave him. A killer named Cheetah caught his attention, and Trevor called him at once.

When the phone was connected, Trevor took on the air of a leader with a cold, authoritative tone. He ordered to the man on the other end of the phone, "Cheetah! You have been in Zayden for so long. Tell me everything you know about the Singh Group!"

On the other side of the phone, Cheetah looked confused and even a little wary. It was a rule at Mobius that only the superior contacted the direct report. So in theory, only Lone Wolf could contact him. Who then was the man on the phone barking orders at him?

With a dark face, Cheetah asked in a low voice, "Who are you? How did you get this phone number?"

Trevor snorted and replied coldly, "I'm Raven! I forgot to tell you that I'm the deputy leader of the Wolf faction now. As for your contact details, Lone Wolf gave it to me. The only thing you need to know is that when I give you an order, you follow it at once."

The name Raven was not unfamiliar to Cheetah. He knew Raven was a senior killer of the Wolf faction. But Cheetah couldn't believe that Raven suddenly became the deputy leader of the Wolf faction.

He was lost in thought.

The thing was, Raven wasn't that great of a fighter. So, it was hard to believe that he was the deputy leader of the faction.

Cheetah was not convinced. He rolled his eyes and said in a low voice, "The information about the Singh Group is complicated. I'd rather tell you face to face."

Trevor thought for a while and then agreed. After getting Cheetah's address, he hung up the phone.

Cheetah had been tasked by Lone Wolf with infiltrating members of the Wolf faction into the Singh Group. Now they had several men who held positions at the senior management level.

The sudden arrival of a new superior therefore put Cheetah a little uncomfortable. He suspected that Trevor had come to seize the result of his hard work for several months!

Thinking of that, Cheetah sneered in his heart.

He didn't care that Trevor was the deputy leader of the Wolf faction. He wouldn't let anyone come and rob him of the fruits of his hard labor. No way!

Cheetah quickly called his partner in Zayden and told him about the arrival of the deputy leader.

Upon hearing the news, Cheetah's partner was also alert and suspicious of Trevor's goal. The two agreed to deal with Trevor.

Cheetah had arranged to meet Trevor at a remote private shooting range. He had arrived there early and was already waiting for Trevor. As for his partner, he was hiding in the dark.

Trevor came as promised. He looked around with a cold face and finally he saw Cheetah.

The two men looked at each other. Trevor was still wearing the mask which looked exactly as Raven's face, so Cheetah was easily fooled.

Trevor stared at Cheetah expressionlessly and his pupils suddenly constricted. He felt he had seen this killer before.

Then he remembered. Cheetah was the Mobius' killer who shot him at the Sanderson family castle.
