

Chapter 1110 Dangerous Situation At The Airport

Purple Band went through the ladder of success step by step until it became one of the most popular bands in the country. But what people didn't know was that Trevor had contributed a lot to it.

Back then, Purple Band got an opportunity to cooperate with the Sanderson family. And this had happened because of him.

Moreover, Trevor had a good relationship with Alicia, the lead vocalist of Purple Band. And he always believed that she was a reliable person.

He only needed to see Alicia, then he would have a way to deal with the matter.

Trevor suddenly remembered that Elwood once told him, "The most important wealth of the Sanderson family is not money or power, but connections."

He now had a new understanding of this.

Trevor turned to Nelly and said calmly, "Purple Band will arrive at Barlowtown today. I'll go to the airport to greet them. If everything goes well, things will be settled soon."

After saying this, Trevor drove to Barlowtown airport alone.

Indeed, Purple Band was one of the most popular bands in the country. Even though the reputation of Star Film and Television Company was a little worse recently, many fans still went to the airport to welcome the band.

Fortunately, Trevor was physically fit and strong. He managed to squeeze into the front of the crowd.

If he was lucky enough, he could meet Alicia here, and he could get the chance to solve the problem.

After a while, several good-looking people appeared from the airport's exit passageway. They were the members of Purple Band.

A group of professional bodyguards sent by Star Film and Television Company surrounded them to protect them.

Trevor's gaze swept across the crowd, and his eyes lit up at once when he found Alicia. However, he was wearing a mask now. Even if he stood in front of her, she wouldn't recognize him.

Alicia smiled and greeted the fans around her. Everyone cheered enthusiastically.

The fans reached out their hands, trying to shake hands with the members of Purple Band. The atmosphere at the airport was warm and lively.

But at this moment, Trevor noticed something unusual. He couldn't help frowning.

A man wearing a black knitted hat suddenly mixed in with the group of fans. He jumped over the guardrail and the bodyguards, then rushed towards Alicia.

Trevor narrowed his eyes and shouted, "Watch out!"

When Alicia saw the man rushing towards her, she was so startled that she hurriedly took a step back.

"Ah!"

The furtive man shouted some incomprehensible words, raised the bottle of unknown liquid in his hand, and was to pour it on Alicia.

Trevor was taken aback.

He heard a lot of incidents of people using sulfuric acid to hurt and disfigure faces, and he was a little nervous.

For a glamorous singer who was always on the stage, a beautiful face was, of course, very important. It would be a pity if Alicia's face was disfigured.

At the thought of this, Trevor didn't hesitate anymore. He immediately climbed over the guardrail of the airport passage.

He rushed out like a gust of wind and pounced on the suspicious man. He pressed the man to the floor and twisted his arms behind his back.

"Alicia, are you alright?" he asked.

It was only then that the bodyguards came back to their senses. They used their clothes to block the spilled liquid.

According to the preliminary judgment, it was not some dangerous chemical.

"Whew! It scared me to death!" Alicia and the other members of Purple Band were terrified and shocked.

The scene was very chaotic.

After Alicia calmed down a little, she walked over to Trevor and said gratefully, "I'm fine. Thank you so much."

But since she had just been frightened, she had no intention of staying there any longer.

Alicia hurriedly handed a VIP ticket to Trevor and said, "Thank you. I hope you can come to the meet-and-greet event."

After saying this, she turned around and quickly left the scene.

Trevor was stunned for a moment and could only shrug helplessly.

At this moment, he could do nothing but watch the members of Purple Band leave under the protection of the bodyguards.

He looked at the VIP ticket in his hand and saw it had Alicia's signature on it.

Trevor couldn't help shaking his head. It seemed that if he wanted to talk to Alicia alone, he must go to the event.

Chapter 1111 Fight For Seats

On the next day, Purple Band's meet-and-greet event would be held.

Trevor arrived there with the VIP ticket in hand.

There was plenty of room since it was held in a rented exhibition center.

Still, there were so many people that it was hard to move.

Compared to Travis' meet-and-greet event, this one was full of life and energy.

The area outside the venue was packed with people waiting to verify their tickets and enter.

On the other hand, Trevor had a VIP ticket. There was an easier way for him to get to the VIP lounge of the venue.

There was one last open seat in the first row when he arrived. Without a doubt, Trevor decided to take a seat there.

He knew that if he could get closer to Purple Band, he might be able to speak with Alicia.

"Hey, you guys, give your seats to us."

After Trevor took his seat, two individuals walked up to the front of the first row and began shouting orders.

To enter the VIP lounge, one had to be something other than a commoner. However, the expressions of a few of the listeners suddenly shifted as they gazed up at the speaker.

They surrendered their seats and moved to the second row in silence.

Trevor scowled as he saw the two horrible guys approaching him.

"What are you looking at? Get lost." One of the men got pissed off when he noticed Trevor's gaze on him, and he sent him a threatening look. "Move. Let Yana take this seat."

Yana?

Trevor saw a tall woman oblivious to the chaos around her as she played on her phone.

"Why? Do I know you?" Trevor scoffed and flatly rejected the man's demand.

Tickets did not ensure a specific seat, so naturally, first come, first served.

The two guys smirked at the individuals seated on each side of Trevor, then pulled out some money and tossed it to each of them.

They seemed satisfied after accepting the money and immediately turned around to go.

"Humph! Is that clear to you, outlander? Don't you recognize me and my buddy in Barlowtown? You have the nerve to stay here."

Trevor realized that the two were rich guys.

They assumed superiority and acted arrogantly.

Trevor ignored them and just smirked.

Both men stepped arrogantly on the seats, one on each side. "My brother's name is Tommy Duffy, and mine is Freddy Duffy. The rational thing to do is to leave before my father punishes you and makes your life a living hell."

Trevor was on the verge of laughing out loud.

Barlowtown's ruler was Xzavier. Trevor didn't hesitate when he offended Xzavier. Why would he care about these two idiots?

"Get out of my face. I am not in the mood to have you here acting like a fool," Trevor replied disinterestedly.

The expressions on the two brothers' faces twisted. Trevor made them inferior in front of the tall beauty Yana, which made them more annoying.

Freddy came up with an idea. He judged Trevor and commented, "You look like a beggar. Hey! Do you even have the money to buy a VIP ticket, outlander? Don't tell me you just jumped over the wall after purchasing a regular ticket?"

Tommy grasped his sibling's implication and laughed. "In my opinion, this guy probably didn't buy the ticket and sneaked in."

Chapter 1112 The Stolen Ticket

Freddy and Tommy echoed each other, intending to embarrass Trevor.

"I'm ashamed to sit with you!" Freddy screamed.

Tommy also said, "Yes! Get out! Get out of here! I feel suffocated sitting next to you."

Freddy turned to the people around him and said, "Friends, let's kick this guy out. Such a person can't sit here. I feel disgusted being close to him."

Trevor sneered upon hearing this.

Were they questioning the authenticity of his ticket? He felt the need to show them his ticket.

"Shut up! I feel embarrassed for you for what you just said." Trevor took out the VIP ticket given to him by Alicia. "Look clearly. This is my ticket. So, shut the hell up!"

Freddy and Tommy grew speechless at the sight of the ticket in Trevor's hand. They couldn't think of any good reason to drive him away.

The tall, beautiful woman named Yana, whom they had been trying to cozy up to, was beside them. They felt humiliated in front of the beauty.

The two brothers looked at each other shamefacedly.

"Wow! The ticket has Alicia's signature! Even the rich find it hard to get a ticket signed by her." This was said by someone who happened to recognize the signature on the VIP ticket.

"What? Alicia's signature?"

Yana, who had been pretending to play with her phone, immediately raised her head and stared at the ticket in Trevor's hand.

"I want the ticket. Alicia is my idol. I want her signature," Yana said in a bratty tone to the two brothers.

Freddy and Tommy looked at each other and discussed in a low voice.

If they hadn't just slandered Trevor, it might have been possible to buy it from him, but they had lost that chance. However, Freddy thought up a plan.

"Oh, shit! That's mine. You stole my ticket," Freddy said, lying through his teeth.

Tommy echoed, "Yes! My brother bought a ticket with Alicia's signature yesterday. He was going to give it to you, Yana. However, we couldn't find the ticket. It turns out this guy stole it."

Trevor frowned upon hearing this. The brothers were starting to piss him off.

They were confident no one could prove Trevor's innocence as he came to the party alone.

They thought he would yield because of their family background, hand over the ticket to them, and flee in shame amidst the taunts of the crowd.

Freddy laughed smugly as he imagined this.

He said, "You can all clearly see that this guy is a thief. Be careful with your belongings around him. Aren't you all afraid of being around him? I want him out of here."

The people around weren't sure what was going on, but some of them knew how powerful the Duffy family was in Barlowtown, so they began to scream at Trevor. "Get out of here! You can't sit here!"

More people began to join in, screaming for Trevor to leave.

Suddenly, the audience burst into cheers.

Purple Band appeared.

Due to the large number of people surrounding Trevor, the attention of the band was diverted to him.

Alice recognized Trevor from afar. She ran to him and shook his hand excitedly.

"I couldn't properly thank you yesterday because I was in a hurry. I could only give you the ticket I signed. Thank you for your support and for looking out for me yesterday," she said in a sincere tone.

The facial expressions of Tommy and Freddy changed dramatically.

Alicia's words just exposed their lies.

Trevor looked at the two brothers, contempt evident in his look.

The two brothers blushed in shame.

They were afraid Trevor would expose them as liars in the presence of their idol.

If that happened, the Duffy family would have its name dragged through the mud by their behavior.

They fled toward the exit in fear.

The laughter of the people around them followed them as they fled.