

Marriage To The Mafia Boss -

. Chapter 11 - The Man Corporation

Vito is arriving in his office. He just bought a skyscraper in the downtown of C city. As soon as his car with all his security staff in front and back of his car. all his executives are standing on the lobby and welcoming him.

Max is coming down from the driver seat and open the door for his boss. Vito is putting his long leg out with his impeccable perfectly designer business suit on his body. He only can wear organic cotton and wool on his body and his personal designer house understand his special order.

He is walking inside the office building when everyone bowing to him. as he enters the building, the executives are following him from the back. The first agenda on every morning is morning meeting with the big boss.

Vito is taking over the company from his father, Don Mancuso, the notorious mafia in the whole world. he is also the most wanted person by the law enforcement. Vito still remembers his childhood when he needs to hide in the family compound. His mother also become the victim of his father ultimate power.

This time, he turns all his family business into the legal entity with the separation into the underworld management. He is holding ultimate power within his organization and building the legal entity on his hand under the Mancuso family in C country. The Man Corporation establish within decade under his cold management and strive into the top of the world. He combines his management style with his ruthless mafia style to make his company position strive to number one in the whole world. He banned all his family member and branches under his subsidiary of Mancuso family to change into legal and avoid crossing into the law enforcement radar.

He has a good relationship with the law enforcement to actually destroy the whole criminality of the underworld. Even he still dealing with the illegal entity, but he is not doing it in open. He needs to become smart and bring his family business into open air.

He is entering the big room and connect to Andrea in the big screen. He still warps up all the business entity before he will join in C Country with Vito.

‘Speak... what is the report for today?’ Vito is speaking with his cold and stern voice.

‘Buon Giorno (Good Morning) boss.... Do you know time different between Sicily and C Country? You have to pay my overtime, my friend,’ Andrea is yawning in front of the camera. The executive wants to laugh to see their boss consigliere, but no one dare to laugh in front of their big boss.

‘Are you dead serious for billing me with your overtime? Do you want me to pick all on the list when you waste the working hour to do your private business?’ Vito is telling him expressionless.

‘Boss... I am sorry and I was wrong....’ Andrea is telling him after he choke on the coffee inside his mouth after hearing the remark from his boss.

‘What is the update of the handover? When are you going to move here? Are still get attaches with your love interest? Have you meet him?’ Vito is asking him for the timeline. He has to come and join him in this country so he can put his mind into his new wife.

‘Boss, I am almost ready with my priest certificate from Vatican.... They give me a good report and recommendation... My love for God is immersed and big,’ Andrea is making a cross sign in front of his boss. All the executives want to cry to see their boss famous ruthless and notorious consigliere tries to become priest with his love to the God.

Out of sudden, Max is approaching Vito with a folder which he handed it to Vito. He is whispering something to his ear which make Vito expression get darker by the minute.

‘What is wrong with Luciarno, Andrea? I got report from the law enforcement in A country about his movement to smuggle the children for prostitution?’ Vito is reading the file in front of him.

‘That old fox... He won’t listen to us anymore. I am the one who make his shipment busted earlier this morning. Let the police deal with him...’ Andrea is reporting to the big boss.

‘I will talk to you later... stay on the line to listen about the operation,’ Vito instructs his loyal right hand to stay tune with the operational and project report.

All the executives are taking turn to report the project one by one as expected when Vito closed his eyes to listens.

‘What are the deeds with the acquisition of the Qing University project? I want it now since last night,’ Vito is opening his eyes while resting his face into his hand and give them all the sharp stare.

‘We are already making offers with the Qing family to buy the university double the price. We are waiting for their signature in the contract,’ Jin Feng, the head of financial in Man Corporation report to the big boss.

‘I am waiting until the end of the day before all of you will receive severe punishment from me with your incompetent way of dealing. I am already nice by buying the entity twice the market price, yet they are making it harder,’ Vito is saying to them. All of the executives want to pit blood to hear his unbelievable request. Their speculation is the Qing family making the wrong move to offence their big boss or he just want to add to his portfolio.

No one knows their boss want to buy the hospital because of his new wife. He wants to make sure his wife has proper footing in the field with his back up.

‘Finish the meeting and I want Ji Feng and Andrea to be connected to my office...’ Vito is standing up and walking to his office. He is occupying the whole floor on the top with the secretary and his general administration office. Ai Jia and Max office are close to Vito office to help him with all the thing necessary for their boss. The office can’t be access without special key card issues for certain people work in the floor.. They all have to get background check and screening with impeccable record to be able working on Vito’s office floor and a male.
