

Marriage To The Mafia Boss -

. Chapter 62 - Vito Decision To Move Emma Grandmother

‘Get her some Carbatrol [1]. Quick!’ Vito is instructing his cousin while he holds Grandmother Lin feet to stop her body from moving harder. The nurses are coming to assist them and another nurse is coming with the medication in the boxes when Wen Liang get it from her hand and inject it into her IV system. The medication works like charm and it makes the seizures stop. Vito told Wen Liang to check and examine Madame Lin condition.

‘Nurse, she needs to get a CT scan now. Can you call the imaging department to put her as an emergency?’ Wen Liang is requesting the nurse to book the CT scan for Emma’s grandmother. She is nodding and get to the nurse station to book her the CT scan.

Li Wen Liang with Emma is preparing grandmother to get her CT scan. Wen Liang is changing the bag where it is connecting to her brain. The amount of fluid that comes out of her brain makes it really distressing. They are going to wheel Grandmother Lin to the radiology room when Lin Yan manages to hold Emma’s arm.

‘Sister, how about grandmother? Why are they not letting us know anything about Grandmother Lin?’ Lin Yan is acting to be pity in front of Emma.

‘She is right. They are holding all the information from her. She has waiting for the whole night,’ Luo Han Zheng is talking to back her up.

‘What an ideal couple’ Emma thinks deep down inside her heart to see both of them.

‘Grandmother is in critical condition. Thank you for saving her last night and I need to get her into the operation again. You need to rest at home,’ Emma is turning around and go to catch her grandmother. Vito is standing not too far from his wife just in case if she got attacked by them.

Emma is finding her husband standing not far from her and walk toward him. He eloped her with his arm and take her toward the radiology room.

They are waiting in the small room with the professor of radiology to show her grandmother the result. There is a build-up fluid on her brain which give a stressor to her brain. They have to put the shunt on her brain to get all the fluid out from the brain. At least, her life condition gets almost normal with this procedure.

However, the only person in this country that able to perform the surgery with a 98% survival rate is treating another patient. The other person is the king of neurosurgeons who wandering all over the world. No one knows about his or her whereabouts. The only person who manages to contact

Emma looks so worried as her grandmother need to have surgery to avoid other seizures. Wen Liang is calling the nurse in ICU to get them to the operation room. Emma is going to her grandmother with her worrisome facial expression.

‘Bro, this time you have to do this. Do you want me to call Chu Xi and the team to come here to assist you?’ Wen Liang is asking his cousin.

‘You have to make this a secret from anyone. Get the team on the Man hospital ready with their operation theatre and the newest shunt device from the Man healthcare to be ready. Get the medivac to transport grandmother with a helicopter,’ Vito is telling his cousin to do the operation in their hospital.

Vito is a genius neurosurgeon. He finished medical school on his twenty with his business degree. He manages to become the youngest medical professor in neurosurgeon and become the best neurosurgeon in the world. However, his responsibility and real job force him to resign as a neurosurgeon and did dome operation when Wen Liang present the case to him or in the complicated case.

This is the main reason for his decision to change the Mancuso objective and goals to become a legit business. He still has his humanitarian inside his head.

Wen Liang is going inside the radiology room and inform Emma about the decision to move Madame Lin to the Man hospital. Wen Liang is explaining that her grandmother needs to be put shunt on her brain for the hydrocephalus treatment. The only two-person in the country can perform this operation is Professor Lim which already handle patient inside the operation theatre and Professor Man in the Man Hospital. It is up to Emma for the decision, and they will respect her for the decision.

Vito is going outside to pick up his phone. The name on the phone seems familiar to him when it has been a long time. Qin Yi Yue names flash out on the screen.

'what does she want this time after a long time?' Vito looks at the screen flashing with her name before he decides to press the green button.

'Vito speaking!' he walked outside the radiology room and answer the phone for someone he really familiar with.

'Brother Man, where are you? I am at your mansion, and it is empty. Can I talk with you?' She is asking him over the phone.

‘Why are you coming back? Was it not enough for you and your parent the empty cheque?’ Vito is responding to her plea to meet him. He got agitated as soon as he hears her soft voice again.

‘I manage to leave my parent and get on my feet. I want to return your empty cheque. Can we meet up?’ Yi Yue is begging him on the phone.

‘I am having a big operation soon. I do not have time to meet you,’ Vito is closing his phone at the same time he spots his wife comes out from the radiology room. They are going to bring Grandmother Lin to the rooftops. The helicopter medivac from the Man hospital already on the roof to bring Madame Lin to the Man private hospital on another side of the C city.
