

Chapter 1785 Arrest Jonah

Trevor didn't say anything, but looked at the cop with a playful smile, waiting for his answer.

At the same time, the cop also felt Ernest's intense gaze on him, which was like a silent warning.

Realizing that the situation was disadvantageous to him, the cop immediately turned on Jonas and scolded him harshly.

"You little bastard, I've been watching you for a long time! I'm sure you're the one who was causing trouble here. And you even have the gall to blame others for beating you!"

Upon hearing the cop's last sentence, Trevor frowned. He didn't want to be implicated at all. He coughed to draw the cop's attention and said firmly, "What do you mean by 'beating'? It's obvious that the slap mark on his face was made by himself in order to frame us. Didn't you hear all the lies he just said?"

Jonah was furious when he heard what Trevor said. He struggled to get up and roared in anger, "You're going too far! Are you saying I hit myself? Damn it! You slapped me!"

Trevor chuckled.

"Sir, look at him. Wasn't he lying on the floor earlier and pretending to be miserable? Now he is suddenly so strong that he could easily stand. This proves that he is fine and that all of his earlier claims were lies."

The cop nodded and pointed angrily at Jonah.

"That's right. You called the police under a false pretense!"

Jonah's face darkened and he swore under his breath, "Damn it! You were not like this when you took my money. Now you are going to deal with me in turn?"

Jonah looked at the cop with resentful eyes. The cop avoided eye contact with him and watched Ernest's expression instead.

After all, Ernest was the city mayor! The cop knew clearly what he had to do now.

Under Ernest's watch, the cop handcuffed Jonah.

"Sir! I will take him back to the police station for investigation and he will be severely punished!" the cop said seriously to the mayor."

Ernest didn't answer but looked at Trevor.

It wasn't until Trevor gave him a slight nod that, Ernest also nodded slowly.

The cop noticed the interaction between the two men and swallowed hard. Now he was even more afraid of Trevor than the mayor. He quickly grabbed Jonah and took him into the police car.

As Trevor watched the police car slowly drive away from his sight, he smiled and whispered to himself, "The show has just begun."

In the police car, Jonah wanted to cry, but he had no tears. He was overwhelmed with fear and anger, and shivered. The same cop whom he had bribed to help him get rid of Trevor was now taking him to the police station!

In the police station, Collen was still arguing with the police when he suddenly saw Jonah.

Collen fell silent for a moment, his eyes wide opened. Then suddenly, he shouted, "Fuck! You promised to bail me out. Why are you here like this?"

Jonah was filled with grief and indignation. He glanced at Collen in despair and didn't say anything. However, in his heart, he cursed Collen bitterly, "Damn it! It's all your family's fault! Not only didn't I get any benefits from you, but I was also arrested and taken to the police station. I won't work for you ever again!"

Realizing that Jonah had also been arrested, Collen was shocked and angry. He cursed, "What a loser! So pathetic!"

Soon, the Singh Group's lawyer rushed to the police station and bailed Collen out.

After spending several hours in the police station, Collen was once again free.

He happily left the police station and took a breath of fresh air as soon as he was outside.

But soon, his face turned gloomy again.

What happened to him was Raven's fault.

Thinking of Raven, a cold glimmer flashed through Collen's eyes. He decided to get his revenge in a crazier way.

The lawyer of the Singh Group did not only come to bail Collen out. He also had an important message to convey to Collen. With an expressionless face, the lawyer said to Collen, "Mr. Singh, the Company's general manager insists on having results on the progress of the amusement park project. Besides, there is a major shareholder who is also paying attention. You do not have much time left!"

Hearing that, Collen gritted his teeth and his face twitched.

"I see!" he replied curtly.

He decided to go to the orphanage in person.

Recommended for you