

Chapter 1836 I'm Dragon

The person who walked out was the former leader of the Shadow Guards—Sinclair.

Ruben and Lenard's status in the Sanderson family was quite low, so they never had anything to do with the Shadow Guards.

All they knew was that Sinclair was quite strong, so they asked him to deal with Trevor.

Sinclair's face darkened as he silently walked up to Trevor. He obviously couldn't recognize him.

Trevor simply gave him a small smile.

He was also glad to see Sinclair here. He wanted to know how he was recovering at this time.

He remembered that Sinclair used to take drugs before. However, he didn't know how he was doing now.

After both of them were finished preparing, they placed their arms on the wooden table and began the match.

Trevor didn't use his full strength since he wanted to test Sinclair. He controlled his strength well, and it seemed that they were matched in strength.

The wooden table kept shaking during their match. Sinclair's strength had recovered a lot since the last time they met.

Lenard's eyes lit up when he saw that.

He then began cheering for Sinclair, shouting, "Come on! You can do it! I know you can win!"

Seeing how Lenard was working so hard, Balfour had no other choice but to follow suit. "Come on, Raven! Don't lose!"

Even though he was reluctant to do so, this match was related to his love life and his career.

At that point, Trevor had a clear idea of what was going on with Sinclair.

Even though he got rid of his drug addiction completely, he still wasn't in tip-top shape.

His endurance and power, in particular, weren't as good as before. He still needed to recuperate.

Although Trevor didn't add more strength, he gradually gained the upper hand.

Lenard clenched his jaw when he saw that. "Use more strength! If you lose, you'll lose the gym!"

He sounded desperate to win the bet and get rid of Trevor.

Trevor exerted even more force, causing Sinclair's hand to be pressed down the table at an extremely fast speed.

All of a sudden, the wooden table split into two.

With that, the winner was decided.

Sinclair didn't expect Trevor to hide his real strength.

Not only did he lose the game, but he also fell to the floor— looking at Trevor in shock.

He wondered when a strong man like Trevor came to Zayden.

Trevor bent down on his knees and approached Sinclair so he could pull him up. All the while, he whispered, "I'm Dragon."

Sinclair's eyes widened in utter shock.

Trevor revealed his identity in such a low voice that Sinclair almost thought he heard it wrong.

At that point, Ruben was raging mad. He suddenly shouted, "Get the fuck out of here! You said you wanted to be the Sanderson family's guard. You don't even deserve to be one!"

Sinclair was too stunned to say anything at that point.

Trevor, however, sneered at Ruben and retorted, "Really? If you don't like him, then let Mobius accept him."

Lenard's and Ruben's faces darkened the moment they heard that.

They thought they were going to hire a person to deal with Mobius. If he were to be accepted by Mobius, it would only strengthen Raven's power, and they would have to suffer more losses.

Although Ruben was seething with rage, the only thing he could do at that moment was stay calm, control himself, and give Trevor an apologetic smile.

"Raven, you must be kidding. I was just mad. He's not as good as you, but the Sanderson family doesn't want to waste such talent."
