Chapter 194: Beautiful Counterattack

Professor Dou gave him a long look and suddenly understood his intentions.

Looking at how the Y Group changed the timestamp of their iChip development and making process, he understood what had happened.

It was no wonder they were unable to find out why the Y Group could confidently claim that Professor Dou and his team stole their core technology. As it turns out, it was evident that there was a mole in their team.

As soon as some things became clear, some people's previous behaviors could not withstand scrutiny.

With a stern expression, Professor Dou turned around and glanced sharply at several colleagues behind him. He then pointed out someone. "Professor Zhang, go and bring up the recording of the production of our core chip."

The person named Zhang Zhirui trembled and hastily nodded. "Yes, yes."

After that, he turned around and went somewhere.

When Zhang Zhirui walked out of everyone's line of sight, the spectators thought that they would have to wait. But all of a sudden, someone pointed at the monitor and exclaimed, "Look, Professor Zhang is being filmed!"

All eyes were on the big screen.

Zhang Zhirui had not gone to retrieve the evidence. Instead, he went to a remote corner, anxiously took out his mobile phone, and dialed a string of numbers.

Just as everyone was guessing who he was calling, one of the phones of the Y Group's senior executives rang.

Everyone's attention was on the senior executive.

He took out his phone with a calm expression before putting it back in his pocket and said, "My apologies, it's a call from my family."

But just after he said that his phone started ringing and it was answered automatically. Immediately, a panicking voice sounded. "Mr. Amis, what should I do now?"

Amis's expression instantly changed. He wanted to immediately hang up the call but discovered that his phone seemed to have been electrified, as an electric current passed through his hands.

The person over the phone continued. "I feel that Professor Dou is starting to be suspicious of me. The recording of our core technology is not with me. Could it be that he has found out that I was the one who passed the core technology to..."

B!

Before Zhang Zhirui could complete his sentence, the president of Y Group slammed the coffee table and sternly shouted at him. "Amis, you want to chat with your family, get out!"

"Mr. Jonas." Lu Jingye's voice sounded and it carried traces of seriousness. "What else do you have to say?"

Jonas immediately retorted. "I am completely unaware of this."

He then looked towards Amis. "What's going on?"

Amis was sweating cold buckets. He never expected his phone to lose control. "Someone is deliberately smearing our company."

"Smearing the Y Group? Do all of you treat people as fools?"

Professor Dou sullenly said that before he turned to another person beside him. "Go and get Zhang Zhirui. We'll get them to confront each other face to face."

That person hastily ran over to where Zhang Zhirui was.

Lu Jingye had also sent two bodyguards to tag along.

In less than a minute, Zhang Zhirui was brought over. Evidently, he was aware that his phone call was revealed to the worldwide live broadcast.

"Zhang Zhirui, so you're the culprit!"

"N-no... It's not me. I didn't." Zhang Zhirui subconsciously refuted

Professor Dou stared at him sternly. "You're still lying at this point in time!"

He then glanced towards Lu Jingye. With his affirmative gaze, he took out his phone and dialed a number. "Send us the recording of the process of making the core chip."

A minute later, Professor Dou linked the recording to the big screen.
