

Marriage To The Mafia Boss -

. Chapter 98 - New York

‘Boss, you are the problem in here. You are accusing her to have the affair with me while we are only talking in the boutique after she spills coffee into my shirt. Do you think about your overreacting expression toward her, and it did not hurt her feeling?’ EXO is telling his boss without any hint of cowardly.

‘Where is she going? Ai Jia prepares the plane for take-off, I bet she is already away from us,’ Vito is walking to the elevator with everybody. Meanwhile, after Ai Jia fixed the plane to be ready to take off for his boss, he is calling Gretta to take care of their boss suitcase and all their belonging in the hotel.

They are going to the airport while Andrea is taking care of their paperwork with the custom in the airport and getting clearance to use one of the runways to go up in the sky. EXO is telling the pilot the destination while Vito is taking off his tie and drinking his whisky.

‘You are not going to tell me about her location. What is your motive to get closer to her? Do you need a raise, and you are targeting her?’ Vito is asking her for his reason to hide his wife location.

‘I am going to protect her at any cost even I have to sever tie with you. Remember, I can attack your system and cripple your organization with only my computer,’ EXO is getting hostile toward Vito who did not back up with his opponent. Ai Jia, Max, Lina and Andrea get a headache to see their hostile environment to attack each other.

‘I am her husband and who are you?’ Vito is asking him sharply without even being scared.

‘You drove her away and She supposedly become my wife as I propose to her first,’ EXO is telling him the fact for hurting her.

‘If you are telling me that you propose her first. She was engaged to Luo Han Zheng. Do you think about the time a little bit too late now?’ Vito is stating the fact about him to save her.

‘It is better to be late rather than nothing at all. Can you think about her broken feeling at the moment? She is in a foreign country and her own husband does not believe her at all. You need to be in her shoes,’ EXO is screaming at his stupid boss. He might be a genius in his business and the way to manage the whole organization, but his EQ is really bad. He even can't understand the basic rule of one relationship is trust.

Ai Jia and Andrea are taking EXO side to understand his point of view to protect their lady boss from their stupid boss.

In New York, Emma is taking a cab to lower Manhattan and renting a room in on hotel in the SOHO complex facing the central parks. She is getting into the room and closing all the curtains and lay down on the lounge sofa.

'Emma, you are so stupid to depend on him without thinking to be strong. You have to depend on yourself and no one else. You have your acts of revenge to take care of your husband did not want you then let it be!'

Emma is telling herself while crying with her heart really a pain. She is falling in love so deep with her husband to be part of him. It will take time for her to heal and mend her broken heart. She is vowing to herself and her two lost children to not dwell again with any man in the future.

She has enough with two men in her life who disappointed her. She is already a broken vessel and can't afford to get broken again. In the end, she is falling to sleep in the lounge.

She will think about her life in the morning after everything passed and she wakes up from her dream. She needs to focus on her acts of revenge and her own life. No one can do it except her own hand.

In the end, Ren Hao needs to fly to New York before Lin Yan finished her shooting which is today. Ren Hao first time to take a flight abroad to New York and goes to the big apple city. It is not easy to settle into the whole play in this city.

He will need help from Don Mancuso regarding all the stuff in this city. Or Lin Yan will know everything about their whole play.

He is going into the same hotel where Emma is located in lower Manhattan. It is almost midnight when Ren Hao gets into the hotel. He is really exhausted with all the journeys.

Vito and his aides arrive in New York around four Am morning. EXO is giving out the address to the driver before they are going into the lower Manhattan from JFK international private airport.

Everyone is exhausted with the red eyes flight because of their stupid boss. He even can't manage to pacify his own wife and make her really upset. Ai Jia is feeling grateful EXO can find her quickly or they are going to have a really hard life from their boss.

They are pulling up to the hotel lobby where they are going down and get into the receptionist lady. Vito is already felt at ease to know about his wife whereabouts. Vito really can't afford to lose her, and he can be crazy to live without her.

Andrea is getting the access key to Emma's room, and they are getting the room next to her. As expected from EXO, he really can find her in the room and gives the key to their boss.

'I am stepping back this time. If you can seek her forgiveness and keep hurting her heart. I will take her away from you tomorrow,' EXO is stopping Vito hand to get the key from Andrea. They are going in the same direction when they all are blocking the room surrounding Emma.

Vito is striding to his wife room and swipes the key slowly. The room is really dark, but it did not stop Vito to find his wife body lying on the lounge in front of the entrance. He closes the door slowly and gently. He squats down in front of her face to see her tears come out of her sleep.

Vito's heart is melting to see her tears and he can't forgive himself to hurt his wife feeling. He gets jealous to see his wife with someone else. His word becomes uncontrollable when he gets angry with her.

Vito is taking off his shoes and clothes before he takes off her dress and shoes. He is carrying her bridal style to their bedroom on the second floor. Emma is putting her arm into his neck and snuggled comfortably into his sturdy chest.

He is tucking her into the bed and going to the bathroom to clean up her face from the melted mascara on her face with a warm face washer. He is slowly washing her body after he takes off all her clothes. It leaves her only with her underwear since there are no pyjamas and nightgowns.

Vito is joining her into sleep in the bed after putting the wet towel in the bathroom. He is pulling her body into his body and snuggled her into their slumber.

They are sleeping until almost afternoon because of the jetlag and all the thing that happens the previous day. Emma is having a withdrawal and headache because of her continuously crying. However, she is feeling something weird near her body.

She is trying to open her eyes when she can feel something wrapping her body closer into a familiar scent.

‘Stop moving around or we are going to do some morning exercise!’ Vito is telling her with his hoarse voice.

‘What are you doing in here ? Did you ? Did we do it ?’ Emma is sitting up to see her husband sleep next to her inside their bed.

‘I am coming to my wife obviously. Is something wrong ? I can’t sleep without you now,’ Vito is telling her with his cute face in the morning.

‘You are telling me the same as a prostitute and now you tell me about my position as your wife,’ Emma is folding her hand on her chest regarding Vito request.

‘Are you still angry with me ? I am sorry. I got agitated and mad to see you intimate with another man,’ Vito is explaining to his wife. She is looking really cute when she got angry like now. she pouts her small lips.

‘You vent your anger into me because of your own jealousy ! Do I have to become your punching back every time you get angry or agitated ? How about to shoot someone point-blank to vent your anger instead of dumping it to me ?’ Emma is telling her husband about her idea when she is really angry and fed up with his treatment.

‘I will shoot or kill someone if you don’t mind about it, and it makes you happy. You can do whatever you want today and the rest of your life.. I am all yours,’ Vito is smirking in front of his wife to make her happy.
