Chapter 71: I'm Not Fond Of Using Violence Against Weaklings

Zi Yi retreated several steps backwards.

The two vicious men who radiated killing intent had deliberately waited for several moments before they walked out.

"It seems like you're not a simple beautiful lady." The skinny man stared at her with his perverse gaze and licked his lips. "If such a beautiful lady is ruined, I would be heartbroken."

As he said that, he flashed a dagger in his hands.

He deliberately gestured with the knife. "Say, where should I start from? I like that face of yours very much. Why don't I start there?"

"It'll depend if you have the capability."

After she spoke, the two parties concurrently attacked one another.

Zi Yi was an expert in science and technology with powerful mental powers and in fact, she was not fond of killing.

She only needed to use her mental power to control them. They would not be her opponents.

Bam! Bang! Bam!

"Urgh..."

"Ouch..."

After a while, she looked down at the two men who were beaten up by her.

She held onto the skinny man's knife, walked over to them, squatted down, and waved the knife in front of him as she asked with indifference, "What were you planning to do to me? Skin me alive?"

The skinny man finally revealed traces of fear.

As a renowned expert on the world's assassin list, he never expected to end up in the hands of a young girl so easily.

"What did you do to us?"

The skinny man stared at Zi Yi. He intended to lower her guard and let his companion gather his strength to end her in one shot. "If you release us, we can give you what you want."

"Ha!" Zi Yi sneered. "While you're speaking, don't you know to restrain your killing intent?"

After she said that, she gestured with the knife towards his face.

With a frown, she said, "Even though I'm not fond of using violence against weaklings nor do I like bloody situations, you two are excluded."

Having said that, she raised the knife. At the same time, the robust man took out his gun and fired a shot at her.

Bang!

Zi Yi swiftly dodged to the side. Immediately, her body flashed and her hand holding the knife slashed down and directly crippled both their hands.

“Ahh...”

“Ouch...”

Zi Yi walked back with an expression of disdain.

It was not until she took several steps backwards that she stopped and tilted her head to check out her shoulder where the bullet had grazed her. That part of her clothes appeared to be burnt and there was a burning sting on her skin.

Zi Yi's frown deepened and she muttered, “It seems like I have to build a few bodyguard robots.”

She turned her focus back to the duo who were rolling on the ground and screaming. With a snort, she said, “I don't want your skin anymore, I find it dirty. I'll just engrave a few words on your faces.”

Immediately after, the knife in her hand started to move. While the two men were screaming miserably, she had carved out the words ‘I am a killer’.

At the same time, she used her mental power to destroy this part of their memory before dragging them out the door.

The villa Zi Yi purchased was located rather remotely and there were no passersby at night.

She threw them in a bush that was a kilometer away from her villa.

She had also changed all the CCTVs nearby when she returned. However, she was worried when she saw the bloodstains on the ground.

“When will I be able to finish cleaning up so much blood?!”

On the other side.

In a secret room with dim lighting, there were two people and their faces were indiscernible.

One of the men was reporting to the other.

“Boss, we've lost contact with Number 321 and 322.”

“The reason?”

“We could not find the reason. They suddenly stopped all contact.”

“Search. Be it dead or alive, you must find them.”

“I understand.”

“Send others to deal with that man.”

“I understand.”

...

Just as Zi Yi finished getting rid of the bloodstains, someone knocked on her door.
