

Chapter 1789 News From Glareder

On the phone, Esteban hurriedly relayed the troubling news to Raven.

"Mr. Raven, there's a mysterious force that's emerged in Glareder recently. Something terrible happened to Mobius! One of the Wolf faction members was assassinated. Even the faction leader, Lone Wolf, was shot in the arm!"

Trevor was taken aback by the audacity of someone daring to carry out a public assassination within Glareder, targeting a member of Mobius no less.

But then, it dawned on him that Patrice and Prescott must have joined forces for this attack.

Trevor admired Patrice's ruthlessness in his heart.

He was wondering how much chaos they had caused. Yet, there was a silver lining, as this assault on the Wolf faction would weaken their strength.

This presented an opportunity for Trevor to pave the way for Esteban and his companions to become full members of Mobius.

After Esteban shared more crucial information, Trevor offered a reminder in a low voice.

"Be careful in Glareder. Take care of yourself! As for the director, he's almost fully recovered but still needs some rest. On another note, your orphanage is scheduled for renovation and rebuilding. By the time you leave Glareder, it should be completed."

A moment of silence followed on the other end of the phone, and then a soft sob could be heard.

After all, Esteban was just a child.

In a trembling voice, he managed to utter a heartfelt "Thank you" before ending the call.

Trevor furrowed his brow.

He began contemplating how to convince Lone Wolf to accept Esteban and the other reserve soldiers as full members.

After careful consideration, Trevor reached a decision.

Only after successfully completing the task in Zayden could Trevor confidently present his conditions to Lone Wolf.

He knew this fact all too well.

To smoothly gain Lone Wolf's agreement, he had to deal with at least the two members of the Bat faction and achieve significant results in Zayden.

It was time to accelerate his plans.

Trevor swiftly pulled out his phone and set up a meeting with Cheetah and Bear at the shooting range.

The two of them rushed to the rendezvous upon receiving the call. With a stern expression, Trevor questioned them in a deep voice, "Have you accomplished what I asked you to do?"

Cheetah hesitated for a moment before responding with embarrassment, "Trevor, it's a bit tricky. Assassinating the two members of the Bat faction is relatively straightforward. However, getting hold of the shares of the Sanderson family from them is proving difficult."

Bear chimed in, "It's true. The shares are in their hands, and it's nearly impossible to take them away."

Upon hearing the excuses, Trevor's tightly furrowed his brows, indicating his displeasure.

These two individuals were akin to wild beasts, requiring some taming to mold them into obedient followers.

Pretending to be angry, Trevor ruthlessly reprimanded them, "You two incompetents! You can't even handle such a simple task. Why should I keep you around?"

Bear, always candid, muttered with a hint of grievance, "What's the use of blaming us? If you have the ability, go and seize their shares! If you can do that, I'll genuinely admire you!"

Trevor's confidence remained unwavering, and he snorted disdainfully.

"Lead the way!"

Cheetah, agreeing with Bear's sentiment, chuckled inwardly.

He believed Raven was about to face humiliation. Dealing with the two bastards from the Bat faction wouldn't be a walk in the park!
