

Marriage To The Mafia Boss

Chapter 115 - The Crazy Sun An

On other hand, they are in deep sorrow to find about their son mental illness which can hurt other people.

They are in deep contemplation of their son behaviour. Grandfather Sun also have a little guilty and remorseful feeling toward his grandson.

But his hand is tight with all the regulations set by their ancestor. Grandfather Sun even need to do harder tests and training back in the day.

Grandfather Sun is getting back to the view of Vito's trying to straggle his cousin for touching his wife.

Vito is not wrong one hundred per cent when Sun An is the first person who is offended him.

"Do not taint your hand with his blood. He is still your cousin," Grandfather Sun is reprimanding Vito to release Sun An from his hand.

"What do you mean by that grandfather?" Sun An is gobsmacked to hear his grandfather comment. But deep down in his heart, he did not care about the other feeling or thinking.

"You brat! Can you respect your cousin-in-law?" Grandfather Sun is telling him the truth regarding his indecent behaviour.

"Fine! I was teasing my dear short temper cousin. I just play around with my whole family. Where is all of your sense of humour?" Sun An is trying to release himself from his cousin tight grip.

Jack did not dare to interfere with the lord of darkness wrath upon Sun An. Jack will be angry if anyone touches his wife.

"Honey, Let's go to the room. leave him alone," Emma is nudging her angry husband. She did not want him to taint his hand for someone unnecessary death.

Vito is getting softer to hear his wife voice to ask him. He is releasing his stupid cousin. Vito did not yield forever but he will be lurking around for the perfect timing to kill him.

He is retreating to their bedroom after the confrontation. Vito is not feeling contempt for his cousin behaviour.

"DO not be angry for something like that. He is not worthy of your energy," Emma is trying to coax her angry husband.

"I know but it is not easy to shake off my anger. Go to sleep first and I will join you after I finished some of my work," Vito is telling her after carrying her in his arm.

"Actually, I am so scared when he starts to get closed to me. I can't refuse him as your family relationship," Emma is putting her arm on his neck. She can see his handsome angry face.

"Next time, you do not need to take my family relationship into account. I will back you up no matter the outcome," Vito is caressing her face after putting her down on the bed.

"Are you trying to spoil me, my dear husband?" Emma is stealing a peck of kisses toward her husband.

"I will always spoil you until the afterlife. No one can touch you except me," Vito is kissing her so passionately and entangled her body.

He is trapped in her love enchanted and engulfed in her deepest desire. He will do his work and revenge in the morning. At least, he is giving him time for their family relationship's sake.

Emma's allurements on the bed makes Vito lose all his mind. His body is enchanted by her desire, and he is engulfed and drowning in her love.

Sun An is leaving the Lin Mansion not long after the Vito retreats to the bedroom. He is smiling cunningly toward his cousin.

"You are not changing, A Man. Now, I found out about your Achilles heel. She is not bad, and she smells delicious," Sun An is licking his lips. He is talking to the mirror inside his car.

He drove back to the An mansion to check into her two women. He is opening the master room to find Mimi. She is naked with the dog collar on her neck sit down on the floor.

Sun An is caressing his hair before taking a leash to attach to her collar. She is waiting for him without any expression or soul in her facial expression.

"I will take you to walk around the house. Come around," Sun An is taking her around the house. He is really in a good mood after provoking his cousin.

"Wait for a second! Something is missing," he is going back to the special drawer and getting a shiny toy with a long tail with fur attached to it.

Sun An is putting the butt plug into Mimi who feels pain and uncomfortable in her body. But she can't say anything as if she lost her voice.

Mimi is screaming for help inside her body, but nothing come out of her mouth. The only thing that comes out is her tear.

Sun An is dragging her leash when she did not have any choice rather than crawling with him around the house as an animal.

The butler feels pity for this young lady who looks really broken up due to the torture from their young master.

Apparently, the butler phone is vibrating for notification. He is checking the message before approaching his young master who is in a happy mood to play with the naked Mimi.

"Young master, I need to take a couple of days off. Please give me some day off. There is some family emergency," The butler is asking for a day off to take care of some lead into his master.

"Go! I am really magnanimous today. I do not need anything," Sun An is dismissing his butler.

The butler is expressing his gratitude as if he is really taking care of his family emergency.

He is going back to his room to change into his casual clothes and baseball cap. He is going into the car and to the outskirts of the C city on another side of the town.

Butler Jiang is meeting with his informant who tells him about Mister Sun Quan. He is being held captive in this medical centre outskirts of the C city with guards watching him all the time.

He has been put down as a comma and bedridden at the request of the young master. Butler Jiang can't contain his anger for his unfilial son for his master suffering.

His informant takes him to the medical centre to see Sun Quan condition. They are going inside the facility as nurses and manage to sneak inside Master Sun's room.

Butler Jiang is asking the informant with the real nurse to change his IV into the real normal solution to flush the medication. Butler Jiang is spending his saving to pay for his master to get saved from the hand of his own son.

Butler Jiang is taking picture of his master condition. He is using his own money to pay for his master to get the real treatment.

He feels pity for his master to get really bad treatment from his own blood. He did not deserve to get treated like this after raising him with a luxurious life.

Butler Jiang serves his master when they just get married. He is well aware of his master condition and pledges his loyalty to his master and their family.

He has already sworn in the oath to be with his master until the death separate them when he can be retired. The Sun family is a descendant of the royal family way back in the C country before they are well established as a triad family.

They are still holding up the value and everything relate to the law and regulation that lay and build the nation.

Master Sun Quan does not deserve to treat like this. Butler Jiang is having a broken heart to see his condition.

He is going back to the Sun mansion to keep business as usual without alerting the enemy. He needs to check with the old master Sun regarding his authority to intervene in this matter.

However, he needs to be careful to proceed with every step as the enemy is the young master of the family.

If he is taking the wrong turn then the result will be bad, and it will result in the doom of his master life. At the moment, his master life already hangs in the tread because of his own son.

Sun An is having his delusional with Mimi as usual. Butler Jiang has managed the house daily life as usual and checked the life of the young lady who arrives at the house yesterday.

She is waking up in the morning and puzzled by the surrounding environment. The nurse has nursed her with the doctor checked the latest condition from Lu Xi.

"Young master, what do you want me to do with the young lady?"

Butler Jiang is asking Sun An politely even though deep down he is feeling disgusted with all his crazy acts.

"is she wakes up?" Sun An is still playing catch the ball with Mimi.. She is following all his command and turn as his animal pet by acting like one of them.
