

Chapter 923 Wild Ambition

The members of the Sanderson family were all shocked.

Everything happened too fast. It took no more than two minutes from Rudolph smashing the glass to being captured.

The sudden change in the situation made many people's faces pale with fright. Some still didn't understand what had happened just now.

The Shadow Guards quickly tied up Rudolph and Isaias with ropes and threw them on the chairs.

Trevor couldn't help but glance at the Shadow Guards. His eyes narrowed slightly.

The Shadow Guards were extraordinary. The one who pretended as a waiter grabbed the grenade from Rudolph too fast just now. Even Bradly could not do it so decisively.

One of Rudolph's arms was twisted and dislocated, and his shoulders drooped. He looked extremely miserable.

Isaias' state was even more miserable. With snot and tears, he cried desperately, "I'm dying... Help me... Please..."

Rudolph's face was full of despair and resentment. "Shut up! You are such a loser! If you were not a drag on me, I would have achieved my goal."

Now that Rudolph and Isaias were both in a mess, Trevor shook his head and sneered.

"Rudolph, Isaias, you are hopeless. How could you come up with such a vicious method as adding dangerous radioactive substances into the wine? Fortunately, we discovered it ahead of time. Otherwise, the important members of the Sanderson family would have died or been seriously injured today."

As soon as Trevor said this, there was an uproar in the banquet hall.

Trevor continued, "As for your men in the house in the southern suburbs, they have been subdued."

Elwood straightened his back, looked at Rudolph, and said harshly, "Rudolph, I have treated you as my own son over the past decades. I was good to you. I gave you identity, wealth, and connections. Why did you still do this thing? You poisoned the wine at the banquet to destroy the Sanderson family."

Rudolph sat on the chair with a gloomy face.

He was silent for a long time. Then he said viciously, "You want to know why I did this? I also want to ask you why. When it comes to means, temperament, and vision, I'm no worse than Ronald in every aspect. But why did you appoint him as the heir of the Sanderson family? Only because he is your biological son and I'm not? I'm not convinced."

Elwood sighed deeply, bent his waist, and said disappointedly, "You have a wild ambition, and that makes you unqualified to inherit the position as the head of the Sanderson family. Rudolph, to tell you the truth, I am very disappointed in you."

After saying this, Elwood waved his hand wearily and said to the Shadow Guards, "Drag them down and punish them according to the harshest family rule."

The man who pretended as a waiter nodded and dragged Rudolph and Isaias out.

However, before Rudolph was dragged away, he turned to Elwood with a ferocious expression and threatened, "Just wait and see. Your end is coming soon. Even without me, the Sanderson family is destined to decline soon. You are all idiots."

"Shut up!"

Before Rudolph could finish his words, he was punched hard in the stomach by a Shadow Guard. He immediately curled up in pain, unable to speak.

Trevor turned his head to the side and saw a tattoo on the wrist of the Shadow Guard that was exposed unintentionally. Only a part of the tattoo was visible, and most of it was hidden in his sleeve and glove, making it difficult for Trevor to see the whole picture.

But still, Trevor vaguely felt the tattoo looked familiar. He couldn't help frowning.

He was trying to recall it when he suddenly heard Elwood sigh.

"This is all my fault. I took the wrong person into our family, bringing disaster in the end. Fortunately, my grandson is clever and capable enough to expose the conspiracy in advance. Otherwise, I can't imagine the consequences."