

Chapter 1153 Xzavier In Jail

Trevor nodded at Geraldo.

The news spread after they escorted Xzavier to prison.

Her father was arrested and was in jail?

Caitlin thought she had misheard when she received the news.

"No way! It can't be! My father is a big shot in the entertainment industry! Everyone in Barlowtown could be in prison, but not my father!" Caitlin screamed into the phone.

But the person at the other end of the line coldly informed her that she could come to prison to bring her father some necessities and then hung up.

"No, no, no! This is impossible!" Caitlin continued to scream, panicking

All of it had happened so fast that she didn't even know why her father had been arrested.

"Yes. I need to contact the best lawyer there is. My father will be fine!" Caitlin said agitatedly, running a hand over her forehead to calm herself down.

Since her father had run a big company in the city for so many years, there was no doubt that the most famous law office in Barlowtown would do her family a favor.

Caitlin made up her mind and rushed to the prison. When she arrived, she found Trevor coming out. He seemed to be in a particularly good mood.

"Levi!" Caitlin exclaimed, her eyes widening as she saw Trevor and Geraldo, the squad leader in military uniform.

"You set my father up! How dare you put my father in prison just to take revenge on me, Levi?"

Trevor was taken aback at this outburst at first, but he recovered soon enough and sneered, "Do you think you're worth all that effort, Caitlin? Revenge on you? You don't deserve it!"

Caitlin's hands came up to her hips. "Bullshit! I admit that I don't know how you set my father up. But don't think your little trick will work! You know nothing about my family's influence! I only have to make one request and the best lawyer in Barlowtown will easily get my father out. You will be the one in jail then!"

Trevor smiled and patted Geraldo on the shoulder.

Caitlin thought that he had pulled strings to put Xzavier in prison. She didn't know that Xzavier deserved it.

Trevor stared strangely at Caitlin, curious as to how she had the confidence to bail Xzavier out.

Just then, a black Mercedes-Benz rolled up to the curb.

A young lawyer in a suit and leather shoes got out and greeted Caitlin with a smile. "Caitlin! It's been a while. You've become more beautiful."

The man ignored Trevor and Geraldo as he walked quickly to Caitlin.

Caitlin's eyes lit up at the sight of the young lawyer. She warmly shook hands with him and said, "Elber, hey! Thank you for coming today."

Caitlin scratched his palm with her finger and winked flirtatiously at him.

Elber Thompson stared at Caitlin, unable to take his eyes off her. At this moment, he would do anything to help her, let alone provide legal services.

Caitlin took Elber's arm and introduced him to Trevor rather proudly. "This is Elber Thompson, the most famous lawyer in Barlowtown. He is so young and already so successful! Your schemes are doomed to fail, Levi."

Elber became excited. He looked at Trevor, straightened his tie, and raised his chin arrogantly as he said, "Did you set my client up? Now watch what I do. You are unlucky to be my opponent. I have a 90%

Chapter 1154 Bail Xzavier Out

"Bail Xzavier out? Let's see about that," Trevor sneered.

Elber had the nerve to talk nonsense as he knew nothing of the case.

Little did he know that Xzavier was involved in a deal with Mobius. His crime was not as simple as murder.

He sponsored terrorists and endangered national security.

If a felon like him was released on bail, Klein, too, would be dismissed on the spot.

Elber and Caitlin did not seem to have any idea what they were doing. Both of them were arrogant and acted as if they could do anything with their names and status.

"I'm Xzavier Sanderson's lawyer. I want to see my litigant," Elber said to a security personnel.

The personnel looked up at Elber and Caitlin and then glanced at Trevor and Geraldo.

"I'm afraid you can't do that," he replied coldly.

The smile on Elber's face froze. He could not believe that someone could turn down his request just like that.

"Didn't you hear what I said? I said I'm Elber Thompson, Xzavier Sanderson's lawyer. I would like to speak with my client."

The personnel, however, remained unimpressed.

"I heard you loud and clear. Again, I cannot let you in. You can't see Xzavier now!"

Caitlin walked over to the personnel and introduced herself in hopes that he would take pity on her. "I'm Xzavier's daughter. I'd like to see my father."

The personnel glanced at her. "Just put the goods you've brought for your father on the desk. I'll have them checked later."

Caitlin's face changed dramatically. "What do you mean? I said I want to see my father! Did Levi bribe you? I'll tell you what. If you don't let me see my father, I'll throw you in jail too!"

Elber chimed in, "Do you know who I am? I'm Elber Thompson, the most renowned lawyer in Barlowtown. Do not provoke me. Let us see Xzavier. Now!"

Trevor raised his eyebrows in amusement.

On the other hand, Geraldo could no longer stand the impudence of the two. With a glum expression, he walked over to them, grabbed Elber's suit, and muttered, "Come with me."

"What the hell?" Elber exclaimed in panic. "Do you know who I am? Don't fucking touch me!"

Geraldo paid no attention to Elber's protests and dragged him to the corner.

Then, he fished out his ID from his pocket and showed it to Elber.

"You want to bail out a felon suspected of endangering national security. You're probably his confederate."

In an instant, Elber's legs gave out, and a look of horror flashed across his face.

Xzavier endangered national security?

If that was the case, he could not be bailed.

Elber's body trembled like a leaf in shock. "No, I'm not... It's just a misunderstanding. I didn't know that!"

As soon as he said these words, he ran away and hurriedly jumped into his car.

"Elber! Elber! Where are you going? Hey! Come back!" Caitlin stamped her feet in frustration as she watched Elber run away without saying anything to her.

Although he was pursuing Caitlin, Elber did not care about her right now. With trembling hands, he tried starting the engine but only managed to do so after two tries. Once the engine was running, he drove away without looking back.

Trevor crossed his arms on his chest and teasingly said, "Caitlin, it appears that your suitor cares more about himself than you. Not all lawyers are brave and selfless."

Caitlin recalled Elber's promise that he would get her father out of jail. Obviously, he failed to keep his promise, which deeply disappointed her.

In anger, she stamped her feet again and poured all her grievances to Trevor.

"Levi! Don't think that you've won. Let's wait and see. I believe that there's nothing Sanderson family can't do in Barlowtown. Mark my words. I will bail my father out!"

Chapter 1155 Desperate Measures

As soon as she returned home, Caitlin slumped on the sofa in the living room and lashed out.

"Elber, that jerk! He just left me there without saying anything!

And Levi... That son of a bitch!"

Pulling her hair out, Caitlin tried to calm herself. She still had to find a way to bail her father out of prison.

Until that moment, she still didn't know why her father was arrested.

"Did the killer fail to kill Levi and betrayed Dad?"

When the image of that creepy bald killer flashed in her mind, Caitlin shuddered.

"No, it can't be. Even if the killer failed and confessed to the deal, it wouldn't be enough evidence to arrest Dad."

Caitlin was confident about that.

She believed in his father's status in Barlowtown.

The police wouldn't arrest him for the murder if there were no concrete evidence to convict him.

"I have to bail out Dad first." Caitlin gritted her teeth.

"Probably it was because I didn't give them money, so they didn't let me get near Dad. If I go back and bribe them, they will surely let me see my dad. Once Dad gets out, everything will be return to normal."

With a newfound resolve, Caitlin immediately contacted the company's finance staff and asked for money. However, she was rejected.

"I'm sorry, but the company is currently short on funds. I'm afraid we won't be able to produce that amount of money."

Caitlin was stunned. She had no idea that his father's company had become nothing more than an empty shell.

"What? No! That's impossible!"

Caitlin was in urgent need of money. If she couldn't get any from the company, she must raise it elsewhere as soon as possible.

After a while, she finally came up with an idea. She would use the new movie to raise funds.

Caitlin wasted no time in contacting Gerard Burke, the director of the new movie.

Gerard was a renowned director globally.

Xzavier knew that Gerard and Asho were rivals, so he spent a lot of money to have Gerard work with them.

"Gerard, I need you to make a promotional video for the movie within the day. I want to use it for the next stage of the film financing meeting." Caitlin didn't beat around the bush.

She was now fully aware of the situation after reading the company's accounts, so she must do something.

This was a gamble.

The company's remaining funds were only enough to hold a financing meeting.

If she succeeded on getting funds for the movie, she might be able to keep Star Film and Television Company afloat for a while.

But if she lost...

No, she couldn't lose! Losing wasn't an option! She must see make this work no matter what.

Gerard was taken aback by Caitlin's request. "What? Within the day? But that's not enough time to produce a high-quality promotional video."

Caitlin yelled, "I don't care! You have to make it happen. I need the promotional video by tomorrow. It's urgent!"

Gerard had no choice but to concede and gather his team to find a way to fulfil Caitlin's request.

The next day, the promotional video was ready.

Star Film and Television Company released the promotional video of the new film on all online social platforms, and it attracted a lot of attention and discussion among Internet users.

The video also reached Trevor's attention.

"For financing?" Trevor snickered.

Star Film and Television Company must be having serious problems with funding.

"That woman is quite brazen." Trevor shook his head amusingly and went to meet Asho.

If only Caitlin behaved herself, her father's company might be able to hold out for a while. But she didn't.

The moment he arrived at Barlowtown, Trevor vowed to destroy Xzavier's business empire, and he intend to succeed.

"What do you think of this promotional video? Aren't you going to challenge them?" Trevor asked with a smile. "I remember their director is your rival."

Asho flashed a complacent smile. "I'll take care of it."
