

Chapter 1764 Jeanette Was Humiliated

Upon spotting Collen, Jeanette's eyes lit up. She immediately altered her demeanor, appearing weak and shy as she leaned forward towards him.

"Collen, a loser showed up out of nowhere and demanded to see the general manager. I tried to kindly persuade him to leave, but he called me a derogatory name! You must teach him a lesson!"

Jeanette's exaggerated account further fueled Collen's anger. Already feeling low due to his earlier troubles, he now became even more furious.

Without hesitation, Collen agreed, sulking.

Now I'm being bullied by all sorts of people. I was humiliated this morning, and now even a loser dares to insult my girlfriend! I must teach him a lesson he'll never forget and make him realize the consequences of crossing me!

With a fierce expression, Collen demanded, "Who's seeking death? How dare you cause a scene at the headquarters of the Singh Group!"

Jeanette reclaimed her arrogance, pointed at Trevor, and said, "It's him! He's the one who insulted me!"

Fueled with anger, Collen turned his gaze in Trevor's direction and saw the smirk on his face.

Trevor smiled and said, "Are you looking for me?"

Suddenly, Collen's rage subsided. It was this very face that had humiliated him in the morning, causing him to lose a considerable sum of money.

Collen trembled, and cold sweat broke out on his back. He screamed inwardly, "Why do you keep popping up everywhere?"

However, Jeanette remained oblivious to Collen's change in demeanor. Instead, she looked at Trevor with arrogance and continued to sweet-talk Collen, saying, "Collen, get him out of here! No, you should teach him a lesson first! Let him realize that we are not people he can afford to offend!"

Amidst the commotion, the security guards had gathered in response to the shouting, but they refrained from acting rashly, observing the situation carefully.

The experienced security guards sensed the tense atmosphere and awaited Collen's instructions before taking any action.

Undeterred by Jeanette's provocations, Trevor maintained his calm demeanor and addressed Collen with a faint smile, speaking indifferently.

"I heard someone wanted to drive me out. Why haven't you acted yet?"

Jeanette's rage only intensified upon witnessing Trevor's composed state. Didn't he understand the trouble he was about to face?

She yelled at the security guards, "What are you waiting for? Beat him up and throw him out!"

Collen, annoyed by Jeanette's escalating behavior, internally cursed her and screamed, "Shut up!"

Assuming that Collen was reprimanding Trevor, Jeanette continued her arrogant outburst.

"Leave now! Otherwise, you won't make it out of this place today!"

Trevor paid no attention to Jeanette's provocations and instead playfully asked Collen, "Mr. Singh, are you also going to throw me out?"

Collen's expression twitched as he was well aware that Mateo held the ultimate authority in the Group up to this point. Engaging in a physical altercation with Trevor would only lead to losses on his part.

Jeanette persisted in her mockery.

"Why are you threatening my boyfriend? Do you think you're worthy of it? You're just bluffing!"

Annoyed by Jeanette's foolishness, Collen hurriedly covered her mouth and snapped, "Shut up!"

Jeanette was taken aback that her boyfriend wasn't supporting her but rather siding with an outsider.

She felt bewildered and sadly wondered what was going on.