'Andrea, please let's go to fix this problem rather than the big boss gets his hand into this matter,' Ai Jia got his nerves to break down in front of the chapel.

'If you are not shut up then I will be going to kill you myself. I am going to pray first for my own solace and I want my life to be in peace and the world,' Andrea is smiling at his work friend while he turns his body again to kneel and pray to the cross in front of the chapel. He finishes and the priest is coming and gives him the holy water before he left with Ai Jia.

‘Are you sure to meet with the old Sun in his house ? He only wants to meet with the boss and no one else,’ Ai Jia is telling his colleague while following him to outside the hospital to their car.

‘Can you just shut up for once ? I will bear all the consequences,’ Andrea is telling him before he put his head on the headrest. He puts his earbuds to hear the comforting opera music for the church.

If he still not has his conscience to be loyal to Vito then he will be a priest himself as he already finishes his school to be a priest from Vatican City. He will be guided by the direct line from the pope.

They arrive at the oldest area in the C city into the house which got the traditional building as the style. They got the body check and because of Vito identity, they manage to come inside the house.

They are sitting in the common area which still got the traditional way of architecture. Andrea is opening the button on his jacket and sit down on the floor. Ai Jia is following his lead and sit there with his head down. No one knows the almighty Don Vito assistant is really timid.

The old man with the stick in his hand is arriving in the room when Andrea bows down on the floor to respect the old man. He sits down on his chair before Andrea dares to put his body in the upright position.

‘tell that bastard grandson to come and visit his old man. I know that I am his maternal grandfather, but he lives in this country, and he needs to respect me,’ Old man Sun is talking to them with his angry tone. There is an aura of a wise man on his expression.

‘I will as soon as he finishes on his honeymoon phase, grandfather Sun. I will drag him back to your feet when you can beat him up with your stick,’ Andrea is assuring his boss grandfather to make him happy.

‘He is on his honeymoon? When did he get married? Finally, I was thinking my grandson turn gay,’ Grandfather Sun is laughing with happiness to hear his grandson get married.

‘He is getting married four days ago. They just get it in the civil bureau, and they left to do their usual work,’ Ai Jia is reporting to Mr Sun. he is getting a little bit shock to find out the head of the underworld in the whole Asia, Mr Sun Yee Hon is the grandfather of the head of Mancuso family.

‘Is he married with the girl from the Lin family?’ Grandfather Sun is asking his grandson assistant.

‘Yes, he is marrying Madame Emma Lin.’ Ai Jia explains clearly to Grandfather Sun.

‘Good... I can’t wait to see a great-grandchild soon. Now, what is bringing you here?’ Grandfather Sun mood start to elevate after hearing about his beloved grandson get married and working hard to give him a grandson.

‘I am going to ask your help to find this person. He seems familiar and he tries to frame your granddaughter-in-law,’ Andrea is giving the video on the tablet toward the grandfather Sun. He looks at the video when his facial expression changes darker.

‘Get the Sun Tian Ming to come here!’ He taps his walking stick to get his cousin to come and see him.

It did not take a long time for an old man to come to this room with sweat on his temple on the forehead. He is an old fat guy who walks into the room with his dragon silk shirt on his chubby body.

‘Cousin, what happens? Your subordinates try to harass me,’ Sun Tian Ming is wiping the sweat with his handkerchief.

‘What is your son doing in this video? I have told you so many times to avoid the problem,’ Grandfather Sun is handing over the tablet to his stupid cousin who always makes problems in society and law. He thinks bearing the family name Sun can give him the privilege to outlaw every legal regulation in this country.

‘Old Sun... I really do not know all his doing. Maybe he is going to the hospital?’ Sun Tian Ming is making excuse in front of his cousin. He becomes so scary when he interrogates someone. The only person got the same temper as his cousin is his grandson, Vito.

‘Are you sure? If I find out your son initiate something to make his nephew-in-law suffer even a strain of her hair turns white. I will make sure to skin him alive myself,’ Grandfather Sun is putting pressure on every word he just said to his stupid cousin. He can see the scared and timid expression after he blackmails him with his word. In his family and the bottom rule, no family member attacks their family member. He will punish them with the heaviest punishment in the family book law.. It is to keep the family harmony in place.
