

Marriage To The Mafia Boss -

. Chapter 65 - The Angry Emma

Vito is putting down his food and wipe it down his mouth. He is standing up and walking into the bathroom to take shower and change into the scrub uniform. Meanwhile, Wen Liang is going to assist his cousin as usual with some fellow neurosurgeon. No one can make any mistake in Vito surgery.

After Vito come out with his scrub uniform, Emma already finishes her cleaning up. She is going to the bathroom to wash her face and brush her teeth. She is coming out still in her clothes.

‘Is there any waiting room or area to oversee the operation room for class?’ Emma is asking him with a cold tone. Her mind is really in a mess at the moment, and she is really not able to absorb any learning at this stage.

‘You can wait in my office, and I tell Ai Jia to set up the tv to stream into our operation theatre,’ Vito is answering his wife request. He needs to confirm something with his noisy cousin.

‘Thank you. Please save grandmother,’ Emma is giving out her encouragement to support his husband. She is sitting on the sofa and playing with her phone before Ai Jia is knocking and entering the room.

Emma’s phone is ringing with some random number from the C city. Emma is thinking and answers it out of courtesy.

‘Emma Lin is speaking,’ She is using her polite intonation on her phone.

‘Are you Luo Han Zheng ex-fiancée?’ the weird mechanic voice on the other side is asking her. this is the first time; she has answered a machine-made call.

‘Yes,’ Emma answers the question as to the fact of her relationship with him.

‘Stay away from him or you will not alive!’ the voice gives out their reminder before disconnecting the phone. Emma is really amused with the number of people who love Luo Han Zheng.

‘Madame, is something bothering you?’ Ai Jia is asking her politely. He is well aware of this empress in front of him as the apple of the big boss eyes. He can’t make her sad or angry to avoid the emperor wrath.

She is really in the dark about the number of women getting crazy with Luo Han Zheng. She was oblivious in her previous life or blind to her love toward him. In this life, she has to be firm and keep her heart toward herself. She will not be blinded with love any longer.

The operation of her grandmother proceeds smoothly from the video stream into the television. Vito did all the procedures in a smooth and quick manner. The normal time to put in the shunt can be one hour thirty minutes. But Vito manages to finish all the surgery before the time limit and her grandmother shows stabilize the condition in the ICU.

Emma feels relieved to find out about her grandmother's condition. She is asking Ai Jia to escort her toward the ICU room. She is changing into a scrub uniform and stays next to her grandmother the whole time. She puts her head down and sleeps on the side of her grandmother's hand.

'Cuz, you have to pacify your wife. She saw you hugging Yi Yue earlier and hide it from you,' Wen Liang is reporting to his cousin about the incident earlier.

'I know. I deal with her in a bit. Can you stay with Grandmother Lin and let me know if something changes? Tomorrow, she's supposed to be woken up and tell Chu Xi to wean her from the ventilator. I want to get another CT scan for her, and she can be moved to normal VIP ward,' Vito is instructing his cousin.

‘Do you tell me to do my on-call shift again? I am the hospital director and I have my own patient. Do you think about my sake?’ Wen Liang is complaining about the ongoing job.

‘You do not want it. Fine, resign your post as Hospital director and walk out from Man hospital. Chu Xi can handle your post as management, and She will take care of grandmother Lin. You can go back home and spent time with aunty,’ Vito is informing him about his decision. Vito is well aware that Wen Liang hates to spend time with her mother. She will keep nagging him about his marriage after the last divorce.

Wen Liang is a widower from the divorce imposed by her mother. She is using every nook and crane to remove his wife. Wen Liang still feels remorse for his wife condition upon the divorce. His mother did not let her bring anything and let Wen Liang give a penny from his account. Wen Liang needs to ask help from his cousin to give some settlement money to his ex-wife.

‘I will do it. If I die from overtired, I will haunt you,’ Wen Liang did not have any choice rather than to work on his cousin instruction.

Vito smirks and carries his wife on his arm. He brings her to his room which is connecting to his private office. He used this room to sleep after the long operation and busy day. He lay her down and left her on the bed before he covers her body. He is going to the bathroom before joining her into the bed.

‘Brother Han Zheng, can you stay with me? I am in such a mess at the moment,’ Lin Yan is begging Luo Han Zheng to stay back.

‘I need to go back, Xiao Yan. You can call me if there is any news and I promise to come back,’ Han Zheng refuses her straight away. He wants to check into Emma condition in front of Man Hospital. Even a glimpse of her shadow already makes him contempt with everything.

‘Brother Han Zheng, I feel alone in this world. If it is like this then better I move to the afterlife,’ Lin Yan got all work out with her crying act.

‘Fine! You sleep and I will be sitting here to read some of my reports,’ Luo Han Zheng is telling her to go inside her room while he is sitting in the Lin family room. This whole place reminds him of all of his happy memories with EMma.. He kind of remembers everything and closed his eyes to reminisce everything.
